Marietta, Fa.

SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1862.

Messes. Mather & Abbott, No. 335 Broadway, New-York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisments, &c.

The Corruption Committees, just before the adjournment, reported in the House as to the legislation of last session and the army frauds.

The first stated that there was not proof of illegal or corrupt influences in passing the Bank Bills.

The second (Greenbnak, of Philadel.. a leading Democrat, Chairman,) unanimously exonerated the State authorities from any participation in frauds for Military Supplies, and testified that in all cases coming to their knowledge, they had stopped payments of such overcharges. Committee discharged, and report laid on the table.

The third, reported that there was evi dence of corrupt influences used in procuring the repeal of Tonnage Tax bill -pointing out one Democratic and one Republican Assemblyman, and the Editor of the Allentown Democrat (Dem.) and the Editor of the Brownsville paper, (Rep.) as having received money for voting and advocating the same. They say also the promising of stock by the Penn'a Central to assist railroads, was in effect tempting the Members in counties interested in those roads: and that prominent persons summoned to appear, and testify, had evaded the summons. Pending motions to print the volumparty is responsible.

A letter from Port Royal says small-pox prevails to an alarming extent among the negroes in Beaufort and on the Island. There are now twenty-five cases in the small-pox hospital, under the care of Dr. Waldock, of Boston, Mass., who went with Mr. Pierce. He is an able physician, and very successful in cases of that loathsome disease, and has lost but few cases. He is now engaged in vaccinating the negroes, and has already treated between five and six hundred men. women and children.

A Restaurant Car lately reached Philadelphia from Wilmington, attached to a train. It is the intention of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad Company to add a similar car to each of mand reminds us of a story related to us their through trains, and they are being by an eye-witness concerning the last constructed at Wilmington with dispatch. Edibles are to be furnished hot St. Louis. The General was dining in these cars, which will be either eaten there, or handed on trays to the passengers at their seats. This will be a great accommodation, the value of which cannot be estimated by those who are not travelers.

The Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen, died on Saturday last, at his residence in New Brunswick; N. J., aged 75 years. He was the Whig candidate for the Vice Presidency on the ticket with Henry Clay in 1844, and has also been Attorney General of New Jersey, United States Senator, Chanceller of the University of New York, President of Rutican Sunday School Union.

Winchester fight-in which Volunteers from Pennsylvania acted so honorable a part-Gov. Curtin at once despatched extra surgeons and nurses to attend to our wounded, and to bury or to carry home our dead where practible. This is in conformity with arrangements made some time since, in a spirit of wise, patriotic and beneficent forecast.

The country will rejoice to hear that the President has decided to release no more Rebel prisoners until they set free Corcoran and all our Union prisoners. We have freed thousands more than they have, and they have violated special agreements for particular men. Hundred of Rebels on parole, have taken up arms against us.

The Breckinridge Locofocos have circulated a report to the effect that the National Tax bill, now before Congress created 26,000 officers. It is stated, however, on much better authority, that the number of new officers created by the bill will not be 3,000 for the whole Union.

Charles Dickens has been invited to deliver'a course of lectures in Austra-

NEW USE FOR GRAVES .- When our troops dismantled the rebel batteries at Cockpit and Shipping Points, on the Potomac, the soldiers of the Massachusetts 1st came across a number of graves. They were laid out, says a correspondent of the Boston Traveler, in streets, carefully labelled, and containing pathetic remonstrances against disturbing the repose of the dead and violating the sanctity of the tomb, so that suspicions were engendered that the scared dead might be brought to life again, and made to see a little more service under the sun. Spades and shovels were accordngly brought into requisition and speedily were exhumed, not the bodies of departed confederates, but numbers of nice new tents, packages of clothing, mess chests furnished with all the appliances of modern cookery, trunks of various tools, &c, &c, &c. The grave diggers were complimented for the success of recommended to try again.

Another Great Battle is impending at or near Yorktown, Va. It is said that the Rebel force in that vicinity already numbers 60,000 to 80,000 men, and that heavy reinforcements from Richmond will probably increase the force to over 100,000 before the fight begins. The National forces, under Gen. McClellan, in front of that position, is about equal to the rebels in point of numbers. This battle will therefore excel the great battle of Waterloo in numbers and importance, and we feel confident will prove a Waterloo defeat to the Rebels. It will be the last great battle of the campaign. The Rebels will not have the heart to continue the war, should this, their last desperate effort be unsuccessful.

In his speech, at Cincinnati, Dr. Brownlow said of the late General Zollicoffer: "Now that he is dead and gone I take occasion to say, that I knew him for twenty-five years, and a more noble high-toned, honorable man, was never killed on any battle-field. He was a man inous report, the House adjourned. | who never wronged an individual out of Thus it seems that the wrong of last win- a cent in his life-never told a lie in his ter and spring were personal and local life; as brave a man personally as Anand not partizan. The individuals must drew Jackson ever was, and the only suffer for their own misdeeds, and neither | mean thing I ever knew him to do was to join the Southern Confederacy and fight under such a cause as he was engaged in when he fell.

