

The Local Mariettian.

MARIETTA CAR HOURS. The general passenger trains will leave the "Upper-station Depot" as follows: Morning train, East, at ten minutes before 8; Mail train West, 12:11; Harrisburg Accommodation train, East, at 6:30 and the evening train West, at 7:02.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1863.

THE BRADY MURDER CASE: This important case was brought to a close on Saturday evening last. We give the leading testimony in full, together with the verdict and sentence:

Geo. W. Mehauffey gave the most satisfactory testimony, which we give in full:

Geo. W. Mehauffey testified that he had gone to the saloon soon after the body was discovered by Mr. Burkart and Moore, among the first of the spectators that had arrived. He knew it would be necessary for an inquest to be held. Squire Auxer, the deputy coroner of Marietta, was absent, and Coroner Brown, of Maytown, was sent for. He found the body lying at full length, the feet about one foot behind the counter, the greater part of the body extended beyond, on the floor towards the western end of the building. He was lying upon his side, in such a position that the injuries inflicted could be easily seen, although one was a little on the left side of the head near the centre. The whole floor was covered with blood, in such quantities that the impression of the murderer's foot was plainly to be seen for weeks after the occurrence. From an experiment he had made to test the correctness of his judgment, he believed it to be made by a gum shoe. He had taken a gum shoe of the same size as the mark in the blood; a bucket of water, thickened it with mud, until he thought it was of the same consistency as blood. Into this, he dipped the shoe, and made an impression close to that made in the blood on the floor of the saloon. The impression by placing the gum shoe, with a perfectly erect form, did not correspond exactly with the one made by the murderer; that is by bearing equally on both feet; but by throwing the weight of the body upon the right foot, the impression was an exact copy. The shoe worn by the murderer was on the right foot. Brady had one boot on and one off. He had never seen him in this way frequently. He never wore stockings winter or summer; one of his feet pained him from bunions and corns. There were two glasses on the bar, when he entered the saloon. One was a small beer glass; and the other was a large beer glass with a handle to it. In the small glass, there was what Brady called "biters," made of whisky and some roots. The larger beer glass was empty, save a little sediment. The wounds were inflicted by a sharp-edged tool, cut in the skull. There was a hatchet, which Brady used, but no evidence of its having been used for that purpose. The shanty was fastened with a dead latch, that closed when the door was shut; the hump of the latch was down, so that the door could not be opened from the outside even with a key.

Cross examined.—the counter and shelving in the shanty are too narrow for two men to get behind, and inflict the blows as they were on the head of the deceased. The blow on the back of the head could not be inflicted across the counter if the parties were standing face to face, but could have been done by Brady standing with his side and back towards the murderer. The one blow must have been struck when Brady was looking into his shelving, where he kept his biters bottle and another blow was at right angles with this blow, as if he had turned. The counter is probably 18 or 20 inches in width. Brady kept his biters bottle on the shelving behind the counter which is lower, thus requiring Brady to stoop when he put it away. The shelving is placed against the wall of the house. Court adjourned until half-past two.

Thursday afternoon Session.—Court opened at 2 o'clock, when the examination of George W. Mehauffey was resumed. There was an instrument known as a coal chisel hammer, used by railroad men to cut the ties for the rails to rest on. The blade was about one inch and a half. As far as he knew, he had about $30 or $40. He had started Brady in business, as the latter was desirous to avail himself of the spring trade. He had given Brady $75 to purchase his stock to start with. Brady kept cakes, tobacco, cigars, but lager beer was the principal article. He believed that the scales on the outside of the instrument were made by blood. He was no adept at judging whether the marks were made by blood or not; there were bloody marks on a skull, which might show that the instrument was thrown into the river. Several persons were arrested on suspicion. At the time Brady was murdered, the witness held $85 of his money for safe keeping. There was blood on an empty lager beer keg underneath the counter, on the shelving and on the shingles, as it had spurted forth.

Jno. Rands testified that on Saturday, May 23rd, he saw the prisoner in Marietta, between Mehauffey's saw mill and counting house, at 9 o'clock at night, going in an easterly direction. Before he met the prisoner he overheard him talking, as if in the canal—boatmen.—When he met McCully, he hid him good evening, which McCully did not return, but spoke two or three words, which he did not understand. The distance from Mehauffey's office to Brady's is 300 or 400 yards, more or less.

Jacob Roath testified that McCulloch was in Marietta before the offence was committed, and saw him kicking a drunken Dutchman at the Upper Station. He had on at that time one gum shoe, and appeared to be lame, and a boot or shoe on the other foot. He kicked the Dutchman with the right foot, on which he had the gum shoe.

Samuel Peck testified that he saw the prisoner on the Saturday before the Tuesday the murder was discovered; he saw McCulloch in Brady's saloon. He wore a gum shoe on the right foot.

