MARIETTA, SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1863.

Our town was in the most intense excitement on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday last, in consequence of the reports that the rebels were marching on Harrisburg, York, and along the Susquehanna between Peach Bottom and Columbia. A meeting was called in the Town Hall park on Monday afternoon, to devise means to raise two companies for home defense. It adjourned until evening to complete arrangements, in the meantime the Thomas Rifles had bills posted calling for volunteers to fill up their ranks. On Tuesday night the Rifles repaired to Columbia to assist in protecting the bridge, where they—with several hundred citizens—remained all night. On Wednesday word of the districting of the Susquehanna was received and this portion placed in charge of Lieut. William Johnston, late of Co. H, 135th Pennsylvania Volunteers, who directed the Rifles to take position at the Glatz ferry, on the York county side, where they remained for the night. On Thursday morning things looked a little more calm, word having been received from Harrisburg that troops were flocking into that city as fast as place could be provided for them—this had the effect of calming the overtimorous, and things once more assumed a calm, courageous but determined aspect, and all set to work to have something decisively done. A company of colored men was then started and in a short time forty-six men were on the muster roll, a white captain—David Colts—selected and all in readiness to rendezvous—a committee of citizens to call on the Governor, to ascertain what was next to be done, was sent to Harrisburg. The committee returned with word that the colored troops could only be received for "three years or the war." Here was a "stand-still" again. The Thomas Rifles are still on the York county side of the Susquehanna. On Thursday the Ladies of the Patriotic Circle sent baskets after baskets for the "inner man," and arrangements were made to supply, regularly, all on duty, with rations. The ladies connected with this patriotic association are doing all in their power to alleviate want and prevent suffering. Their reward will come some day. The river has raised considerable, making furling it out of the question. Lieut. Johnston has had pickets posted all along his entire line and the ferryman and boats brought to the Lancaster county side every evening. Since the above was put in type, we learn that Lieut. Johnston has been superseded by Henry S. Lighthart who has taken charge of the defenses along this portion of the route. This is a most grievous mistake of Col. Franklin. Lieut. Lighthart had put everything in working order and he is known, published and regarded as the officer in charge, and now this uncalculated change has brought about great dissatisfaction and confusion. Lieut. J. has had some experience in military affairs whilst his successor has had none.

Our County Commissioners have acted nobly throughout this whole rebellion. In getting up Coles, Hambricht and Franklin's regiments they contributed liberally and now they again come to the rescue, as will be seen by the following: Whereas, It is believed that an army of rebels now threaten the soil of Pennsylvania; and whereas, the President of the United States has issued his proclamation to the Governor of this State to raise 50,000 men to repel such an invasion if the same should be made; and whereas, the Commissioners of Lancaster County, fully appreciating the necessity of raising troops for said purpose and desirous to assist the same, have resolved, That the sum of $20 be allowed every able bodied citizen until one regiment is made up, who may enlist in said service, to be paid immediately upon their being mustered into service for the space of six months.—And in addition to said bounty, that they will guarantee to each man and every person so enlisted, an amount equal to one month's wages—provided the same is not paid by the government.

On Friday night last, or rather Saturday morning, we were favored with a delightful serenade from "Keffor's Cotton Band" of Lancaster, which had been in our vicinity furnishing the music for a party. Prof. W. H. Keffor is one of the finest musicians in the State, and his band produces the sweetest dancing music—to some of which we tipped our toes to years ago—which it was our good fortune to have over-listened to. His band is the "pet" in Lancaster. On Sunday evening next, at the M. E. Church, a sermon is to be delivered to the Good Templars, by Rev. Mr. Grigg.

Godley for July is on our table. Every lady pretending to any culture, should not be without Godley.

From our Harrisburg Correspondent.

