

VILLAGE RECORD

WAYNESBORO

Friday, October 1st, 1889.

Udolpho Wolfe, of Schiedam Schnappa fame, died of congestion of the lungs at Staten Island on Sunday a week.

There is a wheat sower in Minnesota who required fifteen reaping machines and one hundred and twenty-five bands for his harvest last month.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania have refused to grant a writ of error in the case of Dr. Schoeppe, convicted of the murder of Miss Stinbecke at Carlisle.

The Western Maryland Railroad injunction case—The Mayor and City Council of Baltimore vs. Geo. M. Gill and others—has been set for a hearing in the Court of Appeals on the 6th of October.

The trial of Griffin, the engineer who caused the Must Hope disaster on the Erie Railroad, was ended on Friday night by a verdict of "not guilty," although the Judge made a pointed charge against the prisoner.

The debt statement for the 1st proximo will show a further decrease of several millions, though the precise amount cannot yet be given. The receipts of internal revenue for September will reach nearly $13,000,000, or about three millions more than in the corresponding month of 1868.

Secretary Boutwell has ordered the Sub-Treasurer at New York to sell one million of gold each Tuesday and Friday until November 1st, and also to purchase two millions of bonds each Wednesday until the same date. This will be in addition to the regular purchases of bonds on account of the sinking fund.

A Miss Grey of Washington county, N. Y., a milliner, thirty years old, was engaged to a young Englishman a few years ago. He died before the time fixed for the marriage, and left her seventeen millions of dollars. The natural heirs of the young man contested the will, but in vain, and the young lady is to receive the first installment of her large possessions in December next. Five millions of dollars are to be sent to her then, and the balance as soon as possible.

A tremendous excitement was created in the Gold Market of New York last week. The "Bulls" and "Bears," as the Gold and Stock Gamblers are called, commenced a furious onslaught upon each other, losing and winning millions of dollars in a single hour, and producing scenes of excitement in the gold and stock rooms of Wall Street, such as have not been enacted since the panic of 1857. Within three hours on Friday Gold rose to $1.62, higher than it has been since the war closed, and fell to $1.52, about as low as it has been at any time since that period—a fluctuation which involved the loss and gain of millions.

After the first of January, 1870, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher will assume editorial control of the Church Union, an independent religious paper in New York, designed to unite all Protestants on the common platform of the Bible, without respect to human creeds. It is popularly supposed that all things are possible to a Beecher, and we are not sure but the Beechers share this opinion, but it will take more than the combined talent of the entire family to bring about the result contemplated.

SPECIE FROM EUROPE.—Our cable telegrams, says the N. Y. Herald, announce that the sum of $2,715,000 in specie was shipped from England for New York during the past week. It was taken from the Bank of England. One British trading firm sends out a quarter of a million of pounds sterling. Specie has also been withdrawn from the Bank of France for export to New York. The tide is turning in this direction.

Secretary Boutwell speaks in a cheerful tone, everywhere, of the financial position of the country. In a brief speech before the Union League the other evening he said there were two things necessary to give our country the strongest and most enviable position in the world. These were first, to secure the payment of the national debt in gold, without qualification or equivocation, and secondly to secure the adoption of the fifteenth amendment, neither of which events was he disposed to consider in doubt.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.—Mr. John Mulladore, and old resident of Washington county, Md., died at his residence, near Brownsville, recently. Mr. Mulladore was born on the 10th day of May, 1789, and was therefore, at the time of his death, 100 years, 4 months and 12 days old.

While Rev. Mr. Perry, a local Methodist preacher, was addressing a congregation at Columbia, Texas, on the evening of the 8th inst., six armed desperadoes entered the church and fired at and killed him instantly. The assassins then fled, but were hotly pursued by seventy freedmen, who had instructions from the United States marshal to bring the ruffians back, dead or alive.

The house of Mr. Hamilton, at Yarmouth, Mass., was struck by lightning. Mr. Hamilton and wife were instantly killed, the house was set on fire and a bed-ridden daughter perished in the flames.

