SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1862.

Messrs. MATHER & ABBOTT, No. 335 Broadway, New-York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisements, &c.

A SECOND MOSES.—A Harrisburg paper states that, "during the freshest week before last, a cradle was seen coming down the rushing waters near Mandaville, and being suspected of containing something, it was watched by several persons for three or four miles, expecting it would at some point of its journey come near enough to the shore that it would be safe in venturing after it in a boat. At last, at a bend in the swollen stream, the cradle came sufficiently near that it was secured, when lo! and behold, upon lifting up a light covering, a beautiful babe looked up and smiled! A kind person took the little one in charge, and although a week has elapsed, and inquiry has been made, no clue to the little stranger has been discovered."

THE REJECTION OF GEN. SHIELDS.—The New York Herald's Washington correspondent gives this reason for the rejection of Gen. Shields as a Major General: "It is said there was not a single vote in his favor. The testimony adduced before the Committee on the Conduct of the War in regard to the battle of Port Republic, showed, in the estimation of Senators, that Gen. Shields was either insane or totally incompetent.—It is said that many of the officers, military and naval, nearest to the person of Gen. Shields for some time past, have been ready to bear testimony to his insanity."

ABATING A NUISANCE.—During the Administration of "Old Rotten Sheep," (Buchanan) the Pottstown Bank came into existence. Without a thought of future annoyance from the fact, but in compliance to the President, the notes of the Bank contained a portrait of "O. R. S." Recently, the bank has received so many mutilated notes, with the words, "traitor, Judas Iscariot, etc.," inscribed under the portrait, that it has resolved to call in all the notes bearing the likeness, and re-issue new notes. It must be done to abate a nuisance.

A couple named Clements Herrings and Barbara Herrings was arrested in New York on Tuesday for counterfeiting three-cent pieces. A complete set of plates and machinery for counterfeiting twenty-dollar notes, with the Confederate States of America, "Jeff. Davis, president were found in their possession. The man who would counterfeit such trash must be a poor rascal. These Herrings are in a pickle.

The Northester, a Canadian paper published at Red River, is out in favor of annexation with the United States. It says that Great Britain shows perfect indifference to the settlement, and it enjoys none of the commercial or governmental advantages it has a right to expect; and, on the other hand, American influence of every kind is operating upon it.

Three of the passengers on board the last ship which left Massachusetts with British colors, before the Revolution, are now living! The vessel was the Minerva, and sailed from Marblehead eighty-seven years ago, May 27, 1775. The surviving passengers are Miss Copley, Mrs. Gardiner Green, and Lord Lyndhurst—all children of Copley, the great artist.

Peterson's Detector sends us the following description of a new and dangerous counterfeit Five Dollar Note of the Bank of Chambersburg, Pa.: viz: Two females, ball, &c. Oval portrait in each corner, 5 between them. Well done.

Great exertions are being made by the Irish throughout the country to enable their friends in Ireland to emigrate here. It is estimated that during the next year two hundred thousand foreigners will emigrate to the United States.

Recently fifty-five men, from different regiments who were sent out by Gen. Mitchell for the scout service, were all captured by the rebels. They were carried to Atlanta and hung.

The President's call for 300,000 additional troops is meeting with a hearty response from the people of the loyal states. Pennsylvania, as usual, is leading on the patriotic work.

The Democratic State Convention have put in nomination for Auditor General, Isaac Slenker, of Union county and James P. Barr of Allegheny county for Surveyor General.

Bishops to Rome during the convention are to be made Roman citizens by the Pope.

Forney's Press in speaking of the nominations of the late State Breckinridge convention says: "The nominations made by the Breckinridges are Isaac Slenker, an old politician, for Auditor General, and James V. Barr, the scurrilous editor of the Pittsburg Post, for Surveyor General. Mr. Slenker has heretofore sustained an excellent reputation. Mr. Barr is probably the most offensive and unscrupulous assailant of the General Administration (and hence of a vigorous prosecution of the war) in Western Pennsylvania." This is very strong language from a Democratic paper.

