DEATH OF AN ECCENTRIC FARMER .-Mr. Abraham Hershey, an aged farmer, died at his residence in West Hemp-MR. The silver was also in bags of various sizes, and from the weight is estimated and non commissioned officers have at over $24,000. It is not yet counted -the Captain and both Lieutenants, es. is of old issue and valuable, There was any quantity of old United States coin. The premium at the present time on this "Family Bank of Deposit" will not be less than $15,000.

Mr. Hershey was an unmarried man, but lived in his farm house, occupying a room up stairs as a sleeping chamber and depository for his wealth. In this chamber he kept his "iron" chest, confor besides the specie he holds honds and mortgages and owned the farm of 156 acres on which he lived, toiled, and

The accumulation of so much money in coin by a farmer must have taken many long years of toil to accumulate, and many anecdotes are related how the old man was accustomed to bargain for the hard metal. He was parsimonious and close, but withal honest in his dealings, paying every cent he owed, but exacting the same from every one he dealt with. He has, however, gone, and his hoarded treasure has already been removed from its secret place, and will in a few months find its way to the pockets of the beirs at law.

Since the above was in type we learn that on Monday another "deposit" was found in the house. This time the "bank" was an old blanket, and on the contents being investigated it was found to contain $1,400. Nine hundred and fifty dollars of this was in gold, and the balance in bonds, &c.-Lancaster Examiner.

We learn that the old Keesey Ferry and Fishery property opposite this place has changed hands. Mr. Israel Goodman, former publisher of The Mariettian, having become the purchaser. Mr. G. will put that old favorite resort in "good trim" in a short time; his well-known architectural skill will have ample scope to make something very pretty for a summer resort at the spring and the grounds adjacent.

The gallant 77th Pennsylvania Volunteers, from Lancaster county un | pleted to Litiz, when, we understand, a der command of their fearless and skill- formal opening, with excursion will come ful leader, Colonel Hambright, were the | off. The Company have procured a first to cross the Stone river, at the battle of Murfreesboro', and engaged the enemy on the other side. Their steadiness under fire was remarked by all,-They went at the rebels with a "yell" that made the woods ring. Their warcry was "The Keystone must conquer !"

The burgess and Council appear to be determined that the sidewalks of our borough shall no longer be a derision and by word of reproach by strangers. The walks are being put in fine condition. Whilst on the subject what is to be done with that neck-break of a walk between Col. Clark's corner and the residence of the Burgess?

READING & COMUMBIA R. R.-On MODday last this road was opened and on that day trains commenced regular trips from Columbia to Manheim. The Spy in speaking of the opening, says : This opening of the road has been long delayed by various adverse circumstances, and now only part of the finished line will be thrown open to trade and travel.

In a short time the road will be comhandsome, first-class passenger car, with which they will commence their trips to and from our neighboring borough. Mr. E. Hershey, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will be conductor on the new road, and will doubtless prove the "gentlemanly conductor" in every respect .---- Robert Crane, Esq., is superintendent of the road, and in him the company have a man of first rate ability and known integrity. The Company have chosen their officers with discrimination.-Columbia Spy.

The Supreme Court of New York bas affirmed a verdict of $1000 which a blind lady had recovered against the city for a defect in the sidewalk, by reason of which she claimed to have received damage. The Court holds that it is the duty of the corporation to keep the blind shall be protected from injury by reason of defects therein.

Our borough officials are determined that Marietta shall not be mulcted into such costs, judging from the effort now being made to have all the footwalks put in good condition. 'Tis right and should have been done years ago.

One of the Lancaster papers in speaking of Prof. Wickersham's lecture on "Woman's rights and Woman's wrongs" delivered in the Court House on Tuesday evening, says it was one of Apple to state the Rev. Mr. Officer will the most interesting delivered in that city for a long while.
