Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 10, 1861.

THE EXTRA SESSION.—The extra session of Congress terminated on Tuesday last, after continuing one month. During that short period, the most important acts in our national history were enacted. The unconstitutional proceedings of the President for the suppression of rebellion and the defence of the Capital were approved. Men and money to an almost unlimited extent were voted for the further prosecution of the war.

The Battle of Bull Run exposed one of the most despicable tricks of which cowards could possibly be guilty. The rebel regiments were supplied with the flag of the Union—the immortal stars and stripes—which they raised whenever they found themselves about to be arrayed in fair fight with any of the federal forces. In this manner several loyal regiments were deceived, and when completely thrown off their guard by the white chear, were fired into by the rebels, who hoisted their own black banner of treason the moment they were safe from assault. This is chivalry as illustrated and practiced by traitors.

The Chambersburg Repository says a young pig was sent in from Fayetteville having a head shaped much like the human head. There was not the least resemblance to the hog, except the body. The chin was round and full, ears round and placed like the human ear. The most striking parts of resemblance were the eyes and forehead. It lacked a full-shaped nose, but in all other respects the resemblance to the human head and face was so strong as to make it a great curiosity.

The recent appointment of Colonel Thomas A. Scott, the efficient vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad men in our country possesses greater business qualifications, and since the commencement of hostilities he has devoted all his energies to the superintendence of the railroad arrangements connected with the transportation of the army, and has rendered the nation services of the utmost importance.

Philip Kearney, formerly a Brevet Major in the First Dragoons, has been appointed a Brigadier General. Gen. Kearney was well known in the Mexican war, where he lost his left arm in charging one of the gates at the city of Mexico. He also paid a visit to Italy during the Crimean war, and was present at some of the decisive battles in the Sardinia. For several years previously he was on the staff of the late Gen. Macomb and subsequently aid to Gen. Scott.

Congress has enacted a law increasing the pay of the soldiers from eleven to fifteen dollars per month, which comes up more to the standard of justice, and also affords additional inducements to volunteer. There is no reason why the federal army should not be the best paid, the most thoroughly disciplined, and most highly cultivated of all the armies in the world.

It appears, by an examination of the two volunteer bills, one being supplementary to the other, that the President has power to call one million of men into the field, although that extent of authority was not, it is believed, designed. It is not thought, therefore, that more than 500,000 will be accepted.

The reported riot in Baltimore, a day or two since, on the occasion of some unarmed Zouaves passing through, is represented as a very trivial affair, and has been greatly exaggerated by the sensation paragraphs. The difficulty was a momentary affair, and scarcely deemed worthy of notice.

It is said that Hon. Lewis Cass is writing and intends to publish the history of events which, in his knowledge, have produced the present state of things with the slave oligarchy. It would surely be an interesting chapter in this day of tempests of turmoil.

The entire expenses of the Revolutionary war were stated in the report of Alexander Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury, in 1790, to be $135,000,000.—The debt which was left for posterity to pay was $750,000,000.

NEWS IN A NUT-SHELL.

When Voltaire was on his death bed, many visitors called, all of whom were denied entrance to his chamber. Amongst them was Abbe Chapeau, who came to offer the consolations of the Church. When his name was announced by the servant, Voltaire said: "I come into the world bareheaded, and I shall leave it without a Chapeau!"

There is a rumor current that the Rothschilds instructed their agent in New York, Auguste Belmont, to take one half of the $250,000,000 loan. If the rumor is well founded the fact is significant. A house that for more than a century has controlled war and peace in Europe is not likely to make a mistake even in American affairs.

Among other barbarities reported as having been committed upon our soldiers at Bull Run, was that relating to Captain Haggerty, of the N. Y. 69th regiment, who, it was stated was found with his throat cut from ear to ear, and his ears and nose cut off.

The London Catholic Standard of the 13th inst., state that the health of the Pope is completely re-established. His Holiness has resumed his daily walks outside the Porta Angelica, where he is followed by crowds of respectful and deeply sympathizing Romans.

In the New Hampshire Insane Asylum are six patients whose madnes arises from love troubles; one from use of tobacco; one from extraction of teeth; one from worms; one from bad trades; five from death of near friends; three from hard work, and four from ungovernable appetites.

The 28th day of July was the eighty-third birth-day of the gallant Commodore Charles Stewart, who was born in the city of Philadelphia July 28th, 1778, the month after the British army evacuated the city. Commodore Stewart has been in the service sixty-four years: and has been in over forty engagements.

Mrs. Fillmore, wife of the Ex-President, was riding on horse back on the street in Buffalo, Monday afternoon, when her horse, recently purchased, became unmanageable and started on a run down the street, throwing the rider from her seat. Mrs. Fillmore fortunately escaped with some severe bruises.

