

The Mariettian.

Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1862.

Messrs. MATHER & ABBOTT, No. 335 Broadway, New York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisements, &c., and receipt for the same.

REMOVAL OF McCLELLAN.—Speaking of the removal of Gen. Geo. B. McClellan, the New York Times, decidedly one of the most high-toned and conservative of the Gotham press, holds the following, which we heartily endorse:

General McClellan has been removed from the command of the Army of the Potomac, and General Burnside appointed in his place. The immediate cause of this removal has been Gen. McClellan's refusal to advance against the enemy, even under the most peremptory orders of the General-in-Chief.

We presume that this particular instance of disobedience of orders, though the immediate occasion, is not the whole cause of General McClellan's removal. It is pretty generally understood that this is only the culmination of a systematic disregard of orders, of a steady and obstinate tardiness in the conduct of the campaign against the rebels, and of a consequent inefficiency in command, which would long ago have secured his dismissal under any Administration less timid than that which has now possession of power.

The fifteen months during which he has had virtual control of the war, have been utterly barren of results to the cause he has professed to serve. Few commanders in history have had such splendid opportunities, and few still have so ostentatiously thrown them away. With an army capable of the most heroic achievements, powerful in numbers, unrivaled in discipline and equipment; eager always for active and onward movement, he has accomplished absolutely nothing but successful retreats from inferior forces, and the defence of the capital at Washington, which he should have left no foe capable of menacing. The rebel armies have grown up in his presence and by his toleration. Through all his career he has made but one attack and won but a single victory, and that became absolutely fruitless through his failure to follow it up.

In excavating the foundation for a new manufactory in Pittsburg two skeletons have been found one apparently that of a gigantic warrior, the other, from the numerous ornaments of gold and silver, such as crucifix, bracelets, rings, diminutive bells, buttons, beads, etc., supposed to have been an Indian princess. A number of other bones have been found wherever the workmen dig and the cemetery must have been extensive and long used by the red men.

We regret to learn there is trouble at Harrisburg in the organization of the drafted men, who claim the right under the law to choose their own officers, while Adj. Gen. Thomas orders their incorporation with the old regiments. A case is to be brought before Judge Pearson, whose decision we hope will be accepted by all.

The Milan Gazette announces that six schools are to be opened there for the purpose of teaching on Sundays, young women, obliged to work during the week, the elements of arithmetic, geography, history reading, writing and needlework.

Gen. Sigel's body guard—only 50 in number—made a gallant dash into Fredericksburg, by crossing the Rappahannock, fighting and wounding 50 rebels, capturing 34, and routing the rest, altogether 500 in number.

All statements alleging disaffection in the army, in consequence of a change in the command of the Army of the Potomac, are pronounced by those who have the best means of knowing to be without foundation.

About one thousand contrabands at Cairo, chiefly women and children, are in a most miserable condition from sickness and want of clothing. They are nearly all sick, and the average of deaths is two or three a day.

The Charleston Mercury states that New Orleans is now occupied by "8,000 white troops and 6,000 uniformed negroes." Verily, Gen. Hunter's black "draft" for the cure of secession begins to work.

There is some excitement in New York and other points at the sudden removal of Gen. McClellan; but as all see it as a military necessity, it will be promptly acquiesced in.

There will be no draft in Philadelphia, the quota in all the wards having been made up by volunteering.

Lord Palmerston has been a member of the English House of Commons for fifty-five years.

The drafted men, in Pennsylvania, through the efforts of Governor Curtin, will not be taken to fill up the old regiments of the line; and as a consequence the officers of the volunteers assigned to the duty of transferring the militia to the old regiments, have been ordered to rejoin their respective commands. This happy arrangement has given the utmost satisfaction to the drafted men. Another concession has been obtained by our noble Executive which is to allow the militia to choose their own field and company officers.

It is stated that Mrs. Henry Baylis, the wife of a New York merchant, has left a home of affluence and ease, and is now devoting her whole time and energies to the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers at Yorktown. She has not only volunteered to endure the privations and discharge the disagreeable duties of hospital life, but has studied the profession of surgeon nurse, so that she can care for wounded limb equal to any of the surgeons of the army.

An officer in a letter to his family, who reside at Black Rock, Conn., says: "The coolest thing I ever yet heard of happened at the battle of Fair Oaks. Right in the hottest of the battle, two of the 2d's boys got at log-headers with each other, threw down their muskets and fell to it at fist-cuffs, had it out, picked up their arms and pitched into the rebels again. I have heard of a wheel within a wheel, but a battle within a battle is certainly something new."