Extent of Wall Street Gamblers.—It is estimated that the transactions of the gold gamblers during the morning process and excitement amounted on Friday—on one day only—to five hundred millions. The N. Y. Herald says: Certainly they were so large that the clearing department of the New York Gold Exchange could not by any means get through the herculean labor of adjusting the accounts. The unsophisticated or plain country people who know nothing of Wall Street operations might open their eyes in astonishment at this vast sum, and wonder where so much gold came from. Five hundred millions of gold bought and sold in one day! It is enough to astonish any one not acquainted with the bogus transactions of the gold gamblers. Five hundred millions of gold bought and sold when there is only fourteen millions in all—the banks and brokers' offices in the city! Think of that! Probably not five millions of gold—that is, one per cent. of the transactions—were ever used or on hand to meet the contracts. Yet it is these bogus transactions on paper or by word of mouth among a few gamblers that regulate the price of gold and the values of stocks and other property. Was there ever anything before so absurd? It would be just as reasonable to make betting on a faro bank a regulator of national values and finances as this betting on gold, for it amounts to that and nothing more.—Mr. Secretary Boutwell fortunately and wisely came to the rescue of the business community and overthrew the conspirators; but what security has the public for the future? It is not fairly within the sphere of the Treasury Department to watch speculators or to control the markets, though in such an exceptional case as this the action of the Secretary was right, and a great benefit to the community. It remains to be seen what Congress can do to prevent such evils, either by heavily taxing gold sales or by compelling the actual transfer of the precious metal to make sales legal. The mischief is over for the present, but there is no security for the future under the present laws, and with our present mixed and incongruous currency.—Some change and additional legislation is necessary, and it is to be hoped Congress will take the subject up as soon as it reassembles.

Messrs. Price & Hoedick have received their first supply of new goods. Advertisement next week.

On Friday evening last our citizens were shocked with the announcement that Mr. Abram Barr of this vicinity had fallen dead. It seems he had been well on Thursday, but on Friday felt better and had been walking about until in the evening, when he stepped out in the yard and in the act of pulling a bunch of grapes, suddenly fell and before medical aid could reach him, expired. Mr. Barr was an extensive farmer, and well known in the county. He was a kind neighbor and one of our most enterprising citizens. His death is supposed to have been caused by apoplexy. On Sunday he remains, accompanied by a large procession of sorrowing friends and acquaintances, were conveyed for interment to the burying ground attached to Frauts's Church.

"THE FARHAM."—A model of simplicity and elegance is that sewing machine known by the above name. The true friend of women, adding pleasure instead of pain to their daily duties. It is fast gaining the reputation of the best machine in the market. HITZESH and GEHR, Ringgold, Washington Co., Md., are agents for the sale of it. Any one wishing to inspect the machine should address a letter to the agents, and it will be brought to their homes for examination.

PAY AND SAVE COSTS.—Since the last issue we have placed a number of accounts in the hands of Justices for collection, and intend to continue the work of drawing off and forwarding such accounts. PASTORAL CARE.—St. John's Lutheran congregation of Hagerstown, Md., has extended to the Rev. Stephen W. Owings, of Woodboro, in Frederick county, a unanimous call to become their Pastor.

JOURNALISTIC.

[All books designed for review in the Record must be addressed to "Reviewer," Ringgold, Md.]
HARPER'S BAZAR.—There is an indescribable charm about this work. We are accustomed to having a certain pair of blue eyes haunt our steps upon its regular weekly visits. Blue eyes glance lovingly over our shoulder, ready to catch the first look at every new number; we seldom resist the fascinating appeal—"May I not have it just for one moment?" but in truth, the "one moment" oftentimes proves to be an hour or two, sometimes even a day. This BAZAR is finely illustrated; contains the most charming hints to young housekeepers; if we may judge—is perfectly delightful to read; is particularly rich in "sayings and doings" and with the "personal" added, is the superior of everything else of the kind, published in America—So says Blue-eyes, and we have a great regard for his opinion, as regards matters of this nature, knowing her to be as infallible as Pius IX. We intend to give Blue-eyes "the chair," some of these days, when she shall "speak for herself."

