MARIETTA CAR TIME.—The several passenger trains leave "Upper-station" as follows: The morning train east at 7:15. The mail train, west at 11:23. The afternoon train east at 5:16. The evening train west at 6:55.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1862.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION: The Union Republican Convention met in Fulton Hall on Wednesday last, nominated Hon. Thaddeus Stevens for Congress, and Hon. Benjamin Champneys for the Legislature by acclamation. Speeches were made by Mr. Stevens and Judge Champneys accepting the nomination. The Judge, who was always a Jacksonian Democrat, in his speech said he cordially endorsed the resolutions of the Union State Convention, but detested the address of the so called Democratic State Convention, as false to every principle of Democracy.

LANCASTER COUNTY SURGEONS.—The Washington correspondent of the Express says: On Sunday afternoon a special train left Columbia, in response to a telegraph despatch from Secretary Stanton, asking for all available Surgeons to proceed immediately to the Capital, to minister to the wounded sufferers of Friday's battle. The response of the Physicians was very prompt, accessions being made to their number at almost every station along the road to Philadelphia, and thence to Washington.

Immediately upon their arrival at this place a delegation of Lancaster county physicians, numbering about 25, detailed a committee to wait upon Surgeon General Hammond, and tender their services to the Government and receive their appointments. To their disappointment the Gen. replied that already upwards of one thousand had tendered their services, nine-tenths of whom he was obliged to refuse. He accordingly gave the committee a free transportation for the delegation to return to their respective homes at their pleasure, until again called upon. This explains the early return of some of the "Volunteer Surgeons."

Some papers say over fifteen hundred physicians had arrived at Washington by Thursday last. On Saturday evening the Secretary of War telegraphed Vice President Scott, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, that owing to the great number of wounded at the battle in Virginia, Volunteer Surgeons were wanted, and requesting him to furnish transportation to all who would volunteer their services, to report to Surgeon General Hammond at Washington. In response to his call, the following Physicians of Lancaster left in the line via Harrisburg viz: Dr. John L. Atlee, Jr., Dr. H. E. Muhlenberg, Dr. P. Cassidy, Dr. Henry Carpenter, Dr. D. McCormick, Drs. J. H. Longenecker, Wm. B. Fahnestock, Thos. Ellmaker, G. H. Markley, and J. L. Baker. The same request was telegraphed to Columbia, and Col. C. S. Kauffman came to this borough with the news, when Dr. F. Hinkle, Barr Spangler, Esq., Dr. Henry Landis, J. M. Erisman and Dr. Breneman of Maytown went to Columbia, via York for Baltimore, thence to Washington.

The patrons of the different schools will remember that on Monday next all the public schools will open. It is hoped that every scholar will be present to take his or her seat on the first day, as it is utterly impossible to effect a perfect organization unless the classes can be completed. The parents will also remember that according to a resolution passed by the School Board, every applicant for promotion will be obliged to undergo an examination, so that none but those who are worthy will be promoted. This examination should be held on the first day.

There was quite a spirited contest for delegates from this borough, to the County Convention, on Saturday evening last, and had no less than three disagreeable fights and one man stabbed. All this is the result of some candidates dealing out whiskey and lager to popularize themselves. When will such a state of things cease in our midst. We have some persons amongst us who pretend to high social positions and yet persist in encouraging this kind of vagabondism.

Alexander H. Hood, Esq., has been appointed Collector of the United States Revenue Tax, and J. K. Alexander, Esq., Assessor, for this county.

THE MILITIA ENROLLMENT.—We copy from the Lancaster Express of Tuesday evening the full returns of the enrolling officers, as registered by Deputy Marshal Billingfield. We are gratified to be able to bear our testimony to the careful and efficient manner in which the enrollment has been made. Mr. Billingfield and his assistants, without a single exception that we can hear of, have done their very best to make the enrollment complete, and we are satisfied that they have succeeded as well as it would be possible for any equal number of men to accomplish the difficult task in the allotted time. We doubt whether any other county in the State will be able to show a more faithful record, or one more creditable to the integrity and industry of the enrolling officers and the Deputy Marshal who selected them and directed their operations.

We have, in the third column of our table, given our estimate of what each district will be required to furnish under the draft, in addition to the volunteers already furnished—the City, Marietta, Eden, and Strasburg borough and township, having furnished a surplus.—In this calculation we have assumed that one man out of every three enrolled would be drafted. We think this is a fraction too high, but we have adopted it for the sake of round numbers—deducting from the third of the total in each district the number of volunteers in the service. This result gives probably some three hundred too many in the aggregate, which, as we showed in our article of the 8th inst., by another process of calculation, will not vary materially from two full regiments.