Since the appointment of General Lee as Commander-in-Chief of Rebel army, an entirely new policy has been inaugurated in the military affairs South, more glorious in every branch. The concentration of the scattered command of their armies has been vigorously adopted; even fourteen regiments of Alabama and Mississippi soldiers, which were sent some ten weeks ago against Burnside, have been recalled, and the troops from nearly all parts of Virginia and North Carolina have been concentrated in the neighborhood of Richmond.

The three French (Orleans) Princes—Prince de Joinville, Count de Paris, and Duc de Chartres—have left the Army and gone to Boston, preparatory to leaving for Europe. Speculators in diplomatic matters try to see special significance in their sudden departure. Some think that it was occasioned by a friendly hint from Queen Victoria, who is a staunch friend of the Orleans family that they ought to come home before they become involved in a false position, in which threatening events might possibly place them.

The sutlers in North Carolina are doing a good business. People come forty miles even from the inland to buy goods of them. One firm has sold $1,500 worth of hoop skirts and calico to North Carolina women in one day. Strange to say, the goods were paid for in good gold, silver and Government notes, which must have been hidden in socks and cracked tea pots, all the while the common shinpasters have been going their rounds.

Gen. Hunter has rather taken the secession sympathizers aback by saying that he has not seen any "runaway slaves," nor has he enlisted any such, but he did find some negroes who had run away masters in the rebel army. He thinks they would like to meet their masters, and he has a regiment of them ready to use in that way. Gen. Hunter thinks negroes would do quite as well to "stop secession bullets" as our northern white men.

The Oester Zeitung, of Germany informs its readers that Gen. Banks is a native of Pomerania, and was a sergeant in the Prussian army before he emigrated to the United States, where the military experience acquired at home enabled him to attain his present position. The fact is Gen. Banks was born in Waltham, Mass., and never saw a foreign country.

The Hudson River and New York Railroad Company are having a dummy engine built at Patterson, N. J., for drawing the cars of that road through the closely built streets of New York. It resembles a big box on wheels, like a freight car, with a chimney. It is a condensing engine, which obviates the noise peculiar to the exhaust in the smoke stack.

The twelfth Earl of Pembroke has lately died in Paris. He was "a fast man," though 72 years old, and left the finest stable of horses in Paris. Most all the horses will be bought by the Emperor. He married a Sicilian princess, but having no children his estates and titles descend to his nephew, a lucky boy twelve years old, the son of the late Lord Sidney Herbert.

Mr. J. McNamee, of Easton, Pa., has invented and taken out a patent for an Indicator and Register of Drinks and Segars, to be used at the bars of hotels and restaurants, to prevent bar-keepers, who are dishonestly inclined, from carrying on their operations at the money drawers of their employers.

Urgent calls are now made upon the United States Arsenal, at Watertown, by the Government, for powder, and the establishment is in operation on the Sabbath, as well as other days of the week. The kind of powder wanted is that used for siege guns.

Report says that Captain Bona parte Patterson, who is serving in the Mexican expedition, is in high favor with the Emperor, and it is conjectured that he may prove a more acceptable candidate, as King or President of the Mexicans, than an Austrian Prince.

The rebels, having always been accustomed to a hot climate, can't stand the cold—especially in the shape of cold steel.

Charles Mackay is to succeed Dr. Russell as the correspondent of the London Times in this country.

When the rebels fight they soon get out of wind. When they talk, their wind is inexhaustible.

CLIPPINGS FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

In the London exhibition, Bibles will be exhibited in 100 different languages. Bishop McIlvaine has arrived at Washington from Europe.

Ten thousand families are supplied every week at the New Orleans Free Market.

Gen. Shields has been authorized to raise a brigade of Irish soldiers for the war.

The Treasury Department is calling in and burning the first issue of demand notes at the rate of half a million per day. Four millions have been destroyed. The whole issue was $60,000,000.

It is said that Gen. Prentiss, taken at the battle of Shiloh, has been paroled by the rebels, and is coming north to effect an exchange. The rebels want Buckner, and possibly they will obtain him through Prentiss.

On the 18th inst., in the New Hampshire State Senate, notice was given of a bill relating to the removal of foreign paupers.

Last week a lady, of New Haven, Conn., whose only child is in the army, sent the following articles to the State Hospital: 100 linen cambric handkerchiefs, 12 boxes Guava jelly, 8 bottles wine, 5 pounds Snow's candy, 12 volumes books.

