

VILLAGE RECORD.
WAYNESBORO.
Friday, October 23, 1869.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln is still at Frankfort, Germany, living in very unpropitious quarters.

Brigham Young weighs two hundred pounds, and his wives weigh over five thousand pounds.

The late elections have rendered twenty-nine States safe for the Fifteenth Amendment, without counting Texas and Mississippi.

Ex-Governor Joseph Ritner died on Saturday afternoon last at the residence of his son, in Carlisle, at the age of ninety years.

Governor Hoffman, of New York, has fixed upon the 18th of November as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. This is the same day designated by the President.

THE ELECTION.—Gov. Geary's majority in the State, with three counties to hear from officially, is upwards of 4,000. The majority for Williams for Supreme Judge will be about 7,000.

The Republicans of the State of New York have nominated the gallant Gen. Franz Sigel for Secretary of State. Many thousand voters will "fight mit Sigel" in the coming campaign.

The argument in the injunction case of George M. Gill and others in the matter of the hypothecation of $1,000,000 of Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Bonds by the City authorities to aid in the construction of the Western Maryland Railroad, was commenced in the Court of Appeals on Friday, the 5th inst.

A piece of trestle work at the Ohio River Bridge at Louisville gave way on Saturday, and six men fell through, a distance of one hundred feet. Two were instantly killed, and two others so badly wounded that they will die. Afterwards another man fell through the bridge and was killed.

Mrs. Carter, a negress, aged seventy-six years, died in Des Moines, Iowa, on the 26th ult. The mother of this aged woman, who was one hundred and twelve years old last July, was present and witnessed the death of her daughter. This remarkable old female was born in the eastern part of Virginia, and was a slave until her 75th year.

On Saturday the Philadelphia Court of Appeals rendered a decision in the contested election cases growing out of the frauds committed at the polls, by the Democrats, at the municipal election of October, 1868. The decision upsets all the Democratic municipal office holders, who at that time received a nominal majority, with the exception of Mayor Fox, and gives their seats to the Republican candidates, who, upon a fair vote, are found to have been elected.

ELECTIONS.—The majority for Hayes, the Republican candidate for Governor in Ohio is estimated at about 8,000. The State Legislature is Republican by a small majority on joint ballot—three in the House and one in the Senate.

Thirty thousand is claimed for the Republicans in Iowa. The Legislature will stand 126 Republicans to 14 Democrats.

The vote in the Methodist Episcopal church on the question of lay delegation is reported by the New York Methodist of last week to be 130,410 for and 67,044 against; majority in favor 70,806. Returns from twenty-two conferences give the clerical vote on the question as stated: For lay delegation, 1,600; against, 412; majority in favor, 1,188. To carry the amendment it is necessary that it should receive the votes of three-fourths of the members (clerical) of the annual conferences, and this is the only point upon which the friends of lay delegation have been solicitous, as the result of the lay vote was undoubted. So far in the conferences the amendment has received the requisite three-fourths vote, and has ninety-one votes to spare.

The result of the election in Ohio and Pennsylvania, says the Washington Chronicle, makes the Fifteenth Amendment certain. The roll of States that have ratified that amendment, or have chosen Legislatures favorable to it, as follows: Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin—twenty-seven—requiring one more to complete the work. As neither Mississippi nor Texas will be restored to the Union till they ratify the amendment, both may be counted.—There is not a State among the twenty-seven named which has not yet sanctioned the amendment that will not do so at the forthcoming meeting of its Legislature. Alabama, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska and Vermont are in this category, each with a Legislature overwhelmingly Republican. The Legislatures of Missouri and Rhode Island, equally sound on this great question, will correct their imperfect action on the amendment immediately after their next meeting.

CAPT. GORDON.—D. S. Gordon, Captain of the 2d U. S. Cavalry, returned to Fort Bridger, Washington Territory, on the 9th inst., from a protracted scout through the Wind River Mountains. According to a correspondent in the Chicago Tribune, who accompanied the Captain's scout, they encountered on the march a large force of redskins and had hard fighting. The Capt. has gone into winter quarters at Ft. Bridger.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On Friday night last, as Dr. Blair, of Mercersburg, was returning home from the "Corner," he was confronted by a masked man who, presenting a revolver, ordered him to halt and demanded his money. The Dr. not being armed delivered up his pocket-book containing about $15. The Dr. then went to the house of Mr. Brewbaker, borrowed a gun, and went in pursuit of the man. After following him 7 or 8 miles, he came in contact with him, when several shots were exchanged, but owing to the darkness they were not effective. The man is a known desperado, and it is hoped he will yet be taken.—Spirit

