

VILLAGE RECORD.
WAYNESBORO.
Thursday September 8, 1870.

Indians, like Iowa, has paid the last dollar of her public debt.

The total number of prisoners surrendered by McMahon to the Prussians is put down at 120,000.

A fire broke out in Chicago, Ill. on Monday last, destroying $3,000,000 worth of property. Ten or twelve persons perished in the flames.

An Italian vessel Maria Barbarina, was recently burned at sea, near Australia. One hundred and twenty passengers were lost.

Gen. Walker, superintendent of the census, says the populations of Philadelphia and New York are about equal—900,000 each.

Poor Charlotta, widow of the man whom Napoleon deluded, betrayed, and abandoned to be shot in Mexico, is said to have suddenly recovered her reason, and has been watching with intense interest the progress of the mighty struggle going on for the punishment of the imperial traitor to whom she owed the loss of her husband and her reason. The world will rejoice with her that she has been restored to witness the work of retribution.

RUSSIA VICTORIOUS.—On Friday last the Emperor Napoleon and the army of Gov. McMahon surrendered to the victorious Prussians. According to cable despatches the scene of rejoicing at Berlin on Saturday was unparalleled and the enthusiasm of the German at home has been reproduced in celebrations that have taken place in the principal cities of the United States.

The following special despatch to the New York Herald briefly sums up the particulars of the battle and surrender of the Emperor and army of McMahon:

LONDON, September 3.—A special despatch has been received from Sedan, via Bouillon, September 2d, midnight, which says the die is cast so far as McMahon's fine army and the fortunes of the Emperor are concerned. All is over with France. I have already telegraphed briefly the facts of the battles of Tuesday and Wednesday, each day's fighting being terrific. The result at the close of each day was favorable to the Prussians. Thursday, daylight, showed the French forces reinforced and occupying a strong elevated position from Bazilles, extending down the railroad to Donay and thence to Nairy on the line of the Mouzon Railroad. At five o'clock the Prussians recommenced the battle, making simultaneous attacks on the French front and left flank. Fighting at first was confined to artillery, both armies firing incessantly, the French evidently having a weaker force of guns than the Prussians. At noon a fierce attack was made by the Prussian infantry at Donay, with the object of breaking the French centre, but after tremendous fighting the Prussians fell back. A pause seemed to take place at two o'clock, the firing being less incessant, but it was only the prelude of a yet fiercer assault. At two o'clock a simultaneous movement was made along the whole Prussian line, infantry charging the French guns. At three o'clock the French line, which had previously stood firm, wavered, and immediately thereafter broke. The battle then became a rout, McMahon is reported to have been seriously wounded during the last attack.

The roads now presented a terrible aspect. The French left everything, flying in every direction and throwing away their arms.—The Prussian forces pressed forward resolutely, bent upon cutting off their retreat towards Belgium.

The Prussian troops used the bayonet with terrible effect. Night closed on the rout and pursuit, leaving the Prussians gathering in large numbers around Sedan.

The Emperor remained at Sedan throughout the battle. At half past two o'clock a message was sent to the Emperor at his headquarters advising him to fly to Belgium, but the Emperor was too ill to undertake the journey.

This morning the Prussians prepared to attack Sedan, which was not in a condition to resist. At 12 o'clock a party of officers, headed by General Wimpfler, left Sedan, bearing a flag of truce. It was received by the Prussian advance guard and conducted to the rear to the Prussian headquarters, where the General formally surrendered the French army and fortress to King William. The French party also bore a letter from Emperor Napoleon to King William stating he desired to surrender himself, not having any command. Formal capitulation took place at half past one o'clock.

It is said the Emperor will be sent under a strong escort to Magdeburg, but his destination is secret.

LONDON, September 3.—Special despatches from the seat of war report the most brilliant Prussian successes. 20,000 Prussians and 10,000 French soldiers lay killed or wounded upon the field of battle.

Later accounts represent a great state of excitement to exist in Paris. Throughout the city the imperial arms had been torn down from buildings and sign-boards, and wherever else they were displayed. By a vote of 185 in the affirmative to none in the negative, the Corps Legislatif decreed the throne to be vacant. On Monday a Provisional Government was organized, which is in constant session under Gen. Trochu, and making vigorous preparations to continue the war. The Crown Princes of Prussia and Saxony began their march on Paris on Monday morning last, the King and Count Bismarck accompanying them.

The news of the surrender of the Emperor of France produced great excitement among the gold gamblers of New York. On Saturday the price of gold tumbled to 114, the lowest since the outbreak of hostilities between France and Prussia.

