MARIETTA CAR HOURS. The several passenger trains will leave the "Upper-station Depot" as follows: Morning train, East, at ten minutes before 8; Mail train West, 11:35; Harrisburg Accommodation train, East, at 9 minutes after 5; the same train West, at five minutes before 7 in the evening.

MARIETTA, SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1863.

On Wednesday of last week, Col. J. G. Frick's 27th Pennsylvania Volunteers, arrived at Columbia from Harrisburg, and took command of the defenses at that point. On Thursday morning eight companies of the regiment encamped on the farm of "old Joe Detwiler," near Wrightsville, two companies remaining on the Columbia side of the river, and quartered in the old Tobacco warehouse, just above the bridge. Everything went on in a gay picnic style—ladies falling in love with the fine looking officers—until Sunday afternoon, when word was received that the rebels were coming from York five thousand strong—"horse, foot and dragoon"—which brought all to the serious thought that "danger was near." Col. Frick's command met the enemy a short distance beyond Wrightsville and gave battle, but the over-powering numbers compelled them to retreat, which they did in good order, and after all had got into the bridge—the enemy following close behind—the eastern end of the bridge was blown out and set fire to. The entire structure was burned to the stonework. On Monday it was thought they had abandoned Wrightsville, when a portion of Col. Frick's command came to Marietta and here threw up some embankments. The railroad trains ceased running on Saturday. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a locomotive and two freight cars came up from Columbia with "provender" for the troops stationed here, however, the ladies had in the meantime sent fresh bread, butter, &c., to them. All kinds of rumors were flying about the rebels falling back to York—then to Carlisle, &c. It was also reported that on retreating from Wrightsville to York, they demanded of the Yorkers one hundred thousand dollars in coin, two hundred barrels of flour, two thousand pairs of boots or shoes and two thousand hats, and on failure to do so they would shell the borough. The Pennsylvania Railroad company have a guard all along their road, within speaking distance—night and day—with orders to report to the nearest telegraph station on the attempt of any rebels to cross the river. The water has been left out of this portion of the canal, intending, it is said, to use the canal for rifle pits. Our stores don't pretend to sell anything but groceries, having packed up and sent away overlying in the dry goods line.

P. S.—Since the above was put in type we learn that of the hundred thousand dollars demanded, that only $28,610 was raised and the following articles: 2,500 lbs. sugar; 32,000 lbs. beef; 1,200 lbs. salt; 2,000 pairs boots and shoes; 1,000 hats; 1,000 socks; 165 bis flour and 300 gallons molasses. To get the requisite number of shoes those left to be repaired had to be taken. We are told that the copperheads of the place say that the rebels were very lenient with them—that they respected private property, &c., and that no complaints should be made. If making such a demand can be tolerated into "respect for private property" we are at a loss to know what term to give plundering.

Our neighbors at Columbia erected earthworks in front of the dam, to prevent rebels from crossing on the breast of it; after the completion of the work, on Saturday evening the 20th ultimo, a national flag was raised on the large walnut tree near the spot, and a feast was given to the force employed on the work, and to the citizens and soldiers generally. A large crowd had gathered and partook of the roast, and other refreshments. A very appetizing supper was spread on tables constructed for the occasion, which was fully appreciated by the citizens present. The works constructed at the dam consist of entrenchments and embowered fortifications, the latter having the masonry of the abutment of the dam for face.—Properly armed and manned these would prove truly dangerous strongholds. An ox was roasted on the occasion, which was provided by the liberality of H. R. Koolwell of the Shawnee furnaces, and W. G. Case of the Columbia Rolling Mill, so says the Columbia Spy.

The following resolution has just been adopted by our County Commissioners: "Resolved, That the sum of two dollars per week be paid out of the County fund to each and every resident of Lancaster county, who will volunteer his services under the last proclamation of the Governor of the State, for the space of three months, or during the period in which they are in active service, until they are finally discharged."

A car containing seventy-five rebel prisoners passed through this place on Wednesday. They came into our lines at Harrisburg and were sent to Philadelphia.

Saturday capped the climax in our borough—confusion worse confounded—the stores having packed up nearly everything and windows and doors closed, made everything look like a thanks-giving day "away down east." Sunday, a thousand-and-one rumors of the enemy crossing the Susquehanna at Bainbridge, Haldeman's, White's and a half-dozen other places. Men on horseback riding furiously up and down the streets calling "to arms." At length a squad was collected which went to Schock's Mill and there learned that the great bulk of the enemy was moving toward Wrightsville, and about six o'clock firing was distinctly heard on the York county side and when it ceased the Columbia bridge was found to be on fire. It is reported that the rebel force was about five thousand, under General Gordon, and Col. Frick's only about six hundred, so that it would have been madness to have persisted in contesting the ground. Col. Frick ordered a retreat, and 'tis said only one man killed—a negro—and three men wounded in the skirmish. In this brush shells were thrown into the Susquehanna, a great many bursting in the air. At Wrightsville three frame houses, a foundry, planing mill and some lumber was burned by taking fire from the burning bridge. Col. Schock writes the Lancaster Express that the loss of the Columbia bridge will not affect the bank any. The first bridge over the Susquehanna at Columbia was destroyed by the great freshet of 1832; it cost upward of two hundred thousand dollars; the one just burned cost $159,000, but in the estimate of the assets of the Bank its value was put down the last year at $100,000. On this there was an insurance of $50,000.

