

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO.

Thursday August 18, 1870.

APPRENTICE WANTED.—A boy who can come well recommended will be taken as an apprentice to the printing business at this office for the usual term, four years.

Substitutes in Paris command $1,500 in gold, and are scarce at that. Here is a good chance for our American bounty jumpers.

The pugilists, Edwards of New York and Collyer of Baltimore, are to have a bruising match at St. Louis on the 27th of September.

The Prussian Generals are all comparatively young men (Prince Frederick William the hero of Weissenburg, being only 39), while the French officers are all old—the youngest being 55.

Dr. G. V. Bigler has forsaken politics for religion. A few days ago, at the Presbyterian Synod at Bellfonte, he announced that he had retired from public and political life, and bore strong testimony to the value of religion as compared with the uncertainties and excitement of politics.

The North Carolina election, owing to dissensions in Republican ranks resulted in a "Conservative" triumph. The Congressional delegation will stand, 5 Conservatives and 2 Republicans. The Conservatives will have a majority of 14 in the Senate and 30 in the House.

The Evangelical Christian Alliance Convention, which was to have been held in New York in September, has been postponed for one year, in consequence of the War in Europe, which will prevent the attendance of most of the distinguished European divines.

A fearful accident occurred last Saturday night at Jerry's Run, Va., on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. One of the cars was thrown down an embankment one hundred feet high, and shattered to pieces. Twelve persons were killed outright and twenty wounded. All the wounded are in a fair way of recovery.

General Sheridan has been received with marked official attention at Berlin, whence, as last reported, he had departed for the headquarters of King William. As a visiting representative of the army of the United States his achievements had gone before him.

The country will learn with profound sorrow of the death of Admiral Farragut.—The greatest naval hero of the war died at noon on Sunday at Portsmouth, N. H. Since our great struggle closed death has been busy with many of the famous men who carried it to its successful conclusion, but of all those who have gone before him there was no one whom a grateful nation held in higher esteem than the modest and skillful sailor who crushed the rebellion on the Southern seaboard.

BATTLE IN IRELAND.—By special cable telegram from Dublin it is announced a desperate fight occurred between the Queen's troops and a body of Catholic citizens in Londonderry on Friday last. Three persons were killed and quite a number wounded.—The Orangemen and Catholics got through the day apparently in quiet, but the Catholics, and the soldiers came, it appears, in collision. A new phase in the Irish agitation, and of significance in the present condition of Europe.

PEACE ON THE PLAINS.—Frontier settlers (says the N. Y. Herald) are jubilant and speculators and Indian traders are in despair. There will be no war on the Plains unless forced upon the Indians by rascally whites. Thanks to the noble efforts of Red Cloud, the Sioux desire peace, and he is persuading other tribes to lay down their arms and go upon reservations. Thus far the President's Indian policy has been eminently successful, and shows that the red man can be conquered more easily with justice and fair dealing than with the sabre and the bullet.

An official record of the crimes of Paul Schoppé, in Prussia, has been received in this country, from which it appears that he never was a doctor, that he was in the penitentiary there for five years for the robbery, by forgery, of Count Blankensee, and that he was pardoned on condition that he would leave the country. His father, a minister of the gospel, was also imprisoned nine months as being an accomplice of his son in these crimes. He is fully described, so as to leave no possible mistake but that he is the same person who is now under sentence of death at Carlisle, for the murder by poison, of Miss Maria Stinneck, in January, 1868. His father, it will be remembered, was also pastor of the Lutheran church at Carlisle, after coming to this country.

By a recent Act of the State Legislature persons who have not graduated with the degree of M. D., or have failed to take out a county license, are prohibited from practicing medicine.

James Gordon Bennett has been offered $2,000,000 for his paper—the New York Herald.

President Grant's administration pays more of the public debt in one month than Andrew Johnson's did in a year.