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY FOR SEPTEMBER.—In cultivating a taste for music, we were always taught to accept nothing which did not reach the loftiest standard of the noble art. That which is calculated to bewitch the senses—as music unquestionably is—should be presented in the purest attainable form. The chief delight is to be derived from its approach to perfection, is harmony of sound. For this reason the works of masters like Beethoven, Mozart, Haydn, are preferred by the cultivated and tasteful. Why do not the proprietors of our musical monthlies publish selections from the compositions of the great? They give us, instead, productions from unknown and decidedly questionable sources. This is the popular style, but it is our humble opinion, it should be condemned. We presume, however, that it will continue so long as people are willing to support those from whom it comes. Like the Maryland Free Press, it must ever remain an evil to the land, until the people choose to change its course; as they did not many years ago with that delightful sheet. Subscriptions to the Musical Monthly, will be taken at the Record office.

FOR GENTLEMEN, we most heartily commend HARPER'S WEEKLY. It is, emphatically, a gentleman's journal. Its editorials are famous for keen and scholarly satire; its illustrations for boldness and strength; its "personals" for their truthfulness. This journal is widely popular, and deservedly so, on account of superiority. Who will give us a better! Subscriptions will be taken at this office for any of the Harper periodicals.

"ALISMA."—It is not often that we have the time to spare, or the inclination, to notice any of the thousand and one preparations sold throughout the country, each, as it is claimed, being a "sovereign cure for one or more of the ills that flesh is heir to." Indeed, we have frequently wondered that people ever died at all, or grew old even, when, by a small outlet they could furnish themselves with something which would keep disease at bay, and defy the assaults of time!

Concerning the efficacy of one of these remedial preparations—and one which has been celebrated of late—we can speak from personal experience, and conscientiously say it is good. We refer to "Alisma," an article for restoring and preserving the hair, manufactured by Messrs. Seward & Bentley, Chemists and Druggists, No. 139 Main street, Buffalo.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.
No sales lists for Seward's Cough Cure.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday Sept. 27, 1889.—The offerings of new clover seed continue small, and it sells from $7.50 to $8, the latter figure for strictly choice lots. Timothy ranged from $4.25 to $4.85, the latter figure for small lots from second hands. There is no improvement to record in the flour market, and only 500 barrels changed hands, including superfine at $5.25 to $5.75, extra at $6, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota extra family at $6.75 to $7.75, for low grade and choice; Pennsylvania do. at $6.25 to $7.75; Indiana and Ohio do. do. at $7 to $7.75, and fancy lots at $8 to $9.25. Rye flour and corn meal are very quiet, with small sales of the former at $6.25.

The wheat market is inactive, and the only sales reported are two thousand bushels western red at $1.43 per bushel. Rye is steady at $1.12, Corn is less active, with small sales of yellow at $1.10 to $1.18, and 1,500 bushels western mixed on secret terms. THE MORNING GLORY FOR '89.

For sale at W. A. TRITLÉ'S new Stove and Tin Store. It has on hand a large stock of the above stores, all of the late improved kinds.

There is added to the Morning of this year an oven, which is neat in appearance. It is a good Baker. You can heat Irons, Bake, Boil, Roast, Stew, and it does not interfere with the operations as a Parlor Stove.

In regard to the blast of some Stove Dealers, who say that their particular stove takes less coal and gives more heat than the Morning Glory, you can put that kind of talk down as a "Blow-out," as the Morning Glory has been sold (in this part of the country) for four years, and in that time I have put out over three hundred of them, and never had to take one back because it would not do its work. It was not what I sold it for. Now that cannot be said of any other stove ever offered in this market. That is the proof, which is the stove.

I have other styles or heating stoves for coal or wood. Heating Furnaces put up and warranted. My Cook Stoves are of the best in market for coal or wood, all warranted good Bakers. Also a new Parlor Cook Stove, something that can't be excelled.

Call and see me. You will find my stock of Tin Sheet-Iron and other wares of the best kinds, and at low rates.

On hand, the best Clothes Wringer in market—Also a good and cheap Washing Machine.

Roofing and Spouting done of the best stock and at short notice. Job work of all kinds in my line done at low rates. The only place in town where you can get your copper work done, being the only Copper Smith in the place.
