

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO.

Thursday August 11, 1870.

A wealthy Californian can ride 27 miles in a straight line on his own lands.

A man in Philadelphia in one of the late games in that city had his nose spread all over his face with a base ball. Who would not be a base ballist?

The election in Utah has resulted in the choice of General Maxwell, the anti-Mormon candidate, as the delegate to Congress.

On Saturday night a train on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad was thrown from the track near White Sulphur Springs and a horrible result followed. Ten persons were instantly killed and over twenty wounded, many severely.

A gentleman who has traveled extensively through Illinois and Iowa, informs the Peoria Transcript that the crops of wheat and corn are simply immense. Nothing like it known for years.

Paul Schoppe writes Governor Geary that he prefers facing the cannon's mouth on behalf of Prussia to being hanged. He tells the governor that if released he will at once volunteer in the Prussian army, and again asserts his innocence.

A GREAT BATTLE.—The latest news from the seat of war is that a great battle has been fought. The victorious Prussians followed up their capture of Wissembourg by an advance on the right and left of their line, and fought on Saturday two battles and won two victories. The left of their army under the Crown Prince, Frederick William, advanced from Wissembourg into French territory and met the division of General McMahon near Hagenua, a town in Alsace, twenty miles from the frontier. A battle commenced at mid-day and continued until dark, the French being routed and driven back in the direction of Bitscho, a French town thirty miles northeast of the battle ground. The Prussians captured four thousand prisoners, thirty guns, two mitrailleuses and two standards. A despatch from the Emperor acknowledges this defeat, and states that McMahon has been isolated by the victorious army from communication with the other French forces. Napoleon ends his despatch announcing the French disaster with the statement that he in person will assume command in the centre. The division of McMahon comprised the choicest troops of the French army, mainly those who had seen service in Algeria, and their commander had a high renown as a soldier, won by his share in the victory at Magenta in the Italian war. Both armies suffered great losses. While the attack was being made on McMahon at the right of the French army, their left, under General Frossard, was also defeated between Saarbruck and Sierok by the right of the Prussian army. At this point also the victors advanced into French territory, first recapturing Saarbruck, and then, according to one report, marching on and holding the French towns of Sierok and Thionville, situated on the Moselle, and distant respectively two and twelve miles from the border. These particulars are substantiated in despatches from King William and the Emperor, all going to show the importance and completeness of the German success. There was the most intense excitement and consternation in Paris on Sunday upon the publication of the Emperor's news of disaster. A proclamation from the Emperor and Ministry was issued last night, calling upon the patriotism of the people to sustain the war, declaring the city in a state of siege, and convoking the Corps Legislatif on Thursday. The Emperor conveys the impression that he will immediately renew the contest and endeavor to gain back his lost ground.

P. S. Later accounts confirm the news of the battle and victory by the Prussians referred to above.

STREET OUTRAGE.—John W. Baldy, alias Welsh, and Wm. H. Duncan, convicted in the Philadelphia Quarter Sessions on Wednesday a week of outraging the person of Miss Jervis, and on Thursday of highway robbery, in taking from her eleven dollars, after committing the rape upon her person, and also of assault and battery with intent to kill Cardus Moorby, the young man who was in company with Miss Jervis when the vuffians seized and dragged her off, have received from Judge Paxson a sentence which will have a salutary effect upon the gang of Philadelphia ruffians who have hitherto practiced their villainies almost with impunity. The Judge sentenced them to the payment of a fine of $3,000 and an imprisonment of thirty-two years in the Eastern Penitentiary. The court room resounded with the low, dull buzz that is always consequent upon occurrences of this kind, and then the usual business was resumed.

The planet Saturn, with its marvelous assemblage of rings and satellites, is now a conspicuous object in the evening skies, and will remain so during the summer months. It rises about sunset, and arrives on the meridian a little before midnight.

Hon. William H. Seward, who will be seventy years of age in May of 1871, is preparing for a voyage around the world.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Delinquents, pay up!

