Generals Meade, Howard, Shaler, Barlow, Slocum, Genry and probably Generals Wright, Hancock, Sykes and Schurz will be present at the reunion of officers at Gattysburg on the 23d inst., and also General Heth and a lew minor officers of the Confederate lines who took part in the memorable hattle.

The Treasury statement of the receipts and expenditure of the Government for the quarter ending June 80 shows that the income is enormous and tar exceeding the demands upon the Treasury. Although this quarter of the year is not considered the most prolifie to the Treasury, the receipts were over one hundred and nine millions from the regular sources of revenue. This is at the rate of over four hundred and thirty-six millions a year. It is a remarkable state of things, and shows the wealth of the country, the patient manner in which the people bear taxation and how freely they pour their money into the Treasury when demanded by the Government.

THE COMET VISIBLE.—It has been predicted by scientific astronomers for ten years past that during the months of July, August and September, 1869, the most wonderful comet the world has ever known would ap proach nearer the earth than any comet ever -did-before, and that either the earth or the comet would have to change its course or a collision would be inevitable. And, says the Chicago Post, as this comet is said to be a thousand times larger than the earth, and is a solid mass of fire, with a tail that will reach around the earth more-than-ahundred times, it is not at all unlikely that a collision with it would prove as disastrons to the earth as did the late accident

According to astronomers, it was this comet that immediately preceded the terrible civil-wars of Greece, and was immediately followed by the great contagion in Persis and other eastern countries, a most direful plague that swept from the earth, in a few weeks, one half the people of the countries visited by it. Some years after, this comet the season. appeared again, and was preceded by a most terriable civil war in Rome, and followed by a plague or scourage that piled the dead up id heaps in the streets of that proud but corrupt city, until there was searcely enough persons left to bury the dead. The comet is now visible having made its appearance on time, thus verifying the prediction of the astronomers, without postponement on account of weather. It may be seen with the naked eve of any clear night, in the northern from that time till daylight, or till the morning stars rise. It will grow brighter as it approaches the earth,

The Philadelphia North American bewails the impending removal of the duty on coal which it now fears is inevitable.-The coal operators and miners will have only themselves to thank for the repeal, if it comes, as it certainly ought to. The North American itself admits that the present prices of coal are wholly inexcusable.

THE REFORMED MENNONITES .- The following arcicle, which we copy from the Mt. Joy Herald, gives an account of the characteristics of the new or Reformed Mennonites. The followers of John Herr, who was a native of West Lampeter township, Lan. caster county, Pa. are generally, known by the name of New Mennonites but by many they are called Herrites; and in Franklin county, Pa., where their first leader was a Rev. Frantz, they are usually denominated the Frantzites. They are most numerous in Luncaster and Franklin counties of this State. and in Canada, but they are also found in nearly all the southeastern counties of Penn. sylvania and some of the western States .-Their mode of worship does not differ very much from that of the Old Mennonite church. They hold very strictly to the non-resistance doctrine; not going to war nor suing at the law, nor will they hold any office under the Government, or vote for candidates for any civil office. They are industrious. frugal, and hence generally prosperous. In their dross they are neat, the style resembling that of the Quakers, but is much more uniform. They are close cummunists and the members if each sex greet each other with a kiss when they meet or separate, except neighbors during the ordinary business affairs. The great peculiarity of the denomination is their strict exclusiveness, restraining from hearing any but their own members preach and pray on

It outweighs every other, because on this more than any other depends the success or defeat of all our of forts to train the young for the positions which they are to fill in after life as men and women. THE LOST CHILD .- On Wednesday of last week, (says the Spirit) as two young girls were out gathering buckleberries on the Cross Mountain in Washington county, Maryland, near a small stream called Rattle Run, they found the skull and bones of a child. The place is about six miles from where the lost child of Mr. James Streaty was last seen. The girls went home and told of their having seen such bones.