Lancaster county, under the late call from the Governor, will be required to furnish 2154 men. The following is the Governor's call for sixty thousand men for the defence of the State, for the period of ninety days: I. Camps of Rendezvous will be established by the United States Government for districts, comprising the adjacent counties, at such points as may be indicated by the commandant of the Department of the Susquehanna and the Department of the Monongahela, in charge of which Camps Commanders and skillful Surgeons will be appointed; II. Squads and Companies will be received at the camps, and as rapidly as possible, organized into companies of not less than sixty-four men, and mustered into the service of the State, by officers appointed by the Adjutant General for this purpose. III. Officers will be elected—company officers by the men, and field officers by the company or line officers. IV. Transportation to the camp of rendezvous, nearest their location, will be furnished by the United States Government, on application of any one actually having charge of a squad or company, to the agent at the nearest railroad station. V. Troops, responding to this call of the Governor, will be clothed, subsisted, equipped and supplied by the General Government, after arriving at their rendezvous.

The following table shows the towns and distances on the Cumberland Valley railroad, from Harrisburg to Hagerstown, six miles north of Williamsport, on the Potomac, near where the rebels crossed into Maryland. The rebels appear to have advanced along this line of railroad since they crossed the border, and the knowledge of the distances from Harrisburg to the towns along the road, will aid in understanding the locality of the invaders:

Table with 3 columns: TOWNS, MILES, TOWNS, MILES. Rows include Harrisburg, Bridgeport, Shiremanstown, Mechanicsburg, Kingston, Middlesex, Carlisle, Good Hope, Allentown, Newville, etc.

The fourth will be celebrated in this borough by a military and civic procession, reading of the declaration of independence, speeches, patriotic songs, &c., in the Town Hall Park.—This celebration was gotten-up on the spur of the moment, in order to have something on the fourth. The companies now doing duty here will participate.

Correspondence from the army before Vicksburg expresses great confidence of the capture of the city. Gen. Grant himself is also reported to have declared that he was fully able to take the city by assault, but would not uselessly expend life. Gen. Welsh's Ninth Army Corps is there, in which is the Pennsylvania Forty-Fifth, to which so many of our Marietta boys belong. John Duppel offers five dollars reward for any information that will lead to the recovery of two cows, which were either stolen or strayed away on Tuesday last. One was a spotted crumpled horn cow—the other a red ruley. This will be a severe loss to John should it prove true that they were stolen.

The post office will be open today—July 4th—from 7 to 8 in the morning; from 12 to 1 at noon; from 7 to 8 in the evening.

Gen. Reynolds, was killed at the battle near Gettysburg on Wednesday last. He was a brother of James L. Reynolds, of Lancaster, where his remains have been brought. He was a bachelor.

The borough council of Columbia offers a bounty of $20 in addition to the $20 offered by the County Commissioners, to all who will enlist for six months or the "Emergency." This is a liberality worthy of imitation.

The Caletonia Furnace, in Franklin county, owned by Thaddeus Stevens, was visited by the rebels, while they occupied York, and everything burned.

THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY HERALD. The best and cheapest Family newspaper in THE WORLD.

THE 27TH VOLUME OF THE NEW-YORK HERALD, the cheapest and best family newspaper in existence, was commenced on the first of January last. The proprietor and editor now devotes special attention to all the departments of THE WEEKLY HERALD, in News, Literature, Fashion, War Maps, Agriculture, the Mechanic Arts, Sporting Matters, Financial Reports, Cattle Market Reports, Horse Market Reports, Business Reports, Editorials, Poetry, and all other essentials of a first class WEEKLY NEWSPAPER. It will be found unsurpassed. It will be especially adapted to the requirements of a family, possessing for the fathers all the most important political, financial and commercial news; while for the ladies its carefully selected columns of literature of a higher order and fashionable intelligence will be found unusually interesting.

THE WEEKLY HERALD has the advantages of all the facilities of the NEW-YORK DAILY HERALD, which is acknowledged to be the leading paper of the country. For instance, the Tribune, through its managing editor, makes the following admission in a letter to one of its reporters: "The office of the Tribune, New-York, April 28, 1863. My Dear Sir:—The indignity and anxiety about Yorktown is foolish, and the public life of the paper that is always giving something. If there is absolutely nothing to write about, drop again and tell me that. The Herald is constantly ahead of us with Yorktown news. The fact is, the 16th were completely routed from it. Yours very truly, S. H. GAY."

This week, THE WEEKLY HERALD will CONTAIN: 1. All the News of the week—Foreign and Domestic, Military, Political, and Social—furnished by its corps of Reporters Correspondents and Contributors. 2. Editorials, grave and gay, lively and severe, commending upon the topics of the day. The humorous editorials of the Herald are one of its greatest specialties. 3. The best, most complete and authentic War Maps ever published in a comprehensive, Exact, minute, reliable, and comprehensive. The Agricultural Column of the Weekly Herald is universally conceded to be the most useful and ably prepared article of the kind; writers of well known ability and experience are especially employed for this purpose. The Weekly Herald will also contain Financial articles, carefully compiled by writers of great ability. Also reports of all the Markets, Money, Dry Goods, Provisions, &c., acknowledged to be the most complete and carefully edited articles of the kind appearing in any weekly journal. And all the odds and ends of useful information which any reader needs.

THE WEEKLY HERALD is published every Saturday morning, will be furnished at the following rates for 1 year: One copy, $2.00; Three copies, $5.00; Five copies, $8.00; Ten copies, $15.00. Any larger number, addressed to names of subscribers, $1.00 each. An extra copy will be sent to every club of ten. Twenty copies, to one address, one year, $25, and any larger number at same price. An extra copy will be sent to clubs of twenty. Advertisements to a limited number will be inserted in the Weekly Herald. THE DAILY HERALD, Three cents per copy. Ten dollars per year for three months and sixty-three issues. Five dollars for six months. Two dollars and fifty cents for three months. JAS. GORDEN BENNETT, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR, N. W. Corner Fulton and Nassau Sts., New York City.

Editors publishing the above prospectus two or three times will be entitled to an exchange of the Herald, if they have no traveling agents for the Herald.