ANOTHER BATTLE.—A great battle was fought near Metz on Sunday, and despatches from King William and Napoleon each claim a victory for their armies. Despatches from other sources confirm King William's statement, the victory having been won by the arms of Germany. On Sunday afternoon, a force of Prussians appeared before Toull, on the left bank of the Moselle, on the railroad from Paris to Strasbourg, and about twelve miles from Nancy. They demanded its surrender, but, according to a Paris despatch, they were compelled to retire. The news of the defeat of Napoleon at Metz naturally created great excitement throughout France, and in Paris, Lyons, Marseilles, Toulouse and other cities there was much bitter denunciation of the Emperor. In Paris there were several collisions between citizens and the police, during which several persons on both sides were mortally wounded. Parties of armed men have been discovered at different points in Paris, and guns have also been captured by the authorities. The men who were arrested are to be tried by court martial. A Berlin despatch says that a hundred of German families have been expelled from France, and a Paris despatch states that twenty French citizens of Worth have been shot by the Prussians in retaliation for the cruelties said to have been inflicted on wounded German prisoners. A despatch from Forbach says that the French, while retreating to the west side of the Moselle, were attacked by the Prussians, under General Steinmetz. The French were thrown into great confusion, and after a gallant stand were routed. Mulhouse and Besancon are now both in the hands of the French, and 100,000 of the Prussian Landwehr are crossing the frontier. The Paris National says that there has already been a change of Government in France, and that the Corps Legislatif is virtually a Committee of Public Safety.

GRANT AND NAPOLEON.—The New York Herald of the 10th says: "It was not until General Grant made his first brilliant successes that we comprehended that he might be as strong as the enemy. When he moved immediately on the enemy's works at Fort Donelson and captured an army of prisoners there was a general feeling that he had made a blindly reckless dash, and by the mercy of Providence had succeeded. When he struck into the enemy's country behind Vicksburg many good people thought he was as good as swallowed up by the fierce hordes of Southerners that would fall upon him. But when he took Vicksburg and another army with it, then people comprehended that Gen Grant was a general who meant business, that he knew his own strength and found out as nearly as possible his enemy's, and that he did not terrify himself with the belief that the enemy knew more or was able to do more than he. He was never guilty of vacillation or delay. He struck as soon as he was ready, and he got ready as soon as he could."

"Napoleon's great mistake in the present campaign lay in his vacillation and delay.—It was his purpose to invade Prussia, and at the first enthusiastic uprising of the French army "On to Berlin" was the demand.—There was no necessity for delay. The French army was at least, much readier for the battle than the Prussians, but the demon of vacillation seized Napoleon. So he delayed and waited to strengthen his army when he should have been striking with it across South Germany for Berlin with the speed and energy of the first Napoleon sixty-four years ago. The result is that where Napoleon should have invaded Prussia, United Germany invades France."

LOOK OUT FOR THEM!—An exchange says this is the last trick of a pedlar who goes to a house to sell perfume. He lets the lady of the house "sample" all the goods, and finally gets her to smelling chloroform, puts her to sleep and ransacks the house.—Beware of all essence pedlars. In fact, it is safe to beware of all pedlars. Buy of your regular dealers. You will make by it in the end.

A BOY SUICIDE.—A boy of nine years, named Frank Bosley, committed suicide recently at Dixon, Illinois, by hanging. The boy's father left home for California many years ago, and never returned. Afterward the boy's mother settled in Wisconsin, and left him in care of others. The little fellow, thus deserted by his natural protectors, often expressed a sense of loneliness. A playmate of his had hung himself a few months ago, and little Frank was more than once heard to say that he wished he could die as quickly and be out of trouble. On the day of his death, the boy, cheerful and apparently happy, stayed at home while the family went to spend the day. Going to the barn, he took a strap from the harness and making a noose of one end, and placing it around his neck, with the knot under the ear, tied the other end to a slat over the doorway of the outhouse, so low down that it allowed his knees to touch the ground. When found, his limbs were on the ground, his arm over the doorway and his body was held up by the strap. His neck was dislocated, and every evidence showed that not a struggle succeeded the fall.

Dandruff may be effectually eradicated from the scalp by a few applications of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

An Indiana lady of 114 is still active enough to fill her maternal duties toward her little girl of 78.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Fire Engine for sale. See advt.

Dog Days terminate with Thursday next.

DEAD.—W. A. Anderson, for several years proprietor of the Washington House, Hagerstown, died in that place on the 7th inst.