The railroad from Camden to Cape May will be completed next June, distance eighty miles. The work is now progressing in ten different sections, and the train has been contracted for. So says an exchange paper, and it is probably true. Cape May will never be anything without such a road. And with it, it will take the lead of nearly all other watering places in the country.

A despatch from Washington says: "The National Intelligencer, Secretary Seward's organ here, is out in a long leader, which is interpreted here by those who watch the current of events, to be paving the way for a withdrawal of the Emancipation Proclamation, on the ground that it is impracticable, &c."

Gen. Cameron arrived at New York on Saturday last. He says Russia is our firm and fast friend. Bayard Taylor is left in charge of the Legation, until Gen. C's return. The General's return, however, depends on the success of his management for re-election to the U. S. Senate in place of Wilmot.

It is stated Gen. E. R. S. Canby has been ordered to take command of the drafted militia of this State. Gen. Canby has just completed a creditable campaign in New Mexico, and no doubt the men will be pleased to hear that they are to be placed under so accomplished a leader.

Caleb B. Smith, Secretary of the Interior, has been or will be appointed to a Judgeship in Indiana. The Hon. Schuyler Colfax, of the same State, will it is thought be offered his place in the Cabinet. No other Cabinet changes are probable, though much talked about.

Among those drafted in Westmoreland County, Pa., was Robert Carpenter of Mt. Pleasant Township, the same individual who, but a few weeks ago, outraged the public feeling there by parading the village with the national emblem pinned to his shirt tail.

The Daily Morning Chronicle, Col. John W. Forney's paper, published at Washington and considered semi-official, speaking of the removal of General McClellan says it "was owing to recent investigations, of an unexpected character."

A great antiquarian and a good historian would now have a fine field for the exercise of his talents in explaining the talents and conduct, sleeping and waking, of two great men, Rip Van Winkle and John Van Buren.

The Boston Transcript says that on Tuesday morning Josiah Quincy, his son and namesake, and his grandson, Major Samuel M. Quincy, went together to the polls in ward four, and deposited their republican ballots.

Elias Howe, Jr., whose income is a quarter of a million a year, carries the mail daily from Washington, seven miles, to the camp of the Seventeenth Connecticut regiment, in which he is a private.

Mr. Wm. A. Jackson, the ex-coachman of the notorious Jeff Davis, has left for Liverpool. He purposes spending five or six years in Great Britain studying and lecturing.

The Duke of Luynes has just transferred to the French government, by deed of gift, his magnificent collection of antiquities, marbles, bronzes and medals, valued at 1,400,000.

The total valuation of real and personal property in New York State, is $1,477,897,709. The State tax is four mills and three-fourths, producing $7,020,014 12.

PEN, PASTE AND SCISSORS. In Alabama the people are making tea of blackberry leaves.

San Francisco has sent to the Sanitary Committee its second hundred thousand dollars.

The emperor Napoleon has purchased Malmaison, the residence of the empress Josephine after her divorce.

Women first resorted to tight lacing to prove to men how well they could bear squeezing.

The ladies of Waterford N. Y. advertise "a grand concert of Chopping Knives," to prepare cabbage for pickling for the soldiers—a novel and meritorious work.

An institution of arts and trades for women has been established in Paris, to enable destitute widows and orphans to learn some branch of art or artistic industry, and so place them in a position to obtain an independent existence.

The officers of the Eighty-fourth Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers have presented Governor Curtin with the National flag which they bore through three campaigns, under Lander, Shields and Pope.

The great Exhibition in London has proved a financial failure. It will close about the middle of this month. The expenses have been much greater than in 1861—the receipts much less.

Chevalier Huseman, the Austrian Minister, intends taking up his residence in the city of New York, where, for the past year, he has resided most of his time.

A special despatch to the New York Post says the President has tendered to Schuyler Colfax the Secretaryship of the Interior, in the event of Secretary Smith's acceptance of the judgeship of the United States Supreme Court.

General Banks' Texas expedition is fast fitting out. He will have 20,000 troops chiefly New England. The State of the "Lone Star" will soon wheel into the Union line and the Union people there will be protected.

A Cleveland paper says that the people of that town are using mouse-traps old jack-knives and shirt buttons for small change.

David Fahn, of York, Pa., has been appointed an associate judge of the courts of that county, vice Judge Riemann, deceased.

Commodore Pendegast was smitten suddenly with paralysis on Thursday last, in Philadelphia, while on his way to the navy yard, to attend to his duties. He has since died.

At the Surrey Theatre, London, a novelty has been introduced in the form of a looking glass curtain, measuring 1,000 square feet.

A young woman residing in Canada, was bitten last July by a cat. The wound healed soon after. But on the 10th ultimo the girl died, from hydrophobia, in great agony.