Editor Mariettian:—When the mandate of the law requires the life of man as the penalty of his crime, his last moments become of great value to himself, and of great interest to those who surround him. Friday, June 5th, will long be remembered by the soldiers of this department who never witnessed an execution. In the early part of March, William A. Silkirk, a citizen of Tennessee, in company with three other men, murdered Adam Weaver, a citizen of the same state, for the purpose of getting his money, which amounted to several thousand dollars. After committing the horrid deed they fled to the rebel army; here they were arrested for committing depredations, and placed in jail at Huntsville, Alabama. They made their escape from jail, and Wm. A. Silkirk came to our lines and reported himself as a rebel deserter and desired to join our ranks. Several of Col. Stokes's 1st Middle Tennessee Cavalry, who are very familiar with the citizens and country of this section, recognized in him the man who murdered Weaver.—Through their influence a military commission convened and Wm. A. Silkirk was found guilty of the charge of murder. Gen. Rosecrans approved the sentence and ordered Gen. Thomas to have it carried into execution on the 5th of June, between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock, P. M. The scaffold was erected within a short distance of the camp of the 79th, and about a mile from the city. Long before the hour a motley crowd could be seen approaching the place of execution, being a combination of officers, soldiers, teamsters and contrabands. After patiently waiting an hour or more, the glitter of bayonets surrounding the wagon in which the culprit sat, told the cortege was approaching; an hearing the ground an advance guard was sent to clear the ground around the scaffold; the assembly fell back in anything but a graceful manner, when the command "Charge bayonets," was given. With the condemned there were several priests, who offered several prayers in his behalf. The order containing the charge was read, after which the prisoner said, "I am innocent of the charge; I was there, but did not commit the murder; yet, I am ready to die"; his arms were then tied, the rope adjusted, the cap drawn over his face and there he stood, for a moment, on the brink of eternity; the drop fell, and he was no longer a prisoner; nature's debt was paid, and in a few minutes, to earth, he was gone.

That handsome agent of Secretary Chase, the paymaster, was with us a few mornings ago and paid the 79th before breakfast. The greater part of this army has been paid to April 30th. Col. Wilder's mounted infantry, or the hatchet brigade, as they are sometimes called (being first armed with hatchets), captured 100 men, between 130 and 200 horses and mules and 50 wagons loaded with supplies, in the vicinity of Snow Hill last Thursday. This brigade has done good service; they confiscated their horses and bought their arms. Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Franklin a few days ago; we have not learned the cause. We are, nearly all the time, under marching orders of late. S. E. W.

We have received from Lieut. ABRAHAM ALSTED, formerly of this place, now attached to the Provost Guard at Beaufort, South Carolina, a copy of the "Free South," a neat little sheet published at Beaufort. In a note to us, Lieut. A. says the 54th Regiment, Mass. Vols., colored, had arrived there and had already done such work as settled the question "will niggers fight,"—He says they are a fine body of well disciplined, well drilled set of men and fight like tigers. The Montgomery raid settled that point.

John L. Jacobs, of Maytown, is getting up a Cavalry company for State defence. Mr. J. has had considerable experience in military affairs—both theoretical and practical. He was the first Lieutenant of Captain Congden's Marietta company, during the three months service.

Do you want to sleep well? Do you want to be vigorous and feeling? If you do, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. Although not disposed to favor, or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients, and effects; I know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in his honest and ready testimony to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when I had not lost my long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor, which had not been enjoyed for months before, and had almost disappeared of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J. Newton Brown.

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862. Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, you know me, and I know you, and I know your life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by hundreds of my comrades, and who of whose names are appended, and who are fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am and have been for the last year and a half, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked with Rheumatism, with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to the city of New Orleans, and thence to Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was unable to stand, or to do anything, and I did force a moral down, it was immediately thrown up again. I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physician who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to seek my friends, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinron, of Sixth below Arch street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and he kindly recommended that from the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Tho' I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears.—To your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dear to me in life. BE VERY TRULY YOURS, I. ABRAHAM MALONE. We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health. For a week or more I was unable to stand, or to do anything, and I did force a moral down, it was immediately thrown up again. I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physician who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to seek my friends, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinron, of Sixth below Arch street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and he kindly recommended that from the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Tho' I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears.—To your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dear to me in life. BE VERY TRULY YOURS, I. ABRAHAM MALONE. We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health. COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS. Will be speedily relieved and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box. Sick Headache and want of Appetite Incidental to Soldiers! Those feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is wholesome, thus disturbing the healthy action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to do well.—The Pills, taken according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite. Weakness and debility induced by over Fatigue. Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for the Pills will correct the liver and stomach, and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the former from the system and leave the Patients in vigorous and healthy man. It will require slight perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure. For Wounds either occasioned by the Bayonet Sabre or the Bullet, Sores or Bruises, &c. To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there is no medicine so safe, and so convenient as Holloway's Pills and Ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this medicine. The Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then cover with a piece of linen from his Knapsack and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflammation. Every Soldier's Knapsack and Seaman's Chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies. IMPORTANT CAUTION—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway's, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions, around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light.—By using this medicine you will be giving to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious. The Manufactory of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the civilized world, in pots, at 25c, 62c, and $1 each. Be careful to see that the name of the patentee in every disorder are affixed to each pot. There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. [Dec 20-ly]