ADMITTED.—The Repository says Lewis W. Dearich, last week passed a satisfactory examination and was admitted to practice in the Courts of Franklin county.

FESTIVAL.—Waynesboro' Lodge of Good Templars will hold a Festival in the Town Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, 8th, 9th and 10th of September next.

We call attention to the advertisement of Dr. P. Fahrney, Bros. & Co. in this issue. The Fahrney Panacea, or Blood Cleanser, has become a standard family medicine.

A quarrel recently between two lovers on East Main Street is reported. Feelings thus "lascinated" are usually healed by application of a Parson.

Quarterly meeting and Sacramental service at the Meth. Epis. church, on Saturday and Sunday next, Aug. 20 and 21.—Rev. J. A. DeMoyer, Pastor.

Advertise your real estate in the RECORD. It circulates through the most wealthy and populous sections of Franklin county, and Washington county, Md.

RAIN.—Our country during the past week has been blessed with a succession of fine showers, which are reviving the parched pasture fields and benefitting very much the growing corn, etc.

SCHOOL.—Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mrs. Josephine Eank, who purposes opening a select school in this place. Mrs. F. has the experience and is otherwise well qualified to impart the necessary instruction to pupils.

FOR SALE.—Mr. J. C. Reicher offers at private sale a very desirable property situated in the pleasant village of Ringgold, Md. See advertisement.

Miss Sophia Freet also offers at private sale her house and lot of ground near Toms town. See advt.

WATER-MELON.—Our clever neighbor, Mr. Reid, has placed us under obligations to him for a present of a fine water-melon. At his grocery, which is always supplied with the rarities of the season, can now be found a fine selection of melons, cantelopes, sweet-potatoes, etc.

SINGING SCHOOL.—We are instructed to state that Prof. Dock will commence a Singing School in this place about the 1st of September. The Prof. is fully competent to teach music, vocal or instrumental, and persons, especially the young, should avail themselves of this opportunity of learning the art of music.

Rev. J. W. Weightman, the popular and most esteemed Pastor of the Presbyterian congregations of Greencastle and this place, on Sunday morning last announced his intended retirement from these pulpits on the first of October next. It seems by a unanimous vote of the Board of Directors and at their urgent solicitation he has consented to preside over the Wilson Female College, at Chambersburg. His retirement from the pulpit here will be very generally regretted.

OUR POPULATION.—According to the Census report of our Marshall, Mr. J. F. Kurtz, the population of Waynesboro' is 1340. In 1860 it was 1233, leaving us again in ten years of only 107. This is a much smaller increase than we had anticipated, the extensive machine shops of Mr. Erick, the Geiser Manufacturing Company, and Lidy, Russell & Co., having since that time been added to the town.

AN ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last an accident occurred to Misses Sallie O. Amberson and Annie McLaughly. They took a short drive to the country with a horse and buggy belonging to Dr. J. B. Amberson. In making a turn on the road home a short distance from town the buggy was overturned and the ladies thrown out, Miss M. only receiving a couple of slight bruises. This was certainly a fortunate escape from more serious injuries. The horse returned home leaving the Doctor's buggy minus top and shafts.

The sale of the Union Church property comes off on Saturday next. If it is to be purchased by a stock company for an Academy or Select School, as we hope it may, no time should be lost in perfecting the necessary arrangements. An opportunity for the accomplishment of so important an object at so small an outlay may never again be offered.

A report is circulating that a bona fide deed for the property cannot be given. We are authorized to say that this is a mistake, and that such a deed will be executed before any money is paid.

CHRAP PAPER.—The enterprising publisher of the Harrisburg Telegraph, Geo. BERNER, Esq., proposes to furnish his weekly paper from the first of September, 1870, until the first of January, 1871, at the following rates: One copy, 40 cents; ten copies, $3.75; twenty copies, $6.00; fifty copies, $14.00; one hundred copies, $25.00. The Telegraph is one of our best State papers. Orders accompanied by the cash must be addressed to Geo. BERNER, Harrisburg, Pa.

