

The Mariettaian.

Some shall with impunity soil these sacred symbols of our Country's life, liberty and power.

F. L. BAKER, EDITOR.

Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1861.

GEN. CAMERON AND DRAFTING: The order of the Secretary of War, to the authorities of Iowa not to draft men for the army, as was proposed in that State, is commented upon very generally says "Occasional" of the Press, some taking sides with, others against the order of the Secretary. It is certainly desirable that the army may be filled up without drafting, but it must be acknowledged that many in the States, especially those in the North, are slow in sending forward reinforcements. The Bull Run affair has been repeated, and worse than repeated in its results, in Missouri, and that, too, solely on account of the meagreness of our army in that State; yet Fremont is called upon, and is actually sending troops forward to defend the capital, while our Eastern cities are teeming with unemployed, able-bodied young men, who refuse to come forward in defence of their country. This thing is a mystery to all classes here. The very States whose Representatives in Congress were most ready to vote the President an army of 500,000 men have not yet sent in their quota of men for an army of even half that size. Massachusetts is offering men $20 each bounty, and with that inducement, Gen. Wilson's regiment is filling up but slowly. Vermont and other Northern States are also backward in sending forward men, and the indications are not at all favorable for a full army at an early day without a draft, at least from some of the States.

Col. J. M. McCARTER'S REGIMENT.—We understand that the Rev. J. M. McCarter, of Lebanon, who recently resigned his pastorate for the purpose of raising a regiment of infantry, has, in the short time of fourteen days, enrolled eight hundred men, and expects to complete his regiment in a few days. James W. Johnston brother of ex-Governor William F. Johnston, and colonel of the late Fourteenth Pennsylvania Regiment, under whom Mr. McCarter served as chaplain, will occupy the post of lieutenant colonel in the new regiment of Lebanon Infantry. This place he accepts out of compliment to Mr. McCarter, having repeatedly been offered a colonelcy by Governor Curtin, which he declined to accept.

FREMONT'S BODY GUARD.—Gen. Fremont's body guard consists of one hundred and fifty young men, the flower of St. Louis. The horses are all of the same color, dark chestnut, and of equal height and appearance. The uniform of the body guard, which has been chiefly furnished by the general himself, consists of black jackets and pants, with yellow stripes, of the finest woolen cloth. Captain Zagoni, who is commander of the body guard, is a Hungarian, and was in former years, commander of General Bem's body guard, with which he went out in the war, two hundred and fifty strong bold fellows, of whom only seven returned with him. Capt. Zagoni is a fine looking soldier, and regarded with the deepest affection by all the men under his command.

The National Intelligencer has a long editorial on Gen. Fremont, with quotations from the New York Tribune, Evening Post, Times, and Commercial Advertiser, and Boston, Advertiser, and St. Louis Republican, all tending to show a want of capacity on the part of the General. The Intelligencer concludes with this remark: "We recite these expressions of the public press as belonging to the history of the times, and because it would be useless longer to conceal the fact that the public confidence in the commander of the Western Department (in some of its aspects the most important department of all) has been shaken to its base."

It is said, in some quarters, that there is not men enough in the field, and that they can't be had! It shall so prove, then we do not deserve either a name or a country. It is said that no able-bodied young man in the south dare show his face out of the ranks.—The woman send petticoats to all who make the experiment. If our women would do the same thing here, it would help on the enrollment amazingly.

If the south with less than half the population of the North, can turn out more men than the latter, she will succeed and deserves to succeed, too! If we think more of our personal comfort than we do of our liberties, we are unfit to bear the name of freemen—and the sooner we are "subdued" by a superior power the better. A few more reverses like that at Lexington, and we shall have earned the right of being despised by the meaneast Power on earth.