Mrs. Ann Housler said she lived in Maytown, one mile and a half from Marietta. The prisoner was at her house on the Saturday evening before the murder. He asked for some gin, and said if he would fill his bottle he would leave. This was between 8 and 9 o'clock; the bottle was filled. On Sunday morning about 6 or 7 o'clock, she saw him sitting on the bench in front of the house. After she had opened the house, she went back, when McCulloch came back to the pump, washing his hands and face, and wiped himself on a grey house cloth that was hanging in the shed, that was nearer to him than the towel that always hung at the house; he remained there until 8 or 9 o'clock, when he left. As he washed his hands she observed that he examined them very closely, turning them round.—When he was in front of the house, she noticed that his coat sleeve was split, and the lining or shirt sleeve was marked as if with blood. It might have been calico and marked in that way, as she did not pay any particular attention at the time; he wore a grey hat, light blue pants, and dark blue coat. The prisoner was at her house early on Saturday morning and also in the evening. When she first saw him he was either crazy or had the mania-a-potu.

Jacob D. Keller said as he was coming over his division of the road, near Bainbridge, some time after the murder was committed, he saw the prisoner and asked him where "he hailed from?" To which McCulloch replied, "off that boat there," and asked whether he had seen George Ashton? Mr. Keller replied he had. McCulloch said he had given him $45 and he wanted it back again.

Geo. Ashton testified that McCulloch ever gave him $45 and that he never owed him that amount. Benjamin Sellars said McCulloch came to his house on the 29th of May, in Lebanon county. He had a cane in his hand and wore a kind of brown coat, blue pants, a gum shoe on his right foot and a boot or shoe on his left. He said he came from Harrisburg.

Joseph Brouche testified that while in Lebanon, McCulloch told him he would tell him something provided he would not divulge it; to which he assented.—He said he had a row with a man in Marietta and laid him low; but that he had to take the hatchet to him. When they both had got to Brady's tavern, he treated McCulloch, who told him that he had paid $9 for the white coat he then had on.

Hon. John W. Killinger testified that the prisoner called at his office in Lebanon and presented him with a piece of paper on which were written the words "I am lousy" in lead pencil. The prisoner called in to lead pencil. The prisoner called in to lead pencil. The prisoner called in to lead pencil.

Moses Arndt testified that he resides in Jonestown, Lebanon county, saw prisoner in May last in Lebanon at the railroad house. Prisoner said he was from the army and had belonged to the 1st California regiment and that he had been in the battle of Ball's Bluff and was wounded. Next saw him in Reading on the 5th of June; asked witness for money. Saw Mr. Libhart and went with him to Reading and arrested defendant. When arrested the defendant said "he didn't care a damn whether he was hung or not." Defendant knew the charge that was against him.

Judge Long charged the jury that if they were convinced that the accused was the man who committed the murder, and yet, upon the weight of his own confession, "that he had a row with a man in Marietta and laid him low, and that he had used a hatchet," they should find that the killing was done whilst the parties were in conflict, although this rested entirely on his own confession, and that there was no premeditation, they could find him guilty of murder in the second degree.

At twenty minutes before four on Saturday afternoon, the jury retired to consider their verdict, and at 7 o'clock in the evening they came into Court to ask for instructions on the point as to whether the fact of the accused being considered under the influence of liquor would be any mitigation of the offense to warrant them in finding a verdict of manslaughter. The Court informed them that drunkenness was not, in law, any palliation. The jury then again retired.

At twenty minutes after eight o'clock, just four hours from their first retirement, the jury came again into Court, and rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree.

The court room at this time was densely crowded.

The counsel first asked for a suspension of sentence until Monday, but subsequently withdrew their motion.

The Court then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, whereupon McCulloch made a short statement denying the charge, saying that he had never made the confession imputed to him, and that he had not been in Marietta from the 20th to the 26th of May, and that he never wore a gum shoe while there.

Judge Long remarked that if innocent, it was strange that the circumstances detailed pointed to him so conclusively; that his own testimony proved him to have led a dissolute life; that he had been a disgrace and pest to society; that he had had a fair and impartial trial, and that there was nothing in his remarks to induce him to infer that the jury could have come to any other conclusion than that which they had; indeed he might thank the mildness of the laws and the clemency of the jury that he was not now standing there to be sentenced for the highest capital crime known. The Judge then expressed a hope for his reform in future, and proceeded to sentence him to be imprisoned in the Eastern Penitentiary for the period of ten years and four months.

Thanksgiving day was universally kept in our place—stores and all places of business being closed and everything wore the aspect of Sabbath. A meeting, regardless of religious persuasion, was held in Zion's Church in the morning, at which Rev. Mr. Apple delivered a short but patriotic sermon, followed by a Mr. J. Q. Dutwiler of Iowa, who exhorted the audience for some length of time upon our domestic troubles.—He is, unquestionably, one of the finest speakers this section has had for some time.

The following are the new directors of the Mountjoy Bank: J. G. Hoerner, C. S. Erb, Joseph Detwiler, John Kline, John B. Myers, Jacob Reiff, Levi Ridsacker, Christian Grube, B. M. Greider, Wm. McDaniel, Benjamin Grosh, Peter Hoffer, John B. Stehman.

Heckrothe, of the White Swan, gave a Game and Oyster supper on Wednesday evening last. We need not say anything in praise of George's suppers; that is entirely unnecessary.—George gets up such things without regard to expense.