Dr. Blair and Grush, of Mercersburg, on Tuesday last captured Davis at his father's house, near Waterloo, in Path Valley. He broke jail at Hagerstown sometime since, for whom a reward of $150 had been offered. He has since been delivered to the proper authorities of that place. So we learn from the last Light.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.—Speaking of the return of Jefferson Davis to this country, the Baltimore American says his reappearance on the American continent is "a reminder of the rapidity with which the world moves, and how complete are the punishments brought about by the 'whirligig of time.'" Within the present decade he sat in Richmond, claiming that he had founded an empire, and answering with presumptuous defiance the demands of the Government against which he had rebelled. Of his empire there now remains not a fragment, and he has become personally as insignificant and of as little importance as it is possible for a man who once occupied so large a space in the public eye to become. There may be some curiosity to see him; he may be a mildish sort of a hero to a particular class of minds, and may figure, with Gen. Beauregard, as a social lion at the tournaments, junketings and tea parties of the constantly narrowing circle of mourners over the defeat of the Confederacy. It is even possible that some institution of learning in want of an attraction may offer him its Presidency, and thus save him from the contamination of becoming a commission merchant which so afflicted the soul of the chivalric Pollard; but all the great avenues of usefulness and fame, which furnish the natural vocation for a man of his ambition and ability, are to him forever closed. The world has emphatically done with him. For ourselves, though we did not always think so, we are glad now that Mr. Davis was neither banished, perpetually imprisoned, nor hanged, for his part in the rebellion. The insignificance that has overcome him is a sharper and more lasting punishment. Banished, imprisoned or exiled, he might be a martyr. Living and coming and going without exciting anything but a feeling of tolerant contempt on the part of those once most bitter against him, he has become nothing but an exemplar of the magnanimity of the Government, which feels itself strong enough not to need to punish, the greatest offender against its integrity and sovereignty.

AN ABLE QUARTERLY.

[All books designed for review in the Record, must be addressed to "Reviewers," Ringgold, Md.]

The Southern Review Baltimore: A. T. Bledsoe, publisher and proprietor. This is a remarkable Quarterly. It is a work of Southern talent, Southern labor and Southern genius. As an American Review it is peerless; if compared with English Quarters it is almost the same matchless work. It is notable not less for vigor than for scholarly refinement; its high tone, elegant rhetoric and genial eloquence, has won applause from the most caustic of Northern critics. That it furnishes decidedly more agreeable and sprightly reading than similar transatlantic productions we think no one doubts.

In the October number, in the opening article on the "Injustice of American Tariffs," we find traces of the same hands that commenced and built up the great work to its present consummate greatness. We have the same polished diction, strong while graceful style, persuasive logic, and the same wealth of knowledge that usually marks the writings of this able scholar and gentleman. The foresaid article is a powerful writing plea for the South—how it suffers under "a system of legalized plunder and robbery," consequent upon the existing laws relative to the tariff; after the first article, we have

The Theory of Reasoning;
Sir John Coleridge's Life of Keble;
Improvements needed in Geometry;
Lucian;
The United States a Military Nation;
Virginia: her Geographical Position;
Battle of Ball's Bluff;
Notices of Books.

Critical comments upon the above list of articles would be useless; to be appreciated they must be read in full, no remarks which we could offer would do them justice. The price of the "Review" is $1.50 per annum.

We give below the official vote of this county at the late election:

KICKED BY A HORSE.—On Friday last Jas. Kendal, a boy of fifteen, residing with Mr. Daniel Bondbreak, near Quincy, met with a severe injury. While taking the horses to pasture in the evening, one of them, in running by him, kicked him on the leg, breaking it off. Dr. Bahrmann, of Quincy, was called on, who set the limb.—The boy is doing well.—Spirit.

SEWARD & BENTLEY'S ANTIMA FOR THE HAIR.—This invaluable preparation has given universal satisfaction wherever it has been introduced, and called forth the highest commendations from all those who have been so fortunate as to avail themselves of its beneficial effects. The manufacturers, by studiously experimenting, have succeeded in combining, with much secrecy, all the virtues of the ingredients of most of the various Hair Renovators and Renewers extant, and successfully overcome the difficulty of selecting the innocuous ingredients which will restore gray hair to its original color and lustre; and at the same time performs every indication of a perfect Hair Dressing, which neither injures the texture of the hair, nor colors the linen or skin. A few applications impart a lustrous brilliancy and soft, silky appearance to unsightly, brash and wiry hair. Faded or gray hair is restored to its primitive color in a few days, and bright red hair is changed to a beautiful auburn by two or three applications. It surpasses hair dye. As a hair dressing it has no successful rival, by its property of preventing and removing dandruff, and curing the various diseases to which the scalp is liable.