From the amount footed up under the third column must be deducted the surplus (above their full quota) furnished by the districts in the above list marked with (*), as follows: Total to be furnished, as above 2718

James L. Reynolds, Esq., of Lancaster and Dr. J. Lefe ver of Paradise, have been appointed, respectively, Commissioner and Examining Surgeon for Lancaster county, in view of the impending draft. Two better selections could not have been made, and they cannot fail to give entire satisfaction throughout the county. Official notice will be given of the time they will enter upon the duties.

FROM MARIETTIAN IN THE ARMY.

"BROOKE'S STATION," Camp Wright, Va., Aug. 16, 1862.

Friend Mariettian: Before this reaches you your readers will have learned that the 45th has left its encampment on James River, and approached a little nearer to the scene of strife, where two mighty armies are preparing to meet in mortal combat, to decide the fate of a nation.

On the evening of the first instant our regiment passed in review before General Stevens, his opinion of the men as to material and discipline, was good; but said the arms we had (Harper's Ferry muskets) were not fit to go into battle, hence the reason we are stationed here instead of taking part in the impending conflict. On Wednesday morning, August 4th, we marched to the wharf at Newport News, and after the usual delay we embarked on the steamer Elm City, a large and spacious boat; and so far as the comfort of passengers and soldiers was concerned, equal to any I have seen. Among her passengers were Gen. Stevens and staff. After passing Old Point Comfort, we steamed up the Chesapeake. Early on the 5th we arrived at the mouth of Aquia Creek, where we landed. Since the Yankees have possession of this important point, a splendid dock has been built upon the ruins of the one destroyed by the retreating enemy. It is accessible through a narrow channel to steamers of considerable draught, and is connected with Fredericksburg by rail road. About a dozen small buildings have been erected on the shore, among which can be seen a commissary depot, eating saloon, &c.

On the morning after we landed, we took the cars—an old delapidated train—and after going about three miles, stopped at our present station, where we formed our camp. Col. WELSH's headquarters are at the landing; companies I and K, are with him, Lieut. Col. Beaver with the remainder of the regiment. Our business is to guard that part of the rail road between Aquia creek and Potomac landing, a distance of about six miles. At this place is a beautiful farm house which the officers now occupy. The general appearance of the place plainly testifies that it has once been the abode of luxury and happiness. Keen indeed must have been the anguish of its owner, when he left it. It is said he died of grief at the prospect. The country in this vicinity bears the same mark of desolation which characterizes the soil of the invaded and rebellious South. Little or nothing is being raised along the railroad; in fact, nobody has been left to cultivate the soil but a few old men and children, and they earn a scanty subsistence by peddling apples, pears, milk, &c., to the soldiers. Troops are pouring in from all directions as fast as the cars can bring them. Captain Haines and several non-commissioned officers are at home recruiting. The Marietta Boys are mostly in fine health and spirits but want to contribute their mite to wind up this unholy rebellion, which has already filled our land with sorrow, and mother's and widows' hearts to bleed from wounds which no balm on earth can ever heal.

LIEUT. J. P. T.

Georgetown, Aug. 26th, 1862.

Friend Baker: Having intimated from the time our company left home, to keep up a correspondence with "The Mariettian," I now, for the first time, and at liberty to give you a short narrative of our journey here.

We left Harrisburg on the 20th instant, at 5 p. m. accompanied by William Kendig and John Crull as far as York, which place we reached about 10 o'clock at night, greeted at every corner by the waving of lines from the ladies who were assembled in large crowds on every corner along our route; we remained here but a short time when we again moved off en route for Baltimore, arriving there at 4 o'clock next morning.—Here our Regiment was detained for several hours to breakfast at the Baltimore Union Relief Society, after which we took the cars for the Capitol, arriving there by noon; again we were supplied with our soldier's ration from the Government Relief, when we took up our march for camp near of the Capitol, remaining for two days waiting for orders, which were to relieve the 86th N. Y. from Provost Guard duty in the City and Georgetown. Three Lancaster county companies were immediately detailed for this duty at the latter place. We being one of this number, packed up and marched to our quarters, which were very good—a large two story brick building with room enough to make all of us feel quite comfortably fixed, situated in a pleasant part of the town, with beautiful shade trees in front.