Capt. J. H. Green, who has achieved a world-wide reputation as the reformed gambler, has resigned his commission in the 35th Indiana. The Governor of Indiana will tender him a commission as field officer in some of the regiments which are to be reorganized.

Water is now introduced into San Francisco through an aqueduct extending to Lake Honda, a distance of some thirty-two miles. Through this flume, which is sixteen by thirty inches in its dimensions, water flows at the rate of three millions of gallons a day.

The Utah Indians are resping stern punishment for their crimes. At Salt Lake City, recently, Colonel Geary, of a California regiment, held twenty-four Indians as hostages for the return of two who had murdered some emigrants. The two not returning within the time appointed, the twenty-four were taken out and shot.

The Cincinnati Commercial says that some two years ago an old gentleman living in Paris, Ky., emancipated about twenty of his negroes, and sent them into Ohio, where he gave them farms.—They prospered. Now the old gentleman, for his patriotism to the government, is driven from his home in Kentucky, and finds an asylum with his former slaves.

A lady went to Washington several weeks ago, to visit her husband who is in the army, and while stopping at a hotel she observed that the blankets on the bed had rather a familiar look and on examination, discovered her own name on the margin, and recognized them as the same she had sent to her husband some time previous, but which he had never received.

The Boston correspondent of the Washington Chronicle says that Paron Stevens, who has for the last fourteen or fifteen years been the landlord of the Revere House, and for about half that period of the Tremont House, also, has disposed of his interest in these establishments to Messrs. Brigham and Unsley, who have served their apprenticeship under him. This will leave Mr. Stevens with the New York Fifth Avenue Hotel, and the Philadelphia Continental House to look after.

THE REMOVAL OF McCLELLAN.—The cause for the removal of Gen. McClellan from the command of the Army of the Potomac, when first announced, was not well understood; but it is now clearly explained. A letter from Gen. Halleck, the General-in-Chief, in answer to inquiries made of him by the Secretary of War, dated as early as Oct. 28, which reveals some of the causes. Doubtless the immediate reason was Gen. McClellan's refusal to march, as ordered, against the enemy. On the first day of October, Gen. McClellan was urged by Gen. Halleck to cross the Potomac and give battle to the enemy, being at the same time reminded of the disadvantages of delaying until the Potomac should be swollen and the roads impaired by the autumnal rains. Finding that this produced no effect, Gen. McClellan was "peremptorily ordered" by Gen. Halleck, on the 6th of October, to "cross the Potomac and give battle to the enemy, or drive him South." For three weeks this order was not obeyed, and the only excuse given for not obeying it, so far as appears—the want of supplies—is shown by the letter of Gen. Halleck, in which he quotes the evidence from Gen. McClellan's Aid-de-Camp and Chief Quartermaster Col. Ingalls, and practically sustained by a letter from McClellan himself, to have been utterly without foundation. The disclosures of this letter of the General-in-Chief, concerning Gen. McClellan's constant and reiterated complaints of lack of supplies are to say the least, very remarkable, and deserve special attention.

A LOYAL CONVENTION OF THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.—A national convention of the loyal people of the United States, in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war, has been called to meet at Pittsburg, Pa., on Tuesday, November 25th inst. The call is signed by most of the business houses in Pittsburg, and has, therefore, no partisan aspect. It is intended that this convention shall express the determined and fixed purpose of the loyal masses to overthrow and wipe out the present rebellion, by progressive and energetic action on the part of the country's rulers, civil and military; to punish the authors and actors of this great outrage upon human rights, and re-establish upon permanent foundations the free and enlightened institutions of the fathers of the Republic.

THE QUESTION TO BE TESTED.—Indictments have been found in the Jersey County Circuit Court against Lieutenant Colonel Milton S. Littlefield, 14th Illinois cavalry, and Adjutant Wm. A. Scott, 14th Illinois infantry, for bringing servants into the State. Each brought home a negro from the war, and hence the indictment. Both were present during the session of the court—and one is a Republican and the other a Democrat. The penalty is a fine of $100 to $500, and imprisonment in the county jail not more than one year.

SUICIDE IN LOWELL.—The Lowell (Mass.) papers say that on Monday evening Julia Stone, twenty-eight years of age, from Norway, Maine, drowned herself in the canal near the Lawrence corporation. She had worked for some years in the mills, and since their stopping had been employed in making soldiers' clothing at very low prices. She had been in a depressed state for some time on account of her prospects the coming winter.

