> FAILURES IN 1870 .- A statement in retry during the last year, as compared with the two preceding years, has been published. They are said to number but one thousand five hundred, with a loss of $50,000,000. while 1869 had two thousand eight hundred, involving $75,000,000, loss, and 1868 had two thousand six hundred, costing $63,000. 000. An exchange remarkes that the last few weeks have seen more disasters than this statement would indicate, but a good part of them can be credited to the annual settlement, at the year's end, and are not evidence that business generally is getting down to a solid basis.
