

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO.

Thursday March 24, 1870.

The Mechanics' Bank of St. Louis has resumed specie payments.

General Daniel P. Sickles has been confirmed by the United States Senate as Minister to Spain.

The Society of the Army of the Potomac will hold its second annual reunion in Philadelphia on the 9th of April.

Congress has voted the sum of $6,000 to the widow of the late Edwin M. Stanton—a sum equivalent to a year's salary of an Associate Judge of the Supreme Court.

A bill has been introduced in the United States Senate, and referred to the finance committee, providing for the resumption of specie payments on the 1st day of January next.

Senator Revels (colored) of Mississippi, delivered his first speech in the United States Senate on Wednesday last in opposition to Representative Bingham's amendment to the Georgia bill. The speech is well spoken of by the daily papers.

The great railroad bill, for the further development of the resources of this State, passed finally on Friday last, by a large majority, and now only awaits the signature of the Governor to become a law.

GRAIN IN IOWA.—A private letter from Council Bluffs, Iowa, to the Harrisburg Telegraph, states that wheat on the 9th inst., was bringing in that market only 40 cents per bushel, and corn 30 cents.

The body of Captain Williams, of the Oneida, was recovered from the wreck, and the funeral honors were paid at Yokohama on the 8th of February. There were imposing ceremonies, and the civil and military representatives of all the great nations united in their tribute to the memory of the noble dead.

Yerger, the murderer of Colonel Crane, voluntarily returned to the jail at Jackson, Miss., on Monday, from which he escaped two weeks ago. In a note to the Governor he states that he left prison only to gratify a fancy for a few days' freedom, and never intended to shirk his trial.

The Territorial Committee of the House of Representatives have solved the question of what to do with our costly and useless possessions in Alaska by deciding to recommend that it be annexed as a country to Washington Territory. A bill for this purpose will be reported to the House as being the most economical manner of disposing of what can at the best be only an expense.

A woman was sentenced last week, by the Court of Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia, to pay a fine of $500 and costs, and confinement in the Penitentiary at hard labor, for the term of seven years, for falsely swearing against a gentleman whom she accused of an outrage upon her. It was proven upon the trial that she made a business of blackmailing timid husbands, but in the present case she happened to get the "wrong pig by the ear."

Richmond, Va., is now in a "sea of trouble." The Legislature, it seems, passed an act giving the Governor power to remove the present Mayor and Police and put others in their places. The incumbents assert that the act is not in accordance with the Reconstruction acts or the State Constitution, and refuse to give places to the new appointees. Several collisions have been the result, one man killed and several wounded. The difficulty is an unfortunate one, coming, as it does, upon the heels of reconstruction, and marking like a black blot, the fair promise of regenerated Virginia.

AVONDALE FUND.—It appears that some of the subscribers to this fund refuse to pay their subscriptions. More despicable conduct than this cannot be well imagined. The New York Star cries "Shame!" and says: To "steal pennies from a dead man's eyes" is proverbial meanness, but to take money from the dead man's widow and orphan is far meaner and more contemptible. The terrible Avondale disaster last year was the occasion of a large subscription in aid of the women and children left desolate by its ravages. But it seems there are people small enough to subscribe without paying their money, even to such a cause; for last Monday the Board of Managers of the Relief Association having the Avondale subscription in hand adopted a resolution instructing the secretary to "commence suits against all delinquent subscribers," giving twenty days' notice before taking steps "to enforce collection."

We see it stated (says the Miner's Journal) in some of the papers that the passage of the Tariff Bill at the present session of Congress is doubtful. This impression is sent out by the enemies of the bill, and the friends of Protection ought not to give credence to it. The people will demand action on it at this session of Congress, and we will predict, beforehand, that if it does not pass, but few of the present members of Congress, who profess to be friends of Protection, will be returned next Fall. The sooner this is understood by members of Congress, the better. The people will not be fooled on this question any longer.

LOCAL MATTERS.

SALE REGULATORY.—The public sales advertised through the columns of the Record take place as follows:

H. W. Brown, at the Nunnery Mill, Friday March 25.

Elizabeth Resser, in Waynesboro', Tuesday 29th of March.

Henry Oaks, Rook Forge, April 7.

APRIL COMING.—We would remind our patrons that the first of April is approaching, and at the same time request that they forget not the Printer. We have several hundred dollars to make up. In order not to disappoint the "Paper Man" and other over-indulgent creditors, those indebted for subscription, advertising, and bill-printing, are called upon to settle up. Upon such we rely. How many will disappoint us?

Garden Seeds at Ambersons'.

Business locals 10 cents a line.

The weather is spring-like.