REVOLUTION IN EUROPE.—According to the latest advices from Europe, there is a revolution going on in Greece.—King Otho has abdicated, and his subjects have gotten up a "provisional" government of their own. In Prussia, the King has assumed a sort of military dictatorship, trampled on the constitution, and defies the people. This looks like revolution also. Europe will have something to do before long, besides meddling with American affairs.

EXEMPTS FROM FUTURE DRAFT.—It has been decided that if a person has been drafted, and furnishes a substitute who is under age or an alien, he is exempt from all future drafts. But should the substitute be on the roll of the militia, and another draft is ordered, and the substitute is drawn, the principal who employed the substitute has to go himself or procure some other person.

A MAMMOTH CHEESE.—A cheese was exhibited at the late New York State Agricultural Fair which weighed 1,030 pounds, and was manufactured in a single day, in one curd, from the milk of 900 cows.

Counterfeit $50 and $100 Treasury notes, raised from ones and twos, are reported to be in circulation. If people will exercise ordinary care they will not be victimized.

James E. Murdoch, Esq., has resigned his commission in the army, and will resume the duties of his profession.

Two New York speculators in government claims have been arrested and sent to Fort Lafayette.

The people of Wilmington, N. C., are dying faster than coffins can be made to contain them.

The report that Cassius M. Clay sent a challenge to a Mr. Birdsall, turns out to be a canard.

WHY TO TRENTON?—Many persons are perplexed to know why Major General McClellan has been ordered specially to report at Trenton, N. J. The fact is of no importance, so far as the locality is concerned. Perhaps he indicated that city as preferable for retirement in consequence of that city being the present residence of his father-in-law, General Marcy, and of his wife, and hence, we presume, the War Department specified it as a point to which to report. The main object was that he should leave the army, that he should be relieved from active duty. The Department is of course indifferent as to the geographical point of retirement of any of those who are relieved from active duty for a time. All that is required is to have a fixed locality, so that in case of a demand for their service, a summons to duty may reach them speedily as possible.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Military Commission, Colonel Thomas H. Ford, of Ohio, and Major Baird, of the 126th New York volunteers, are dismissed from the service of the United States. Gen. Julius White is by the same order relieved from arrest and ordered to duty.

The commission, headed by Gen. Hunter, appointed to inquire into the causes and the parties censurable for the surrender of Harper's Ferry, have made a report in which they condemn in plain terms General Wool and McClellan and Cols. Ford and Miles.

Gen. O. M. K. Mitchell, the great astronomer, the flushed orator, and patriotic soldier, recently in command of the U. S. forces at Beaufort, is dead. He died at Beaufort, S. C., on the 30th ult. of yellow fever, in the 52d year of his age.

Three Episcopal Clergymen, at New Orleans, declining to obey the orders of Gen. Butler, to offer the prayer for the President of the United States, as set forth in the Prayer Book, are now on their way to Fort Lafayette.

A lady in Newington, England recently when in company with some friends indulged in a hearty laugh, and in a few minutes after a quantity of blood gushed from her mouth, and she expired instantly.

Maj. Gen. Hunter has again been assigned to the command at Beaufort, S. C., made vacant by the death of Gen. Mitchell. He will leave Washington for his post in few days.

The regular army of the United States now numbers 40,000 men, and when all the new regiments are filled there will be nearly 45,000 regulars in the service.

At St. Louis on Saturday, the United States quartermaster awarded contracts for 300 mules at $90 each, and 900 do. at $100 each.

Gen. Anderson has been assigned to the command of the troops and fortifications surrounding Covington and Newport.

The Roman Forum is now a corn-market, the Tarpeian a cabbage-garden, and the Palace of the Cæsars a ropewalk.

Charles Oakford the hatter in the Continental Hotel building, died in Philadelphia on Tuesday last, of paralysis.

Our labors in this department for over thirty years, have met the cordial approbation of the public. Our purchases have been useful and reliable information upon these very important branches of industry, and to protect them so far as within our power against the false doctrines and selfish purposes of the many empirics and sensation-adventurers by which the Farmer is incessantly assailed. This portion of the Germantown Telegraph will alone be worth the whole price of subscription, as every Farmer and Gardener, who has a proper conception of his calling, will readily admit.

NEWS DEPARTMENT. The same industry, care, and the stirring events of the Day, expressly for this paper, which hitherto has been one of its marked features and given so universal satisfaction, will be continued with redoubled efforts to meet the increasing demands of the public. The labor required in this department is never fully appreciated by the reader. It would be impossible to present, in the condensed and carefully made-up form in which it appears, a correct mass of all the most interesting news of the week, without involving much physical labor, and great expenditure.

We annex the cash terms, to which we beg leave to call the attention of all who think of subscribing for a newspaper:
