

The Local Mariettian

MARIETTA CAR TIME TABLE.—From and after November 17th the several Passenger trains will leave as follows: Marietta Accommodation Train East at 7:00 in the morning. The Mail Train West at 12:09—noon. The Harrisburg Accommodation Train East at 2:16 in the afternoon; the same train West at 6:55 in the evening. The Mail Train East at 6:26 in the evening.

SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1863.

Rev. Mr. Gregg, of Harrisburg, the new pastor of the M. E. church at this place, will preach on Sunday morning and evening next. Rev. Mr. Wheeler, formerly stationed here, will go to Middletown.

JOSEPH C. KAUFFMAN, at one time engaged on "The Mariettian," but now in Col. Emory's 122d Pennsylvania Volunteers, writes us a very interesting letter from which we make the following extracts: "I am pleased to be able to tell you, with truth, that Marietta has in our regiment a number of good and energetic soldiers—men who are ever ready and willing to defend our star-and-stripped flag; of late our pickets have had considerable trouble, and every day increasing the number of rebel prisoners taken along the line, and we daily look for a sharp engagement on the Rappahannock; indeed we have had many reports that we are to move on the enemy soon, and as some indication of the truth of them, our officers have had orders to send home all extra baggage—not now being allowed over sixty pounds—this order is throughout the army—and it is a good one, too, for heretofore any commissioned officer could have 200 or 300 pounds if he desired it.

"Since 'fighting Joe' has taken command of this army we have been much better fed—all the boys like him, and I venture to say this army is in better fighting trim than at any previous period of its existence, and should General Hooker make a strike, you may be assured of the result—like the handle of a jug—all on one side.

I like the negro move—arming the negroes—so do all the soldiers; I have heard but a few in the army who do not freely endorse that movement, anything to put down this infernal rebellion.—With regard to the copperheads, which I blush to own myself, to considerable numbers, "the good old garden" of Lancaster county, are more detected by the army than even those in arms across the river (Rappahannock). Why don't they cross the line and give us a chance at their carcasses. Our boys declare had they been in Lancaster at the time our distinguished Congressman was egged, they would have riddled the city of every copperhead, from the vilest pick-pocket down to the mayor.

The health of the troops is excellent—hospitals are becoming empty and the ranks are filling up. Our Colonel is and has been Acting Brigadier General for some time past, and were we out for three years, he would, we are satisfied, very soon have command of this brigade; he is a good soldier and liked by the officers and men."

The Columbia Spy office is offered for sale, Mr. Samuel Wright, the editor and proprietor, having accepted a position on Brigadier General Thomas Welsh's staff is the only reason for its being in the market. The Spy is one of the oldest papers in this section, and is certainly a paying establishment.—Here is presented a fine opening for a practical printer.

The administrators of the estate of the late Judge Grosh, propose to sell the real estate of the deceased on Saturday evening the 20th instant, at the Linden Hotel. This property is certainly one the most desirable in the borough.

Tobias H. Miller, former Recorder of this county, has been appointed a clerk in the Pay Department at Washington. Mr. M. is a good clerk, a gentleman and will no doubt make a most popular and efficient officer.

The Susquehanna is now in fine running order and timber and board rafts are dropping in as fast as they can find landing room; the red shirts are here and the spring business may be said to have fairly set in.

A large eagle was shot on the 25th ult, by Benjamin Good, near Fairville, East Earl township. It measured 6 feet 11 inches from tip to tip of wings. The color black, with white head and tail.

William Appold has taken the "Eagle Hotel"—the old Stockhouse stand—David Fulmer of Columbia taking the "Perry House."

Charles Kelly still continues at the "Donegal," which is one of the largest and most conveniently arranged hotels in the county.

The Marietta post office received during the last quarter, 8773 letters.—This looks like a big correspondence.

The Patriotic Circle will meet on Friday evening at the residence of Mrs. George Rudisill, Sr.

At an adjourned meeting held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening last, for the permanent organization of the Union League of Marietta, the following named officers were reported by the committee on permanent organization, previously appointed, and unanimously elected to serve one term:

- President, JOHN J. LIBHART. Vice Presidents, JOHN W. CLARK, H. D. BENJAMIN. Recording Secretary, GEO. H. ETTLA. Corresponding Secretary, JAS. M. ANDERSON. Treasurer, GEO. W. MENAPPEY. Executive Committee, Barr Spangler, S. D. Miller, Benjamin Grove, John G. Hoerner, Thomas Stentz, Simon Groh, John K. Fidler, Abram H. Musselman, H. S. Libhart, Levi Boughter, Michl. Kambler.

The League will meet again on Thursday evening next, when the Constitution and By-Laws, which were submitted and adopted, will be transcribed and in readiness to be signed by the members.

Governor Curtin has left Harrisburg for Falmouth, Virginia, via Philadelphia. He will visit the Pennsylvania regiments in the field, and inquire into their condition and wants, in order that all necessary measures may be taken to insure proper payment and treatment of the men. On the return he will visit the Convalescent Camp near Alexandria, to look after the Pennsylvania men at that place; and, while in Washington, will make an effort to secure to the State of Pennsylvania all the advantages in the anticipated conscription to which she is entitled over other States that have not furnished the full quota of troops.

We learn from a gentleman arrived from the army of the Potomac that an example has just been made of a number of soldiers convicted of desertion. Two members of the Second New York volunteers were ridden on ten hours a day for ten consecutive days, and then publicly drummed out of camp. A member of the Tenth New Jersey, convicted of the same offense, was branded on his back with the letter "D," his head shaved, and he was drummed out of camp.

Our informant further says that when General Hooker assumed command of the army, the number of desertions were truly alarming, but now, under the arbitrary but necessary and just punishment of the crime, there are very few desertions.

The President has decided to make the first draft from the States deficient under the last call, and will not commence in the States which have furnished their full quota until the deficient States have made up their numbers. It is also reported in official circles that the first draft in the North will be from the free negro population. All the able-bodied colored men between twenty and thirty-five years of age are to be taken to fill up the ranks of the various negro brigades now under way. If this shall be carried out it will add some 40,000 men to the black army, who would be employed principally in the coast defence. It is stated at Washington that this conscription meets the approval of all parties.

A Washington correspondent, speaking of the enrollment act, says: "It is said that a force of 100,000 men or more will be brought into an instruction camp by the 1st of June. The demand of the army now in the field for reinforcements will be pressing by that time, not only on account of absentees and desertion, but of the expiration of the term for which a large number of the troops were enlisted.

General Burnside's position is at last ascertained. It appears that he was originally intended to supersede both Gen. Hunter and Gen. Foster; but the disagreement between the two latter having been compromised, he has been assigned to the command of the Department of the Ohio, superseding General Wright, and enlarging somewhat the boundaries of his command. The rebel demonstration again upon Kentucky, has led to this appointment.

Last year this time the rebels held possession of the Mississippi river from Cairo to its mouth—a distance of over 1000 miles. Now they dispute with us only that part of it between Vicksburg and Port Hudson—some 200 miles.

Mr. Samuel Wagner, of York, Pennsylvania, has entered upon his duties as the financial clerk of the United States Senate, holding his position under Mr. John W. Forney, the Secretary of the Senate.

On Thursday the 27th ultimo a raft ran by Andrew Furl, of Cambria county, was stove at Chest falls, in Clearfield county, and Furl caught in some way between the loose timbers and was killed or drowned.
