

VILLAGE RECORD.
WAYNESBORO.
Thursday, March 31, 1870.

LOCAL MATTERS.

► Garden Seeds at Ambersons.
► The weather yesterday was delightful.
► The roads are improving.
► Potatoes are still a drag in the market. From 30 to 40 cents according to quality.
► Hagerstown is to have a Second National Bank.
► Franklin county has 189 school houses, 228 schools, and estimated value of school property $154,650.
► Oils, Paints, Glass and Putty at the best prices the market can afford, at the Corner Drug Store.
► Mr. John Fisher, a favorably known landlord, has taken charge of the Indian Queen Hotel, in Chambersburg.
► PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—Hon. John Cassin will accept our thanks for valuable public documents.
► CHANGED.—Bier's Woolen Factory near this place has passed into the hands of John Baer & Sheller, Mr. E. Baer, having leased the establishment. See advertisement.
► DEAD.—Emanuel Stoyer, Esq., a well-known citizen died at his residence in Quincy, on Tuesday last, at an advanced age. Mr. S. had been ill but a few days.
► Rev. Mr. Buhman, of this place, preached in the Second Lutheran Church in Harrisburg Sunday morning and evening last.
► DECEASED.—Henry W. Funk, a well-known and much respected farmer, died at his residence near Antietam Junction on Sunday morning last. He had been much afflicted for a number of years.
► BLOWN DOWN.—During the storm on Sunday morning last the smoke stack at the Quincy Tannery, erected last Summer by Mr. Geo. Middow, proprietor, at a cost of $150, was demolished.
► The "Hug Me Tight" is the name of a new jacket which the ladies wear. The jacket is made in a novel manner and speaks for itself, so there is no chance to misunderstand its meaning.
► CASHIER ELECTED.—William M. Marshall, Esq., for many years cashier of the Hagerstown Bank, has been elected cashier of the Peoples' Bank, just started at Newville.
► We publish on first page an extract from the speech of Revels, colored U. S. Senator from Mississippi, presenting our readers, of both political parties, would be curious to see a "darkey speech" in print.
► At the late Conference of the M. E. Church, held at Lewistown, Pa., we notice that the Rev. Daniel Sheffer, two years ago Pastor of the M. E. Church in this place, was transferred to the Upper Iowa Conference.
► DENTISTRY.—We commend those of our patrons desiring teeth inserted, filled or extracted, to Dr. A. K. Branishols, who is a reliable gentleman and an excellent Dentist. Office on Mechanic street, formerly Dr. T. D. French's.
► HORSE DROWNED.—A horse was drowned at a crossing of the creek near Leitersburg on Monday. Three men in the wagon succeeded in getting the animal loose from the shafts and swam ashore. It is supposed the horse became entangled in the gearing and thus sank.
► The first of April is here, but we are minus the "stamps" necessary to meet pressing demands. We hope, however, through the aid of delinquents to be able to relieve our creditors—the Paper Man excepted—in a few days.
► NEW STOCK.—D. B. Russell & Son, it will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, have recently replenished their stock of tinware, stores and house-furnishing articles in general. Call and examine their new goods.
► LAMPS.—The Reformed congregation of this place, we notice, has put up lamps on Mechanic street and one in front of the Church, for the benefit of persons passing to and from public worship on dark nights. This is certainly commendable and worthy of imitation by other denominations.
► FIRE.—About 10 o'clock on Thursday night last an alarm of fire was given, and for a time the greatest excitement prevailed. The brilliant light however was soon discovered to proceed from a large straw stack in a field belonging to Gen. Burns, of this place, but a short distance from town. This fire was doubtless the work of an incendiary.
► MOVING.—As the first of April approaches "fittings" become more numerous. Our streets, for several days, have been all astir with the clatter of wagons and other vehicles, passing to and fro, freighted with goods and chattels. It is well that "moving day" so much dreaded, comes but once a year.
► FIRE.—The stone dwelling house of Mr. Daniel Steward, residing one-half mile from Concord on the road leading from Concord to Dry Run, was entirely consumed by fire on Thursday night last, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock. The fire originated at the roof of an adjoining wash-house. The loss is estimated at $2000. No insurance—Opinion.

► GREAT STORM.—What may be termed a little girl named Mary Snider, aged about thirteen years, was informed, in Warren township, this County, stated to her sister that her father had been outraged and that her sister's husband named William Davis was her ravisher. Davis immediately afterwards disappeared, and did not show himself in this County again, until a few months ago, when he appeared as a perfect outlaw in the neighborhood of Myersburg and was pursued and arrested by Doctors Grosh and Blair and taken to Hagerstown for some crime alleged to have been committed there. Whilst he was lying in jail there, Mary Snider came here and made information against her father. A requisition was procured and the States Attorney of Washington County, Md. fearing that he would be unable to convict him there, consented to his surrender for trial in this County. Sheriff Fletcher escorted him to this town on Monday of last week, and he is now lodged in jail.—V. Spirit.