For Shelbarke go to Henneberger's.

The days and nights are now equal.

A school for boys is one of the wants of our Borough just now.

VINEGAR.—A large quantity for sale.—See advertisement of Benj. F. Funk.

APPLES.—REID has apples at 22 cents a peck, pippins at 25 do.

Whoooping-cough syrup at the Corner Drug Store.

Subscribers removing on the first of April will please inform us of their whereabouts or P. O. address.

After the 31st day of March no abatement of per centage will be allowed in the payment of taxes.

FRESH FISH.—Keep it before the people that I expect fresh fish next Friday afternoon. W. A. REID.

Oils, Paints, Glass and Putty at the best prices the market can afford, at the Corner Drug Store.

SPRING GOODS.—Messrs. Price & Hoeflich expect to receive their first supply of new goods next week. One of the firm is now East.

THE BIRDS.—Those cheerful little minstrel harbingers of spring, the birds, have arrived, and are again making the morning air vocal with their wild, sweet music.

PIKESVILLE STORE.—We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Rouzer & Frantz. This firm is at all times well supplied with such goods in their line as will meet the wants of purchasers.

The season of "house cleaning," the worst in the calendar of time, is coming.—Therefore look out for savage matrons and misers, and short rations.

APPOINTED.—John M. Musselman has been appointed Postmaster at Fairfield, Adams county, vice John W. Sullivan, resigned.

FAMILY FLOUR, ETC.—We direct special attention to the advertisement of Mr. David Patterson in this issue. Mr. P. has already acquired a reputation for the quality of his flour.

THANKS.—Hon. C. M. Duncan, of the State Senate, will accept our thanks for a neatly bound volume, intitled the "Pennsylvania Legislative Hand Book," and other favors.

PRAYER MEETING.—A Union Temperance Prayer Meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening of next week. The intention is to continue these meetings in our different Churches from time to time.

ENCOURAGING.—Notices from subscribers like the following are encouraging to publishers:

"Dear Sir.—Please find enclosed $2 for my paper, and if more is due, as I have forgotten, let me know. Often I think of stopping some one of the papers, but the Record is never thought of then. It has become a necessity to my family and myself."

ORE.—A specimen of ore taken from the farm of Mr. Henry Summers, near Parkhill, in this township, was left at our office the other day. It is pronounced by a gentleman familiar with such matters to be a good specimen of hematite ore. It is said to abound there in considerable quantities.

PUBLIC SALE.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Mr. H. Oaks purpose discontinuing business at the Rook Forge, and will sell on the 7th of April his entire stock, consisting of lumber, tools and first class machinery. Woodworkers, blacksmiths and machinists should not fail to attend as all articles offered will be sold without reserve.

RAILROAD TALK.—A rumor has been afloat here for several days that the Southern Pennsylvania Iron and Railroad Company purpose a connection with the W. M. Railroad via Waynesboro'. This is certainly cheering news, but we profess skepticism as to the grounds upon which it is based. The Company have commenced operations near Mercersburg.

Rev. J. H. Wagner, of Lancaster, Pa., formerly pastor of the Reformed Church at Hagerstown, Md., has joined the Catholic Church.

INTERESTING.—I offer a new and beautiful golden syrup at $1.00 per gallon. I have handsome demarara sugar, white sugar of several grades. Good Family Flour at W. A. REID'S.

A Connecticut man got up in the dark the other night and gave his little daughter some bed-bug poison for worms. It cured them. The funeral was generally attended.

Mr. John E. Hoffmann, a former prominent citizen of Hagerstown, Md., died recently aged 81 years.

THE LOST MAN.

The Harrisburg Telegraph of a recent date gives the following account of a lost man who several weeks since turned up in this place:

On Friday last, Mr. George Rohn or Rawin, a farmer residing in the vicinity of Paper-town, Cumberland county, started to the South mountain early in the day, for the purpose of bringing home a load of wood, telling his family he would return about noon. But noon came and Mr. Rohn did not return.

Toward evening the family became alarmed, and search was instituted for the missing man. His wagon was found, the horses unhitched, and securely tied on opposite sides of the road. The wagon was prepared for loading, and the axe which had been used in cutting several small sapplings, returned again to its proper place beneath the wagon.

But Mr. Rohn was nowhere to be seen; the now excited and alarmed neighbors followed the foot-prints of a man along the north side of the mountain, but on reaching the summit the snow had disappeared and it was found utterly impossible to trace him any further, and the friends returned home.

