

The Mariettian.

Marietta, Pa.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1862.

Messrs. MATHER & ABBOTT, No. 325 Broadway, New-York, are duly authorized to act for us in soliciting advertisements, &c., and accept for the same.

A correspondent of The Evening Post writes: "About three miles to the eastward of Fauquier Sulphur Springs, in Virginia, along a range of hills of considerable fertility, there is a large settlement of Octoroons, well-to-do in this world, and industrious people. Its origin was in this wise: A number of poor whites, after much scuffling, managed to acquire a few acres each of the hilly region in question, and took to themselves mulatto women for wives. The present generation, some three removes down, are so white that it is difficult to detect any trace of African blood in their veins. The whole settlement is for the Union.

The commissioners upon the emancipated slaves in the District of Columbia are hard at work, and expect to finish their business next month, although allowed several weeks longer by law. The number paid for by the government will, it is stated, be about three thousand. Most of them were presented personally to the commissioners, but in some cases compensation will be allowed for servants who had escaped. The largest number owned by a single individual was sixty eight, the property of Washington Young.

The night after the battle of Chaplin Hills, Ky., that drunken and profane prelate, Bishop General Polk, stationed himself with a small force in the shadow of the woods, and when the Union parties, who were looking for their dead and wounded, came along, he would take them prisoners and strip both the dead and living of their clothing. No rebellion of war, unless born of the fiends below, could so change humanity into beastliness.

The Montreal (Canada) Commercial Advertiser, has been forbidden a circulation in St. Louis, by the Provost Marshal of that place, who brands it as a "treasonable sheet." All persons purchasing, selling, or in any manner dealing with such paper, or receiving the same through the mails or otherwise, will be arrested and committed to prison as aiders and abettors of the rebellion.

Charles A. Dana, late editor of the New York Tribune, has been appointed Assistant Secretary of War in place of Mr. Wolcott, resigned. Mr. Dana has long been known as a man of rare executive powers, and his appointment cannot fail greatly to augment the efficiency of the Department in which he is to occupy an important position.

Mr. Wm. Gray has received from J. Lathrop Motley, the historian, now Minister to Austria, the sum of $500 for the use of sick and wounded soldiers; also, $1000 from Edward Cunningham, a merchant of Massachusetts, now resident of Shanghai, likewise for the benefit of the soldiers.

The vacant houses in Harper's Ferry are occupied by a small army of sutlers, whose extortionate charges are greatly grumbled at by the soldiers. The provost marshal endeavors to expel all but the legitimate sutlers, but they are irremovable, and when driven out of one house locate in another.

The Trenton Gazette of Tuesday states that General McClellan left that city on the day preceding, to transact some business in New York. It adds: "The curiosity to see the General appears to have nearly died out, and we hear very little on the subject."

By an order from the War Department, Col. Thos. H. Ford and Major Wm. H. Baird are dismissed from the service of the United States, for bad conduct and incapacity at Harper's Ferry.

Hon. William Bigler has written a letter declining to become a candidate for the United States Senatorship from Pennsylvania, and proposing a plan for the adjustment of the national troubles.

A Sub Lieutenant on board of Her Majesty's ship Resistance has been court-martialed and reprimanded for disrespect to his captain in speaking to him with his left hand in his pocket.

Some of the shinpilasters in Western New York are made payable at Utica next July, in strawberries, if the crop does not fail.

Hon. A. J. Hamilton has been appointed Military Governor of Texas, with the rank of brigadier general.

Dr. Holmes playfully limits the necessities of life in these war times to "bread and the newspapers."

EXTRAORDINARY MARRIAGE.—A singular couple got married in Chester county, Pa., the other day, merely making the following declaration in the presence of friends: "We, Orson S. Murray and Lydia P. Jacobs, make known to our friends that we have chosen each other for conjugal companionship, in prosperity and adversity, in life and till death. We ask no license, we submit to no dictation. We bow to no authority. We recognize no God nor almighty power to guide us. Our promises are to ourselves and to each other, not to others. Our trust is not in others, but in ourselves and each other."

