WASHINGTON'S BIRTH-DAY.-The 22d was celebrated by our citizens in a much more enthusiastic manner than the oldest inhabitant remembers to have ever the avowed desire of the abolitionists, land, though how, and when, are known seen it before. And considering the that the sword should not return to its only to God, there will also be a day of present condition of the country, this outburst of enthusiasm on the birth-day of him who was the hope and stay of our nation in the hour of its darkest difficultiern States, who did not very warmly every form. ty, was highly appropriate. From an early hour the hills reverberated with were in a measure indifferent as to the must help materially to prepare the peothe echo of our heaviest artillery, and fate of the domestic institution. THE LITERARY .- We would not speak disparagingly of any of the very excellet lectures that have been delivered under the auspises of the Literary Society during the present season, but those of our citizens who have attended these lectures will bear us out in saying that for real practical utility, and general usefulness the one delivered by Mr. Henry M. Engle on Monday evening last certainly excelled. The subject, "Domestic Economy," was treated in a manner that elicited the hearty approbation of all who heard it. Some of the points, as the immortal J. N. would say, were not so fully elaborated as they might have been, but considering that the time was limited, and the subject altogether too extensive for one lecture, this could hardly have been expected .-Besides, this deficiency had its advantages, as it afforded the Stars of The Literary a chance to shine a little at the close, after which they no doubt slept sounder in consequence. Mr. Sawyer who is the acknowledged back-bone of the institution was, we think, more luminous than usual. This may be accounted for from the fact that at last meeting a larger share of the business devolved on him, inasmuch as he was called on to unravel the profound subject of Mesmerism, and which he certainly did to the satisfaction of every reasonable person present. We say reasonable, because there is a large class of persons in the world who are prepared to gulp down every new ism that is hatch'd, without bringing their reasoning faculties to bear on the subject. Not so Mr Sawyer. We would not wish to criticise too closely, but we do think that several of the members sometimes oppose Mr. Sawyer when no good ground can really be shown for their conduct. At the meeting to which we refer, several of the members declared that Mesmerism was a Science, and tho, they confessed themselves unable to explain any one of the principles on which it was founded, some of the same wise-acres had the assurance forsooth! to tell Mr. Sawyer that he likewise ought to believe and confess, even what his strong common sense could not approve. Mr. S. however, very wisely preferred to be able to give a reason for the hope that was in him. Our very