Early on Saturday morning the search was renewed, but with no better success. It was then determined to let the water out of the Mount Holly dam on Sunday, and see if the body was concealed there. But on Saturday night a dispatch was received from Mr. Rohn, dated at Waynesboro, Franklin county, stating that he became bewildered while in the mountain, and being unable to find his way home, wandered on till he found himself at the latter place. There seems to be no reason for doubting the statement of the gentleman himself in regard to this singular occurrence. He is a respectable farmer, and nothing but a temporary aberration of mind could have prompted his strange conduct. The excitement in the neighborhood during Friday night and Saturday was most intense.

A SURPRISE.—A few days since a barrel of flour was dropped at the door of our residence, which we afterwards learned was a present from Mr. David Patterson, of Fairview Mill, in this vicinity, formerly of Scranton, Pa. More than a year since he purchased of Mr. Samuel Frantz and took possession of his present desirable property. The improvements added make it one of the most pleasant as well as the most desirable country seats in our valley. Mr. Patterson is a full-bred Scotchman, native-born, and as such is courteous and hospitable in the extreme.

On a recent visit there in company with a friend ample evidence of these native traits of character on his part and on that of his excellent lady were fully evinced.

In passing through his Mill we was struck with the improvements introduced. To a large extent it has been refitted with new fixtures and improved machinery, and in this respect is perhaps not excelled in the county. Mr. Patterson is a live business man and believes in keeping pace with the improvements of the times, and is therefore well prepared for all business in his line.

COUNTERFEITS.—Our young friend, Mr. S. S. Bowden, of this place, by authority from the U. S. Treasury Department, is now operating in this State and Maryland, instructing business men how to distinguish between genuine and counterfeit bills.—Millions of counterfeit, spurious and altered bank notes, Government Bonds, &c., are now in circulation throughout the country, and are passing as current money among the majority of business men, who are not judges; the necessary result is, that such communities meet with losses. Mr. B. has in his possession some of the most dangerous and skillfully executed counterfeit ever issued.

Business men generally should secure a book, glass and instructions from him. Ten dollars thus expended may save the loss of hundreds.

Better than premiums and medals, better than Ribbons and Decorations, are the rapidly increasing sales of the BUCKEYE SEWING MACHINES, and the favorable testimony of those who use them. Will do all kind of family sewing and tailoring, besides stitching boot tops, and binding shoes in the neatest and best manner. Price within the range of everybody's means. See adv't.

THE OLD "TAPEWORM."—The Gettysburg Compiler in alluding to the projected completion of the W. M. Railroad, says:—"And may the time not come when the old 'Tapeworm' Railroad will be completed to the top of the mountain, there connecting with the Western Maryland? That done, and the link between New Oxford to York built, another important route to the east would be opened."

Messrs. Jacob Huber and Henry Feldman have taken possession of the Union Hotel, and will always be prepared to entertain their guests in the best of style. Both gentlemen have had considerable experience as landlords and thoroughly understand their business. They deserve their share of the public patronage.—Repository.

Rev. J. H. Wagner, of Lancaster, Pa., formerly pastor of the Reformed Church at Hagerstown, Md., has joined the Catholic Church.

INTERESTING.—I offer a new and beautiful golden syrup at $1.00 per gallon. I have handsome demarara sugar, white sugar of several grades. Good Family Flour at W. A. REID'S.

A Connecticut man got up in the dark the other night and gave his little daughter some bed-bug poison for worms. It cured them. The funeral was generally attended.

Mr. John E. Hoffmann, a former prominent citizen of Hagerstown, Md., died recently aged 81 years.

OLD PAPERS.

Through the kindness of Mr. Hammet we have had the perusal of several old newspapers. We refer to one (not quite as old as some noticed by our Chambersburg contemporaries), a "Franklin Repository" October 8, 1824. It contains an obituary notice of Samuel Hammet, a young man of more than ordinary promise.

Speaking of the severe sufferings experienced in his last sickness the writer says, "with a mind calm and composed to the last, he never heaved a sigh, but with composure and cheerfulness bore his afflictions without a groan."

The obituary of the Rev. JOHN LIND of Hagerstown, is full of interest to the Christian reader. His private virtues drawn out in the course of his public duty were extolled by all who know him. His edifying and affection as a Pastor were felt and appreciated. "His mode of preaching was suited to inform the mind, to direct the judgment, and to improve the heart in the exercise of that love which abounds more and more in knowledge and all judgment. * * * His excellence in prayer was generally felt and acknowledged. He prayed with an emotion from the Holy one."

The circumstances attending his last appearance in the pulpit left a very solemn impression in the hearts of his people. He had made an appointment for Communion at Hagerstown:

"The people met to attend upon his ministrations;—but the hand of death was upon him. Under the heavy pressure of disease he went with much difficulty to the post of duty, delivered, in few words, his Masters' message, and then administered to his people, for the last time, the seal of the covenant.—The progress of his disease was rapid."