Growing short.—The supply of ice.

Now is the time to advertise Real Estate.

Katydid, the six weeks betelers of frost, have commenced operations.

ON HAND.—A large lot of Glass for pictures, all sizes, at the Diamond Gallery.

Ripe peaches, the first of the season, are retailing at Reid's grocery.

No court next week. By agreement civil cases for trial are continued to next term.

Mrs Mary McDade, of Greenacastle, died on the 2d inst., in the 108th year of her age.

Some of our business men are agitating the propriety of establishing a cash or thirty-day system in business.

SCARCE.—The parched up condition of the pasture fields is making butter scarce at high figures.

Morgan's "roasting ear train" continues to arrive daily. John is a welcome visitor to the lovers of "hot corn."

MELONS.—Our neighbor Reid will receive a supply of fresh melons and cantelopes tomorrow (Friday) evening.

COUNTY FAIR.—The Franklin County Agricultural Society will hold their Fair on the 5th, 6th and 7th days of October next.

A fine lot of Frames and Mouldings, cheap for cash, at the Diamond Gallery.—Don't fail to call.

The killing of partridges is prohibited by law for the next three years. An act to this effect was approved in April last.

Mr. J. H. Herr is operating Forney's Feather Renovator for the present in this place. See advertisement.

We learn that the proprietor, Mr. V. B. Gilbert, purposes enlarging the Beautiful View Springs building in time for next season.

APPRENTICE WANTED.—A boy who can come well recommended will be taken as an apprentice to the printing business at this office for the usual term, four years.

HOG LAW.—Of late there seems to be a total disregard of the "hog law" in our town. In this particular the High Constable has certainly come short of his duty.

DENTISTRY.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Dr. J. M. Peddicord, Surgeon Dentist, has permanently located himself in this place. The Dr. comes well recommended.

Harvest is long past, but the chap with the "big feet" has failed to make his appearance with the promised "greenbacks" for a year's subscription. Has he re-considered the matter and concluded to invest in Baltimore lager?

RETURNED.—Rev. A. Burkman and our friend, Mr. P. Benedict, who had been on a tour to Bedford and the Springs near that place for several weeks, returned home on Tuesday well pleased with their visit to that famous watering place.

HOOPING-COUGH.—This complaint is quite prevalent in our midst just now. With the mercury up in the nineties the juveniles thus afflicted must experience a sorry time of it.

CORNER STONE LAID.—The corner stone of the Reformed Church was laid in this place on Sunday with the customary religious services. The sermon on the occasion was preached in the M. E. Church by Rev. Mr. Heisler, of Funkstown, Pa.

PAY UP.—Dr. Benj. Frantz having sustained a heavy loss in the destruction of his barn and other property by fire, makes an appeal to persons owing him to settle their accounts without delay.

Our farmers should bear in mind the well known fact. That the fertility of the soil declines year by year in all countries lacking a diversified industry. Again we say, diversify your crops.

A great many Buckeye sewing machines are being sold. After awhile every family will have one. The ladies are beginning to find out that these articles, like good husbands, are handy affairs to have about the house. A. E. Waynant, agent, Waynesboro.

CAMP MEETING.—The Camp Meeting commenced by the Church of God near Mt. Zion Church, on Thursday last, will, we learn, be continued over Sunday. On Sunday last the attendance was very large. Good order prevailed.

GONE.—Calvin Gimmel, by profession a Moulder, recently left this place with his family for parts unknown, without the usual courtesy of giving us "good-bye" and settling up arrears. We understand he mulched some of our business men to the tune of about six hundred dollars, as evidence that he travels successfully on his cheek.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.—The Democratic County Convention met at Chambersburg on Thursday last and nominated the following ticket:—Assembly, Capt. G. W. Skinner, of Chambersburg; Commissioner, Samuel M. Worley, of Chambersburg; Director of the Poor, P. M'Ferron, of Guilford; Jury Commissioner, Elias Patton, of Peters, and Auditor, John A. Sellers, of St. Thomas.