There is at present part of a New Jersey Regiment with three companies of our own Regiment on guard duty in this place. Our first guard duty was a detail of twenty-five men with our Captain acting second in command, and 1st Lieut. as Lieutenant of the guard to escort over one hundred prisoners to Alexandria, Capt. Denues taking command.

All the boys are pleased with their officers and are faithful and obedient to all the duties of a soldier. We have in our Regiment Quartermaster Cushman, his assistant Quartermaster Fulks and Robert Smith of Wrightsville as clerk for the Quartermaster; these gentlemen are very much liked by our boys, and fill their positions nobly.

We have roll call at 5 o'clock in the morning and nine in the evening; and and three times drill every day—morning, noon and evening—dress parade at 3 1/2 o'clock, p. m. and a regular detail of 14 to 20 for guard every day.

Our boys are all in fine spirits and in good health with one or two exceptions. I must now close as it is about time to call roll and retire for the night.

"THE UNION."

Georgetown, August 27th, 1862.

Mr Editor: I take the pleasure of announcing to the subscribers of "The Mariettian," of the whereabouts of the "MARIETTA BRAVES," so named by the Patriotic Circle of that place. I have not much to say concerning camp life, as our situation and position is somewhat more like our residence at home, than those that are in camps; but as it will be a comfort to some of our friends at home, I will describe our departure from Harrisburg and our welcome reception in Baltimore and Washington city. Our regiment was formed in Camp Curtin, our figure number is 135, under Colonel PORTER, who is a very good disciplined officer in military tactics. We left Camp Curtin on the evening of the 20th for Washington city and the hearty and deafening cheers and applause given us all along the road by the smiling fair ones is beyond my description; we arrived in Baltimore the following morning at four o'clock and formed into line and marched to the soldiers relief, where we were received and made welcome to refreshments by the loyal citizens of that city, to such as cheese, beef, and fresh bread; we took the train at 8 o'clock for Washington city, and arrived at the Soldiers Rest about noon, where we again partook of Uncle Sam's refreshments, such as mess pork—9x14, crackers with the letters B. C. stamped on them, denoting before Christ. From there we went to Capitol Hill to quarter and relieve the 86th New York, to act as provost guard in their place, through Washington and Georgetown; on the 23d we were divided into companies and stationed at our posts—three companies were sent to Georgetown, viz. Capt. Miller's, Capt. Espy's, and Capt. Denues. Denues is Provost Marshal. Capt. Erisman's to the Central Guard House and the remainder through the city to guard Rebel and State prisoners. There were two hundred deserters out of our different regiments in the Georgetown guard house. On last Sunday, part of our company, Denues, and Espy's were detailed to escort 100 of them up to Alexandria on one of the boats; they were the most outrageous, out lawed fellows I ever fixed my eyes upon; nothing was too mean for them to do; they made fun at us because we guarded them with fixed bayonets.—Some of them had the Government bracelets on their wrists with a 24 pounder at the end of the chain; however we got them to their destination safe, though they made several attempts to break guard but failed; we put them in a slave pen; from there they will be put to their different regiments, and some of them will, perhaps, be court martialed. There was an exciting time in Alexandria on Sunday last, Gen. McClellan's army was coming in very fast, 20,000 were encamped around Alexandria, and his siege train laying at the wharf.—There is a very brisk move here on the Potomac at present, and before many days from what I can learn from good sources, there will be one of the largest engagements ever witnessed on this continent. Our regiment is nearly all quartered on confiscated property; there is any quantity of Scotch in this place.—We are in a large two story brick house, with ten large rooms, on the corner of Washington and West streets. Last evening ourselves and our arms were inspected by a United States inspecting officer; he praised our company highly by saying to us that we were as good and hardy looking company, in every respect, as had come under his eyes for the last ten months. Our Captain proposed to his company to banish all profane and vulgar language, which was put to vote by him to the company, and carried unanimously. Any one who that disobeys these resolutions is liable to double duty. Our commissioned officers cannot be surpassed by any for kindness; they have the honor and good will of every man in their charge. I will add in behalf of the "Marietta Braves," that we sincerely return our many thanks to the citizens of Marietta and vicinity, for their many kind luxuries and necessities sent us. We have had several visitors from your place since we are here. Quartermaster McClure of the 45th P. V. paid us a visit to day; he says the 45th are all in good heart. Our address is:

Georgetown, D. C., box 851, in care of Capt. Miller.

