SWORD PRESENTATION.

Somethree or four months since E. D. Roath, Esq., of this borough, commenced raising a company of infantry for the war. Though he had some reputation as a drill officer, having commanded a volunteer company some years ago, yet from the few left at home who were likely to volunteer, the undertaking was considered doubtful of success. But having learned that the Captain would succeed, some of our ladies undertook to present him a sword as a suitable approval of his energy and perseverance and a token of their wishes for his Inture welfare. Misses Susan Baker and Harriet Kline collected the necessary funds, and on Tuesday last, by their appointment, Messrs. Kline, Geist and the Editor as a committee of purchase, and Rev. A. B. Grosh as speaker, proteeded to Harrisburg. A good and handsome sword, with excellent belt. east and cap ornament were procured. and at about 4 o'clock, P. M., the presentation took place in due form in front of the Captain's marquee and the Company's barracks, at Camp Curtin, in the presence of all the company who were not or duty, and a humber of spectators.

The speeches will be found below; and it will be seen that the Captain acquitted himself well in speech (as he has done in action) notwithstanding the short time allowed him for preparation.

After the presentation; the committee and speakers visited the barracks, and as supper was about being served, had autions served out to them and shared the evening meal of the Camp. Coffee, bread and meat were excellent, and the duble ware meat and substantial.

We connot close without commending the liberality and gallantry of our citizens in responding so readily to the calls of the fair collectors on their purses; and the graceful and persevering persuasions of the young ladies who thus nobly volunteered to cheer onward the Captain and his brave men. The three rousing cheers of the Company for "the Ladies of Marietta," followed by three more for "the Committee," and these by three more for "Captain Roath," told the grateful appreciation his compamy and the spectators placed upon the whole affair. ADDRESS BY REV. MR. GROSH.

CAPTAIN E. D. ROATH-The Ladies of Marietta (at whose request these gentleman and myself are here,) are prompt and active in every good word and work, whether of religion, patriotism or general or special benevolence. They participate earnestly in whatever concerns their fellow citizens, and, with the ready sympathy of their sex, wait not for solicitations to manifest their interest and give their aid.

Before the fall of Sumpter-yes, when fort after fort was wrested from the Union-before our flag on the unarmed "Star of the West" was basely fired upon-they awaited in fear, and would have averted that dread culmination, could prayers and indignant patriotism have availed. They beheld with painful shame our long suffering and greatly forbearing government receive the first rebellious blow on the smitten cheek, and turn the other to the smiter; and, when that too was smitten, turn again and again cheeks glowing with feelings of sorrowing affection, as if yet uncertain whether the petted and favored South could really mean rebellion and war. They saw our good Mother gather up her starry robes, so basely and wantonly trampled ou, and slowly prepare to crush the serpent brood, of treason under her feet, and chastise her children who had dared displace our Eagle and our stars with the snake and the palmetto. But when Sampter fell-when, s. cowardly 10.000 misealled wellioalry" compelled less than 100 unprovisioned American Soldiers to surrender smid suffocating smoke and acorching flame, dread, shame, doubt, all fled from loyal woman's heart. Then the utmost patience and most Christian forbearance could no longer doubt what duty and self-preservation demanded. The whole towards me. And while receiving this Free North flashed an electric flame of gift, I must say that there are certain patriotism, and the work of armed de- associations connected with these pro-

Later, when wintry camps called for hose and press my feelings I feel that I have needed warmth. And when the cry of give to the Ladies of Marietta Borough nations.

Such, Captain Routh, as you well know, are the ladies who have sent us here at this time—and from such as they what can you expect but a mission of patriotism and of kindness?

When our three months Volunteers went forth last April, many regretted did not permit you to take the command hurried march to defend, our country. And when, at a late season, you commenced mustering a company from a neighborhood nearly depleted of soldier material nearly all doubted the possibility of success. But though we looked on in doubt, we did not look on in indifference .- And when, at last, those doubts were dispersed by assurances of your success under difficulties that fully tested your energy and perseverance, the Ladies of Marietta resolved that your patriotic sacrifices and labors should receive a substantial token of public approvel. Though the means of our peopie have been pretty heavily taxed, and must be, again and again, while this wicked rebellion endures-and probably will be, after it is ended, in supplying the wants of the South, desolated by the swords and torches of her own sons !yet these ladies knew that "where there is a will there is a way," and many a tightly closed purse opened at the magic "open Sesame" of their sunny smiles and persuasive words: Thanks to the liberality of all, they have succeeded, be ashamed of your fellow citizen." and we are here to represent them.

