

None shall with impunity soil these sacred symbols of our Country's life, liberty and power.

F. L. Baker, Editor.

Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1861.

Messrs. MATHER & ABBOTT, No. 535 Broadway, New-York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisements, &c.

GEN. THE HON. JIM LANE.—We are glad to learn that Genl. Lane of Kansas notoriety has been appointed a Brigadier General, and is to command our army in Kansas. Lane has been long and favorably known to the public as a man of dauntless courage, and true heroism, and his speech just delivered in the Senate Chamber at Washington, shows that he is as much at home in the forum as in the field. We perfectly agree with him in his belief that the continued inactivity of the army will tend to its demoralization; and that our country cannot much longer view with complacency, the apparent do-nothing-policy of our Commander-in-chief. Gen. Lane insists on a forward movement of the entire army, and we verily believe, that if we had had more Generals of the Lane calibre, our army by this time would have the entire South at their feet. As it is however we are hopeful for the future but we would have been more so if Gen. Lane had been assigned to a command on the Potomac.

BURNING OF CHARLESTON: The Norfolk and Richmond papers give full particulars of the extensive conflagration in Charleston, S. C. The fire broke out at about nine o'clock in the evening of the 11th, in Russel and Old's sash and blind factory, and before midnight the fire had assumed an appalling magnitude, and Meeting street, from Market to Queen, was one mass of flames. As tenement after tenement was enveloped in the flames, the panic was awful, and thousands of families evacuated their houses and filled the streets. The Charleston Courier of the 13th, gives a list of between 200 and 300 sufferers, and says that the loss is estimated at from five to seven million dollars. Mr. Russel, at whose factory the fire originated, thinks that it must have been occasioned by an incendiary or by negligence of Negroes employed there. The Charleston Mercury says, that five hundred and seventy-six buildings were burnt.

MASON AND SLIDELL.—There was considerable excitement felt a few days ago, on the receipt of the news from England in consequence of the belligerent ravings of a portion of the English press in reference to the seizure of the rebel ministers Mason and Slidell. We can afford to wait a little, without being seriously disturbed by any mere rumor. We shall shortly know all about it, let us therefore keep cool, hope for the best, and be prepared for the worst.

One of the latest English papers, speaking of the capture of Slidell and Mason, says "this news has caused a general feeling of irritation in London. At the same time, much discussion arose whether a neutral flag could legally carry persons taking an active part in hostilities." Lord Stowell, half a century ago, declared that it could not, and subsequent jurists and judges have adopted his ruling of the law. At the time of the Palmerstonian demonstration, on account of the Trent affair, it was not known in England that Mr. Jefferson Davis had publicly proclaimed, to his Confederate constituents, that Slidell and Mason were his Ambassadors to France and England, duly commissioned by order of the "so-called" Confederate Congress.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily News learns that when Mr. Slidell was taking leave of his wife, on board the Trent, he placed his dispatches in her hand, told her to go to her cabin, sit at the porthole, and if any attempt was made to take the box from her, to drop it into the sea. Mrs. Slidell obeyed his orders, was not molested, and took the dispatches safely to England.

Our pickets report that Secession tracks were discovered near the residence of the famous Mrs. Jackson, the mother of the gallant Ellsworth. At a road point, one of our pickets fired with his carbine at a rebel, but without effect. The enemy are on the alert in regard to our movements.

It is said that Mr. Seward favors the return of Slidell and Mason to England and that the next steamer will take them out; but with the protest of the Government, and the matter to be the subject of future discussion.

Senator Polk of Missouri, is in league with the rebels, and will therefore be expelled from the Senate immediately.

A TRAITOR SHOT.—If any criminal deserves the penalty of death, it is the traitor, who would throw into the power of the enemy and jeopardize the lives of those to whom he falsely professed a patriotic attachment. A sad case of this kind has recently accrued in our army, and on Friday last the guilty party suffered the penalty of the law. Wm. H. Johnson, of Louisiana, but recently from New York, enlisted in the army in August, and was enrolled as a private in company D, Lincoln Cavalry, attached to General Franklin's division of the army of the Potomac. He continued in the cavalry, apparently a faithful and honest man, until after they were sent across the river into Virginia. When an opportunity offered, he deserted, and in making his way through the woods to the lines of the army, he came upon a body of troops, supposed by him to be from the confederate army. To these he stated that he had deserted, for the purpose of giving information to the southern army; and that he had joined the Lincoln Cavalry for that purpose. This was on the 4th instant.

He gave the strength of Gen. Franklin's division, and revealed much information that would have been valuable to our enemies, when his pistol was demanded, and he was informed that those who surrounded him were federal soldiers. He was conducted to the quarters of General Franklin, where, in due time, he was court-martialed, proved guilty, and sentenced to be shot. Just before sundown on Friday, the sentence was carried out, and the poor wretch met the traitor's fate in the presence of about 11,000 soldiers, drawn up in line, and a vast concourse of civilians. Johnson was a man of stout, muscular frame, cool, bold, and defiant. He walked a mile to the place of execution, the chaplain on the way reading prayers to him. He was escorted along in front of the ranks, and then placed in a sitting posture, on the top of his coffin. Twelve soldiers were drawn up in file at about twenty paces from the criminal, each with a musket, eleven of which were loaded with ball; the other, according to military rule, having a blank cartridge, and neither soldier knowing who held the gun with the blank charge, each could cherish the hope that he did not cause the death of a comrade.