THE FLIGHT OF BRECKINRIDGE.—There is something peculiarly piquant in the particulars of the flight of John C. Breckinridge from the loyal portions of Kentucky, which are published in the account of that event, given by the Louisville Journal. Seeking shelter and concealment behind a despised negro slave, as he sat in a carriage which conveyed him for the present to a place of safety the only additional protection upon which he appeared to rely at the outset of his journey was such as he supposed would be furnished by a company of secession "Home Guards," who had recently stolen arms designed and purchased for the defence of the State, with the intention of using them in a savage war against it. What an ignominious position is this for one who lately held the second office in the gift of the American people, and who, a year ago, was a prominent candidate for the Presidency! During the canvass of 1860 a parallel was frequently drawn between the ex-Vice President and Aaron Burr, who, like him, had enjoyed the second honors of the Republic, and seeing its highest station almost within his grasp, had proved a traitor to the generous party which had adored and elevated him; had made the first practical attempt to establish a secession conspiracy in this country, and had been compelled to seek safety in flight from the officers of justice who sought to arrest him for treason. This parallel has been greatly strengthened by recent events, but the difference between the two is that Burr was infinitely the least guilty. A year ago it seemed harsh and unjust to Breckinridge to compare him with Burr. Now it seems unjust to the memory of Burr to say that his career affords a parallel to that of Breckinridge. The former was the most gifted and the least infamous; he did much more to benefit the American people, and much less to injure them, than his modern prototype.

Kentucky, no doubt, owes her unhappy position to-day as much to the influence and counsels of John C. Breckinridge as to those of any other living man. Had he not given aid and comfort to the enemies of his country, and not endeavored to rally a party in their support, it is scarcely possible that they would have dared to invade his native State. Had he resisted the blandishments of the traitors a year ago, their schemes would probably never have been attended with even partial and temporary success in any considerable portion of the country. Had he been as loyal as he was ambitious, as devoted to the Union as he was to the desperate conspirators who made him their confident and champion, he might have saved the lives of thousands who will fall victims to the war, saved millions of treasure, and earned a position in the history of our country as glorious and honorable as the one he now occupies is disgraceful and ignominious.—Forney's Press.

The Business of the Pennsylvania Railroad is very much greater at this time, says a Harrisburg paper, than one hot thoroughly conversant with railroad affairs would imagine. Our contemporary adds, that it is informed, by one who knows, that if the business of the road does not fall off between this and the first of November, the end of the fiscal year, the receipts for 1861 will be upwards of seven millions of dollars.—The company has done an immense carrying trade for the Government since the war commenced, at a liberal reduction below the current rates.

The Maine Election has resulted in favor of the Republican candidates by a majority of some 14,000. This party offered to abandon their organization, in the present condition of the country, and unite with the Democrats upon a Union ticket, but it was declined, and the Democrats ran two tickets—the Union war ticket and the White Feather ticket, but the majority for the Republicans over both, is about as stated above. The Legislature is also strongly of the same political complexion.

An elderly lady who attended a meeting of the First Vermont regiment arose, full of enthusiasm, and said she thanked God that she was able to do something for her country; her two sons all she possessed in the world, were in the regiment, and the only thing that she had to regret was that she could not have known it twenty years ago—she would have furnished more of them.

A "bill to prevent amalgamation of the different races of men" has lately been passed by the California Legislature. The bill makes it a penal offence for any white person to intermarry with any "colored person," whether of the African or Asiatic races.

Selah Matthews, one of the most eminent lawyers of Western New York, was prostrated by a stroke of apoplexy, at Rochester, on the 11th ult., while engaged in arguing a case in court. He was taken home in an unconscious state, and died the next morning.

Jay Cooke & Co., have been appointed Government agents for the delivery of the Treasury notes. See Card in this week's paper.

BRECKINRIDGE ON THE WING.—The Louisville Journal of the 25th ultimo says: "We learn from Mt. Sterling that on Friday morning, about 4 o'clock, a buggy containing two gentlemen and a negro boy, passed through that town, stopping for a few minutes at the house of an ex-official, and took the State road towards the Virginia line. Several gentlemen met the buggy on the road.—One of the travelers was closely muffled, and, whenever they were about meeting any one the negro boy raised himself so as to cover the muffled figure. One of the secessionists in Mt. Sterling revealed the fact on Friday that J. C. Breckinridge had gone through on his way to Virginia or Tennessee. Lincoln's "Hessian cloak" is forever eclipsed now."