Just now "pigeon-hunting" is all the rage with sporting young men about town. It is alleged that in addition to pigeons several "barn pheasants" have been "bagged" in the neighborhood. They are at least missing since pigeon-hunting commenced.

A man in Germantown has discovered a novel and expeditious method of "raising calves." He takes a mouse into the Dorcas Society at his church and lets it loose. All the ladies jump upon chairs and window sills.

As an advertising medium the Record is excelled by few village papers. Established twenty-three years ago last March, its circulation is more general than many persons may suppose. Persons residing in this township, Quincy or neighboring Districts in Washington Co., Md., having real or personal property to sell should avail themselves of its advantages in this respect.

About thirty boarders were still at the Clermont House on the Mountain up to Saturday last. We are gratified to learn that Mr. David Miller, proprietor, was well patronized during the season. During the excessively warm weather of July and August the number of boarders at the Clermont ranged from sixty to seventy. We understand he has promise of a fuller attendance next season.

DEAD.—A couple of weeks since the Hagerstown papers gave an account of "an intelligent young man" of that place, who had fasted forty days and forty nights. We learn from Twice a Week that the young man was named John French, son of Geo. French, Esq. of that place, and that he expired on Friday morning last. His singular course and death must of course be attributed to mental derangement.

GETTYSBURG RAILROAD.—In accordance with the Decree of the Supreme Court, foreclosing the Mortgage, Mr. Swope, the Trustee, advertises the sale of the Gettysburg Railroad, to take place at the Merchants' Exchange, Philadelphia, on Thursday, October 13. The advertisement will be found in to-day's paper.

As there seems to be no probability of the resident bondholders forming any combination to purchase the road, we take it for granted that it will pass into new hands, possibly the Pennsylvania Central or the Reading Railroad Company.

In the franchise of the Gettysburg Railroad Company, holding the right of way from the Susquehanna to the Potomac, the road has a value over and above the bed, rolling stock, &c. The revenues of the line from Gettysburg to Hanover now pay all working expenses and six per cent. on the full amount of the Mortgage Bonds. Were the link from New Oxford to York or Columbia completed, and the road extended to the Baltimore and Ohio road, the local traffic would be largely increased, besides opening up an immense trade, in connection with the Cumberland coal region and the lines of railway pushing Southwest through the Shenandoah Valley. As a through line from Philadelphia or New York to the Southwest, the route via Gettysburg to Hagerstown, is from 30 to 40 miles shorter than by the Cumberland Valley Road.

By legislative enactments the bed of the old "tape-worm," in the construction of which the State expended over half a million of dollars, was transferred to the Gettysburg Railroad Company, and will pass to the purchasers, with the franchises, including the right to tap the Baltimore and Ohio road.

We have no information as to the purposes of either the Pennsylvania Central or Reading Companies. Into whose hands the road passes, we hope that it will be extended.

The above article we copy from the last Gettysburg Star and Sentinel. Our citizens, and those of the rich and populous agricultural districts west of the Mountain, through which the road would be likely to pass, are deeply interested for its extension, and will await the result of the sale referred to with feelings of more than ordinary concern.

QUINCY ITEMS.—On Wednesday night of last week the house of Mr. Samuel Cook was entered by some "light fingered" person or persons, who carried off a number of articles. Among the missing items are, a copper kettle, large tin bucket, bread pans, etc. The same night the "hen roost" of Mr. John A. Kepner was relieved of eight or ten fine chickens.

The large brick building of Mr. A. S. Munn is being pushed rapidly towards completion, being now under roof.—When completed it must prove quite an ornament to the village.

The Festival by the ladies for the benefit of the Cornet Band proved a success. The proceeds of Saturday evening's sales amounted to $65.

The Democrats on Saturday nominated the following township ticket; Judge, J. C. Row; Inspector, Daniel Heffner; Assessor, John R. Smith; Constable, Jacob Munn; Auditor, Robert McClary; Supervisors, Joseph Rook, John Deaker, Jacob Heller; School Directors, Wm. Hayman, John Heller.