> Parson Brownlow and Andy Johnson have been life-long political antagonists. The Parson once prayed that the Lord in His infinite mercy would save even Andy Johnson. Each knows better by this time how to appreciate the other, and we doubt not that they have ere this forgotten their life-long animosity in the great tie of brotherhood, whose power has been increased ten-fold by the appearance of the hydra secession, the number of whose heads is now happily becoming "small by degrees and beautifully less."

> FREMONT AND ZAGONYL.—The assignment of Gen. Fremont to a new commeeting of Fremont and Zagonyi, in with some of his staff, when the gallent Major was announced. He was immediately invited to take a seat at table. Fremont filled a glass for him. Zagonyi was much affected, especially when the General announced the sentiment: "Well Major, here's-not to another Springfield, but to another field in the

A special to the Cincinnati Gazette from Washington says the Lieutenant Colonel of the 3d New Jersey regiment, the first regiment at Manassas confirms the statement of the rebels, barbarous treatment of the bodies of ger's College and President of the Amer- the Union solders buried at Bull Run. He found over a table in one tent a skull with "Sic Semper Tyrannis" and the Immediately on the news of the Virginia coat of arms inscribed on it. Other skulls were used as ladles, and bones used as pipes.

Many Merchants in the south are closing their stores, packing their goods and hauling them off with the rebel army, because they fear that, with the advance of the federal troops northern creditors will also arrive, and thus subject those merchants to a chance of being compelled to surrender not only their traitorous bodies, but also give up the goods they procured in northern cities under false pretences. . Sharp for the chivalry.

In the Medical College at Winchester, Va., is preserved the body of John Brown's son, killed at Harper's Ferry, first skinned, and only the frame and muscles retained. It stands at full length in the museum, labelled, "John Brown's son-thus always, with Abolitionists." The malignity that dictates the monument, surpasses language.

Fifty fifteen-inch Dahlgreen guns are to be immediately cast at Pittsburg for the armament of the new batteries of the Monitor pattern. Hitherto but very few of these heavy pieces have been

We see it stated that at the battle of Fort Donelson, a shell from one of the Federal gun boats passed over the Fort and landed in the town of Dover, a mile and a half off, taking off the head of a lawyer of that place.

On Saturday a week, four men were poisoned near Huntingdon, Canada, Lexington and Ball's Bluff. by drinking bug poison, which they supposed to be whisky. Two of them shortly died, and but little hopes were entertained of the recovery of the others.

General Hunter has arrived at Port partment, which he has divided into various districts. Gen. Sherman has arrived at Washington. It is said that he will be ordered west, to join General Halleck.

Letters from Colonel Corcoran, dated Richmond, April 2, report his good health but intense anxiety for an exchange. He keeps up the same brave heart, and expresses the fervent natriotism which has always distinguished him.

At the siege of Yorktown the bands of the rebel regiments saucily play the air of "Dixie," and the lines are so close together that the music is distinctly heard in our camp, while we send back the glorious strains of the "Star-spangled Banner."

.Gen. Banks has telegraphed the War Department that he has learned directly from the rebel camp, that Gen. Beauregard was killed at the late battle. We think the report is strongly corroborative of previous reports to the effect that he had lost an arm.

Captain William McMichael, assistant adjutant general in the army, was taken prisoner at the battle of Pittsburg Landing. He was chief of the staff of Maj. Gen. Charles F. Smith. Capt. McMichael is a son of Morton McMichael, Esq., proprietor of the North American, of Philadelphia.

Isked that there are few rebels between him and Richmond—report says not over 5000—all the available force being hastened to Yorktown, where the battle of Manassas will have to be fought with a greater army and greatly stronger fortifications.

Iished that there are few rebels between bim and Richmond—report says not over 5000—all the available force being has again made its appearance in several places in the east of Manassas will have to be fought with a greater army and greatly stronger fortifications.

Dr. Hinkle's, at all times when not elsewhere professionally engaged:

To MY FRIENDS: Having been called to or three years ago, has again made its appearance in several places in the U.S. Navy, I hereby resign that State. The Legislature of Manassas will have to be fought with a greater army and greatly stronger fortifications.

F. HINKLE, M. D.

reported that M. Mercier, the French citizens of Buffalo, upon hearing of the Minister, recently visited the Secretary | Monitor's victory over the Merrimac, of State to know if there would be any were so delighted at the act that they impropriety in obtaining and forwarding raised three hundred dollars, and sent to his government copies of the plans, it to Tiffany & Co., of New York. In specifications and drawings of the cele- return for the soap, Tiffany worked up was freely accorded him, and M. Mercier a box nearly four inches long, some two and Senator Hale, Chairman of the inches and a quarter broad, and about Senate Naval Committee, called upon one inch deep. The edges of the box the French government to add to its representing a ship's rope cable. On the already formidable iron-clad steam war lid, a border of the kind incloses a broad marine.