Down on Musk.—Godey, the popular publisher of a book for the ladies, is constrained to speak out boldly in the June number against musk, which the ladies sometimes allow themselves to be infested by. He says: "We contend that no woman should be allowed to enter a car or a church who is covered with this vile perfume. It is sickening to many and to many ladies it causes the headache. In many places, where there is little ventilation, the smell is very offensive and heavy. The general supposition is that those who use it have some powerful motive for doing so—something upon the counter irritation principle; the same reason that accompanies gout; a person having that does not heed a lesser pain."

Foreign.—By the steamer Kangaroo we have further news. The Great Eastern sails with three regiments for Canada about the middle of September, and afterwards goes to New York. Another terrible railroad accident has occurred on one of the suburban roads near London, by which thirteen persons killed and fifty wounded. In Italy additional successes over the brigands are reported, and also some collisions have occurred between the Piedmontese troops and the Papal gens d'armes. In England the cotton market was buoyant; breadstuffs firmer at an advance.

Southern Teachers.—Much fault having been found with the Board of Education in Charleston S. C., for employing Northern teachers, they say in defence: "Nor has the Board failed to look through the South from Norfolk to New Orleans, for candidates in this work—seeking through colleges and academies in vain. The teacher's profession, unhappily, seems but little appreciated and cultivated at the South."—N. Y. Teacher.

Exciting Curiosity.—Sir Charles Lyell tells a story of a gentleman who, being asked in a stage coach how he had lost his leg, made his fellow passengers promise that if he told them, they would ask no more questions on the subject.—He then said, "it was bitten off." To have thus precluded them for the rest of a long journey from asking how it was bitten off, was a truly ingenious mode of putting impertinent curiosity on the rack.

Low Prices at the West.—The extreme west suffers considerably in consequence of the war for want of a market for its superabundant products. A letter from Iowa says that eggs were selling there at one cent a dozen, and corn at fifteen cents a bushel; apples, with which the trees are loaded down, 25 to 30 cents per bushel; flour two dollars per hundred pounds, &c.

Some towns are favored in a pecuniary manner by the war. Portsmouth, N.H., was never more flourishing before than it is now made by the government works. Nearly two thousand men, we are told, are employed in the navy-yard—a number equal to all the men in Portsmouth before, and they keep money in quick circulation.

Twenty-six Parrot rifled cannon, of which ten are 20 pounders, have recently been loaned to the general government by the State of New York, and sixty additional guns of the same class have been ordered, with carriages, caissons, battery wagons and forges.

The Treasury Department is still actively engaged in the preparation of the Treasury notes. Large amounts have been sent to the western states, where they enter at once into the home circulation, and are eagerly taken up.

The President has issued a commission as captain in the navy to Admiral Zorman, late of the Mexican navy. Captain Zorman is detailed for service with General Fremont's column, and will probably have an important position in the flotilla preparing for a voyage down the Mississippi. He was formerly in the Turkish navy, where he saw much service, and acquired considerable reputation as an officer.

James B. Clay was admitted to bail in $10,000 before Judge Catron, to appear at the January term. Tom Clay and Tom Jacobs entered his bail.

Jay Cooke & Co., have been appointed Government agents for the delivery of the Treasury notes. See Card in this week's paper.

DEATH FROM FRIGHT.—A servant girl in Cincinnati by the name of Black, while standing on the steps with a child in her arms, a few days ago, was so frightened by a drunken colored woman that she fell with much force upon the sidewalk, and died almost instantly.

DR. LA CROIX'S
PRIVATE MEDICAL TREATISE ON
The Physiological Views of Marriage!
250 PAGES AND 130 ENGRAVINGS.—Price only 25 cents. Sent free of postage to all parts of the Union. On the intricacies of youth and maturity, disclosing the secret feelings, passions, depression of spirit, palpitation of the heart, suicidal imaginings, involuntary emissions, bluishings, defective memory, indigestion and lassitude, with confession of thrilling interest in Boarding School Misses, a College Student, and a Young Married Lady, &c., &c. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, health, happiness, and privileges to which every human being is entitled.

YOUNG MEN who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, constipation, a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, will be cured by the author's new Paris and London Treatise.

We have, recently devoted much of our time in visiting the European Hospitals, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skillful Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and the Continent. Those who are interested in their own health, and who will have the full benefit of our new and efficacious Remedies which we are enabled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, secrecy and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore, as a Physician in our peculiar department of professional practice, for the past twenty-five years.