► APPOINTMENTS.—The following are the appointments for this district of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Conference held its sessions this year at Lewistown, Pa., and adjourned to meet next year at Carlisle:
Carlisle District.—T. Mitchell, Presiding Elder, Carlisle; First Church, H. C. Parsons; Carlisle, Emory Chapel, W. M. Fryberger; Mount Holly, J. M. Lantz; Chambersburg, E. W. Kirby; Chambersburg, Second Church, J. Donahue; Shippensburg, H. M. Ash; Shippensburg Circuit, J. Lloyd; Newville and Rehoboth, W. H. Keith; Mechanicsburg, J. H. McGarrath; New Cumberland, J. M. Clarke, J. B. Shaver; Duncannon, G. T. Gray; Newport, A. R. Miller; Liverpool, A. H. Menst; York, First Church, W. M. D. Ryan; York, Duke Street, G. D. Pennacker; Wrightsville, J. W. Olewine; Shrewsbury, W. A. McKee, one to be supplied; Castle Pin, J. A. McKindless; Hanover and New Oxford, J. A. Dixon; York Springs, T. F. McClure, J. B. Young; Gettysburg, H. O. Chetson; J. H. S. Clarke; Mount Alto, J. W. Fiecht; Waynesboro', J. A. De Moyer; Greencastle, J. A. Woodcock; Mercersburg, G. W. Izor; McConnellsborg, H. Linn, L. A. Rudisill.

► DESTRUCTION OF A HOUSE.—On Friday morning last the barn of Mr. Emanuel Snyder, residing on the old Dorsey farm, on the Leitersburg turnpike, about two miles from this place, was entirely destroyed by fire, together with nine head of horses, nine head of cattle, eighteen hogs, five sheep, one hundred and twenty barrels of corn, harness, farming implements, hay, straw, &c., one valuable milk cow also being saved from the flames. This entails a very heavy loss upon Mr. Snyder, which is to be greatly regretted indeed. The origin of the fire has not been definitely ascertained, but is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as when it was first discovered the barn was burning in two separate places. We understand that Mr. Snyder is insured for $1,800 in the Farmers Mutual of Leitersburg.

► DECEASED.—We regret to record the death of Mr. W. W. Crooks, which took place at his residence in Fayetteville last week. He had been ill for some time. The Public Opinion says: He was a nephew of the late lamented W. W. Crooks, Esq., who died in Chambersburg in 1859. He was a practical printer by profession, and conducted with ability, for some years, the Green-castle Ledger, since changed to Valley Echo. He was from a family naturally endowed with intelligence, and, like his illustrious uncle, could make himself at home in almost any avocation. The Chambersburg Lodge, I. O. E. F., of which deceased was a member, attended his funeral, together with a large concourse of friends.

► EDITOR'S DAMAGES.—During the war, the office of the Hagerstown Mail, a violent opponent of the Government, was sacked and destroyed by a mob. The Editor brought suit against the corporation and got a judgment for $7,500 damages. The corporate authorities took the case to the court of appeals, where the judgment below has just been affirmed.

► THIS MAN DEBERT WAS A TREASONABLE wretch, a fool in the hands of the Hagerstown sympathizers, and early in the Rebellion furnished the enemy maps of this county and Washington county, for which act of disloyalty, he was justly banished to the dominions of Jeff. Davis. For his perfidy the Courts now reward him as above stated.—Had justice been done his remaining property would have been confiscated for the use of the government.

► MEAN MEN.—Henry Ward Beecher says of mean men, "I have great hope of a wicked man; slender hope of a mean one. A wicked man may be converted and become a prominent saint. A mean man ought to be converted six or seven times, one night after the other, to give him a fair start, and put him on an equality with the bold wicked man. I have known men who thought the object of conversion was to cleanse them as a garment is cleansed, and that when they were converted they were to be hung up in the Lord's wardrobe, the door of which was to be shut, so that no dust could get to them. A coat that is not used the month out, and a Christian that is hung up so that he shall not be tempted, the moths eat him; and they have poor food at that."

► ARRIVED.—Messrs. Amberson, Benedict & Co. have received their new goods. Call and see.

► THE BLYRIA (Ohio) CONSTITUTIONALIST, March 16, says: "At a point on the east branch of the Black River, near the intersection of Fourth street and East avenue, is a place where it has been convenient for peddlars to cross the river when bridged over by ice. The thaw of last week had a weakening effect upon the ice previously formed over the river and rendered it an unsafe passage."
► On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Beese, a woman who had reached the declining age of life, in company with two boys, aged about ten years, started for their home on the east side of the river, taking the usual route. After reaching the river at the point above designated they ventured to cross, notwithstanding the unsafe condition of the ice. Having proceeded almost to the opposite shore the ice suddenly gave way and instantly precipitated the three into deep water. The unfortunate trio made every effort to save themselves, but these efforts were unsuccessful, as it was impossible for either of them to rise above the ice.
► At this juncture little Mary Snider, aged eleven years, whose parents reside on the west bank, close to the river crossing, hearing the cries of the distracted woman and terrified children, quickly ran to the water's edge, and perceiving at a glance the perilous position of the struggling trio, with remarkable presence of mind in one so young, seized a long pole that lay near by, and heroically ventured upon the weak ice to their assistance. At every step the ice beat and cracked, as if to warn the little heroine back from her brave purpose; but still, with the hope of saving their lives, even at the imminent probability of losing her own, she bravely kept on her way and finally succeeded in placing the pole within reach of the now almost exhausted woman. Here the child remained for some time, reaching the pole to each of the sufferers, and thus affording a sufficient support to keep their heads above water. At this juncture a number of men who were passing by came to the relief of the distressed persons. A boat was dispatched to their aid, and, after much difficulty, the sufferers were rescued, not, however, until one of the men who had gone in the boat had narrowly escaped drowning himself.
► The woman was taken to a neighboring house, where she was carefully attended, but so serious has been her fright, and so exhausting her exertions to save herself, that it was several hours ere she could be removed to her home. The children did not seem to be much exhausted. Had it not been for the heroic presence of mind of the little girl a painful calamity would undoubtedly have resulted.