From this grave subject we turn to the marriages. We find a single one recorded, that of Mr. KENTON HARPER, editor of the "Staunton Spectator," to Miss Eleanor, daughter of Capt. Samuel Calhoun.—Chambersburg then enjoyed a dancing school, Mr. Tobias-teacher.—The electoral tickets for Jackson and Calhoun, Crawford and Gallatin for President and vice President respectively, Congress, John Findlay and James Wilson; Senator, John Flanagan, etc. Archibald Fleming, Esq., well known to us, a noble gentleman of the old school, was then Sheriff of Franklin County.—Frederick Buck, Jr., of Washington township, makes oath before James Wood, J. P., that Dr. Daniel Doster, of Greencastle, under the blessing of God, cured him of a consumptive complaint of seven years standing.

This paper also gives, copied from the Dem. Press of Philada., a tolerable full account of the reception of the "Nation's Guest" General Lafayette, at Philadelphia. From his crossing the Delaware at Trenton until he reached Independence Hall, it was a complete ovation. He rode in a barouche drawn by "six noble cream coloured horses with dark manes and tails. The outriders were on horses of the same colour, splendidly liveried and caparisoned." Gov. Shultz followed in a similar barouche. "The road sides were lined with people. So crowded were the roads and so great the anxiety that it was 7 o'clock before the General reached the Arsenal at Frankford." The next morning the cavalcade was put in motion for the city. When the cannon roared the "horses all with one accord raised themselves on their hind legs and sportively and proudly tossed about their heads, their manes & tails. The troops were drawn in a 40 acre field and occupied it advantageously. * * * The trades and organized associations of the citizens participated."

At Independence Hall the presentation of the society of the Cincinnati was very cordial, Lafayette several times repeating when he heard the old familiar names, "Ah, my dear companion!" One instance is mentioned, that of a Colonel of Artillery in the Revolution, who when presented "took the General more than once in his arms, and burst into tears—we could hear the words.—It is seven and forty years since I saw you."

It is worthy of notice that notwithstanding the conviviality of the day and gladness of the night, "there was not so much as a pane of glass broken, by design, in the City & Liberties."

LADY'S FRIEND.—The April number of this popular magazine comes to us with the freshness and life of spring. In the steel plate "ON GUARD," the alert watchfulness of the dog contrasts finely with the repose of the sleeping boy. The Colored Fashion Plate is gay and graceful as usual, and the profusion and variety of illustrations of articles of feminine use and adornment give the ladies every opportunity to know how to dress well. Those who like to make for themselves will find assistance in the workable department. Music, "Tapping at the Garden Gate." The stories are very good. Mrs. Moulton concludes the deeply interesting serial, "DID HE FORGET HER?" Miss Prescott continues on "THE CASANOVS' AUNT" in her usual lively style. Harris Boyer's "SCHOOL-GIRL'S STORY" will be found especially attractive, and there is a rich variety besides in prose and poetry.—Published by Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia. Price $2.50 a year (which also includes a large steel engraving). Four copies, $8. Five copies (and one gratis), $8. "The Lady's Friend" and "The Saturday Evening Post" (and one engraving), $4.00.

Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, has made a requisition upon the President for troops, to be used in one of the counties of that State, which he declares to be in a state of insurrection.

Paper petitions at fifteen cents retail are the latest sensation in Boston.

LET WELL ALONE.

There seems to be a sort of mania in Congress for tinkering with the national finances, says the N. Y. Herald, and generally those who are most ignorant of the subject make the most noise about it. Yet there is no subject which calls more urgently for a laissez faire policy.

The country will settle the financial problem for itself. The laws of trade, industry of the people, wonderful resources of the country, and our rapid growth in wealth and population will regulate the finances and currency if Congress will let them alone. We are doing well enough now. We are paying the debt at the rate of nearly a hundred millions a year and are approximating a specie basis.

Why, then, disturb this state of things?—Too much legislation is an evil. It operates much as the practice of some quacks who physis their patients to death. Let well alone should be the motto of every member of Congress.

A LUCKY FIND.—The Kansas City News, of a late date tells a story of a William Pace, who recently purchased and is now improving a lot near the eastern terminus of Twelfth streets, discovered on his premises a treasure of no trifling import. He was digging for the foundation of a house, near the roots of an old tree that had long ago been cut down. Mr. Pace was freely using the spade, when suddenly it struck something solid and apparently immovable. Digging around the object, it was soon brought to light.