Captain Roath, you and I have been ssociated for years in a fraternal benevolent association for promoting "Friendship Love and Truth;" and L can testify to your long continued, earnest and efficient labors there. And I have been associated with you in directing the Public Schools of our borough, and know well how faithfully and judiciously you have labored there. From this. we hope—indeed, your perseverance and success thus far gives us assurance, that you will be no less zealous, prudent and successful in command of a company of our citizen soldiery, wheresoever the fortunes of war may call you and them .--If you-and these, our fellow citizens and your fellow soldiers, will but remember (and we feel trustful that you will not forget) the Cause that calls you from your families and homes-the Government, the Union, the great "rights of human nature," itself, in whose defence you are to battle - sure are we that you will not fail nor falter in a single duly to your country, yourselves or your Remember -all of you-that the eyes of your country and the world, are upon you-that the hearts of loved ones at home hang trembling over your footsteps, as their prayers constantly rise to Heaven for your welfare, your safety, your success, and your welcome return home in triumph and honor. Remember that "the spirits of just men made perfect"-of Washington and the martyred and sainted heroes and sages of 'olden time"-of Ellsworth, Winthrop and Greble, of Lyon and Baker, of Lander and countless others of rank and file, who have ascended on high from battlefields of the present time-all bend from heaven, and look approval of your resolves and deeds for God, for Home, for Liberty!

And now, Captain Roath, accept this Sword, and its appendages of Belt; Sash, and Bugle, from the Ladies of Marietta, as a token of approval for your past exertions, and of hopes and prayers for your future labors and success. Wear them worthily—use them boldly, justly and freely; and lay them aside only when Victory crowns the banner of our country-when the starry and striped flag waves over an entire Union of the free and the brave. And may God grant that this sword may ever be in your hands, and to all under your command, the Sword of the Lord and of Same II Freedom!

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT -On Monday evening Nathan Miles, colored; with his wife and another woman, returning from a funeral in Marietta, were met on the Pennsylvania Railroad just below the tunnel by the Harrisburg Accommodation train. The wind was blowing a gale—so strong that the party had been afraid to venture down the tew-path --- which prevented the approaching train being heard, and it was only by the light of the reflector on the engine that the women who were in advance discovered it when close upon them. They screamed and sprang from the track, and just cleared the train .-Miles, who was an old man, also struggled off the track, but probably stumbled forward, for he was struck by the train in the head and knocked down beside the rails. The train was stopped and the injured man with his companions taken aboard and brought back to town. Miles was carried into the switch-tenders office where he died in about fifteen minutes. Miles was a quiet and industrious man one of the best of our color- by paying proper attention to the Direct ed inhabitants. Much sympathy is expressed for his family.-Columbia Spy.

The Columbia Spy in speaking of Rev. Mr. Clawges' school celebration in that borough on the 22d ultimo, says: "The most delightful observance of Washington's Birth day, in Columbia, was undoubtedly that participated in by Mr. Clawges and his scholars. As an action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to do well.—The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and goed nounced the proceeds of the sale of tickets furnished a dinner for the school. At I o'clock, the dinner awaited them. A bountiful spread it was .-Plenty of everything-roast meals, bread pies, cakes, custards, with all the et celeras, including at least a wash kettle of coffee. Some one hundred and fifty shared in the feast, and there was enough to afford a welcome treat to a number of poor little fellows who were on hand outside. Although this was an occasion to be delightfully remembered by all who participated. In projecting, carrying forward and perfecting this pleasing little celebration Mr. Clawges has no doubt found his own reward; for he delights in wells doing and his heart has been in this work for the pleasure and benefit of his pupils. But he has certainly earned besides a general acknowledgement of his worth as a man and usefulness as a teacher. He always has the love of his scholars, and surely deserves the respect and esteem of the entire community."

The Columbia Spy of Saturday last says Capt. C. C. Haldeman paid that borough a flying visit-that he looks remarkably well and hearty. Clifford paid our place a pop visit on Triday evening and made "things ring" for awhile. No doubt of his being a favorite amongst the boys and makes a firstrate officer. May he live to return again amongst us.
