The Mariettian.

MARIETTA, PA.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1863.

☞ The following circular was issued from the War Department. To answer inquiries made at this office, it is announced:

First—Any drafted person paying $300, under section 13 of the Enrolment act, is thereby exempt from any further liability under that draft, but not from any subsequent draft.

Second—Any drafted person furnishing an acceptable substitute is exempt from military service for the period for which said substitute is mustered into the service.

Third—A substitute once mustered into the service, cannot be drafted while in the service.

Fourth—A drafted man cannot pay commutation money or present a substitute after he has reported himself to the board of enrolment for examination.

Fifth—Men who, on the third of March, 1863, were in the military service of the United States as substitutes under the draft of 1862, and whose terms of service has since expired, are not liable to the present draft, but the persons for whom they were substitutes are liable to draft the same as though they had not been drafted and furnished substitutes under the draft of last year.

Sixth—In serving the notice as required by circular No. 42, from this office, a reasonable time to report shall be granted by the Board of Enrolment to the men in the State service who have been or may be drafted.

JAMES B. FRY,
Provost Marshal General.

☞ Capt. Belcher, of a Maine regiment, taken prisoner by the rebels at Gettysburg, has escaped from them.—He says the rebels only retreated four miles during Saturday; that they were not demoralized or in disorder, but acknowledged that they were badly whipped. The rebels took 4,000 Union prisoners, whom Capt. B. saw in the rear of the rebel army. The rebels say Lee was compelled to fight Meade in a bad location, and when he gives the yankees battle again he will certainly be victorious. They estimate their killed and wounded at 20,000.

☞ The exact number of prisoners taken by Grant at Vicksburg is 32,277 and fourteen generals, and when we call to mind the large amount of artillery and small arms taken, also—200 cannon and 66,000 stand of small arms—this capture transcends in magnitude any yet made during the war, and is a crushing blow to the rebellion.

A correspondent of the New Bedford Mercury, attached to the Massachusetts 33d, writing after the battle of Gettysburg, says that our men were granted permission to take the shoes from the feet of the dead rebels, as they appeared to be new and but little worn, probably some that they had confiscated since they entered the State—very acceptable articles to our men, many of whom had marched over fifty miles barefooted.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Times publishes the following: "On the 28th of June a gentleman residing in Galena, a warm personal friend of General Grant, received a letter from the commander of the troops before Vicksburg, in which was enclosed an invitation to a dinner to be given on the fourth day of July, 1863, at 3 P. M., by U. S. Grant. The Galena gentleman is willing to stake his fortune that Grant dined in Vicksburg at the time appointed."

On the 8th instant, Gen. Grant finished paroling reb prisoners at Vicksburg. They number 32,277. The general officers captured include Generals Pemberton, Stevenson, Forney, Taylor, Lee, Smith, Herbert, Cummings, Barton, Sharp, Harris, Moore, Baldwin and Vaughan.

The order issued some time since by Major General Halleck, forbidding officers of the army to remain in Washington without special leave, was put in vigorous force on Monday, and resulted in the arrest of some general officers of distinction, including Generals Hooker and Naglee.

All direct communication between Richmond and General Lee's army has been cut, and a large number of troops in and about Richmond, that would otherwise have gone to reinforce him, have been detained.

The Philadelphia Daily North American, one of the most conservative, careful and reliable in its statements, says, "we understand that Lee's retreat was a complete rout and that the spirit of his army is utterly broken."

The latest Richmond papers received pay high compliments to Gen. Lee for his brilliant victories in Pennsylvania, and report everything going on well at Vicksburg. Jeff's organs are behind.

INHUMANITY OF THE REBEL SURGEONS.—The infamy and cowardice of the rebel Surgeons in deserting the men of their army wounded at the battle of Gettysburg is without parallel in the war. In every battle in which fortune has been adverse to our arms, and our wounded have been temporarily left within the rebel lines, the brave and self-denying Surgeons of the regiments have either remained with the fallen, or have immediately applied for passes within the rebel lines that they might be cared for. But the rebels left lying on the field many thousand of their wounded—Dr. Vellum reports the number at ten thousand—and left with them neither Surgeons, stores nor nurses, but literally abandoned them to their fate.

These men complained bitterly of the cruelty of their Surgeons in thus forsaking them, but bore up patiently under their sufferings for many days until they could be attended to by some of our own Surgeons, most of whom had at once to hasten forward with their own regiments to other fields. Up to Thursday of last week, six days after the close of the contest, there were hundreds of the rebel wounded not then reached, and hundreds of them it had been found impossible even to cover, and that they lay in the woods with broken limbs and torn bodies, drenched in the rain, some having even been drowned in the floods which rose around them. Of course everthing possible was being done for them, and doctors, wound-dressers and nurses were arriving.

GENERAL SICKLES.—Gen. Sickles, his friends will be gratified to learn, is doing well. After receiving his wound and undergoing amputation, he was conveyed to Washington by a crooked route, to avoid the enemy. At one house in Pennsylvania the wounded man was obliged to pay five dollars for a night's stay. After his arrival at Washington he showed symptoms of exhaustion, which gave rise to apprehensions; a message was sent to Mrs. Sickles to repair thither, which has since been countermanded. General Hooker paid him a visit, and he was admitted; the two grasped each other's hands, neither of them saying a word. Tears rolled down the cheeks of the iron-hearted veteran, and he turned away. Messrs. Lincoln and Hamlin also called, as is generally known. According to present indications it will not be many months before Gen. Sickles will again be in the saddle. His surgeon has declined proffered assistance, because of the improved condition of the patient; and application has already been made for a Palmer's patent leg, to replace, as early as can be permitted, the limb lost at Gettysburg.