THE COUNTY FAIR.—The Franklin County Agricultural Society, although in existence not quite three years, next to our schools and churches, ranks as the third civilizing force, presenting as it does the highest incentives to industry, stimulating human energies to higher attainments by showing the possibilities of labor and its accomplishments, when directed by science and guided by experience. It has become so engrained upon the popular will, the wants of the community have become so satisfied in it, that a year without the holiday week of the Fair would be like a year without Independence day or an Indian Summer.—The next County Fair will be held at the grounds near Chambersburg, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 5th, 6th and 7th days of October next. The track has been ordered to be put in good condition, as well as the grounds and buildings generally. The work of brushing up has already begun, and by Fair time everything will be in perfect trim. Nothing will be left undone to make the exhibition a success and a source of pleasure to all who may attend it.

We urge our citizens to bestir themselves at once in preparation for a creditable exhibition for our various home products—the farm, the garden, the workshop, and the household.—Let a full Fair—a big Fair—be the effort of all.

Waynesboro', Franklin county, Pa., has 2000 inhabitants, and only one barber. The male members of that community are in great distress when Saturday evening arrives, lest they shall not make a respectable appearance at church on the following Sunday morning.

We slip the following from among the news items in a late No. of the Philadelphia Inquirer. Our population is 1340 instead of 2000. It is true we have but one barber, and a "tip top" one at that, who is amply able to do all shaving, hair-dressing and shampooing required in the community, "comers and goers" included.

MALICIOUS REPORTS.—It appears some envious or evil designed persons sometime since put in circulation false reports—too silly to admit of credence among the better informed—to effect the standing of Mr. D. D. Fahrney as a teacher in our public schools. We can say this much on behalf of Mr. F. Two of our boys attended his school during last winter and made fully as much progress as with other teachers during the same length of time.

We have been shown a complimentary recommendation from the School Board of Leesport, Berks county, where Mr. F. taught school five months, in 1869, endorsed by John R. Gaff, A. M., Principal of girls High School, Chambersburg, Pa.

SENTENCED FOR RAPE.—Last week Samuel Rohrer was sentenced by the court at Chambersburg to the Penitentiary for three years and to pay costs of prosecution for an Assault and Battery with attempt to commit a rape on the person of Miss Harriet A. Mackey.

Wm Davis, for a rape committed on the person of a little girl named Mary Snyder, in 1865, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, costs of prosecution, and undergo an imprisonment of 12 years in the Eastern Penitentiary.

TOMATO CATSUP.—As the season is now advancing for making this delicious table sauce, we recommend the following recipe: One bushel of Tomatoes, boil until soft, skin and skim through a hair sieve or colander. Add one pound of brown sugar, half an ounce of whole allspice, half an ounce of whole cloves, half an ounce of cayenne pepper, one tablespoonful of ground black pepper, one quart of vinegar, and one pint of salt. Mix well and boil until half the quantity is left. Bottle without straining. Boil slowly and stir often. It will keep for years.

WINDING UP.—The summer Hat trade is being successfully wound up at Updegraff's Hat, Glove and Ladies' Fur Factory, opposite the Washington House, Hagerstown. We dropped in the other day and found their stock of summer Hats going regardless of cost, to make room for their new features.—We already noticed quite a handsome line of Gents' Furnishing Goods, Collars, Cuffs, Neck-ties, Bows, Hosiery, Shirts, Shirt Bosoms, &c., &c. They have the agency for the Manhattan Fine Shirt Company, said to make the best fitting and most reliable Shirt of the day.

DIED OF LOOK-JAW.—George Logan, son of our old former citizen Thomas Logan, now of Chambersburg, says the Fulton Republican, died on Tuesday of Look-jaw. On the Wednesday previous, he tramped in a nail with his foot, but the wound did not hurt him, except the stiffness in the leg, with an occasional shoot of pain. The stiffness and pain increased, and ascended the leg, until it got into the spine and continued upward to the jaw. The poor child suffered intense pain, but bore it heroically for one so young.

DEAD.—Dr. Joseph Biggs, a successful practitioner of medicine, died at Graceland, Md. on the 3d inst., in the 72d year of his age.