THE ALTERNATIVE .- Parson Brownlow, in his Cincinnatti speech, said he was a slaveholder; but he had no hesitation in saying that "when the question comes, as it will, the 'Union and no slavery' and 'slavery and no Union,' he was for the Union and let slavery go to the dogs, or where else it may be sent." What a rebuke to the sniveling flunkies in our own midst who cry "hands off" whenever it is proposed to tread upon the corns of the "peculiar institution!"

The Richmond Whig, issued on nearly ready, at a certain Gulf port, and the morning of Jeff Davis's inauguration, that it is 250 feet in length, and fifty | said that the ceremony would be "a bitter mockery." In the very midst of the reading of the Address news came of the awful Confederate defeat at Fort regiments in his brigade, forbidding the Donelson, making the ceremony a still bitterer mockery than it would have otherwise been-adding gall to aloes and wormwood.

> Secession has outstripped the inhumanity of savages in conducting its war upon our government. It has made candles from the dead bodies of Union soldiers, formed rings and ornaments and spurs of their bones, taken their skulls as trophies, restored to the tomahawk and scalping knife in Arkansas, of important amendments to the Fugiand advertised for blood-hounds to track the Federal soldiers.

Edward Hull, a journeyman tailor obtained a verdict of $450, in the Court of Common Pleas, against George C. Jeffers, a merchant tailor in an action for slander. The plaintiff claimed to surender contrabands even to those who try at the battle of Winchester, and have lost a lucrative situation by reason made great professions of loyalty. "If of the defendant's remarks touching his character, and sued for $15,000. The jury, however found that $450 was sufficient compensation.

An Iowa Regiment has a rule that any man who utters an oath shall read a chapter in the Bible. Several have got very nearly through the Old Parson Brownlow and Andy Johnson | Testament. That regiment deserves a have been life-long political antagonists, premium and the same rule should be The Parson once prayed that the Lord, adopted in all the regiments, is might also be applied with advantage to some Andy Johnson. Each knows by this places that we know of outside the army.

> Gen. McCall, as a member of Gen. Scott's staff, fought all through the Mexican war And for some time he was a most efficient Assistant-Adjutant General of the United States. He is an approved soldier; his glorious action at Drainsville gleamed out like a star in the midst of the gloom at Manassas, Pleasure-touring and sight-seeing at Bull Run, and in the vicinity of Manassas, are not yet safe. A private of the Lincoln Cavalry is said to have been shot dead, on Saturday, upon the former Royal, and assumed command of his de- field, and one of the Harris Cavalry was assassinated at long rifle range, from the cover of a wood, two miles from the Junction.

> The rebels have just made out Wise a coward, Crittenden a traitor, Johnson incompetent, Jeff. Davis a driveller, Floyd a knave, and Pillow a braggart. Some of these charges are true, others perhaps false. But what can be thought of a cause which claims to have been sustained by leaders of such stamp.

The rebels say, through their Congress, that they won't come back into the Union, because the great preponderance of power in the States that have not rebelled would subject them to oppression. Let them consider well whether the same great preponderance of power will not quell them and their rebellion.

General Grant, though forty years of age, has been in seventeen battles. in three of which he commanded. This give him another opportunity to distinguish himself.

Mississippi has now about 450,000 slaves. In fifteen years hence her slaves will be 900,000. In thirty years they will be 1,800,000. In forty-five years, 3,600-000; and in sixty years, 7,200,000. In the meantime, the white population will be, probaly, very little greater than it is now.

The Indiana papers say that Jesse D. Bright has returned home, that he was coldly received and that he has rented a house near Jeffersonville in that State for the purpose of "appealing to the people," and getting back to the United States Senate.

STEVENS BATTERY FOR FRANCE.-It is | A CHEESE BOX "SNUFF BOX."-The brated Stevens battery. The privilege eight ounces of eighteen carat gold into Mr. Stevens for the documents to enable | are ornamented with a solid twist border oval, within which is engraved a very spirited engraving of the most extraordinary sea fight of this or any other age. Over the engraving is the inscription : "To Lieutenant John L. Worden, United States Navy," and under it, "You beat the Merrimac, and saved the Minnesota. In the corners of the lid are pretty little designs in etchings of a naval character. This snuff box is a very fine one, though too heavy for use, its preposterous thickness of material happily exemplifying the iron-clad Monitor-Lieutenant Worden, certain citizens of Buffalo, and Tiffany & Co., bave all done well.

> Brigadier-General Doubleday, in command of the military defences of the Potomac, has issued a circular to the commanders from delivering up negros, unless the claimants can show authority from him. Those who know Gen. Doubleday's very decided and soldiery views of the duty of the army of the Union, in this regard, will feel sure that the soldiers of his brigade will not be called upon to go into the buisness of man catching.

> Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts has introduced in the Senate a number tive Slave law, establishing trial by jury for the runaways, abolishing the cruel features of the pretent law, and debarring rebels from recovering slaves under any circumstances.

> Gen. Burnside positivly refuse to you were loyal to the Union, why did you not show it, by encouraging or aiding us, when we arrived here?" is the response to all such claims. Buroside is a man who is not to be trifled with.
