The Mariettian

IS PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY, AT UNE BOLLAR PER ANNUM. PAYABLE, IN ADVANCE.

FFICE in Crull's Row,—Second Story—Front street, five doors below Mrs. Flury's Hotel, Marietta, Lancaster County, Penn'a. If subscriptions be delayed beyond 3 months, $1.25: if not paid until the expiration of the year, $1.50 will be charged.

No subscription received for a less period than six months, and no paper will be discontinued until all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the publisher. A failure to notify a discontinuance at the expiration of the term subscribed for, will be considered a new

Any person sending us FIVE new subscribers shall have a sixth copy for his trouble. ADVERTISING RATES: One square (12 lines, or less) 50 cents for the first insertion and 25 or test) ou cents for the first insertion and 20 cents for each subsequent insertion. Professional and Business cards, of six lines or less at $3 per annum. Notices in the reading columns, five cents a-line. Marriages and Deaths, the simple announcement, free; but for any additional lines, five cents a-line. I square 3 months, $2.00; 6 months, $3.50; 1 teem. 1 year, $5. Two squares, 3 months, $3:06 months, $5; 1 year, $7. Half-a-column, 3 months, $8; 6 months, $12; 1 year, $20. One column, 6 months, $20; 1 year, $30. Having recently added a large lot of new Jon AND CARD TYPE, we are prepared to do all kinds of Plain and Fancy Printing,

Such as Large Posters, with Cuts,
Sale Bills of all kinds, Ball Tickets,
Circulars, Curds, Programmes, &c., &c.
Everything in the Job Printing line will be done with neatness and dispatch, and at the lowest possible rates.

PROFESSOR DE GRATH'S ELECTRIC OIL. Wonderful Eures on Man and Horse!

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

PROPOSE to cure, almost instantaneously.

PROPOSE to cure, almost instantaneously, individuals afflicted with Deafness, Headache, Neuralgia, Chill Fever, Ague, Rheumatism, and all Sores and Pains,

I propose to check and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish nearer and more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time, the masses themselves being judges.

I do not propose to cure every disease, but masses themselves being judges.

I do not propose to cure every disease, but all such as are curable by any combination of medical appliances. My Electric Oil operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable to the cure or natural restoration of any organic derangement, arising from an improper circulation of Nervous vital faild.

I want the masses to join in this matter— the well as the sick, because if these things are so, all are alike interested. N. B. Please inform me of any case of failure to cure, in from half hour to three weeks ure to cure, in from half hour to three weeks, as I wish to cure or charge nothing.

The Columbus Sun remarks: On Saturday, an old gentleman named Wm. C. Osborne, well known in our city, who, from rheumatic affections, has not been able to walk or use his hands sufficient to feed himself, for more then ten years, was brought to Prof. De Grath on the street, where in the presence of a large assemblage of people, he applied De Grath's Electric Oil to one arm and shoulder. He was immediately enabled to raise his hand to his head and scratch it, a thing he said he had not done before in twelve years.

The New Hampshire Patriot says: During the present week, no less than six of our friends, who have been induced to try Prof.

friends, who have been induced to try Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil for Rheumatism and Deafness, in consequence of having seen this pregration advertised in our colemns, have called upon us to state the result of experi-ments. These persons assure us that their Rucumatic pains have been entirely cured by a few applications of De Grath's Electric Oil, and they recommend its use to all who are afflicted, with any of the diseases which it is designed to cure.

It seems that Rheumatism, Deafness, Neuralhia, Swollen and Stiff Joints, and other Complaints to which we are all subject, have lost their terrors. Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil is warranted to relieve any case in a short space of time, and with a trifling expense. always cures Scratches, Sprains, Galls and Splints on horses.

PROF. CHARLES DE GRATH, Philadelphia, Pa None genuine without signature of Prof Principal Depot No. 217 South Eighth St. Philadelphia. Country dealers and druggists can be supplied wholesale and retail. Price 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle.

Try everything else; grve this one simple CAUTION-Be careful to ask for and get DE GRATH'S Electric Oil, as worthless imitations abound.