DENTISTRY! DR. J. M. PEDDIGORD, late of San Francisco, Cal., has located in Waynesboro', and will attend to all the branches of the profession, in a thoroughly practical manner. Teeth extracted without pain by Nitrous Oxide Gas, or a highly improved freeing process. Office two doors west of the Village Record Office. aug 18-19

A Train Goes Through a Bridge.

The passenger train leaving West Chester, on the Philadelphia and West Chester Railroad, at 4:55 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, met with a most extraordinary accident, the escape of its passengers from which may be justly esteemed providential. Upon nearing the bridge over Chester creek, about half a mile above the Baltimore Central Junction, the engineer perceived that the abutments had given way. The stream, unusually swollen by the rains, had pressed so heavily as to undermine them, and upon the weight of the locomotive coming upon them they crumbled into the waters. The locomotive and tender went down head foremost, followed by the baggage car, which stood up on end, and stuck out several feet above the level of the bridge.

Two passenger cars were in the train.—The first of these was largely occupied by ladies, there being some twenty-five or thirty. It piled up on to the protruding baggage car and lodged, at an angle of nearly 45 degrees, the passengers being thrown about in every direction and sustaining severe bruises. In a moment, however, the passengers in the second car (which remained on the track) rushed in, helped the ladies out and placed them in the other car, and had barely done so, the last passenger having just passed back, when the car they had left rolled down into the swift and rapid stream, and floated rapidly away with the current.

Fortunately, no one was killed by the accident, or drowned in the stream. The fireman on the locomotive jumped off in time; the engineer, George Evans, was hurt. The other train hands escaped, and the passengers sustained only bruises.

The bridge is approached by an embankment, about fifteen feet high, and the stream was so wild that it had overflowed its banks, and risen nearly to the level of this embankment, making it appear like a wide and swelling sea. The locomotive was buried from sight. The car floated down stream for about a mile and lodged against a country road bridge.

Meanwhile it rained in torrents, and grew dark. The passengers then left the remaining car, and started for a neighboring farmhouse. The ladies, as well as the gentlemen, were soaked to the skin, and soon became bedraggled with mud, and exhausted by the fatigue and excitement of the occasion.—Their baggage had gone down with the baggage-car, and all their parcels and articles had been lost with the car they were in.—Quarters were at length procured for them at a farm house and they remained all night.

THE KIDNEYS.

The Kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loins, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the Anterior, the Interior, and the Exterior. The anterior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor or also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections, we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions.—If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to effect the bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.

Pain obscuring in the loins is indicative of the above diseases.—They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.

The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the Kidneys. These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish, and sediment forms. It is from this sediment that the stone is formed, and gravel ensues.

DROPSY

is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.

Helmhold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buche is decidedly ONE OF THE BEST REMEDIES FOR DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSICAL, SWELLINGS, RHEUMATISM, and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water; Scanty Secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury, or stopping of water; Hematuria, or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase in color, or dark water. It was always

by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections. This medicine INCREASES THE POWER OF DIGESTION, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise by which the watery or calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and it is taken by men, women, and children. Directions for use and diet accompany. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 25, 1867. H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist: DRAIN SIN—I have been a sufferer, for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent Physicians; experiencing but little relief. Having seen your preparation extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buche. I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubeb, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and with his advice after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at that time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you, and more satisfactory to me. I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now, for three months and feel as well in all respects as I ever did. Your Buche being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor.

A NICE TONIC AND INVIGORATOR OF THE SYSTEM. I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections. M. MCCORMICK. Should any doubt Mr. McCormick's statement he refers to the following gentlemen: Hon. Wm. BIGLER, ex-Governor, Pennsylvania. Hon. THOMAS B. FLEMING, Phila. Hon. J. C. KNOX, Judge, Philadelphia. Hon. J. S. BLACK, Judge, Philadelphia. Hon. D. R. PORTER, ex-Governor, Penn'a. Hon. ELIAS LEVINS, Judge, Philadelphia. Hon. R. C. GAISE, Judge, United States court. Hon. G. W. WOODWARD, Judge, Philadelphia. Hon. W. A. PORTER, City Solicitor, Phila. Hon. JAMES DUNSMUIR, ex-Governor, California. Hon. E. BEANS, Auditor Gen., Washington, D. C. And many others if necessary.
