MARIETTA, SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1863.

Rev. Mr. Gregg's sermon to the Cadets of Temperance will take place on to-morrow (Sunday) evening in the M. E. church.

On Thursday last the panic became so great—that the rebels were within a few miles of Carlisle, and moving on to Harrisburg with all possible haste, and would soon be in our borough—that several of our large merchants commenced packing up their goods, preparatory to shipping them eastward. Every dispatch received after noon on Thursday, depicted the "State of things" worse, and during the evening droves of farm horses were seen passing through our place, seeking safety elsewhere .-Some of the frightened farmers had come with their stock from Franklin county, saying upward of 3000 horses had already been taken from that county.

The Tobacco growers in this section-and their name is legion-have been busy as nailors ever since the late rain. Every available patch of ground, even the long unoccupied water lots between the canal and river, are now ploughed up and put in Tobacco-all things favoring, there will be an immense crop of the weed this season.

The remains of the deceased, notwithstanding the long time that elapsed since his death, were in an excellent state of preservation, and when the box was opened on Saturday the features retained much of their natural aspect .-The remains had been put up in a strong plank box, air tight, surrounded with at Fank's Cross Keys, this evening.charcoal. MARIETTA, JUNE 24, 1863. Mr. F. L. Baker, Sin:-I deem it my duty to the people of Marietta, and vicinity, that I should make a plain statement of facts concerning my removal by Colonel Franklin, late of the 122d Regiment, P. V., as Captain of that portion of the "Defences of Lancaster county" between Chiques and the Dauphin county line, in order to let them know by what kind of gerrymandering the thing was done. In the first place, I never sought the office-it was altogether gratuitous on the part of Col. Franklin; nor did I even know that I was appointed until I saw my name in the Evening Express, and upon this information I immediately repaired to Lancaster and received my "instructions"-verbal-from Col. Franklin. They were to the effect that I should picket the line with all the available force I could gather. Upon my arrival home I immediately ordered the "S. B. Thomas Rifles" (the only organized military company in the district) to the York county side of the river, to guard the approaches. I also received information that a company was forming in Bainbridge, for "State Defence." I went there and assumed G. R. HENDRICKSON. the command, and placed the men in | Mountjoy, May 2, 1863-3m.

position on the York county side of the river. This was done on the 17th inst. The next day I received the following note from Col. Franklin:

LANCASTER, June 18, 1863. Capt. Wm. Johnstin:-1 have just earned that Capt. H. S. Libhart has a company of fifty men got up to act under his orders on the Susquehanna between Columbia and the Dauphin county line. I have therefore placed him in command of the line, relieving you.--With many thanks for your attention in the matter I remain,

Very respectfully, EMLEN FRANKLIN. Commanding Defences.

As I had the honor of enjoying (?) the office one day, before I was relieved, I wish to inform the people that in that time I had over one hundred armed men in position on the line.

My removal was brought about in the following manner: Geo. W. Mehaffey and Simon Snyder Nagle went to Lancaster and represented to Col. Franklin that I was lying "dormant," and that Capt. H. S. Libhart had fifty cavalry men, composed of the best citizens, who were anxious to act as scouts along the line, (however, Libhart did not have ten men at the time, and did not get fifty for three days after I was relieved, and these were obtained fraudulently by the aid of "roughs, shoulder, hitters," &c.,) and, therefore, it was necessary that I should be relieved and Captain Libbart appointed. At this, however, Colonel Franklin hesitated, and offered to give the appointment to Col. * * This was a stunner to our worthy expost master and proprietor of a one. horse menagerie, consisting of a living elk, etc. He knew too well that Col. * * * was too much of a gentleman to accept an office obtained in that out, took up the sword and in a few manner.