Credits will not be given on the draft (says the Harrisburg Telegraph) for volunteers in the regular army, the navy marine service, teamsters, blacksmiths, bridge-builders, nor clerks in military departments. The Deputy Marshal of this county has also been notified that only those in Pennsylvania Regiments would be credited.

We learn the families of Dr. Finkle and Mr. Spangler have received letters stating that they are in the Union Hospital, Georgetown, where there are a great many sick and wounded. Dr. Finkle calls for more lint, bandages and bran bags, upon learning which the "Patriotic Circle" was convened and a box immediately packed, containing as follows: From the Circle 37 shirts; Mrs. Jane Appold, pair of pillow cases, 2 pillows, 1 comfort, 1 shirt, bandages; Mrs. Batt, roll of muslin; Mrs. John Kline, 1 comfort, 9 bars soap, 4 combs, roll of muslin; Mrs. Samuel Hipple, sr., 4 bars soap, roll of muslin; Mrs. Musser and Eyer, 9 pillows, 7 shirts, package of lint; Mrs. Deitrich, 2 towels, 5 bars soap; Mrs. Sterrett, 12 bran bags, bandages; Mrs. Barr Spangler, towels, bandages, lint and soap; Mrs. W. Grosh, and 29 handkerchiefs from Mr. C. C. P. Grosh—the handkerchiefs were hemmed by a number of little girls. A large package of lint prepared by the following children: Elmira Lawrence, Mary Anderson, Belle Cushman, Ella Benjamin, Ida Benjamin, Annie Spangler, Maggie Child, Annodell Child, Ann Carroll, Elenora Carroll, Callie Inhoff, Virginia Heckrode, Susie Stehman, Annie Stehman, Ida Schock, Mary Comegys, Clara Comegys, Amy Comegys, Josy Zell, Emma Walter, Mary Bitla, Emma Livingston and sister, Annie Eagle, Mary E. Park, Carrie Eagle, Cuvier Spangler, John Carrol, James Lindsay, Frank Lawrence, Noel Benjamin. Howard Cassel—20 papers.

At a meeting of the ladies of the "Patriotic Circle of Marietta," on Tuesday evening last, at Mrs. C. A. Schaffner's, a resolution was passed tendering the sincere thanks of the Circle to the members of the "Harmonic Society of Marietta" for their earnest and successful efforts at the recent concert given by them to procure funds for the benefit of the Circle. The sum of Sixty-five dollars and Twenty-five cents having been raised and placed in the hands of the Treasurer of the Circle.

The ladies of the Circle do most cordially invite the members of the "Harmonic" to meet with them on their appointed evenings, so that they may have the gratification of still further aiding the cause of our Country, by assisting in the making and dispensing of the material which their noble efforts have enabled the ladies of the Circle to procure.

The Circle will meet on next Tuesday evening at Mrs. David Harry's.

E. RUMSILL, SECRETARY.

Marietta, Sep. 3, 1862.

A very destructive fire occurred in Wrightsville, on Thursday night of last week. Large quantities of tobacco, lumber, grain, &c., being burned. The losses of P. A. & S. Small, Wm. McConeky, and Beidler & Gohn were very heavy, reaching, perhaps, in amount to $75,000. But for the assistance of the Columbia fire companies, the loss would have been trebled.

Mr. Zell is now prepared to deliver all kinds of stone coal. See his card of prices. The impression has been that we will be compelled to pay $5 a ton for coal this winter in consequence of high freights and advance of prices at the mines. Prudence would therefore, induce all to "lay in" a winter stock at the present prices.

James L. Reynolds, Esq., the newly appointed Draft Commissioner has returned to Lancaster from Harrisburg, where he received his instructions. The county will now be districted for the more rapid fulfillment of his duties, public notice of which will be published in the papers. Those who claim exemption should be on the alert to facilitate his operations, so that the roll may be completed as soon as possible before the draft is made. From present indications, Mariettians need not give themselves any uneasiness on that score—having already in the field 28 more than her quota.

We regret to learn that Col Fisher, of the 5th. Penna. Reserve, met with a severe accident near Fredericksburg, by which he was temporarily disabled. His horse fell with and on him bruising him severely, but we are glad to learn that he is recovering and expects in a few days to be at the head of his regiment.

Mrs. John Kline sent us a couple of plums a few days since, which we think "crowds" our friend Clark's into the corner completely, both for size and taste. Both samples were, however, very fine indeed.

COAL COAL COAL.

THE undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of Marietta and vicinity that he is prepared to deliver
