

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO.

Thursday, February 9, 1871.

The total population of the United States, according to the last census, is 38,835,159.

One thousand ladies, with Mrs. General Sherman to lead, have sent to Congress a remonstrance against female suffrage.

Hon. Thomas A. Scott, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, has been elected President of the Shenandoah Valley Road one of the connections of the former Company.

John Haulon, the feud who first violated the person and then murdered the child Mary Morhous, in September, 1869, was hanged by the neck until dead, in Philadelphia, Wednesday a week, a punishment which, although it is the extreme penalty of the law, is scarcely adequate for a crime so heinous.

The House of Representatives, on Tuesday a week passed a bill extending the bounty land system. It gives away more than 425,000,000 acres of the arable lands of the Government. These lands are to be subject to preemption by loyal soldiers and sailors, who are given one year to settle thereon, or the right to assign the title to any person desiring to locate in the West.

Dr. M. A. Wolf, one of the most notorious professional abortionists in New York city, has been convicted of manslaughter in the second degree, and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. A second indictment for similar offense is pending against him.

The steamer W. R. Atter, exploded her boiler fourteen miles from Memphis a boat 10 o'clock on Saturday morning a week, tearing away the forward part of her cabin. She soon took fire and burned till her bow sunk. After the explosion most of the passengers rushed down to the lower deck, and many in the confusion jumped into the river and were drowned. When the bow sank the waves caused thereby swept off the lower deck, all the people gathered on it. Captain Brotski says he had 45 cabin and 40 deck passengers, and thinks that at least 60 of them were lost.

A latter dispatch says it is believed that eighty-seven lives were lost by the disaster, including many women and children, and several entire families.

The Philadelphia Press says: The surrender of Paris virtually ends what will be known in history as the greatest of all the wars of the first three-quarters of the nineteenth century. In point of duration others have exceeded, but none in the rapidity with which battle has succeeded battle, the strange and almost unexampled success which followed the fortune of one of the combats from the very outset, and the immense loss of life upon each side. The capitulation of Paris makes the third surrender of an entire army—first McMahon's then Bismarck's and now that Trochu's. The Prussians have captured fully seven hundred thousand men since August 3d, when the contest was initiated with a skirmish on the heights of Saarbruck, where the Prince Imperial received his baptism of fire. The loss in killed and wounded, in the aggregate will amount to half a million—an awful sacrifice of life, for which Louis Napoleon is mainly answerable.

Up to Saturday there was great distress in Paris, and hundreds of persons were dying daily from starvation, the supplies received being entirely inadequate to the want. The entire German army of investment will make a triumphant march through the city. The Berlin Gross Gazette decries that Russia has requested Germany to moderate in dealing with France.

THE MARCH OF VICE.—That vice and immorality in their worst and most dangerous forms are marching on with fearful rapidity, cannot be otherwise than painfully palpable to every careful reader of the public journals of the day. Pick up most any paper you may and your eyes are greeted with the announcement of one or more crimes committed in different parts of the country, while the lesser vices, parents of the former, creep up in numerous paragraphs in every part of the paper. It must be that the present is the grand carnival season of his Statist Majesty, and that all the imps of darkness from the infernal regions have been turned loose upon society to riot upon the fat of the land, and if possible to still deeper degrade poor human kind.

Mechanics are the palace builders of the world; not a stick in lawn, not a stone shaped in all the lordly dwellings of the rich that does not owe its beauty and finish to the skill of the mechanic. The towering spires that raise their giddy heads among the clouds depend upon the mechanic's art of their strength and symmetry. Not an edifice for devotion, or business, or comfort, but bears the impress of their hands—how exalted in their vocation, how sublime their calling!

The papers are full of accounts of accidents occurring from kindling fires with coal oil. It is a very dangerous practice, and no person who values his life and property will make use of such dangerous kindling.

Our patrons will please excuse the crowded state of our advertising columns.

In a few weeks we will be enabled to furnish more reading.

DEAD.—Hon. JASPER E. BRADY, formerly of Chambersburg, died in Washington city on the 23d ult., aged about 80 years.—He will be remembered by many persons as a prominent politician in the days of the old whig party.

Thursday last was Candlemas or ground hog day, and many persons regard it as a sure prognosticator of the weather during the ensuing part of the winter.

If Candlemas day be fair and bright, Winter will have another flight. But if Candlemas day be cloudy and rain, Winter is gone and will not come again.

According to the Repository the recent investigations between Myers and Coosa in reference to illegal votes cast at the late election in this county, facts upon about thirty cases against the former and about six against the latter. The editor is reliably informed that the investigation as far as it has progressed, gives Coosa about one hundred in the District.

CONSOLIDATED.—The Revenue districts of this County have been consolidated. The whole County forms but two districts now. The North Ward of Chambersburg, Antrim, Washington, Peters, Montgomery, Warren and Hamilton compose the one district, called the Eighth Division, of which Jera. Cook Esq., is appointed Assistant Assessor. The South Ward of Chambersburg, Quincey, Guilford, Green, St. Thomas, Southmott, Fannett, Letterkenney, Lurgan and Metal townships compose the other district, called the Ninth Division, of which Mr. Thomas J. Grimeson is appointed Assistant Assessor.

JUDGESHIP.—We learn from the Harrisburg Daily Telegraph of Wednesday last that W. M. Hall, Esq., of Bedford, has been appointed by Governor Geary to the Judgeship of this Judicial District, composed of the counties of Franklin, Bedford, Somerset and Fulton, made vacant by the recent death of Judge King. The appointment is an excellent one, Mr. Hall being a sound lawyer, and possessing in other respects, qualities which eminently fit him to discharge the duties of the position.—Opinion.

At a regular Council of Uncas Tribe, No. 101, I. O. of R. M., held on the 30th of Cold Moon, G. S. D., 380, the annexed committee was appointed to draft resolutions relative to the decease of Bro. J. B. French's wife, and submitted the following as their report, which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Great Spirit in his infinite wisdom and goodness to remove from us to the happy Hunting Grounds of her Fathers, the wife of our beloved brother, James B. French, be it therefore

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the husband (and our Bro.) in this his bereavement for the invaluable loss that he has thus sustained, in having the family insured by the hand of Death, and throwing his little family upon the cold charities of the world.

Resolved, That the husband and father (and our Bro.) in this his day of trial should look to the Great Spirit for consolation, and we would have him to believe that his afflictions are put upon him for a wise and a holy purpose.

J. B. RUSSELL, Committee.

PILES.—Internal, External, Bleeding or Itching. This distressing and harrowing disease is alarmingly on the increase. More so, perhaps, from the fact that those who are afflicted from a false notion of delicacy, are afraid to ask for a remedy, thereby making their condition known. How wrong and fatal is this neglect! At the first intimation of the appearance of this complaint they should procure Briggs' Unrivaled Pile Remedy, and using it according to directions, immediately check it and permanently cure it. It is easy of application, and thorough in its effects. Sold by F. Fourthman.

CORN, BUNIONS, INGROWING NAILS, &c.—The enormously increasing sales of Briggs' Allevator and Curative for the prevention and cure of the many painful diseases of the feet, bear witness to their wonderful superiority over all other like preparations. For years they have been steadily growing in favor, until now the great majority who are troubled with bad feet will use no other remedies. The Curative, for sore, tender and feathered corns and bunions, bad nails, &c., is soothing and healing, permanently curing the worst cases when used according to directions. The Allevator, for the cure of all common corns and for the prevention and cure of all corns, bunions, &c., is, 'par excellence,' the only article ever discovered that will produce a like result. Sold by F. Fourthman, & Druggists generally.
