THE STARY SENATE -The Union men have a majority of one in the State Senate, but one of their Senators happens to be in the hands of the Copperheads-Major White, of the Indiana district being a prisoner at Richmond. As his deteution there will be a favor to the rebel sympathizers here, Jeff. Davis will probably decline to exchange him. But his absence will not prevent the progress of business. The Senate, unlike the House, is always organized from the previous session. Mr. Penny is Speaker, and will continue so until a successor is chosen ; and the other officers of the Senate will continue to officiate until they are relieved by the election of others.