The word was given and the muskets were discharged. At least three or four, and probably a larger number of the soldiers, though contrary to orders, aimed their pieces away from the prisoner. Three balls took effect, and passed through the breast. The victim sat motionless for some time, probably eight or ten seconds after the volley, and then gently reeled over and fell on his side, frightfully working his legs and arms. As it was doubtful whether the wound was fatal or not, orders were immediately given to load and fire, when three balls, passing through his head, caused instant death, literally tearing one of his eyes out and scattering his brains in every direction. Three soldiers refused to fire, and were immediately put in irons by order of General Franklin. In a few moments the entire division, headed by Gen. Franklin, took up the line of march, passing in view of the corpse. Every soldier had a chance to look upon the bleeding victim of his own imprudence, and it is safe to presume that the sight will be long remembered and go far to prevent future desertions. This ended the life of the traitor. — Sunday Morning Chronicle.

Senator Sumner intends pressing to a consummation the measure which he introduced ten years ago, for a classification and codification of the statutes of the United States, which has now been recommended in the message of the President. Congress has, since the organization of the Government, enacted some five thousand acts and joint resolutions, which fill more than six thousand closely printed pages, and are scattered through many volumes. A bill for the purpose mentioned has been introduced in the House.

The Evening Post learns from commercial letters of the highest character, from London, that the British Government proposes to seek explanations of the Trent affair, and perhaps an apology will be asked for an "irregular proceeding," but no mention is made of a demand for the surrender of the rebel prisoners. The English writers of these letters hope that the subject will be treated by us with patience and in a kindly spirit.

At a Dinner given at the Union Club, to the Hon. S. P. Chase, on the occasion of his last visit to New-York city, he said in a speech made in reply to a toast: "The blackest negro in South-Carolina, black as midnight, is, in my sight, whiter than the whitest rebel." Among the gentlemen present who vehemently cheered this sentiment was William B. Astor.

Dr. Robert J. Breckinridge, uncle of the rebel Senator, is about to publish a new series of articles to prove that it is the imperative duty of the nation to suppress rebellion and maintain the Constitution at any cost of life and treasure.

J. H. Green, better known as "the reformed gambler," holds the position of captain in an Indiana regiment.

Mr. Cushing discusses the case in all its aspects, and shows that the act was perfectly justifiable according to international law.

The Bowling Green (Kentucky) Courier says Parson Brownlow was arrested for treason by the confederate States commissioner, at Knoxville, on the 6th, and committed to jail.

The Knoxville Register says a rumor of an order from the rebel War Department for Brownlow's safe conduct to the North, had created an intense excitement.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The laws relating to health are exceedingly simple, as to be within the comprehension of the most limited capacity. Disease is an effect—the violation of some principle of nature, consequently the infraction of her laws is invariably punished with pain and suffering. Medical writers classify the predisposing causes under two heads: 1. An unhealthy condition of the Stomach, and a depraved state of the Blood.

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver & Bowels.
The Stomach is the great center which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain are the source of headaches, mental depression, and nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhoea and Dysentery. The Liver, Gall bladder, Stomach and Bowels, participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Impure Blood—Scorfulous Affections.
Old Sores, Bad Legs, Irritable and Indolent Ulcers, Scrofula, Consumption, Salt Rheum, King's Evil, White Swelling, Cancer, &c., are the result of tainted or impurified blood. By the combining of the active principles of these Pills neutralize the humors that degenerate it and a positive cure of any of the above diseases will speedily follow, while Holloway's Balsamic Ointment used at the same time will heal the external sores or swellings.

Female Complaints.
Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of Womanhood or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Infantile Diseases.
These Medicines have been prescribed with invariable success in all disorders affecting childhood. Thousands of cases of Mumps, Whooping Cough, Measles, Scurvy, Teething, Worms, &c., have been happily cured by these mild remedies after all other means had failed.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy in the world for the following diseases:
Fever of all kinds, Colic, Asthma, Rheumatism, Gout, Cholera, Dropsy, Stone and Gravel, Sore Throat, Dropsy, Venereal Affections, Jaundice, Fits, Secondary Symptoms, Inflammation, Piles, Retention of Urine, Lumbago, Ague, Tic-Douloureux, Tumors, Blanches of the Skin, Itch, &c. &c.
Weakness from whatever cause, &c., &c.
IMPORTANT CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in the cover of the book of directions around each pot and box.

*Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in every part of the civilized world, in boxes of 25 cents, 62 cents, and $1 each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

Harrisburg, Dec. 9, 1861.

THE RELIEF FUND. This fund being exhausted by the disbursements already granted, the Commissioners have assumed the responsibility of continuing for some time to make the allowances to those who are dependent on the volunteers in service, trusting that large quantities of the standard scrip of the August Sessions recommended this country, but as the Paymaster's Department of the U. S. is now completely organized, and the volunteers are generously remitting to their families a portion of their pay, the Board of Relief will meet hereafter every two weeks instead of every week, and make the allowances accordingly to those who may be entitled to receive them—that is, the same allowance for the two as has heretofore been made for each week, and this until an additional ten thousand dollars shall be exhausted.

Prof. Miller's Hair Invigorator.
An Effective, Safe and Economical Compound.
For restoring Gray Hair to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.
For Preventing Baldness, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.
For Removing Scurf and Dandruff, and all cutaneous affections of the Scalp.
For Beautifying the Hair, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over another preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases; restores the hair to grow luxuriantly and gives it a rich, soft, glossy and flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thinning, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield to the influence of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore to its original color, its natural dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whet-plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being Miller would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of this Invigorator, in cases where the children's Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of his Hair.

CAUTION!—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper, also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, in Y. blue ink in the glass.