► SHOCKING CASE OF HYDROPHOBIA.—On Wednesday last week, a citizen of Queens, Long Island, named Henry Klean, was attacked by a ferocious dog, and badly bitten. The attack of the brute was observed by Messrs. Rowland and Gilles, who drove the dog away, and carried Klean to the post-office, where his wounds were dressed. He was afterwards removed to his home, where he finally recovered so as to be able to resume his everyday duties. On Thursday last his conduct excited suspicion; he complained of feeling dizzy, which was attended by nausea and vomiting. He entered the larger beer saloon of Mr. Schmidt and asked for a glass of lager, which when offered he refused to accept, and left the house. Under the horse shed he observed a pail of water, which he frantically seized and dashed to the ground. He then started on a run for his residence. He dashed open the door in a paroxysm of terror, yelling with delirium and pain, frothing from the mouth, and bleeding from the nose. He continued unabated in his sufferings for about an hour, and as he seemed to grow worse, it was found necessary to cause his death by smothering him between feather beds.

► A SAD ROMANCE OF CAPTAIN WILLIAMS.—In conversation with a very intelligent and accomplished lady from Maine, a few days since, I learned the following facts, which throw the shadow of romance over the Oueda disaster: Commander Williams, the highest officer of the vessel, and one of the lost, was a widower of something less than forty, and the father of two bright children. In May last he contracted an engagement for a second marriage, which was to have taken place very soon after the arrival of the Oueda in this country. I believe it was fixed for the middle of April.—He left the United States for Japan in June last, and just before his departure he was one of a dinner party at which my informant and the affianced bride were also present. Had he returned safely he would have known a fate which his brave heart would not have met with the cool courage that faced death, at his post on the quarter deck. Since the first of January his two children and his intended wife have died. When he left Japan he had not heard this sad news, but supposed he was coming home to meet them all in health and happiness. So to die, at least of the gallant men who went down of the ill-fated steamer, death can not be called disaster.—Washington Letter to Cin. En.

► RICHMOND'S COUNSEL.—"My son," said Leigh Richmond, "remember you must die, and you may die soon, very soon. If you are to die a boy, you must look for a boy's religion, a boy's knowledge, a boy's faith, a boy's Saviour, a boy's salvation, or else a boy's ignorance, a boy's obstinacy, a boy's unbelief, a boy's idolatry, a boy's destruction. Remember all this, and beware of sin; dread the sinfulness of an unchanged heart; pray for a new one; pray for grace and pardon, and a soul conformed to the image of Christ."

► PETER REIS OF CHICAGO, died recently, leaving a will by which all his property, valued at $80,000, is left to his wife on the condition that she shall neither give nor lend any money, even the smallest sum, to any church or religious, benevolent, political organization whatever. "Should she do so, the property at once goes to the children. Upon the death of the widow, the children are to receive whatever remains of the estate, though either of them will forfeit his or her right by an act of disobedience to the mother during her lifetime.

► IN NEW HAMPSHIRE, at Hampton Falls where Pike, the murderer, was recently hanged, the coat was $465. The gallows cost $250; the Sheriff's fee was $100, and the incidental expenses were $115. It was with great difficulty that the sheriff found carpenters to build the gallows, workmen exhibiting no little repugnance to engaging in its construction.

► GONE UP.—The Hagerstown Times & Weekly says: "The seer Charles Carroll, made notorious by his connection with the Rowland murder trial, has got his just deserts at last; and has 'gone up' for the term of seven years, having been convicted in the Criminal Court of this county, of larceny, and sentenced to the penitentiary for the number of years above mentioned. Our community has at last gotten rid of one of its worst characters."

► THAT LONG ETERNITY.—Had Adam commenced counting on the very day he was created, and counted rapidly every day, for twelve hours a day, to the present time, he would not have counted a trillion. "And yet a trillion can easily be represented by a line of figures one inch in length. If it takes so long to count the years in a line of figures one inch in length, how long would it take to count the years in a line 668 miles, ten miles, a hundred miles, a million of miles in length? And if it takes so long simply to count those years, how long will it take to live them?"
O! eternity! Where shall we spend it?
