THE LATE LIEUTENANT MISHLER. - A says one of our Lancaster exchanges, the late Licut. Lyman Mishler, of this city, and who fell at the battle of Valverde, while gallantly defending the guns of the battery to which he was attached. The letter requests Mr. M. to write to William Zeckerdorf, of Alburquerque, N. M., who has a medal of honor belonging to his son, and who can furnish a satisfactory account of his death. The letter says the Lieutenant would not leave the guns, and after all the rest had left, and no other means of defense were at hand, he drew his revolvers, one of which he fired and had raised his arm to fire the other when a cannon ball passed through his breast,

Mr. Mishler, we learn, intends to make another effort to recover the body of the cemeteries of this city.
