Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1862.

Messrs. MATHEN & ABBOTT, No. 335 Broadway, New-York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisements, &c.

Washington dispatches state that an order is about to be issued reducing the term of enlistment for the addition, at 300,000 volunteers from three years to one year. This would secure a large number of men who would not enlist for the longer, but would readily do so for the shorter period. They very magnitude of this war renders it improbable that it will continue another year. The rebellion must be suppressed by July 1863, or not at all. The Government cannot continue to support an army of half a million men much longer. Hence enlistments for one year would answer the purposes of the Government as well as a longer period, and at the same time encourage volunteering.

The Republican caucus at Washington, instead of adopting an address, embodied their sentiments in a single resolution, declaring it to be the duty of all citizens to stand by the Union and uphold the President against traitors at home and enemies abroad; that we invite the co-operation of all men who love their country in the endeavor to raise a fire of patriotism that shall utterly consume all who strike at the Union of our fathers, and all who sympathize with their treason or palliate their guilt.

Mrs. General McClellan is residing in Orange, N. J., with Dr. Marcy, on the mountain near Llewellyn Park. The trustees of the First Presbyterian church at Orange, Rev. James Hoyt, offered Mrs. McClellan a pew in their church, which she cordially accepted, and she will be numbered among the worshippers at the church during her stay there. She is heartily welcomed at Orange.

The Utica N. Y. Observer says—A gentleman from the western part of the State informs us that a good deal of excitement exists in his vicinity, caused by the elopement of a college Professor—the husband of an honest wife and the father of several children—with the widow of a prominent politician of this State, lately deceased. They are supposed to have gone to Europe.

Two runaway contrabands, a small boy and his large aunt—were arrested in Detroit, Michigan, on the 17th instant, under the Fugitive Slave law upon which the negroes generally turned out and raised considerable excitement. Before any actual disturbance took place, however, the fugitives were discharged, under a writ of habeas corpus, skedaddled over to Canada.

The John Brown Fund, contributed by the people of Hayti, is at last to be distributed to the heirs of John Brown and his fellow sufferers. It amounts to about three thousand and four hundred dollars, and the committee appointed includes Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, and James Keitpath.

The President sent for the slave State members of Congress and had an important interview with them. He urged upon them his plan of gradual emancipation, and hinted strongly that if this plan was not adopted general emancipation would come, under less pleasant circumstances.

Thousands of acres of corn and potatoes in Connecticut have not yet had their "first hoeing," in consequence of the scarcity of laboring men this season. The wages of farm laborers in many parts of the State have advanced to $1.50 per day.

Within the last few weeks ten of the most influential newspapers in Maryland, including American and Clipper, of Baltimore, the ablest journals of that city, have declared in favor of the President's policy of gradual emancipation.

Hon. Jere. Clemens of Alabama, is severely denounced by a Georgia rebel paper because he has expressed his loyalty to the United States Government and pronounced the Southern Confederacy a failure.

The health of Ex-President Van Buren does not improve, and very slight hopes are entertained now of his recovery.

General Butler has ordered the sequestration of General Twiggs' property in New Orleans. This is right.

Massachusetts can arm twelve regiments in ten days, if the exigency requires it.

The death of small change exists for the country.

Married women or minors cannot

The Warren Ledger states that a considerable quantity of oil is now being sent down the Alleghany river in boxes. They are made tight, and about sixteen feet square, and some twenty feet high. They are filled directly from the wells and tanks along the creek; five of them are then fastened together and run out of the creek, when twenty of them are joined together to form a river fleet. This fleet is run to Pittsburgh where the oil is pumped into barrels and forwarded to market.

The Washington Star publishes a large number of extracts from Maryland papers, showing the rapid progress of emancipation in the State of Maryland. Ex Governor Hicks, Hon. Reverdy Johnson, and Senator Sellman are said to be open advocates of the new order of things. The Baltimore American, the ablest paper in the State, keeps up its fire in support of the President's policy on this subject.

The King of Prussia has conferred upon Madame Ristori the order and gold medal of merit for "Art and Science." This is the first instance on record of the order being conferred on a woman. The king handed it himself to the great tragedienne at a private audience at the royal palace, accompanied by the diploma, beautifully engraved on parchment, and a superb gold bracelet to be worn with the medal attached.

Forney's Press of Thursday says a rumor was freely circulated in Washington that Gen. Halleck had been ordered upon Madame Ristori the order and gold medal of merit for "Art and Science." This is the first instance on record of the order being conferred on a woman. The king handed it himself to the great tragedienne at a private audience at the royal palace, accompanied by the diploma, beautifully engraved on parchment, and a superb gold bracelet to be worn with the medal attached.

A dispatch dated Kinderhook, July 14th, says: "Ex-President Martin Van Buren is very low to-day, from his sufferings under throat affection. His physicians say that he cannot long survive. He is insensible, and unable to recognize friends and relatives."

A young man named Andrew Lewis, living near Chatham, England, has been committed for trial for stabbing his sweetheart, Kate Duttal, whose only offence appears to have been that she had danced with another man at a wedding party.

A white satin brocade ball dress is in the London Exhibition, from the Lyons looms, representing a perfect aviary of birds, of all sorts and in all characteristic positions. The whole presents a beautiful ornithological picture as well as a dress.