☞ The rebel wounded, at Gettysburg freely admit that Lee's forces were terribly defeated. Not a few, especially from North Carolina, express a desire not to go into the rebel service again. One soldier from the Old North State followed Senator Wilkinson half a mile to tell him that he, with his fellows, had been impressed into the service, and that the old flag of the Union was dear to him yet. No man is so ignorant as not to know that the rebel money is utterly worthless, and they would discard it altogether, did not the rebel laws compel them to use it.

☞ Perhaps the intelligence which will prove most interesting to the public is the success of the combined attack on Morris Island, the flanking defences of Charleston Harbor, and the capture of all the batteries located there except Fort Wagner, the rebels losing between 700 and 800 men in the action. This battle commenced on Friday morning and still continued when the accounts closed on Sunday, with every prospect of the speedy capture of Fort Wagner. Five Monitors are engaged.

☞ The Brigade Regulars attached to the Fifth Corps, suffered severely in the late fight at Gettysburg. It went into action with 80 officers and 835 men, and lost 36 officers and 472 men killed and wounded. One of its regiments, the 11th, went into the fight with 244 men, of whom 117 privates and officers were killed or wounded. This regiment has been in every fight, from those during McClellan's seven days' retreat, to Gettysburg.

☞ The editor of the Gettysburg Compiler, a Democratic paper, has been sent to Fort McHenry. It appears that Mrs. Buehler, the wife of the postmaster, had secreted a number of Union soldiers in her house, some of whom were wounded. Upon the reoccupation of the town by the rebels the aforesaid editor disclosed the fact to one of their officers, and at the same time designated points where arms and liquor could be found.

☞ Vicksburg surrendered on the 45th day of the siege. It was defended with great bravery and much skill, and Pemberton comes out defeated, but with a better reputation than he had before, while Grant wins a victory—the fifteenth he has gained, without suffering one defeat.

☞ General Grant has been commissioned a major general in the regular army, and General Meade a brigadier in the same service.

☞ A dispatch from Vicksburg dated July 8th, says that sixty-six thousand stand of small arms had been found, mainly in good condition, and more were being constantly discovered. They were concealed in caves as well as in all sorts of buildings.

The siege and sea coast guns found exceed sixty, and the whole captured artillery is above two hundred pieces.

The stock of rebel ammunition also proves to be surprisingly heavy.

The stock of army clothing is officially invoiced at five million dollars Confederate money.

Of sugar, molasses and salt, there is a large quantity. Sixty thousand pounds of bacon were found at one place.

☞ Lee has escaped to the Virginia side of the Potomac. The rebel general Pettigrew was killed while his corps was attempting to cross. When Gen. Meade learned that Lee was about to cross at Falling Waters, he called together his Corps Commanders and a council of war was held to decide upon an attack; his generals were equally divided as to the policy of attack, General Meade himself was in favor of active operations, but finding his corps commanders equally divided, he hesitated to give the order, and the rebel army was allowed to make their escape. The loss since its move into this state, is set down by knowing ones at 33,000.

☞ Volunteers Attention!—For the derangements of the system incidental to the change of diet, wounds, eruptions, and exposures which every volunteer is liable to, there are no remedies so safe, convenient, and reliable as Holloway's Pills and Ointment. Only 25 cents per box or pot. 209.

☞ Gen. Banks captured Port Hudson on the 5th, and with it 18,000 prisoners, this news may almost be said to indicate the collapse of the rebellion in the Southwest.

THE SOLDIER'S TRUE
FRIEND ALWAYS READY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—Long marches, sore and stiff joints, blistered and inflamed feet, all these the Soldiers must endure, MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS, when your sons are grasping their muskets to meet danger, think what relief a single pot of this ALL HEALING & COOLING Salve will give to the one you love when far away from home and friends. It hardens and makes tough the feet so that they can endure great fatigue. It soothes and relieves the inflamed and stiffened joints, leaving them supple, strong and vigorous, while for SABRE CUTS and GUNSHOT WOUNDS it stands unequalled, removing and preventing every vestige of inflamation and gently drawing the edges together, it quickly and completely heals the most frightful wound.
WIVES AND SISTERS OF OUR VOLUNTEERS
You cannot put into the Knapsacks of your husbands and brothers, a more valuable ormore necessary gift than a supply of this Extraordinary Military Salve.
The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chilled night air, is often seized with most VIOLENT PAINS, Cough and suffocating Hoarseness, first symptoms of quick consumption, but if supplied with Holloway's Pills and Holloway's Ointment, all danger is averted, a few Pills taken night and morning, and the Ointment well rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the severest pains and stop the most distressing or dangerous cough. Therefore we say to the whole Army
SOLDIERS ATTENTION!
See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies, although most valuable.—These Pills and Ointment have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the Armies in Europe, and during the Crimean Campaign he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these Great Remedies. many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of
SOLDIER IN CAMP,
Dierhea, Dysentery, Scurvy, Sores and Scrofulous Eruptions, all disappear like a charm before these Pills and Ointment, and now while the cry rings throughout the land,
TO ARMS!——TO ARMS!!
Do not let these brave men perish by diseases place in their hands these Precious Remedies that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get succour in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.
IMPORTANT CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot and box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.
Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents, and $1 each.
N.B.—Directions for the guidance of patients th every disorder are affixed to each box.
☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. [Dec. 20-1y