The following communication we publish by request of a number of responsible citizens of Quincy township:

Several weeks ago an apple was left at the house of Mr. Jacob Stull, in Tomstown, Quincy township, Franklin Co., Pa., which contained as near as can be ascertained corrosive sublimate, the ranket poison. A small hole was made in the apple and the poison put in near the centre and carefully closed up and a pin stuck in to keep it down. Mrs. Eve Mentzer, who was waiting on her sick daughter, Mrs. Stull, not knowing anything concerning the plot laid, commenced to eat the apple and was soon taken sick, the poison blistering her mouth. She drank sweet milk directly which aggravated more serious effects. Mrs. Stull had been seriously ill for some time and just commenced to improve. Dr. J. Hess being the attending physician the supposition is that some wicked, notorious wretch intended the sick woman to eat the apple, to thus cause her death, and then make a cry that Dr. J. Hess killed her.

CITIZENS.

TURNPIKE.—$8,000 or $9,000 will grade and macadamize a turnpike between this place and Quincy. The sum required is certainly small, the advantages of such a road considered, with the prospect of its being continued in the direction of Chambersburg and also into Maryland. We understand application for a charter will be made to the next Legislature and the necessary arrangements completed for the commencement of work on the road next spring.

During a recent thunder storm, a lad named Charles Durr, aged about 12 years, took shelter under a tree near Sharpsburg, Md. He had his back against the tree when it was struck by lightning, the fluid entered at the back of his neck, passing down his back and twisting itself twice around his leg, passing out at the sole and breaking the bones of his foot. A small dog, which he held in his arms at the time, and one crouching at his feet, were killed. The boy at last accounts was recovering from his injuries. So says Twice a Week.

The apple crop of Delaware is said to be immensely abundant, and in some parts of the State apples may be bought as low as five and six cents a basket.

Five thousand dollars was recently awarded Mrs. Margaret Scholly, of Schuylkill county, for the loss of her husband, which occurred in February last by his being precipitated with his wagon and horses over an embankment on a public road in Mahanoy township. The arbitrators decided that her husband lost his life through the negligence of the township in not keeping a lawful road. This should prove a warning to other townships as well as corporations.

FAHRNEY'S
BLOOD CLEANSER
OR—PANACEA
PREPARED AND SOLD BY
P. Fahrney, M.D.
"CHIC & CO."
AND
WAYNESBORO', PA.

The above will at once strike the eye as the Trade Mark of the genuine "Dr. FAHRNEY'S BLOOD CLEANSER OR PANACEA," of which Dr. P. FAHRNEY, of CHICAGO, ILL., is the sole proprietor. The great demand from the Middle and Southern States for this medicine, made it necessary to open another Laboratory at Waynesboro', Pa., which is conducted by Dr. P. FAHRNEY'S BROS. & CO. Since then the "Blood Cleanser" has been grossly misrepresented by other parties, and what makes it still more painful is the fact that the name of our deceased relative (the late Dr. D. Fahrney) is prostituted for the purpose of carrying out these diabolical schemes, when it is well known to very many that he was consigned to an untimely grave several years ago; at a time, too, when his successors were not able to take his place in the profession, hence his name is used to say evil things. One year after his death, the following notice was circulated against the "Blood Cleanser" and "Blood Purifier":

"NOTICE.—We wish to inform the public that the 'Preparations' now being out and extensively advertised in many newspapers, etc., purporting to be old Dr. Fahrney's Blood Preparations, &c., are none of his, and are not countenanced by our firm at all. We neither advertise or put out any of our preparations."
D. FAHRNEY & SON.
"Dec. 10, 1868."

The above is what Dr. Fahrney is made to say one year after his death, and in another circular just published, and in some newspapers, he is again made to say (two years after his death) something about these preparations. This undoubtedly has reference to FAHRNEY'S BLOOD PURIFIER, prepared by Dr. J. FAHRNEY, Philadelphia, and FAHRNEY'S BLOOD CLEANSER, OR PANACEA, prepared by Dr. P. FAHRNEY, Chicago, Ill., and also by his brothers at Waynesboro', Pa.

In order to protect ourselves and the public against such misrepresentations, it becomes necessary to say that old Dr. Fahrney left his practice to two of his sons. The oldest, Dr. Jacob Fahrney, located near Waynesboro', Pa., where he practiced his profession until within a few days before his death, which was brought about by much business. His practice there, of course, was then left to his sons, and the "Blood Preparation" was put up in liquid form by Dr. J. Fahrney, Jr., eighteen years ago, and was brought to its present high degree of perfection by his brother, Dr. P. Fahrney, of Chicago. These two are now the oldest physicians in the Fahrney family, and are willing to be qualified before any Notary Public, that their preparations are GENUINE. It must indeed be humiliating for those who are mere babies in the profession, after making such efforts to injure our business, to come out and imitate the same, when they are not able to hold the lucrative practice left them by the late Dr. D. Fahrney.