There are numerous imitations sprung up on the reputation my article bas acquired. The public must beware. They are worthless.

For sale by all dealers and druggists. Principal office 217 South 8th street, Phila.

Feb. 2-1y]

WINES AND LIQUORS.

Alexander D. Reese, WINE AND LIQUOR DEALER, Main Street, [EAST WARD] Mount Joy, Lancaster County, Pa.

TIME undersigned would most respectfully beg leave to inform the public that he has pened a WINE AND LIQUOR STORE in all its branches. He will constantly keep on hand

Brandies, Wines, Gins, Irish and Scotch Whisky, Cordials, Bitters, &c. Also, a very superior Old Rye Whisky just received, which is warranted pure.

A choice article of German Wine.
Various brands of Champagne Wines.

All A. D. R. now asks of the public is a careful examination of his stock and prices, which will, he is quite confident, result in Ho-tel keepers and others finding it to their advantage to make their purchases of him.

A LSO—Kerosene, or Coal Oil, Pine Oil and Finid at reduced prices, at the "Enterprise Vision Visi A. D. REESE. Wine & Liquor Store. Mount Joy, June 22, 1861-1y.

OULD take this means of informing the citizens of Marietta and vicinity that he is prepared to furnish anything in his line, consisting in part, of Table Cutlery of all kinds; Buildings and Housekeeping Hardware, in all styles, Cutlery, Tools, Paints, Oils, Class Vennishes, Coderware, Tubs, Buckets, Glass, Varmshes, Cedarware, Tubs, Buckets, Churns, Knives, Forks, Spoons, Shovels, Pokers, Tongs, Candlesticks, Pans, Waiters, Copper and Brass Kettles, Door, Desk, Pad and all other kind of Locks, Nails, Spikes and

JOHN BELL, Merchant Tailor, Cor. of Market-st., and Elbow Lane, Marietta

RATEFUL for past favors I would return my thanks to my numerous friends and patrons and inform them that I still continue the old business at the old stand, where I will be pleased to see them at all times, and having a full and splendid assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES & VESTINGS. which will be made up to order at the shortest notice by the best of workmen, and on reasonable terms, I would be pleased, therefore, to wait upon my old customers and all who see proper to patronize me hereafter. [Oct.29-756. to patronize me hereafter.

ROYS Spring Caps, at CRULL'S, No. 92 Market-s.

In Independent Pennsylbauia Journal for the Family Circle.

F. L. Baker, Proprietor.

Terms-One Dollar a Year.

VOL. 8.

MARIETTA, OCTOBER 19, 1861.

NO. 12.

PROCRASTINATION.

BY CHARLES MACKAY. If fortune with a smiling face, Strew roses on our way, When shall we stoop to pick them up? To-day, my love, to-day. But should she frown with face of care, And talk of coming sorrow, When shall we grieve, if grieve we must? To-morrow, love, to morrow.

If those who've wronged us own their faults, And kindly pity pray, When shall we listen and foreive? To-day, my love, to-day. But if stern justice urge rebuke. And warmth from memory horrow. When shall we chide, if chide we dare? To-morrow, love, to-morrow.

If those to whom we owe a debt Are harmed unless we pay, When shall we struggle to be just? To-day, my love, to-day. But if our debtor fail our hope. And plead his ruin thorough, When shall we way his breach of faith? To-morrow, love, to-morrow.

If love, estranged, should once again His genial smile display, When shall we kiss the proffered lips? To-day, my love, to-day. But if he would indulge regret, Or dwell with by-gone sorrow, When shall we weep, if weep we must? To-morrow, love, to-morrow.

For virtuous acts and harmeless joys, The minutes will not stay; We've always time to welcome them, To-day, my love, to-day. But care, resentment, angry words, And unavailing sorrow, Come far too soon, if they appear To-morrow, love, to-morrow.

THE BRAVE AT HOME. BY T. BUCHANAN READ.

