We therefore passed by the well-known ton. "Hovey," "Scarlet Globose," "Hooker," " Peabody," " Longworth," " McAvoy," &c., &c., and examined and tasted only "Wilson's Albany seedling,' "Scott's seedling" (or "Ladyfinger"). "La S Pine," and "Triomph de Gand"
-all of which have great and peculiar merits: "Wilson's" is a dark crimson, solid, quite tart, well flavored, large and prolific-is a hardy plant, strong grower, fertile in leaves and runners. "Scott's" is but little inferior in all the qualities, is a red, cone-shaped, large solid berry, rests with the "de gand," as to sizesmoother, it is said to equal it in all other good qualities, while it is less fertile in runners.

This mammoth among the berries on exhibition, was contributed by H. M. Engle and J. J. Libhart. [A "Shield's seedling," we suppose by Mr. John nately overlooked by the Committee, and its exhibitor is too modest to press leisure will be given for careful examina-

It appears to us that if the Pennsylvania Railroad Company would issue commutation tickets over their road between this point and Lancaster, similar to those between Downingtown and Philadelphia, it would be a great accommodation to our citizens, and we have no doubt that it would be of pecuniary advantage to the company in the end .-Many of our citizens are compelled to go almost weekly to Lancaster or Columbia subacid and well flavored.