It proved to be a small iron chest, rusty, but solid. It was at once removed from its bed under the earth, and with some difficulty opened. Imagine the surprise and delight of Mr. P. on discovering therein, gold to the amount of $5,630. With the gold was also found a note, and in the note was legibly written:

"Hidden from the soldiers in 1864. If I never return, and this is discovered the finder will please devote half the amount to charitable purposes, and the balance he can keep for his own use. I am an old man, with not a relative in Missouri. J. C. WAITE."

The money has been placed in the bank Mr. P. understands, intends fulfilling the written request of the old man to the letter, and especially gladly, no doubt, will be appropriate "the balance" referred to in Mr. Waite's note.

FEMALE PERJURER.—Sarah Gore, a white woman, convicted in Philadelphia of perjury, has been fined $500, and sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years; Judge Paxton, in passing sentence, thus addressed the prisoner:

"You deliberately and falsely charged a respectable citizen with high crime upon your person. And having made it, you brought him into this court on trial, and upon that trial you committed wilful, deliberate and corrupt perjury, in order to convict him.—You did all you could to consign an innocent man for a long term of years to the penitentiary, and to blast his reputation for all time. Nor is this all. I have judicial knowledge of the fact that you have made similar charges against several other respectable citizens, for the purpose of extorting money, and that in some of these cases you have been successful; but Mr. Wiener would not submit to your demands. He appeals to a jury of his fellow-citizens, and they have vindicated him; and he has also brought you to the bar of justice, for which he deserves the thanks of every good citizen.

Your offense is one which can receive no mercy here. While we give a burglar the extreme penalty of the law, we can do no less in a case like this. A man had better have twenty burglars in his house than one such woman as you. A burglar may steal the property of the citizen. You would rob him of his good name to make him infamous in the community, as well as sow the seeds of discord in his domestic relations."

The jury in the Howie murder case at Laramie City, Nebraska, rendered a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree, at 12 o'clock Saturday night, having been up four days and nights. The ladies of the jury were much fatigued.

Mrs. Jennings, whose husband is serving a term in the Massachusetts State prison for robbery, applied for an interview with him the other day, but her request was denied, and she went home and died.

Since the 1st of January 5,067 colored persons from Virginia have passed over the Tennessee railroad, bound further south.

The young ladies of an Iowa town announce a "love-making and manchoosing meeting, admission 25c."

The Alaska Mektonoontsoots live in Arcadian simplicity on the Atatocoolakuhargat river.

The Quakers are urging the removal of General Sheridan from the command of the Indian country.

A school teacher near Greenfield, Indiana, struck one of his scholars on the head with an iron poker the other day, from the effects of which he died. The teacher was arrested.

A drove of 485 turkeys from Ohio, intended for the tobacco plantations of Connecticut, passed through Baltimore a few days ago.

Somerset county made $580,000 worth of butter last year.

THE ALTAR.—On the 16th inst. by the Rev. A. Bahaman, Mr. JACOB F. NEWMAN to Miss EMMA S. FRANTZ.

On the 17th instant, by the same, Mr. JOHN P. MILLER, to Miss REBECCA HARBAUGH.

THE TOMB.—On the 10th inst., near Greencastle, Mr. SAMUEL SMITH, in the 81st year of his age.

On the 12th inst., in Mercersburg, Mrs. ELIZABETH, wife of Mr. Cyrus Kennedy, in the 26th year of her age.

Near Snow Hill, on the 12th inst., Mrs. MARY BOUSEB, aged 76 years, 1 month and 28 days.

Near Chambersburg on the evening of the 11th of March; by Mr. JOHN LANTZ, Sr., formerly of Quincy township, aged 77 years, 8 months and 15 days.

On the 4th ult., near Waynesboro', Mrs. SUSAN SHOCKEY, daughter of Henry Bonebrake, aged 24 years, 9 months and 28 days.

But some few weeks before her death our young friend had all the prospects of life and happiness in this world that any of our most favored young people here; but the Lord saw for good to afflict her, which affliction was attended with intense suffering, yet she bore it without a murmur, having her mind upon the Lord. In this time she desired to unite with the people of God and was received by the Church. She resigned herself to the mercy of God and gave satisfaction of her acceptance. Thus the relentless messenger of death called upon the father, brothers, sisters, young husband and her first-born, to part with one of their most loved, and oh how solemn is the bereavement of our loved ones! May this be a warning to us all that in the midst of life we are in death.—"Prepare to meet thy God."

May the Lord in kindness greet thee, And receive thee unto rest, And may we strive there to meet thee With the sanctified and blest.

Rest then, sister, rest above then, From thy labor here below, We will gladly meet thee there, When We from earth to heaven go.