M'CLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.—It is said that General McClellan gave General Burnside a bit of good and generous advice as he was coming away. "Accept of no resignations if they are offered," he said, "for men will do in hot blood what they will be sorry for a week after." It is stated that General Burnside informed General Halleck a few days since, when with him, that no resignations had been handed in of any importance. There need be no fear that the army will not acquit itself well in the next battle, in spite of the croakers.

AN INDIAN FUNERAL.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, writing from Maryville, Kansas, gives a wild description of the funeral of two Indians who had been murdered in that vicinity. He pronounces the ceremonies a great demonstration of sorrow. A large number of Indians, of all ages, gathered around the grave and cut themselves with knives and ran sharp pointed sticks through their arms and legs, and howled and yelled like demons. This is the strange way that they have of mourning for any one of position among them.

MARTIN VAN BUREN'S WILL.—The will of President Van Buren has been admitted to probate at Hudson. It is dated January 18th, 1860, and commences as follows:—"I, Martin Van Buren, of the town of Kinderhook, county of Columbia, and State of New York, heretofore Governor of the State, and more recently President of the United States, and for the last and happiest year of my life a farmer in my native town, do make and declare the following to be my last will and testament, &c."

Rev. R. Richard Kirk, a clergyman of considerable celebrity, residing in Adams, Jefferson county, N. Y., dropped dead in Broadway, New York, on Sunday afternoon, while walking with his wife. The cause was the heart disease. He was for many years the pastor of the Presbyterian church in Adams, and was greatly beloved by his congregation.

Mr. Queensly, the Cambridge savant, a great admirer of the Greek poets, has given orders in his will that after his death his body shall be dissected and his skin taken off and tanned in such a manner as to convert it into a parchment, on which the Iliad of Homer shall then be copied, the singular MS. to be then deposited in the British Museum.

Mrs. Demorest's "Quarterly Mirror of Fashions" for the winter, has been received. It is, unquestionably, the most complete and useful aid to every household, we have ever seen, and should be in the hands of every lady in the land. Price only one dollar a year, or twenty-five cents a number. Address, Mrs. Demorest, 473 Broadway, N. Y.

A young Cincinnati lawyer, who had been recruiting an infantry company sold himself as a substitute for a drafted man, hoping to keep his rank and pocket the money besides. The Governor, however, on learning the facts, revoked his commission, and so the speculative genius got into the ranks as a private.

Wm. A. Richardson, of Illinois, is proposed as a successor to Mr. Browning in the Senate of the United States. Messrs. Sargent and Lent are contending for the succession to Mr. Latham in California. Alexander Ramsey will probably be chosen in Minnesota as successor to General Henry M. Rice.

A thoroughly anti-slavery French paper has been started in New Orleans L'Union, which addresses itself in particular to the French people of color, and calls on them to organize, to strike for the cause of Freedom, and to aid the Federal Government in the restoration of the Union.

Christopher Beckworth, of Huron county, Ohio, has eleven sons.—About a year ago they cast lots to see which one of their number should stay at home. The lot fell on Charles, being the youngest. Thereupon ten enlisted.

Gen. Jeff. C. Davis, having reported to Gen. Rosecrans at Bowling Green, has been assigned to his old command in the Army of the Cumberland.

One item of the State expenditures of Wisconsin, last year, was for gold pens with gold cases, costing $13 and furnished to the State officers.

The paper mills of the State of Maine are forced to stop manufacturing for the want of rags.

