

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO Thursday February 10, 1870.

One of the Mormon Bishops has just died, and ten widows remain to be comforted. Beware of twenty-dollar counterfeit notes of the National Bank of Indianapolis. They are being circulated freely.

Albert Van Bordenberg, one of the convicted murderers of the Peightal family, has made a confession, acknowledging his guilt, and that of his confederate, Bohner.

Georgia having on Wednesday last ratified the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the required number of States—twenty-eight—has now been obtained to make it a part of the Constitution, and it will soon be declared the law of the land.

Almost a century has rolled away since France, in mad enthusiasm and with a wild love of liberty, sounded the tocsin for the first great Revolution.

The Philadelphia Ledger scouts the idea which some timid persons have come to entertain, that the country is on the eve of bankruptcy in trade.

The following may be of interest to our sportsmen at this time of the year. It is the game law passed by our Legislature.

No person shall kill, or have unlawfully in his or her possession, or expose to sale any puffed grouse or pheasant between the 20th of December and the 20th day of August.

The Republicans of Maryland are actively organizing in view of the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment.

The local editor of a Columbus, Ohio, paper having recently got married, a contemporary says: "May his father-in-law be rich, and enable poor Stevens to retire from the printing business and set up a cake shop at a railway station."
