

None shall with impunity soil these sacred symbols of our Country's life, liberty and power.

F. L. BAKER, EDITOR. Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, 1861.

Hon. John Patton, M. C. has placed us under obligations for public documents.

Burch, one of the rebels who was sent to the rebel camp with Harris and McGraw, to obtain the body of Colonel Cameron, returned to Washington. Harris and McGraw remained with the rebels. Burch has returned to say about what he saw or did. It is not probable that Harris intended to return, as he is a resident of Arkansas. Probably during the last three months he has been furnishing the rebels with information of the movements of the National troops. If there is anything known of Colonel Cameron's body, Mr. Burch does not tell it. A servant who accompanied the party says, however, that the rebels buried the dead in trenches, making no distinction between officers and privates.

The regiment of mounted men, known as the "Lincoln Cavalry," was accepted, and will be mustered into service in New York this week. Colonel A. T. McReynolds having received his commission and authority to place his regiment on an immediate war footing. This is the regiment with which Carl Schurz was first connected, and embraces in the ranks many men who have distinguished themselves on the battlefield in Europe and this country. The men will receive their arms and uniforms in New York, but the Government will furnish them horses at Washington.

An escaped soldier says that on Thursday, when he was a prisoner in the rebel ranks, he was permitted, under a guard of two soldiers, to go over some portions of the battle-field. At this advanced hour—four days after the battle—he saw eight on the field, still living, but in a dying condition from the mortification of their wounds. These barbarities are almost without a parallel in the annals of history, and the public await official reports to know whether the officers of the Federal army have used every effort to secure the bodies of the dead and looked after the wounded.

Gen. McClellan's body guard, the Sturges Rifles, were detailed a few days since to arrest all officers who were to be found out of their camps, or about the Washington hotels; also, all who were found drinking or intoxicated. It is said since the General has issued such stringent orders, requiring field and like officers to stay in their camps instead of the city, it has been ascertained that the beef furnished the soldiers is not fit to eat. The officers want good fare.

Seventy-five prisoners taken at Bull's Run are incarcerated in the old Capitol. They live like princes. The ladies of Washington provide them with all the delicacies, and Senators of rebel tendencies give them mental and moral aid and comfort. The Twelfth Regiment men, who are on guard at the jail, have reason to envy their prisoners.

During the last week fourteen regiments of three months men have gone homeward, twelve regiments of three years men, with two or three squadrons of cavalry, have taken their places, so that the effective force at and near Washington is about as large as it was before Bull Run gave its ugly name to a battle.

A gentleman arrived in Northampton, Mass., last week, from Mississippi. He was greatly astonished, on reaching the loyal States, to know that Congress was still in session at Washington, the prevailing opinion at the South being that the seat of government had been removed to Chicago.

Jeff. Davis is said to have rode a white horse at the battle of Manassas Gap. He is determined to steal all the honors of his old father-in-law. He is called by his southern admirers the "Hero of Beuna Vista" and now he wants to be called "Old whitey" too—what next?

Gen. Polk, the truculent Bishop of Louisiana, is the owner of four hundred slaves, ninety of whom are communicants of his church. An English clergyman who visited the South a few years ago, says the Bishop "tolerates no religion on his estate but that of the Church."

The name of Commander Maury has been stricken from the rolls of the Marine Society, New York, in consequence of his deserting his country's flag.

The ladies of Harrisburg gave the returned volunteers a public dinner on one of the public sidewalks on Friday last.

MAGRAW HEARD FROM: A Washington dispatch to The Press says: "Henry Burch, a fiery stable keeper, of this city, who carried out H. S. Magraw and Arnold Harris to make an effort to recover the body of Colonel Cameron, on the battle field, returned last evening. The party, as your readers are aware, was captured by the enemy, at Fairfax Court house, when going out. Burch was permitted to return on taking an oath to reveal nothing in reference to the army of the enemy and its movements. Harris, he says will possibly be permitted to return, by an exchange of prisoners or some other arrangement; but Magraw will be imprisoned at Richmond during the war. It is understood here that Harris and Burch are in sympathy with the enemy; and if Magraw was not betrayed into their hands, he was certainly in the hands of those who were not over-zealous to secure him a gainst capture. Harris is a southerner, and is at home in the custody of the rebels.