WOMEN AT AUCTION.—An auction of ladies used to take place annually at Babylon. "In every district," says the historian, "they assembled on a certain day in every year all the virgins of the marriageable age;" the most beautiful was put up, and he who bid the most gained possession of her. The second in appearance followed, and the bidders gratified themselves with handsome wives according to the length of their purses. But, "alas! it seems there were some ladies for whom no money was likely to be offered, yet these were the Babylonians. "When all these beautiful virgins," says the historian, "were sold, the crier ordered the most deformed ones to stand up, and after he had openly demanded who would marry her with a small sum, she was at length adjudged to the man who would be satisfied with the least." In this manner the money arising from the handsome served as a portion for those who were either of disagreeable looks or who had other imperfections. This custom prevailed about one hundred years before Christ.

HEAR A TRAITOR.—We understand that while a party of officers were regaling themselves with bad brandy and worse whisky in one of the drinking saloons of this city, a toast was proposed by an officer of a certain Pennsylvania regiment, to this effect:

The Soldiers of the Potomac; Their leader is gone—may they throw down their arms and turn their backs to the Southerners!

This toast was drunk by a party of officers—the sentiment was applauded in drunken revelry—the treason was uttered by a wretched coward who daily pockets the money of the government without giving a proper return for its pay. The name of the officer will be forwarded to the Secretary of War.

While on this subject, we will add another instance in which the service was disgraced by some of the men who wear the uniform of the army. Yesterday afternoon while three notorious bawds, "a thing" dressed in soldier clothes, coolly saluted one of them with a kiss, to the disgust and outrage of decent people present. These are the men who threatened to resign if McClellan was removed. Why don't they do so?—Harrisburg Telegraph.

A pretty sinner may chance to be more attractive than an ugly saint, and persons sometimes find it out. A good story is told of a Yankee dirge of advanced age, who married, for his second wife, a damsel young and handsome. When the elders of the church came to him to inquire if the lady was a suitable person to make a useful figure as a parson's wife, he answered frankly that he didn't think she was. "But," added the irrepressible doctor, "though I don't intend she is a saint, she is a very pretty little sinner, and I love her." And the twain became one flesh.

Charles Mackay, the rhymist who writes foolish rebel letters from the United States to the London Times, speaking of Lee's troops in Maryland, said, "they move steadily forward with the solemnity and immobility of marble statues." As "immobility" is immovableness, Lee's army, according to the rhyming cockney's notion moves with immovableness—the queerest fashion of moving we ever heard of. These cockneys find it hard to write like poets, but easy enough to write like fools.

The New York Assembly is pretty certainly Union. Instead of Luther S. Dutcher, Dem., in the 1st District of Dutchess county, John B. Dutcher Union, is elected. This makes the figures 65 Union to 63 Democrats—and at least one of the latter will probably vote with the Unionists on organization.

Garibaldi has been "sounded" with regard to his acceptance of the Throne of Greece. He would suit the Greeks exactly. His prowess, prestige, liberal sentiments, strength of intellect, they would rejoice in. He would be in reality a Republican King.

The order of the Postmaster General, providing for the redemption of solid and torn stamps will prevent any recurrence of the groundless distrust respecting them of which there have been some indications. No one will lose anything on them.

The omnibus thieves in New York wear a false pair of arms and hands which lie gracefully in the lap, while the real arms and digits are at "picking and stealing."

The official vote for Delegates from Nebraska foots up a majority of 153 for Samuel G. Daily, the Republican candidate. Mr. Daily is the present delegate.

Dr. Lambelle, the eminent Paris physician, says an electric shock is sure salvation to anybody dying from the effects of chloroform.

Why did William Tell shudder when he shot the apple from his son's head? Because it was an arrow escape for his child.

Oven Lovejoy's Majority in the Fifth district of Illinois, is two hundred and sixty.

PEN, PASTE AND SCISSORS.—The New York Democrats, under lead of Fernando Wood, have declared for Geo. B. McClellan for next President. Miss Josephine Raffin, a well-educated colored lady, has recently made her debut as a public reader.

President Lincoln has expressed a determination to adhere to his Emancipation Proclamation.

Thomas H. Clay, a son of Henry Clay, has accepted the appointment of minister to Nicaragua.