EXCERPTS FROM THE TREATISE.—Ladies who wish for Medicines, the efficacy of which has been tested in thousands of cases, and never failed to effect speedy cures without any bad results, will use none but Dr. DeLaney's Female Periodical Pills. The only preparation necessary to be observed is, ladies should not take them if they have reason to believe they are in certain situations (the particulars of which will be found on the wrapper accompanying each box), though always safe and healthy, yet so gentle yet so active.

ELECTRIC OIL. The cures made by Professor DeGrath, with his "Electric Oil," are so near marvellous as to resemble the fabled Scripture accounts of similar cures in ancient times by the anointing with oil, and are so wonderful, so powerful, and so satisfactory, so satisfactory and mitigating of human ills, as to call upon public functionaries, and those having charge of public institutions for the sick and suffering, to look well into the well-attested merits, the simple efficacy of this "Electric Oil."

Professor DeGrath, therefore, has deposited $100 with the Mayor, to be forfeited if the "Electric Oil," sold at Philadelphia, fails to cure a case of Rheumatism, or Pains in the back, or Limbs, Piles, Sores or Burns, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Caked Breast, Sore Nipples, Bronchial Affections, Swelled Glands, Pellets, Stiffness in the Joints, Sprains, Bruises, or Swellings on any part of the body. IMPROVED GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT ROOFING.
The Cheapest and most durable Roofing in use. IT IS FIRE AND WATER PROOF.
It can be applied to new and old Roofs of all kinds, steep or flat, and to Shingle Roofs without removing the Shingles.
The Cost is only about One-Third that of Tin, and it is TWICE as durable.

This article has been thoroughly tested in New York City and all parts of the United States, Canada, West Indies, and Central and South America, on buildings of all kinds, such as Factories, Foundries, Churches, Rail Road Depots, Cars, and on Public Buildings generally. Government Buildings, &c. by the principal Builders, Architects and others, during the past four years, and has proved to be the CHEAPEST and MOST DURABLE ROOFING in use; it is in every respect a Fire, Water, Weather and Time Proof covering for roofs of all kinds.

This is the only material manufactured in the United States which combines the very desirable properties of Elasticity and Durability, which are universally acknowledged to be essential to the success of GUTTA PERCHA and INDIA RUBBER.
No heat is required in making application.

The expense of applying it is trifling, as an ordinary Roof, can be covered and finished the same day.
It can be applied by any one, and when finished forms a perfectly Fire Proof surface, with an elastic body, which cannot be injured by Heat, Cold or Storms, Shrinking of Roof Boards, nor any external action whatever.

LIQUID GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT.
For Coating Metals of all kinds when exposed to the Action of the Weather, and for Preserving and Repairing Metal Roofs of all kinds.
This is the only Composition known which will successfully resist extreme changes of all climates, for any length of time, when applied to metal, to which it adheres firmly, forming a body equal to three coats of ordinary paint, costs much less, and will last three times as long; and from its elasticity it admits of being contracted and expansion of tin and other metal roofs, consequent upon sudden changes of the weather.

It will not CRACK in cold or RUN in warm weather, and will NOT WASH OFF.
Leaky tin and other metal Roofs can be readily repaired with GUTTA PERCHA Cement, and prevented from further corrosion and leaking, thereby ensuring a perfectly water tight roof for many years.

This Cement is peculiarly adapted for the purposes of Iron Railroads, Stoves, Ranges, Safes, Agricultural Implements, &c., also for general manufacturing use.

Gutta Percha Cement.
For preserving and repairing Tin and other METAL ROOFS of every description, from its great elasticity, it is not injured by the contraction and expansion of Metals, and will not CRACK in cold or RUN in warm weather.
These materials are adapted to all climates, and we are prepared to supply orders from any part of the country, at short notice, for GUTTA PERCHA Roofs in rolls, ready prepared for use, and Gutta Percha Cement in barrels, with full printed directions for application.

AGENTS WANTED.
We will make liberal and satisfactory arrangements with responsible parties who would like to establish themselves in a lucrative and permanent business.
Our Terms are Cash.
We can give abundant proof of all we claim in favor of our Improved Roofing Materials, having applied them to several thousand Roofs in New York City and vicinity.