SELECT SCHOOL.—The communication in our last issue suggesting the purchase by a stock company and conversion of the Union Church into a school building, we are pleased to learn meets with general favor. The expenses for the necessary changes and repairs it is said will be comparatively small, and the building is found to be amply large for the present wants of our town and neighborhood. The situation being high and airy makes it a delightful one for a school. The want of a suitable building has been the one great obstacle in the way of a permanent select school in our midst. Teacher after teacher has tried the experiment of establishing such a one, but all were forced to abandon the undertaking, not for lack of patronage, but for want of comfort and the inconveniences to which they were subjected. Supply this want in the purchase of the Union Church, and we feel sanguine a first-class school can be established and maintained. Instead of parents sending their boys and girls to school at a distance at an expense of $500 or $600 a year, they could receive the same instruction at home at perhaps less than half that expense. There are surely enough citizens in our town—now that an opportunity is offered—to secure for it an institution so much needed, when it can be done with so small an outlay and without the risk of losing a dollar. Who will have the courage to make a move towards the consummation of so desirable an end?

The Red Barn Camp Meeting, held by the Methodists of Carlisle District, is in successful operation, at Red Barn Station, on the Cumberland Valley railroad. We learn from the Camp Journal (published on the camp ground) that the grand auditorium is in the form of a square, of mammoth proportions, and is supplied with board seats, arranged in six blocks, and fully able to accommodate about 4000 persons. Between the blocks are wide, spacious aisles, and a main avenue between the tents and seats.

The programme for the daily exercises is as follows: 5 00 A. M.—Hour of rising. 5 30—Special Prayer meetings. 6 15—Family worship. 6 30—Breakfast. 8 00—Prayer meeting at the stand. 10 00—Preaching. 12 00 M.—Dinner. 1 45 P. M.—Secret prayer. 2 30—Preaching. 5 00—Tea. 6 00—Preachers' experience meeting. 7 30—Preaching.

Every necessary convenience has been supplied. Daily mails are sent and received. There are on the grounds a printing office, post office, justice's office, barber shop, soda fountain, etc. Fresh meats, vegetables and ice are supplied regularly. Cisterns in various portions of the grove furnish an abundance of water. All railway trains stop at the station. And efficient police force is employed. Eighteen preachers were present the first day of the meeting.

THE WEATHER.—Up to this writing, (Wednesday) the weather continues excessively warm and dry. Five or six weeks have elapsed since our region of country has been favored with enough rain to moisten the ground to the depth of one quarter of an inch. The cornfields which looked so promising up to the first of July, owing to the drought are all more or less so much fired as to be beyond remedy from a two days rain. In our immediate neighborhood the crops must prove the lightest gathered for the last ten or twelve years. We understand the fruit prospects have also been materially damaged from this cause.

We learn from our exchanges that the weather has been more seasonable further North, and that a fine yield of corn is anticipated.

P. S. Since the above was put in type we have been favored with a most delightful shower, completely flooding the streets and cooling the heated atmosphere. The indications favor a "settled rain."

DENTISTRY.—Attention is invited to the advertisement of Dr. A. K. Branisholts in another column. He can be found at all times at his office on Mechanic street, where he is prepared to insert teeth on the best basis in use, and at prices to suit the times.—Teeth extracted without pain by the use of chloroform, ether, or the freezing process, in a manner surpassed by none.

The Dr. is permitted to give the names of the following individuals as reference:—Drs. J. M. Ripple, E. A. Herring, J. B. Amberson, I. N. Snively, J. J. Oellig, A. S. Bonebrake, and T. D. French, S. D.

AN ACCIDENT.—A young man named Henry Kime, from the Marsh, narrowly escaped being killed on Monday evening. He was riding a bolt out of town when it took fright near the residence of Jacob Reisinger, on the old Hagerstown road, and the saddle-girth breaking he was thrown upon his head with so much violence as to be insensible for some time. He was taken into the house of Mr. R. and a physician summoned. He had so far recovered on Tuesday morning as to enable his friends to remove him to his home.