Gen. Butler, it is stated, will soon order a draft in New Orleans, to fill up vacancies in his several regiments.

Among the articles sent by soldiers through the mails as far as Washington was a live terrapin, and a dried human finger.

Brigadier General Neal Dow, of Maine Liquor Law notoriety, is now commander at Pensacola, Fla., in place of Col. Wilson.

The Japanese Ambassadors had to pay their own expenses in London. On discovering this they moderated their style of living.

It is now necessary to use check stamps on all checks for more than twenty dollars. The stamps cost two cents and are to be defaced when used.

In the United States Supreme Court at Washington, the black silk robes are abolished, the new members being averse to them, and the next session the judges will sit in simple brocade.

Garibaldi has promised to write a history of recent events in Italy. It will be likely to contain important revelations concerning the policy of Napoleon.

General Wool has been relieved of the command of the department of Maryland, &c., and Gen. Schneck succeeds him. This change will please everybody except the secesh of Baltimore.

Prarie-fires are causing much damage in various parts of Kansas, by the destruction of crops, &c. A family of six persons were burned to death or suffocated on the prairie, in Anderson county, recently.

In Moravia there is a man living, a peasant, who is one hundred and forty-seven years old and still hale and hearty. He was formerly a soldier, remarried at the age of ninety. He lives on milk and potatoes.

The 27th of November has been appointed Thanksgiving Day by the Governors of New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, Maine, Maryland, Ohio, Wisconsin, California, and New Jersey.

Gen. Fitz John Porter has been suspended from the command of his corps, and ordered to report at Washington, where the various charges preferred against him by Gen. Pope will be investigated by a Military Commission.

A German, named Strauss, in Buffalo, shot his wife a few days ago, and then blew his own head off with a fowling piece, because she scolded him when he returned from beer saloon where he had spent the money he had taken from her.

The report of an iron-plated war vessel having lately succeeded in running into Charleston, upon whose sides the cannon balls of our gunboats rattled like hail, without doing the least damage—turns out as we expected, to be all bosh.

A letter from Osage, Mo., giving an account of an engagement between the Kansas negro regiment and a large force of rebels, says: "It is useless to talk any more of negro courage. The men fought like tigers, each and every one of them, and the main difficulty was to hold them well in hand."

Gen. Halleck is said to have returned from his late visit to General Burnside much pleased with the appearance of the army, and full of confidence in the success of the forward movement which is going on. The General-in-Chief was received by the troops with the greatest enthusiasm wherever he made his appearance.

William H. Allen, Esq., for twelve years President of Girard College for orphans, has resigned the situation, and intends to retire to his farm in Bucks county. Professor Allen was formerly connected with Dickinson College, at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, from whence he was elected to the position he now resigns.

There is in New-York a man destitute of legs, who has crawled on the streets for the last ten years, during that time supporting a wife who dresses in gorgeous style, and lives luxuriously. Recently this mendicant has assumed a blue coat with army buttons, and receives numerous amounts, saying he lost his legs in the Army of the Potomac.

Oliver Wendell Holmes will contribute a newspaper to the next Atlantic. The subject will be the search he lately made to find his own son after the battle of Antietam, in which encounter the gallant boy was shot in the neck. The title of the Doctor's article is: "My Hunt after the Captain," and shall look for one of the most interesting narratives that any magazine has ever printed.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—We are in receipt of this popular Lady's Magazine for December. It is a splendid number. The title page for 1863, contains portraits of the chief contributors, is very handsome. "Peterson" will be greatly improved in 1863. It will contain 1000 pages of double column reading matter; 15 steel plates; 12 colored steel fashion plates; 12 colored patterns in Berlin work, embroidery or crochet, and 900 wood engravings—proportionately more than any other periodical gives. Its stories and novelets are by the best writers. In 1863, Four Original Copyright Novelets will be given. Its Fashions are always the latest and prettiest! Every neighborhood ought to make up a club. Its price is but Two Dollars a year, or a dollar less than Magazines of its class. It is the Magazine for the Times! To clubs, it is cheaper still, viz:—three copies for $5, five for $7.50, or eight for $10. To every person getting up a club the Publisher will send an extra copy gratis, as a premium, or a large sized mezzotint for framing, "Bunyan Parting from his Blind Child in Prison." Specimens sent (if written for) to those wishing to get up clubs.

