Mrhen & Abborr, No. 335 Broadway, New-York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisments, &c.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS -Contracts have been entered into with the Government to furnish six thousand tents d'Abrie, or "sheltering tents" for pickets, in imitation of those used by the French army. A portion of these will be prepared at the arsenal. They are to be of linen, and both lighter in weight and stronger than those of cotton. They are buttoned together, and form a single tent in a long continuous line. Twenty thousand Sibley tents have also been ordered, for winter quarters, at forty dollars each, to hold twenty men. Sixteen thousand light sheet iron stoves, without bottoms, have been ordered, at a cost of $2.521. These are for the officers' tents. The fire will be kindled on the ground, under them, and a narrow funnel will carry the smoke through a hold in the top of the tent.

General Summer has arrived at New York, with a detachment of seven hundred regular troops of the United States army, and some of our most skilful officers: This valuable accession to our forces will materially strengthen any division of the army with which it may be connected. Dr. Gwin, Calhoun. Benham, and J. L. Brett, who were on board, were under affect on account of their Secession proclivities and the discovery among their baggage of Secession papers. On their arrival at New York they were released on their parole of honor, after promising that they would not attempt to leave the country without premission of the Government.

* It will be impossible to estimate the effect of the Beaufort victory in tusiness circles alt presents to the factor and exporter the first practical solution of the cotton difficulty; and will remove much of the misery which seemed to be hanging over the working people of Laucashire. The faith in our loss will be strengthened, and capital will have renewed assurrance of the stability of our Government. Stocks bave risen, trade flows rapidly in natural and healthy channels, and the commercial prostration incident to national anxiety and gloom will yield to mercantile enterprise and energy.

Gen. Sherman at Beaufort, has land side, so that it will be impregnable). A line of entrenchments will be thrown: across the island, with bastions at proper supporting distances, so as to make a cross fire from each. To arm this, we have unwards of one hundred pieces of heavy artillery, all of them of the most approved patterns, and some of them rifled. The work will be commenced at

Rev. Mr. Sawtell, formerly seamen chaplain in the port of Havre, France, made the following short but expressive speech, during the discussion on the American war and slavery, in the late meeting of the Evangelical Alliance in Switzerland. "Give," said he, addressing the delegates from Great Britian, "Give us your prayers, and grow your lighting apparatus, formerly used on the own cotton, and slavery will cease in

The War Department will soon issue a circular addressed to the Governors of the leval States, requesting the withdrawl of their agents for the purchase of arms, both at home and abroad, as the government has received advices that a sufficiency of arms will be secured through its own agency.

Gov. Hicks, has issued a proclamation calling a special session of the Legislature of Maryland, at Annapolis. on the 27th inst. the object being to reestablish Maryland in her old position, as the heart of Union, and to undo the traitorious legislation of the members now confined in Fort Warren.

Why should not the slaves of South Carolina secode from their mastars who were so ready to secede from the Government? The poor negroes flee from the lash and the overseer; the rich planters deserted a Covernment which had protected and cherished them.

DUATH OF JUDGE SUTHERBAND .-- Mr. Joel B. Sutherland, a well-known citizen of Philadelphia, died at his residence, in that city, on Friday night, in the seventieth year of his age. The deceased was brought up to the medical profession, but many years ago he dropped the practice of medicine to enter into an active political life. He was a prominent member of the Jackson party in the old district of Southwark, and he represented the First district in Congress from 1827 to 1837. He was a member of the State Legislature at the time President Jackson voted the bill to recharter the Bank of the United States. and Dr. Sutherland incurred the indignation of his party, at that time, by voting for a recharter of the bank as a State institution. The deceased was at one period an associate judge in the Court of Common Pleas, and he also held the position of resident physician at the Lazaretto. He took part in the war of 1812; and of late years, he has been active in his efforts to obtain a substantial recognition from the Federal Government of the services rendered by the soldiers who fought in what he termed "the second war of ir ependence."

SLAVERY VANISHING .- The St. Louis Evening News says: "Slavery is vanishing from Missouri more rapidly even than its enemies predicted. Secession has made the state too hot for the institution, and secessionists are daily leaving the state for the south, with their slaves, to escape the very dangers they themselves madly invited and provoked. We argued six months ago that secession or attempted secession in Missouri would overthrow slavery in the state, and hurry the institution to its doom. But the secessionists would not listen to us .-They are now veryfying our predictions by fleeing with their slaves from the consequences of their own folly."

A Good Suggestion: A patriotic girl sends word to the soldiers to save the tops of their stockings, when the feet are worn out. She says that as wool is scarce and costly, none should be wasted, and adds it is the practice in many New England families to knit new feet upon the legs of old socks. She would not blame the troops for throwing the footless stocking away, if they had no one to mend them; but she says that, if from time to time, "a budget of legs could be sent home, the ragged feet being cut off, the energy of home industry would soon return them as good as new." This is a hint that is really worth being practically improved.

A few years since, Gen. McClellan offered his hand in marriage to Miss Ellen Marcy, a beautiful and accomplished lady, a daughter of Col. Marcy, of the U.S. Army. Col. Marcy objected to the union, on the sole ground that he could not consent to the marriage of his daughter to any gentleman belonging to the army. McClellan at once resigned his commission, and accepted the place of Chief Engineer upon the Illinois Central Railroad at the salary of $8,000 per year, and three years since decided to fortify his position on the he was married to Miss Marcy, and now, having re-entered the army, is General Commanding-in-Chief.

PRICE OF COFFEE, TEA AND SUGAR. The present increased price in the necessary articles of coffee, tea and sugar is not owing as many suppose, to scarcity, or to the moderate tax which the government has felt a duty to impose, to raise additional means to support the war. The cause of the increased price is, that speculators have seized upon the occasion to buy up large quantities of these articles and hold them for high. er prices. The common quantity of This year's crop has only been partially brown sugar has advanced one hundred gathered. This increase in price will induce greater economy in their use.

The New York Sun says the Government is now actively engaged in fitting out two new naval expeditions to operate on the Southern coast, whose precise destination is of course a profound secret. Gen. Butler has been engaged ever since the capture of Fort Hatteras in preparations for one-of which he is to take command, and Gen. Burnside will command the other.

It is said that Mason and Slidell will be confined in Fort Warren, near Boston, with the other State prisoners, until definate action can be taken in our courts in regard to their future destiny. Senator Gwin has been confined in Fort Lafayette. Thus three of the gang of Senatorial conspirators are for the present satisfactorily disposed of.

John M. Whittemore, engineer of the Mobicon, killed in the engagement near Beaufort, belonged to Cambridgeport, Mass., where he was married less than a year ago: He was twenty years of age, and a son of the late Rev. Thomas Whittemore, D. D. He left a lucurative civil position to engage in the servise of his country.

Nicholas Walton, a government contractor at St. Louis, absconded on Wednesday week with $6000 and another man's wife. He had overdrawn the money on his contract. He was arrested in Pittsburg, and most of the money was found in his possession .-This, to him, will turn out to be a poor government job.

So much indignation was manifested torious Secessionists were released on partments to rearrest them and put them in close confinement.

> The California papers expressed the belief that several millions of the national loan will be taken in that State, since the miner may better invest his means in government paper bearing such a rate of interest than bury it in the ground. Besides, in a specie-producing county that description of paper will be desirable for circulation wherever large sums have to pass from hand to hand. "There are millions of dollars," says the Alta, "in this State hid away in mattresses, sowed up in old stockings, and buried in holes, which we are persuaded will be taken out and invested in the treasury notes which are now beginning to enter into general circulation of the country."