SQUIBBLES.—The Act of 1869 prohibits the shooting of Squirrels and Rabbits between the 1st of January and the 1st of August. Sportsmen can now go to work, the prohibition having ceased on the 1st of August.

GIVE YOUR BOY A TRADE.

We may be dull, but we have never been able to understand why it is that there is so much repugnance on the part of parents and guardians of children to putting their son to a trade. We regard a skilled mechanic as an independent man. Go where he will in this great country, his craft will bring him an honest, even though it be a humble, support. He need ask favors of none. In his own hands, literally, he has his fortune.—But, alas, there are too many foolish parents, who, ambitious that their sons should "rise in the world," as they say, are more willing that they should study for a profession, with the chances of even moderate success heavily against them, or run the risk of spending their manhood in the ignoble task of retailing dry goods, or toiling laboriously at the accountant's desk, than learn a trade which would bring them manly strength, health and independence. In point of fact, the method they choose is the one least likely to achieve the advancement aimed at, for the supply of candidates for positions as "errand-boys," dry goods clerks, and kindred occupations, is notoriously overstocked, while, on the other hand, the demand for really skilled mechanics, of every description, is notoriously beyond the supply. The crying need of this country to-day is for skilled labor; and that father who neglects to provide his son with a useful trade, and to see that he thoroughly masters it, does him an injustice, a grievous wrong, and runs the risk of helping by so much, to increase the stock of idle and dependent, if not vicious, members of society.

It is stated in the report of the Prison Association, lately issued, that of 14,590 prisoners confined in the penitentiaries of thirty States, in 1867, 77 per cent, or over 10,000 of the number had never learned a trade.—The fact conveys a lesson of profound interest to those who have in charge the training of boys, and girls, too, for the active duties of life.

A HINT FOR ENGLAND.—A somewhat improbable rumor prevails in Philadelphia that a secret agent of the Irish Fenians arrived in that city on Thursday, bringing to the brotherhood in this country assurances that in case England sides with Prussia during the latter's war with France Napoleon has engaged to invade Ireland with an army of fifty thousand men. The agent is endeavoring to heal the difference which exists between the several Fenian factions in this country, with a view of securing their aid in the struggle which he thinks is soon to spring up in Ireland. England is too well aware of the weakness of her tenure in Ireland to endanger it by seeking a quarrel with France, and she will be doubly careful to avoid entangling herself in the Prussian imbroglio now that she is informed of the alliance entered into between Napoleon and the Fenians.

CLOSING OUR.—Updegraffs, the Hat, Glove, and Ladies' Fur Manufacturers opposite the Washington House, Hagerstown, are rapidly closing out their stock of summer Hats regardless of cost, to make room for a new stock and a new feature in their business. Country Merchants are reminded that Updegraff will be prepared to furnish them with superior Fall and Winter Gloves of their own production. Their Glove Factory has been in constant operation during the year and has been run to its utmost capacity to accumulate a stock of Gloves, and to supply Merchants and dealers with a good fitting and good wearing Glove, at manufacturing prices.

SALT LAKE, August 7.—Dr. Newman arrived here yesterday and notified Brigham Young that he was ready to proceed with the debate Brigham replied that he had not challenged Dr. Newman or any one else to a discussion of the question of Polygamy. Dr. Newman, in reply, quoted from the Daily Telegraph of this city of May 3, which contained the challenge. Brigham late in the afternoon invited the Doctor to preach in the Tabernacle after he had accepted an invitation to preach in the Methodist Church, consequently Brigham's invitation was declined.

CHICAGO, August 6.—William H. Hanna, a prominent lawyer at Bloomington, Ill., was instantly killed last night by a stroke of lightning while in bed. His wife, lying by his side, was seriously stunned, but recovered, to find her husband dead.

Persons having old Daguerreotypes or Ambrotypes who desire to have them enlarged should call on L. C. Brackbill, of the Diamond Gallery, who warrants satisfaction in all work of that kind.