Col. Lander says that he would rather fight another battle with the troops who fight back at Bull Run than with the new levies. He values the experience of one such battle highly.

General McCull, just appointed Brigadier General, will be promoted Major General. He will then ask the whole fifteen regiments of Pennsylvania reserve volunteers be ordered to Washington and placed in his division.

James Jackson, of Alabama, the well-known sporting man, and part owner of the race-horse Daniel Boone, was killed in the fight at Manassas.

The Hon. Robert Toombs has been appointed brigadier general in the S. C. army, and will take the field immediately.

The O. S. Presbyterians of Georgia are taking measures to effect a separation between the church North and South.

Capt. Avis, John Brown's humane jailer, was killed at Bull Run.

Mr. Richard McAllister, one of the defenders of Baltimore, in September, 1814, died on Thursday, in that city.—He was 73 years old.

The potato crop of Connecticut, the bulk of which always finds its way to the New York market, is represented as being, this year, very promising.

Mrs. Drisher, a lady seventy years old, fell into a cistern and was drowned, at Covington on Monday.

Ohio has now twenty-five rifled cannon, and will soon have sixty-four, one being turned out daily.

Mr. Zacharia Grant, of Montgomery county, Tenn., has thirteen sons and two grandsons in one company.

Lord John Russell says that almost every Spanish official in Cuba had grown wealthy by the bribes he had received for the admission of slaves to that island.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the celebrated English poetess died recently in Italy, after a long illness.

The Norfolk Day Book office is being supplied with young female compositors in the place of the typos who have gone to the wars.

A drover named McLaughlin was robbed of five-hundred dollars on Saturday at the Pennsylvania Railroad depot in Pittsburg.

Robert Mound, a youth of fifteen, eloped from Seneca Falls, N. Y., last week, with a woman forty years old, a wife and the mother of seven children.

Double Eagles, split open, filled with platinum, and newly milled, have been detected in New York.

The Missouri and Ohio three months volunteers have all or nearly all, returned home to be disbanded. This leaves Lyon powerless.

Hon. W. H. Dimmick, formerly a member of Congress from this State, died at Honesdale yesterday.

Gen. Patterson made another speech the other evening, in response to a serenade given him by citizens of Philadelphia, in which he said:

"I know that I have endeavored to do my duty, and believe I have handled my column as well as any other in the field. I have been honorably discharged by my superior officer, and if he makes no complaint, and if those who served under me make none, what right have others to constitute themselves a military star chamber to decide on my merits or demerits as a soldier? I have the great satisfaction of knowing that all the officers of the regular army serving with me approved of the management of my command. These gentlemen are competent judges, and their approval I value more than all the praises of the civilians in the United States. The army standard is the true test of the soldier, and by that test I am willing to stand or fall."

Private William Murray of the 2d New Hampshire regiment was executed on Saturday last at four o'clock in the afternoon, for the murder of Mary Butler. It will be remembered that in walking through the streets of Alexandria Murray passed Miss Butler and nodded to her, whereupon she spit in his face; he raised his musket and shot her dead on the spot. It is said spitting at and in the faces of Northerners is in fashion at Alexandria, so strong is the hatred toward us. In order that his fate might be a warning to all evil-disposed soldiers, the scaffold was erected upon the walls of Fort Ellsworth, affording unobstructed view to all.

As an evidence of the desperate fighting at Bull's Run, a masked battery was taken and lost seven times by the federal forces. On the eighth assault, the battery was carried and destroyed, with immense loss to the rebels. Mr. Russel, of the London Times, who was with the army of McDowell, declared that the assaults of our troops exceeded those of any he had witnessed by the best trained soldiers in Europe. There was a coolness and precision in all their actions, and as long as they were left alone to deal with the enemy, they fought like heroes. The trouble came, however, when they were confused by the panic of those who were only idle witnesses of the fight.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company met with a heavy loss in the destruction of the Duquesne depot at Pittsburg, which took fire on the afternoon of the 30th. It was destroyed with all its contents. Three thousand barrels of kerosene oil imparted insatiable fury to the flames. Ten freight cars, with merchandise to the value of $5,000, are included in the category of losses. The depot building cost $100,000, but is heavily insured. The railroad company have taken such prompt measures that no inconvenience to their business will be occasioned.

A New York Zouave recently took a horse belonging to a rebel, and ever since has been much elated with his capture. A day or two since, the owner of the animal presented himself to the Zouave, and demanded the horse. "I have taken the oath of allegiance," said he, "and the horse is mine." "You may have taken the oath," answered the New Yorker, "but the horse has not, and I shall keep him till he does." There was no replying to this, and the Zouave keeps his horse.