PENNSYLVANIA TROOPS.—Pennsylvania has now thirty full regiments in the field. The fifteen additional regiments, which, it is understood, are to go into service at once, will increase her force to forty-five thousand men. Besides these, the Secretary of War is raising an independent brigade of four thousand five hundred men, which will be commanded by Gen. James, and which will be ready to take the field in twelve days. Thus the Keystone State will have fifty thousand troops in the field, which is certainly her share.

Father O'Reilly chaplain of the Sixty-ninth regiment, states that at the battle of Bull Run, while in the act of administering the last consolations of religion to a dying rebel soldier, and while clothed in his official robes, he was fired upon several times by the Secessionists. One bullet went through his hat, two others struck his coat. A party of the Black Horse Cavalry then rode at him, to slay him just as he finished his sacred mission, and it was with the greatest difficulty that he escaped. Neither he nor Father Mooney ever carried weapons.

On Sunday last, a spy was arrested at the Relay House. He had come from Richmond by way of Winchester and Point of Rocks. A German woman was also arrested at the same time. She was taken into a hotel at the station, and a committee of ladies delegated to search her. Concealed under her hoops were found a number of letters and other documents for prominent secession rebels in Virginia. Both parties were sent to Washington.

Among the new appointments in the regular army it is said a commission of lieutenant colonel has been tendered Wm. H. Morris, a graduate of West Point, and son of the great song-writer. Mr. Morris, who is at present working editor of the Home Journal, is an accomplished gentleman, and will prove a valuable acquisition at the present time on account of his military education and experience.

The Cincinnati Gazette learns from a private letter that Capt. Gay, of New Orleans, whose subscription of $10,000 to the Confederate loan was so loudly heralded by the Southern press, backed out, and only paid $100, the cause for doing so being a change of feeling produced by a visit to Louisville, where he had the scales taken from his eyes.

A reporter for one of the New York papers has taken the pains to inquire as to the number of United States flags made and sold in that city since the bombardment of Fort Sumpter. He ascertained the aggregate to be 16,995. The total amount of material used was 36,720 yards of bunting, 20 pounds of thread, and 40 dozen spools of cotton.

Colonel Farnham, of the New York Fire Zouaves, who was wounded at the Bull Run engagement, has become insane, and is now in the Insane Asylum. It is stated that the cause of this unfortunate issue is attributed to the effect of his wounds, together with grief for the loss of his men.

All the drinking places in Harrisburg are now closed at one o'clock in the afternoon, by order of the Mayor, in consequence of the infuriated crowd of soldiers, now at that place, lying in wait to be paid off.

The young men of Liberia have presented an ebony case, with ivory handle, mounted with African gold, to Lord Brougham, as an expression of gratitude for his efforts on behalf of the African race.

In future no volunteer will be mustered into the service unless he is able to speak the English language.

Mr. Blondin proposes to cross the Seine upon a rope stretched between the Tulleries and the Quai d'Orsay.

A brave hearted girl at Belfast, Me., rather than be dependent, has learned the trade of bookmaking.

The Memphis Appeal denies positively the rumors relative to the disaffection of Gen. Lee.

The Chief of Police of Louisville has forbidden the singing of patriotic songs in that city.

SCRAPS OF WAR NEWS.

Miss Augusta Foster, daughter of the Second Maine Regiment, from Augusta, Maine, was upon the battle field on Sunday, had her horse shot from under her, and walked all the way from the scene of action to Alexandria, where she was ministering to the wounded at the hospitals, at which are fifteen wounded of the Minnesota First.

The Government does not propose to recognize the Southern Confederacy by an exchange of prisoners. All who have not been officers of the United States army will be released on giving their parole not to bear arms again against the United States, or afford aid and information to the enemy.