Address, postpaid, C. J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia.

A Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American says, with regard to the removal of General McClellan, it is asserted by the friends of the President that he was the last man to consent to the same; that it was recommended at first by Gen. Halleck, and agreed to by at least five members of the Cabinet, and finally by Mr. Lincoln. It would be idle to say that the removal caused no disappointment among his friends and a considerable portion of his army, but the disappointment is believed to have been forgotten, and no untoward result is anticipated.

The Rebel General Price's son—himself high honored in the Confederate service—in taking the oath of allegiance, a few weeks since exhorted the North to maintain its position a little while longer, insisting that the grand rebellion by the institution, on various grounds, of minor rebellions within its own limits, and against its own procedures, that it could not long support its present warlike front, but must soon fall by suicide if it did not fall through sheer inanition.

General Charles D. Jameson died at his residence in Old Town, Md., last week. He was taken down with camp fever immediately after the battle of Fair Oaks, and, after partially recovering at New York, was taken home, but has been gradually failing ever since.—He was a gallant and brave officer, and was highly respected and beloved by all the men under his command. It will be remembered that he was the Democratic candidate for Governor at the recent State election, but was beaten.

If poor people would like to know how they can manage to sleep warm and have their children sleep warm these cold winter nights, we can tell them.—Let them paste enough newspapers together to make a newspaper sheet or blanket nearly or quite the size of a bed blanket and spread it between any two articles of bed covering. They will probably be astonished to find the difference.

Gen. Wool emphatically denies that he put Col. Miles in command of Harper's Ferry, for which he (Wool) was censured by the late Commission. Miles was appointed to that place by Gen. McClellan, before General Wool had control of the Department. Gen. McClellan was also censured by the Commission for his neglect to support Miles.

On the evening of a recent Sunday, a congregation in the neighborhood of Whiteby was suddenly, and as if by magic, plunged into total darkness.—The cause was that kerosene had just entered; a lady's dress caught in the key of the gas meter, the lady dragged the crinolines, the crinolines dragged the key, and the light was locked out.

The following Major-Generals are now without a command: George B. McClellan, John C. Fremont, George Cadwallader, Edwin D. Morgan, Don Carlos Buell, Irwin McDowell, Cassius M. Clay, Ethan A. Hitchcock, and Fitz John Porter.

When the gallant Gen. Jeff. C. Davis returned to his command in the Army of Gen. Rosecrans, his old division received him with general acclamation. In regard to him there was no division in that division.

Gen. Bragg informs the Rebel Government that but 1500 Kentuckians joined him; that the people hesitated to take Rebel money, and that he had to pay three prices for his supplies.

The great Suez ship-canal, which is being cut through the Isthmus, to connect the Mediterranean with the Red sea, will be 91 miles in length, 260 feet in width, and 26 feet deep.

The new Turkish Ambassador at Paris brings seven wives with him. The French have christened them Mesdames Monday, Tuesday, &c., a wife for each day.

DROWNED.—On Tuesday morning of last week, as some boatmen were about entering the lock at Lock Haven, they found themselves unable to open one of the gates, and on searching for the obstruction, they dragged forth the lifeless body of Mr. Scheid, the lock tender, which had been sticking in one of the wickets.

Volunteers, Attention!—For the derangements of the system incident to the change of diet, Wounds, Eruptions, and exposures, which every Volunteer is liable to there are no remedies so safe, convenient, and reliable as Holloway's Pills and Ointment, 25 cts. per box.