The maid, who binds her warrior's sash, With smiles that well her pain dissembles The while beneath her drooping lash One starry tear-drop hangs and trembles Though Heaven alone records the tear, And fame shall never know her story, Her heart has shed a drop as dear As ever dewed the field of glory.

The wife, who girds her husband's sword, 'Mid little ones who weep and wonder, And bravely speaks the cheering word, What though her heart be rent asunder-Doomed nightly in her dreams to hear The bolts of war around him rattle, Was poured upon the plain of battle!

The mother, who conceals her grief, While to her breast her son she presses Then breathes a few brave words, and brief Kissing the patriot brow she blesses, With no one but her secret God To know the pain that weighs upon her, Sheds holy blood as e'er the soil Received on Freedom's field of honor!

RICH WITHOUT MONEY .- Many a man is rich without money. Thousands of men without nothing in the pocket, and thousand without even a pocket are rich. A man born with a good sound constitution, a good heart, and good limbs, and a pretty good head piece, is rich. Good bodes are better than gold-tough muscles, than silver; and nerves that flash fire and carry energy to every function, are better than houses and lands.

It is better than a landed estate to have the right kind of father and mother. Good breeds and bad breeds exist among men as really do among herd and horses. Education may do much to check evil tendencies, or to develop good ones; but it is a great thing to inherit the right proportion of faculties to start with.

That, man is rich who has a good disposition-who is naturally kind, patient cheerful hopeful, and who has a flavor of wit and fun in his composition. The hardest thing to get along with in this life is a man's own self. A cross, selfish fellow, disposing and complaining fellow-a timid care-burdened manthese are all been deformed on the inside. Their feet may not limp, but her thoughts do. A. FAT MAN IN BATTLE .- During the Bull Run battle an order was given to a New England company to lie down and load, and only rise when in act of firing. During the hottest of the conflict Captain Law observed a man standing while loading. "Contrary to order," exclaimed the Captain; "you must lie down while loading." "The fact is, Captain," said the man addressed, "I'm so plaguey fat that if I lie down to load it takes too long to get up agair." The Captain turned away with a smile, and left the fat man to choose his own method of gloom of the gray sea-rock.

Making Wine From Grapes.

It is a little late at this perod to give allow the grapes to be perfectly ripe be- | preperation, cause all the difference bemode of manufacture: "The well-ripened bunches of grapes or immature berries picked out. Each | become black tea. day's picking is mashed at night, by through a mill. The contents are put and about eighteen inches in diameter, upon a press, where about one-third of are always of iron, never of copper. A sure. After the first pressing, the outer used in the preparation of some green edges of the "cheese" are cut off for tea; but the better qualities are geneeight or ten inches, the parings thrown | rally perfectly pure. upon the top, and the screws again turned. This is repeated two or three times, but the juice from the last pressing is the first year of our residence at Shangdark and astringent, and only capable hai, was rented, after we left, to a tea of making an inferior wine; hence it merchant. On visiting it afterward, I should be kept separate. The juice from | found he had turned our former kitchen the first pressing is put in large casks, into a tea-coloring room. There were allowing space for fermentation. No around the sides of the apartment fourbrandy or sugar should be added to the best catawba juice, as it makes a better on the top of as many brick furnaces in wine without and is strong enough to keep well. One end of a syphon is placed in the bung-hole of the cask, and the other end terminates in a pail of water. The fermentation commences in a day or two, and the carbonic acid generated passes through this pipe and bubles up through the water in the pail. This will show how rapidly the fermentation is going on, and when it ceases .--In ten or fourteen days the syphon may be removed, and the casks filled up, and the bung driven lightly-in a month tightly. In mid-winter the wine is carefully drawn off into other casks and the lees, added to the pomace of the grapes, are used to make brandy. "The wine will be clear and pleasant to drink in a month or two after the first fermentation ceases. A' slight second fermentation takes places in the spring, and it will only be necessary to loosen the bungs; when it is over, the vine will be clear in two or three months. and safe to bottle, but it is usually better to defer it until the following November. The only secret of wine-making is, to have well-ripened grapes, perfectly clean press, casks, and everything else used, and having the casks constantly bung full after fermentation, so that no air shall come in contact with the SECRET OF BEING LOVED .- William Wirt's letter to his daughter on the 'small sweet courtesies of life," contains a passage from which a deal of happiness might be learned:

I want to tell you a secret. The way to make yourself pleasing to others is to show that you care for them. The whole world is like the miller of Mansbecause nobody cared for him," And give them the same cause.

Let every one, therefore, see that you care for them, by showing them what Sterne so happily calls "the small sweet courtesies" in which there is no parade; whose voice is too still to tease, and which manifest themselves by tender and affectionate looks, and the little preference in every little enjoyment, at this contributed to create the riot. the table, in the field, walking, sitting, or standing.

HOME LIGHT AND LIFE,—Even as the sunbeam is composed of millions of minute rays, the home light must be constituted of little tenderness, kindly looks, councels; it must not be like the torchblaze of natural excitement, which is easily quenched, but like the serene, chastened light which burns as safely in the dry east wind as in the stillest atmosphere. Let each bear the other's burden the while; let each cultivate the mutual confidence, which is a gift capable of increase and improvement, and soon it will be found that kindliness will spring up on every side, displacing constitutional unsuitability, want of mutual knowledge, even as we have seen sweet violets and primroses dispelling the

In the march of life, don't heed Do your best and defy the devil the order to "right about" when you know you are about right.

Different kinds of Tea.

Taylor's China says the same plant THROW A TRAIN FROM THE TRACK .- A directions for making wine from grapes; produces all the varieties. The differ train left this city on Monday night to nevertheless, as the directions are to ent times of gathering, and modes of take up from Eminence the Fourteenth fore gathering for wine, there must be tween those kinds known by so many As the train neared Christiansburg, many grapes, especially those best adapt- distinct names—both of green and black. ed to wine, which are scarcely yet per- The leaves only are picked, and not the feetly matured. Mr. R. Buchanan, of flowers; they are rolled with the fingers. Cincinnati, is an experienced wine- Those dried rapidly in iron basins over man shape, three in number. maker, and gives the following as his a fire become green tea, while those thrown into very hot basins, than taken quickly out, exposed to the sun for are cut from the vine, and all unsound awhile, and afterward dried over a fire,

These pans, as some writers call them, pounding in a barrel with a beetle- but more correctly bowls or basins, for stem and berries—or passing them they are nearly semi-globular in shape the best juice runs off without any pres- mixture of Prussian blue and gypsum is

The native building on the North Gate street, in which we lived during teen of these iron bowls, set in mortar which moderate fires were burning .-Thirteen of the bowls were half filled with tea leaves, and a man stood at each rapidly stirring them with his hand. The remaining bowl contained a quantity of this bluish-green coloring matter, which another was also stirring. To this one, the men from the others would come every few minutes, and taking from it a small quantity of the contents, would return and stir it, each into his bowl of the leaves, till they had acquired the requsite hue. The exceedingly minute quantity of Prussian blue that any person could imbibe in drinking tea from the leaves thus prepared, precludes, in my opinion, the possibility of injury resulting therefrom.

The significations of some of the names by which teas are known, are as follows, making due allowance for the Hyson means before the rain, or flourishwhich means tea skins.

Refuse of a still coarser description. containing many stems, is called teabones. Bohea is the name of the hills in the region where it is collected .-Pekoe or Pecco means white hairs the down of under leaves. Pouchong, folded plant. Souchong, small plant. Twankay is name of a stream in the province whence it is brought. Congo is from a term signifying labor, from the care required in its preparation."

No PROTECTION FOR HOUSES OF ILL-FAME. - A case has just been decided in field, "who cared for nobedy-no, not he the Circut Court at Syracuse, N./Y., which is of some importance to a certain the whole world will serve you so, if you class of property holders. A woman named Blodgett sued the city of Syracuse for the value of property destroyed by a mob. It appeared that the plaintiff kept a house of bad repute. Judge Mullin charged the jury that though the rioters were liable to indictment and punishment, the plaintiff could not recover her loss of property at their hands, kind acts of attention, giving others the if she kept a house of prostitution, and CUTTING DOWN THE WOODS .- The Government has purchased all the woods for about a quarter of a mile on each side of the Washington Branch railroad, from the Relay House to Washington, and some five hundred men are now ensweet laughter, gentle words, loving gaged in cutting it down. The timber is intended to be used the coming winter for fuel, and will cost about an average of one dollar per cord.

A public meeting in Westmoreland county, Va., has invited the Hon. John C. Breckinridge to take up his residence in the Southern Confederacy, "where he will be properly appreciated and cherished."

Poverty humbles pride. A man when he is short, can hardly carry a high

If you do good, forget it; if evil, ber two. remember and repent of it.

The reward of a thing well done is to have done it.

FIENDISH OUTRAGE-ATTEMPT TO Ohio Regiment, Colonel Steadman .-

Shelby county, the cars were stopped by some fence rails, which had been thrown across the track by some devils in hu-The train delayed long enough to arrest one of the men, named Allen Nevil.

but suffered no other detention; nor was there, providentially, any damage done to any one. On the arrival of the train in Lexington, yesterday forenoon, the prisoner was marched through the city on his way to jail, when an Irishman, name unknown, stepped up, and, on learning the crime, drew a knife and cut Nevil's throat from ear to ear. He was immediately arrested and taken to jail. When the train left Lexington yesterday afternoon, Nevil was not expected to live. - Louisville Democrat.

SELF DEPENDENCE.-Many an unwise parent works hard and lives sparingly all his life, for the purpose of leaving enough to give his children a start in the world, as it is called. Setting a young man afloat with the money left him by his relatives, is like tying a life preserver under the arm of one who cannot swim; ten chances to one, he will lose his preserver and go to the bottom. Teach him to swim, and he will not need the preserver. Give your child a sound education. See that his morals are pure, his mind cultivated, and his whole nature made subserviant to the laws which govern man, and you will have given what will be of more value than the wealth of the Indies. You have given him a start which no misfortune can deprive him of. The earlier you teach him to depend upon his own resources the better.

A Noble Example. Gen. S. L. Wiliams, an old gentleman living a mile from Mount Sterling, Ky., came in on Wednesday and enrolled his name as a Union volunteer in a company being raised. He is seventy-two years old !-He says he has not long to live anyhow, changes and corruption they undergo, in that he has strength enough to pull a form and sound, in being anglicized: trigger and destroy his country's ene- two magnificent hairs of golden blond. mies, and that if he should be killed, it ing spring, that is early in the spring. - | was consolation enough for bim to think | an old woman; let us look farther. He Hence, it is often called Young Hyson. | that the bullet he received took but | perceived a portrait turned against the Hyson skin is composed of the refuse of little of his time, while perhaps it saved | wall. He turned the canvass. It was the other kinds, the native term for the life of some young man who could the portrait of a woman, blond, very be of more value to his country.

> A man recently broke off a marriage because the lady did not possess | ried woman; the dress indicates it .good conversational powers. He should This woman was about twenty when it have married her, and then refused her was painted. She must be still very a new bonnet to develop her powers to pretty. She is an intelligent woman,

"Douglas, dear," said a wife, appealing to her husband in a small feminine dispute, "do you think I am generally bad-tempered?"—"No, my dear," says he, "I think you are particularly so."

Even if a woman had as many locks upon her heart as she has upon her heart as she has upon her head, a cunning rogue would find his way into

A young woman can have no excuse for thinking her lover wiser than he is, for if there's any nonsense in him, he is sure to talk it to her.

Dr. Franklin says that "every little fragment of the day should be saved." Oh, yes, the moment the day breaks set yourself at once to save the pieces.

The proud have no friends : not in prosperity, for ther they know nobody: not in adversity, for then nobody knows

It is justly said of women that she divides our sorrows and doubles our joys. Pity she quadruples our expenses.

A girl at a party the other evening, was asked what made her face so unusually red; she repled, the chans. An old bachlor says that during eap-year the ladies jump at every offer of marriage-hence the term.

This life's contradictions are many. Salt water gives us fresh fish, and hot widow and did not leave the rooms words produce coolness.

The bachelor has to look out for number one-the married man for num-

Women never truly command until they have given their promise to obey.

The Reason Why He Married. Lefort was a man some forty years old with an income of fifteen thousand francs, fond of pictures, and painted landscapes himself in a very remakable manner .--He lived in the Rue de Provence, in au appartment in the third story, where he was often visited by his friend Decamus, the distinguished painter who has recently died in Paris, who was very fond of Lefort and of sitting to talk in his rooms. They passed long evenings in chatting and smoking together before an open window, which overlooked the vast gardens of the Hotel Lafitte and Hotel Rothschild.

One day. Lefort arrived at the cafe with a long face and an air of great dis-

"What is the matter?" said Decamps. "The matter is, I am wretched at having to move from my apartment." "Are you going to leave it?"

"Yes, my landlord wanted to raise my ent. I resisted-he insisted. I grew angry, and gave up the rooms. I am wretched now. You were so found of these rooms."

"Ah, well, take back your lease."

"Your are right, I will take it back." The next day Lefort had still the long face and the grieved air of the previous day. He had wished to resume his lease. But it was too late. The apartment was let for a term of nine-years. Lefort must move in the month of October. His landlord informed him. however, in an obliging manner, that the person who was to succeed him would not arrive from the country till the middle of November, and that he had all that time to seek an apartment to suit him; only Lefort must leave empty a part of the suit of rooms to store the farniture of his successor. Lefort consented to this joyfully, and the furniture of the new tenant was brought in. Meantime Decamps, who saw him still so sorrowful at having to quit his rooms said to him one day: "There is perhaps some way to arrange with your new successor." "I dont know him and don't wish to try to make a bargain." "Show me his furniture," said Decamps, "and I can gues whatsort of a man-he is." Lefort conducted Decamps into the room where the furniture of the new tenant was placed. "Hum, hum," said Decamps, on casting his eyes over the articles; "all this is simple, comfortable, in good taste, furniture for an income of twenty thousand francs, lately removed. It is the right sort of a man,-or rather it is a woman; here is a woman's furniture, this toilet, this wash table, this bookstand of inlaid work."

"But the husband?"

"I don't see any husband in the matter : no masculine furniture, a single bed, no bureau; we want to know if she is a widow, a young girl, or an old maid."

"How shall we find that out?" He opened the toilette table. There was a shell comb, to which was attached

"Good, this hair does not belong to pretty, painted in 1825 by Harsent.

"It is the portrait of a lady," said Decamps. "It is the portrait of a marloving art, I judge by the selection of the bocks in this library, by the music on the piano. My friend you will not quit your apartment."

I must ask the lady to give it up to me,

"No, you must ask her to share it with you. You must marry her." "You are mad-you are laughing at

"I seak very seriously. Your furniture seems made to go with that of the lady. The suit of rooms is too large for one of you alone; it is exactly what is wanted for you two."

"But I dant wish to marry." "You are wrong. You are forty years old! this lady suits you in every respect. She pleases me, this woman, and I wish you to marry her. Let me manage."

Lefort gave him leave. When the lady came from the country, she was surprised to find her rooms occupied and her furniture doubled. Decamps awaited her. He showed the lady the rooms arranged by himself, and the portrait of Lefort hung opposite her own.

"See, madam," said he, "what wounderful harmony between these articles of furniture. See how well the portrait matches your own. It is certainly the. portrait of the man who should be your husband."

The lady was sensible and kind. She was not angry, and laughed heartily; and as he was an intelligent man, distingue, a very good fellow, with a suitable fortune, he was accepted. He married the

He never left them until last year at the death of his wife whom he adored, and whom he renderd happy till the last

In China, if a young man is not narried by the time he is twenty, he is drummed out of town. No place for bachelors among the fum-fums.