Vice President Hamlin has granted the use of the Senate Chamber to the Unitarian Church of Washington, for a morning service, the offer of their house of worship as a hospital having been accepted by the government.

Some days ago, the Cambria Iron Company at Johnstown employed several contrabands to work for twenty-five cents a day. The regular hands in the mill took offence at it and quit work.—The contrabands were dismissed and the old hands returned.

At a late inspection of a camp at Lynnfield, Mass., two-fifths of the rejected as being disqualified by their youthfulness of age, small size; or want of powers of endurance, for the service.

The first society of the Methodist Church in this country was formed in a carpenter shop in New York, in 1766.

An attempt was lately made to blow up the hospital at Beaufort, N. C. The building was filled with sick soldiers.

The marriage of the Princess Alice, of England, is to be again postponed, owing to the death of the mother of her fiancée—the Grand Duchess of Hesse. It appears as if the poor creature was never to have her husband—this being the third or fourth postponement.

The editor of the Nashville Union advertises for a lot of uncut Confederate bonds for newspaper envelopes; also, one hundred pounds of Confederate notes for cigar-lighting. Old clothes are offered in exchange.

The President has vetoed the bill to allow the circulation of notes under $5 in the District of Columbia.

A soldier in a Vermont Regiment, on Ship Island (says the Home Journal), was lately taken ill while on duty, at midnight, and, on being taken to the hospital, gave birth to a young recruit. The "relief guard" were considerably astonished, never having suspected the sex of the stout "private."

Some fifteen or twenty officers have been sent home by flag-officer Farragut, for habitual drunkenness.

The Adjutant General of New Hampshire, in a general order, says there are no sinecure officers to be disposed of in the Ninth Regiment of that State. No person will be commissioned unless he has performed actual labor in recruiting and forwarding the organization of the regiment. The men are to be armed with Windsor rifles and sabre bayonets.

The Charleston Mercury, after all its braggadocio as to the invulnerability of Charleston and the chivalrous troops of that state, has quietly removed to Columbia, the capital of the State, 130 miles into the interior!

Gen. O. M. Mitchell recently telegraphed to Mr. Stanton for instructions, in regard to bridge-burners and guerrillas. The Secretary's answer was specific: "Let them swing."

Rev. Dr. Connolly, Archbishop of Halifax, has opened a "House of Mercy," intended as a place of refuge for unfortunate females. It is the intention of Dr. Connolly to throw this institution open to persons of all denominations, who are to be permitted the utmost freedom of conscience.

James Miller McKim has gone to Port Royal, under the auspices of the Philadelphia Freedman's Association, on a tour of observation and inquiry in reference to the great social experiment now in progress among the blacks in the military department of Gen. Hunter.

M. Genin lately addressed the Academie des Sciences on the subject of "the Sex of Eggs." He affirms that all eggs containing the germ of males have wrinkles on their smaller ends, while female eggs are smooth at the extremities.

John C. Breckinridge, has been indicted for treason by the Grand Jury of Fayette county, Kentucky.

THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND.—Gov. Bradford, in his proclamation for additional troops in response to the President's call, uses the following language. Men of Maryland: I look to you with confidence to be among the foremost in responding to this call. There are reasons why you should be. You are, as it were, the natural body-guard of the capital of the nation. If this diabolical rebellion ever makes another forward movement, its first step will be upon your soil. In your very midst there lurks a comparatively small but very influential plotting, determined, treasonable element, watching the first opportunity to pilot the rebellious host into your midst, and to give up to the desolations of war your present peaceful firesides. Though such a probability may be remote, it behooves you to be ready for all contingencies, and prepared, by an ample and organized force for the open rebel and the secret traitor.

A MOURNFUL TRAGEDY.—Private Wallace M. Sterling, of the 28th New York Regiment, was recently a prisoner at Winchester, and was released on parole. He accidentally shot, a few days since, his own sister, an estimable young lady, about twenty years of age. The sad accident occurred at the residence of his father, at West Gaines, a short distance from Eagle Harbor, N. Y. It seems that he was in the act of showing the family the musket exercise, and the manner in which the disciplined soldier uses his arms. The gun used to illustrate the exercise happened to be loaded, and accidentally went off while in his hands, the entire charge penetrating the head of his sister, who was standing but a few feet distant. She fell to the floor and died almost immediately.