A NEW VERSION.—At a funeral in Cedar Rapids the officiating clergyman utterance to the following plain truths, "The Bible says: 'In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God;' but to suit the present case I will paraphrase it a little, and say, 'In the beginning was the devil, and the devil was with whisky, and the devil was whisky; and whisky was the cause of this man's death.'"

On Thursday last a party of boys left Phenixville, Pa., to pick berries. They heard the train from Philadelphia approaching, and one of them seated himself on the track to show how near the engine might approach and allow him to escape. The cow-catcher struck him and tossed him thirty feet. The boy was killed instantly.

There is a lady up the country without any eyebrows or hair. She says that she intends after this to be a little more careful with coal oil lamps.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

RECIPEMENT AT PARIS.

LONDON August 8.—News from Paris grows hourly more serious. None but official accounts can come by telegraph. It is from letters and Paris journals that all intelligence must be gathered. The declaration of a state of siege does not repress popular demonstrations and it is very doubtful whether the Government has force to keep order or put down any considerable demonstrations.

The Republicans believe their hour approaches, and Paris at this moment is as likely to rise against Napoleon as to arm against Prussia. One of our correspondents writes on Sunday evening: "The rage, fury and disappointment of the Parisian population at finding there has been a series of defeats on French soil, instead of an easy military promenade which they expected, are beyond description. We already feel the state of siege. All kiosks on the Boulevards were shut-up at 11 o'clock. Something serious, which I cannot fathom, has now taken place, for all the cafes on the Boulevards are shut up, and I could not get from the Boulevard Montmartre to Boulevard des Italiens, it being barred by troops. I shall endeavor to telegraph this fact to you, but feel very certain that the news will not be allowed to pass. I expect to see frightful catastrophes from the furies of the people. The population is temper on reading the proclamation of the Empress and the Ministers, saying that the country may yet be saved if all will be united. Something more serious than I know of must have happened this evening from the state of the Boulevards, which I have observed. All the troops are in the streets now. There is much less excitement than there was last night. The attitude of the people is that of resignation. As far as I know, no serious disorder has taken place."

Another correspondent writes: Every body here was mad this morning, madder at noon, maddest about the revolutionary point at night. We are swindled by the Ministry about news, and though the people may bear up against defeats from Prussians, they will not much longer endure insult and fraud from a terror stricken Government.

A man recently died in Paris in whose mattress was found 30,000 francs. Every morning he went out armed with a good bunch of bread, then taking a turn round the market, he would pick a cherry here, a strawberry there, try a bit of cheese, and then a shred of dried fish, just tasting and trying before buying. In this way he would make his chief meal.

The wife and four little daughters of Ezra Spicer, of Ambury, N. Y., were drowned in a pond near that place, which they attempted to cross one day last week to pick berries.

Figs are so plentiful in California this season that it will not pay to gather them for the market.

A fire broke out a few days ago in the jewelry store of B. B. Larmour, in Baltimore, involving a loss of about $10,000.

A groom of twenty married a bride of seventy in Pittsburg recently, and fled to distant parts a few days afterwards.

Paul Schoppe, the convicted murderer, wants Gov. Geary to pardon him, so that he can go to Europe and fight for Prussia.

At Port Hudson, Louisiana, a few days ago, a party of men and boys undertook to open an old bombshell, when it exploded, killing two men and two boys and wounding another boy.

Pennsylvania was so called in 1681 after William Penn's daughter—Sylvania.

THE TOMBS.

Near this place, on the 1st inst., ABRAHAM GEORGE, only son of Calvin and Hetty Spoilman, aged 7 years, 4 months and 14 days.

Our dear intelligent and charming son Was perhaps too much doted upon; But one so dear and lovely to the heart It is with sorrow for us to part.

We believe our son safe with Jesus at rest With those that are happy and blest No pain, no sorrow can reach, no harm come nigh The lambs that in Jesus' bosom lie.