The Buchanan Democracy think the mission of the United States army is not to fight traitors and put down the rebellion, but to catch runaway negroes, whose masters are in the rebel army as colonels and captains, busy at work murdering our own soldiers.

The Fort Wayne News states that within the last few days about thirty families have passed through that city in search of new homes in the far West, and it is said that notwithstanding the war, the emigration this year will be larger than ever.

A jealous wife, in Geneva, New York, recently revenged herself on her rival by stripping the latter of all her garments in the public streets, and in that condition leaving her to find shelter the best place where she could.

Amsterdam is almost as much as Venice, a city of the sea. Fifty canals, from six to ten rods in width, from seven to nine feet deep, run through the city. These canals are crossed by over three hundred bridges.

The Sunday Times says of Mr. Beecher's declaration that mankind are naturally liars: "It is easier to think that the loveliest lips open only to drop out false and venomous snakes and toads."

The Lehigh County Canal Company have a force of one thousand laborers on their canal, between Easton and Mauch Chunk, repairing the damages caused by the recent great freshet.

At West Wareham, Mass., there is a Volunteer Hoeing Guard who go around and hoe the gardens of those families whose husbands or main support are in the army.

Adj. Gen. Thomas recommends to Congress that chaplains, before entering the army should be required to file certificates of good moral character.

The sugar beet, so successful in France, has been planted in Illinois, and a thousand acres of it will be grown this year.

The sugar beet, so successful in France, has been planted in Illinois, and a thousand acres of it will be grown this year.

Bank Notes with the names of the officers engraved on them, instead of written, are said not to be legal.

The national tax bill will go into effect the first day of August, and expire by limitation in 1866.

PEN, PASTE AND SCISSORS.

Gen. Thomas Jefferson Jackson, erroneously reported killed before Richmond is admittedly the best and bravest commander in the rebel service. His soubriquet, "Stonewall," is said to have been given him after the battle of Bull Run. During that affair, Gen. Lee asked him "if his brigade had not better retire under the heavy fire they were sustaining." "No, sir," said Gen. Jackson; "I will stand here like a stone wall!"

A speaker in meeting, not long since enlarging upon the rascality of the devil got off the following pithy words: "I tell you that the devil is an old liar; for when I was getting religion, he tried to dissuade me from it, and told me if I did get religion, I could not go into gay company, and lie or steal, or such thing, and I have found him out to be a great liar."

The following is from the Phila. Inquirer, 30th: At eight o'clock last evening, Mrs. Elvira Ellet, wife of the late Col. Ellet, died at her residence in this city, in the 46th year of her age. She was present at the death of her husband, in Cairo, Illinois, and came to the city with his remains. Her death has resulted from no disease, being mainly from pure exhaustion and grief.

It is stated that a Union man in Memphis, now in New York, made all the torpedoes for the rebel army which were sunk in the Mississippi. They were not inspected and he made them to do no harm, and they did not. The War Department will make him a suitable acknowledgment.

The New York Herald has stated that the plans of the Commander of the "Potomac Army" have been thwarted by the interference of the War Department. The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post says this statement is pronounced entirely false by the highest authority.

Newspapers addressed to soldiers in the army must be prepaid in all instances either at the mailing or delivery office. An immense number of papers are now detained at the Washington post-office on account of non-payment of postage.

On the 13th instant there were in the hospitals in and around Washington, five thousand two hundred and three sick and wounded soldiers, of whom one thousand nine hundred belonged to New York State Regiments.

Gen. Sigel has been appointed to the command recently held by Gen. Fremont. Gen. Rufus King, who was first designated to that post, preferring to remain at the head of the brigade which he has commanded so long.

Appointments of collectors and assessors under the Tax bill will be made generally as appointments of postmasters in large cities are made, but not in every instance on the recommendation of members of Congress.

It is said that hoop skirts were invented by a French peasant girl, Angeline Miller. She has realized a fortune from her foreign patents, which she has now sold to a New York company.

A soldier in the 40th N. Y., was saved from death by his wife's picture in his breast-pocket. A rifle-ball was repelled by the iron plate, and through the concussion doubled the soldier up he was not injured. Moral:—Keep your wife's face next to your heart.

Gen. Robert Anderson is reported to have said of Fremont, shortly after the battle of Bull Run, as follows: "I detest the political principals of Fremont, but, as a military man, I doubt whether he has his equal or superior in this country or the world."

Is any curious about the number of servants in waiting upon Queen Victoria? It seems to be 222, since the queen, desirous that all her household see the wonders of the Great Exhibition, has ordered the purchase of that number of tickets for their use.

The Schenectady locomotive works are constructing some engines for canal boats, which are much on the locomotive principle. Machinists on the line of the canal believe that the exertions which have been made to substitute steam for horses on canals will result in permanent success.

In the final report of Joseph Holt and Robert Dale Owen, Commissioners on Ordnance Contracts, they state that they have effected a saving on contracts made prior to Secretary Stanton's taking office, of $17,000,000.

Gov. Washburne announces that the State Government will pay $30 bounty to each recruit for the new regiments, and $35 to those joining the old regiments.