An intelligent lady whose little boy was beginning to swear, anxious to express to her child the horror of profanity, hit upon the novel plan of washing up his mouth with soap suds whenever he swore. It was an effectual cure. The boy understood his mother's sense of the corruption of an oath, which with the taste of the suds, produced the desired result. The practice, if universally adopted, would raise the price of soap.

A little girl two years old, named Buckley, was lying, unconscious of any danger, upon the Newton (Mass.) railroad, on Wednesday, when the engineer of an approaching train discovered her. Seeing that the train could not be stopped, he ran to the forward end of the engine, and getting upon the extreme point of the cow catcher, was fortunate enough to snatch the child from the very jaws of horrible death. The engineer's name is Greene C. Wyman.

When Col. Slocum, of the Second Rhode Island, was wounded, his men, not supposing it to be mortal, crowded around him for further orders, but he died in a minute or two after being shot, his last words being, "Don't wait for me; avenge my death." And he was avenged. From that instant the Rhode Islanders made charge after charge, each time bringing a host of rebels to the ground.

M. Blouin has been trying the experiment of wheeling a young lion in a barrow on the tight rope. He succeeded after much difficulty and repeated failure, although nearly at the expense of his life.

Wylie P. Mangum, son ex-Senator from South Carolina, had his life saved at the battle of Bull's Run by a Bible in his pocket, the gift of his sister. It received a Federal bullet.

The following order has been issued: HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, WASHINGTON, AUGUST 1, 1861.

It has been the prayer of every patriot that the tramp and din of civil war might at least spare the precincts within which repose the sacred remains of the Father of his Country: but the pious hope is disappointed. Mount Vernon, so recently consecrated anew to the immortal Washington by the ladies of America, has already been overrun by bands of rebels, who having trampled under foot the Constitution of the United States, the ark of our freedom and prosperity, are prepared to trample on the ashes of him to whom we are all mainly indebted for those blessings. Should the operations of war take the United States troops in that direction, the General-in-Chief does not doubt that every man will approach with due reverence and leave uninjured not only the tomb but also the house and groves and walks which were so loved by the greatest of men. WINFIELD SCOTT.

AN ENDURING TRIBUTE.—Our readers are aware that the late Judge Douglas made a magnificent gift to the Chicago University, now a flourishing Baptist institution in that city numbering nine professors, including the president, and two hundred and thirty students. Since the death of Mr. Douglas the trustees of the University have decided to erect the centre building, including the tower, and efforts are already making to obtain the requisite amount of money for that object—about thirty thousand dollars.—To this fine addition—a part of the original plan—will be given the name of "DOUGLAS HALL." The name will be inscribed upon a tablet, to be embodied in the tower. While this will be an appropriate tribute to his chief and most distinguished benefactor, the institution itself will be a lasting monument to the liberality and catholic spirit of Mr. Douglas.

The New York Herald, once the fulsome adulator and apologist of President Buchanan, now describes him as being, when in the Executive chair, "the weak and deluded Mr. Buchanan." One of the worst delusions of the poor old man, was his attachment to Bennet and the Herald.

Col. Loring, late of the United States Army, was on Saturday appointed by Jeff Davis as brigadier general of the Confederate States, and entrusted with the command of the division lately under General Garnett.

Mrs. Gen. Gaines has returned from New Orleans a strong Union woman. She considers the Southern Confederacy already a failure, and says that it is the general feeling in New Orleans.

Congress has thus far appropriated $240,000,000 for war purposes, and authorized the President to call out one million of men. It is believed that at present he will accept half a million.

Hon. Jeremiah S. Black, late Attorney General and Secretary of State, of the United States has taken up his residence in York.

The Pittsburgers have a Volunteer Refreshment Saloon at Leech's warehouse, as we learn from the Chronicle.

ELECTRIC OIL.—The cures made by Professor DeGrath, with his "Electric Oil," are so now miraculous as to resemble the famous Scripture accounts of similar cures in ancient times by the anointing with oil, and few cures are so wonderful and instantaneous, so satisfactory and mitigating of human ail, as to call upon public functionaries, and those having charge of public institutions for the sick and suffering, to look well into the well-attested merits, the simple efficacy of this "Electric Oil."

Professor DE GRATH, therefore, has deposited $100 with the Mayor, the same to be forfeited if the "Electric Oil," sold at Philadelphia, fails to cure a single case of Rheumatism, or Pains in the Back, or Limbs, Piles, Sores or Burns, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Caked Breasts, Sore Nipples, Bronchial Affections, Swelled Glands, Felons, Stiffness in the Joints, Sprains & Bruises, Sprains, or on man or beast, or Scarcies or Splints on horses; also Deadfalls. BRANDIES—all brands—guaranteed genuine. Alexander D. Reese.