PILLOW INSULTED BY BRAUERGARD.—Gen. Pillow, the military mafiac and parvenue charlatan commander, has fallen into general disgrace with the secessionists. He is now living near Oxford, Miss., terribly awakened from his dreams of martial glory; knowing he is a butt and just even with the people he declared himself determined to save from Northern invasion. He recently paid a visit to Beauregard at Okolona, and the former was so disgusted with Pillow that he refused to see him. Gideon foamed and raved, and talked of challenging Beauregard, but did not: and returned to his place of residence full of oaths and mortifications.—Nash, Union.

FIRE IN THE CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—On Saturday morning, about four o'clock, the old building, used as a coppersmith shop and foundry, took fire from the spontaneous combustion of a quantity of rubbish in the loft and was partially destroyed. The contents were badly injured by fire and water, and the roof was entirely destroyed. The loss amounts to about $3,000. The building was very old, and it had been proposed for some time to demolish it, and make room for a more substantial one. There has not been so large a fire in the yard for upwards of twenty years.

Many of our readers may remember an account, going the rounds of the papers a few weeks ago, of "California Joe," an eccentric and valuable member of Berdan's sharpshooters. Another interesting fact about him has just come to light. Although a private in the ranks he is immensely wealthy, and shortly after joining the regiment he drew up his will, giving in case of his death in battle, $60,000, on deposit in the Merchants' Bank, Philadelphia, to the widows and orphans of those of the regiment killed during the war.

The city and county are joint proprietors of the court-house at Stockton, Cal. The county recently paid their half, leaving the rest of the building in its natural condition. Mayor Holden—a Boston man by the way, and a good fellow to boot—recommends his common council to deliberate upon the peculiar complexion of affairs and provide a remedy.

Col. Cluseret, who distinguished himself recently under Fremont, is a Frenchman and speaks but little English. He wore his gold badges on his breast all through the battle, furnishing a very conspicuous mark for the rebel sharpshooters. He gave his orders not by words, but seized a musket and showed his men what he wished them to do.

Nine-tenths of the artillery soldiers in Gen. McClellan's army are Germans, and, though a little snappish and snarlish sometimes, they are admirable cannoniers. Quickness, accuracy and endurance are all possessed by them in the highest degree, and rigid discipline and strict obedience develop these qualities to their greatest usefulness.

The need of a general bankrupt law is very pressing. One poor fellow in Bridgewater Mass., named Dunbar, advertises a call for a meeting of his creditors at his house, "to enter on some arrangement of their lawful claims," as he says he is "not able to discover how he can pay his just debts without disposing of his property."

A Mons. de Sora has a hennery near Paris, which yields him $260,000 per annum. His expenses are about $75,000 a year.

THE AMERICAN RIFLES.—The famous Springfield rifled muskets most used in the United States army, and which are now manufactured in Great Britain by machinery made in Massachusetts from patterns, are thus described:—The gun has a barrel forty inches long, and entire length of the piece, bayonet included, is 73-85 inches. Weight nine pounds. There are three grooves in the barrel, with a twist of one turn in six feet decreasing in depth from breach to muzzle, but its shooting is more accurate on that account. The ball has three grooves around the cylindrical part, and no wedge or capsule issued inside. The ball weighs 730 grains, the charge of powder is 70 grains. Armed with those pieces our soldiers who have had a few months discipline face any foe and win always where the odds is not more than three to one against them.

THE CHINESE TAX.—Governor Stafford, of California, having signed the bill imposing a head tax of $2.50 per month on each male Chinese over eight years of age only those engaged in mining, and who pay miners' license—it is estimated that the new law will realize $1,750,000 to $2,000,000 per annum, half of which goes to the State and half to the county in which it is collected.

REVIVAL OF THE INDIA TRADE.—The India trade of Boston is reviving.—Fourteen ships from Calcutta will arrive at that port in July and August. Several others are also loading at Calcutta, making in all about twenty ships for Boston sailing in March and April. In addition to these, (says the Traveller) we shall probably have ten more ships from Malilla, Batavia, and Penang.