Gov. Stevens has been appointed Colonel of the Seventy-ninth (Highland) Regiment of New York, which Colonel Cameron commanded. Gov. S. was a distinguished officer in the Mexican war, and stands high as an efficient and thoroughly-trained soldier.

It is stated that the Rebels murdered wounded soldiers with the greatest indignities—and even burned a hospital full of the dead and wounded. We hope this may prove incorrect, as a thousand other wild and contradictory stories doubtless are.

It is stated by Washington letter-writers that both Gen. Wool and Gen. Harney will be now called into active service in the field. It is to be hoped this is no idle speculation. The country needs and demands the services of these able commanders.

Maj. Gen. McClellan has introduced a number of reforms into his division since his establishment on the Potomac. Amongst others no soldier is to touch liquor and any officer found "tipsey" confined for 24 hours.

General McClellan's father was a Philadelphia physician and surgeon, who died suddenly a few years ago. He was celebrated for energy of character, astonishing promptness and daring courage in surgery.

The Uniforms of the 1st Maine regiment are so dilapidated that most of them "will soon carry flags of truce flying in the rear." Pennsylvania isn't the only State that has gambling and thieving contractors.

Patterson's time being about expired, he and Cadwallader are to be mustered out of service. Gen. Banks succeeds him and General Dix goes to Baltimore. Cadwallader, however, is to be re-appointed for the war.

By recent act of Congress, confiscating the property of rebels in arms, General Lee will be deprived of his Arlington estate. It embraces 300 acres, and is the most valuable estate in the vicinity of Washington.

A letter from Fort Pickens says that the British war vessels have engaged all the coal to be had at Cuba, and that it will be impossible now to keep the United States vessels in the Gulf.

Mr. Burch, from Manassas Junction, as stated in a previous despatch, says one hundred men have been employed since Tuesday last burying our dead on the battle-field.

Gen. Henningsen, of Nicaragua notoriously, we notice from our Virginia exchanges, is at present connected with Gov. Wise's legion in the western portion of that State.

W. S. Cochran, of Rockland, Me., has obtained a contract from the United States Government, for the manufacture of army tents to the value of $60,000 or $70,000.

A Baltimore paper mentions fifteen of the family of Francis S. Key, the author of the Star Spangled Banner, who are now fighting the battles of the Southern rebels.

Col. Cameron's body had not been found. By his request, a year ago, he will be buried near his father's grave in the Lewisburg Cemetery, if found.

General Harney is in St. Louis, where he has been for the past two months. It is said that he will be shortly assigned to an important command.

The name of Gen. McClellan's successor in Western Virginia is William S. Rosecrans, not Rosencrantz or Rosencrans.

There are said to be two thousand schoolmasters in the Third Vermont Regiment, which has just gone to the seat of war.

Toombs has resigned the Secretaryship of State of the Confederates. Ex-U. S. Senator Hunter succeeds him.

The War Department has ordered the purchase of 20,000 horses. Regiments of cavalry will be organized forthwith.

Mrs. Mary Grissly committed suicide on the 15th inst. near Galena, Ill., because her husband had gone to war.

Captain John Travis, the great shot, has been appointed assistant inspector of arms of the State of Mississippi.

There are now 500 females employed by Government in Cincinnati in the manufacture of tents for the army.

The telegraph office at Harper's Ferry was on Monday, opened for the first time since its evacuation.

WORK AT THE MINT.—Half a million per day is now produced at the mint in Philadelphia. The operatives are working "over time" to produce the sinews of war in sufficient quantity. The coinage is principally double eagles. The sight of a pile of this beautiful coin, in times like these, is extremely trying to the optic nerve. Large quantities of money are also being coined for private account. Like the navy yard and arsenals, the mint is now a scene of constant activity.

TEACHER AND PUPIL.—It is a curious fact that Robert Garnett, who was killed at St. George, was the professional instructor of McClellan at West Point.—He taught him tactics, and had an apt pupil, it appears.

Prince Napoleon and his bride, the daughter of Victor Emmanuel, have arrived in New York.

The young and beautiful Empress of Austria is in a decline.