To the People of the United States.

In the month of December, 1858, the undersigned for the first time offered for sale to Dr. J. Boece Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters, and in this short period they have given such universal satisfaction to the many thousands of persons who have tried them that it is now an established article. The amount of bodily and mental misery arising simply from a neglect of small complaints is surprising, and it is therefore of the utmost importance that a strict attention to the least and most trifling bodily ailment should be had; for diseases of the body must invariably affect the mind.

The subscribers now only ask a trial of Dr. J. Boece Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters! From all who have not used them. We challenge the world to produce their equal. These Bitters for the cure of Weak Stomachs, General Debility, and for Purifying and Enriching the Blood, are absolutely unsurpassed by any other remedy on earth. To be assured of this, it is only necessary to make the trial. The Wine itself is of a very superior quality, being about one-third stronger than the other wines; warming and invigorating the whole system from the head to the feet. As these bitters are tonic and alterative in their character, so they strengthen and invigorate the whole system and give a fine tone and healthy action to all its parts, by equalizing the circulation, removing obstructions, and producing a general warmth. They are also excellent for Diseases of the Liver, and for the cure of Dropsy, and Weakness peculiar to Females, where a tonic is required to strengthen and brace the system. No lady, who is subject to lassitude and faintness, should be without them, as they are revivifying in their action.

These Bitters will not only cure, but prevent disease, and in this respect are doubly valuable to the person who may use them. For Incipient Consumption, Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Nervous System, Paralysis, Piles, &c. DR. J. DODS' CELEBRATED WINE BITTERS ARE UNSURPASSED!

For Sore Throat, so common among the Clergy, they are truly valuable. For the aged and infirm, and for persons of a weak constitution—for Ministers of the Gospel, Lawyers, and all public speakers—for Book-Keepers, Tailors, Seamstresses, Students, Artists, and all persons leading a sedentary life, they will prove truly beneficial. As a Beverage, they are wholesome, innocent and delicious to the taste. They produce all the exhilarating effects of Brandy or Wine, without intoxicating; and are a valuable remedy for persons addicted to the use of excessive strong drink, and who wish to refrain from any more of the water in, or where the poisons contained in the adulterated Wines and Liquors with which the country is flooded.

These Bitters not only cure, but prevent Disease, and should be used by all who live in a climate where the water is hard, or where Chills and Fevers are prevalent. Being entirely innocent and harmless, they may be given freely to Children and Infants with impunity. Physicians, Clergymen, and temperance advocates, as an act of humanity, should assist in spreading these truly valuable Bitters over the land, and thereby essentially aid in banishing Drunkenness and Disease.

In all affections of the Head, Sick Headache, or Nervous Headache, Dr. Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters will be found to be most salutary and efficacious.

F E M A L E S. The many certificates which have been tendered us, and the letters which we are daily receiving, are conclusive proof that among the numerous Bitters have given a satisfaction which no others have ever done before. No woman in the land should be without them, and those who once use them will not fail to get a supply.

Dr. J. Boece Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters. Are prepared by an eminent and skillful physician who has used them successfully in his practice for the last twenty-five years. The proprietor, before purchasing the exclusive right to manufacture and sell Dr. J. Boece Dods' Celebrated Imperial Wine Bitters, had them tested by two distinguished medical practitioners, who pronounced them a valuable remedy for disease.

Although the medical men of the country, as a general thing, disapprove of Patent Medicines, yet we do not believe that a respectable Physician can be found in the United States, acquainted with their medical properties, who will not highly approve Dr. J. Boece Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters.

In all newly settled places, where there is always a large quantity of decaying timber from which a poisonous miasma is created, these Bitters should be used every morning before breakfast.

Dr. J. Boece Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters. Are composed of a pure and unadulterated Wine, combined with Barbary, Solonon's Seal, Comfrey, Wild Cherry Tree Bark, Spikenard, Chamomile Flowers, and Gentian.—They are manufactured by Dr. Dods himself, who is an experienced and successful Physician, and hence should not be classed among the quack nostrums which flood the country, and against which the medical profession are so justly prejudiced.

These truly valuable Bitters have been so thoroughly tested by all classes of the community for almost every variety of disease incident to the human system, that that they are now deemed indispensable as a Tonic, Medicine and a Beverage.—PURCHASE ONE BOTTLE!—IT COSTS BUT LITTLE!

Purify the Blood!—Give tone to the Stomach!—Renovate the system and Prolong Life.