J. Q. Dutwiler, of Iowa, lectured before the Good Templars on Tuesday evening, at their hall. His lecture is represented as one of the most powerful on that subject, ever heard in this place.

An unfortunate Attorney, Mr. A. Herr Smith had a shawl stolen from his office during last week, and not long since had two coats stolen from the same place.

Dr. Fabnestock lectured to a fine audience in Temperance Hall on Thanksgiving evening, on "Artificial Somnambulism," but we were unable to be present.

Professor J. P. Wickersham, of the Millersville Normal School, is preparing a work on School Economy to be published sometime in February next.

John W. Jackson has been elected Treasurer of the Inland Insurance Company of Lancaster, in place of R. F. Ranch, who goes to Bethlehem.

The Susquehanna is in fine running order and quite a number of board rats passed this point during this week.

Dr. Beane & Co. have just received a fresh lot of goods in their line. See their card in another column.

The Teachers' Institute of Lancaster County will open in Fulton Hall on Monday next.

James Paul, of Strasburg, has been appointed Mercantile Appraiser.

BIRD.

In this borough, on the 16th instant, PHILIP ROFF, aged 64 years and 4 months.

Stray Horse.

Came to the premises of the undersigned, residing on the Hollinger farm, near Maytown, on the 22d of October last, a U. S. condemned Light Bay Horse. The owner is required to prove property, pay charges and take him away, or otherwise he will be sold according to law. H. A. GLATFELTER.

SPECTACLES to suit all who can be bought at H. L. & E. J. ZAHM'S, Corner of North Queen-st., and Center Square, Lancaster. New glasses refitted in old frames, at short notice. [v6-1y]

HICKORY & Oak Wood, 50 Corda each Hickory and Oak Wood. Orders must be accompanied with the cash when they will be promptly filled. Spangler & Patterson.

BUY one of those beautiful S O F T HATS at CARROLL'S, 92 Market-st.

200 SACKS OF SALT For sale cheap at Diefenbach's.

NEW WINTER GOODS! NEW STYLES!

J. R. DIFFENBACH, Market Street, Marietta, Pa.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of many kinds of Dry Goods, those wishing to purchase will find his usually large and well assorted stock complete.

Prints, Delaines, Bleached Shirtings, Brown Sheetings, Diaper, Heavy Denims, Full assortment of Press Goods. Full assortment of Cottons. Full assortment of White Goods. Full assortment of Blankets. Full assortment of Shawls. Full assortment of all reasonable Goods. Largest and best stock of Stocking Bitters ever offered in this market, of all sizes, from the smallest to the largest, and at all prices.

Groceries of all kinds. Rio and Java Coffee, Tea, White & Brown Sugar, Fresh Spices, New Mackerel, Sugar-Cured Hams, &c. Miscellaneous.

French Corsets, Neck-ties, Handkerchiefs, Shirts, &c. Travelling Over-Shirts, Under-Shirts, Drawers, Balmoral Skirts, &c. A small lot of ready-made Winter Clothing, which will be sold at less than wholesale prices to close out.

Liquors. He also continues to keep on hand a large supply of superior Brandy, Wines, Gins, Schiedam's Schnaps, Drake's Plantation Bitters, and that superior Old Rye, all of which having been purchased before the recent advance have the advantage of being at nearly old prices.

Highest prices given for country produce. Monongahela Whiskey by the barrel, at Pittsburgh prices, with freight only added.

The Glatz Ferry.

Formerly Keesey's, OPPOSITE MARIETTA. THIS old Ferry—one of the oldest and most safe crossings on the Susquehanna River—is now in charge of the undersigned, who has rebuilt the old and built new boats, which will enable him to do ferrying with safety and dispatch. No unnecessary delay need be endured.

Sober and experienced Ferry-men always engaged. No imposition in charges as the following list under special arrangements: Farm Wagons, each $1.00 Horses, per head .25 Single horse and rider, .25 Two-horse Carriage and two persons, 1.00 Hogs, horse and two persons, .50 Foot Passengers, each, .12 Stock of all kinds at the old charges. All Luggage over fifty pounds, 25 cents per 100 pounds extra.

JOHN ECKERT. July 15, 1863.

ALEXANDER LYNDAY, Fashionable.

Boot and Shoe Manufacturer, MARKET STREET, MARIETTA, PENN.

Would most respectfully inform the citizens of this Borough that he has on hand the largest assortment of City made work in his line of business in this Borough, and being a practical BOOT AND SHOE MAKER himself, is enabled to select with more judgment than those who are not. He continues to manufacture in the very best manner everything in the BOOT AND SHOE LINE, which will warrant for neatness and good fit.

Call and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

GEO. W. WORRALL, SURGEON DENTIST.

Having removed to the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Esentzel, adjoining Spangler & Patterson's Store, Market Street, where he is now prepared to wait on all who may feel disposed to patronize him.

Dentistry in all its branches carried on. Teeth inserted on the most approved principles of Dental science. All operations on the mouth performed in a skillful and workmanlike manner—on fair principles and on VERY REASONABLE TERMS.

Having determined upon a permanent location at this office, would ask a continuation of the patronage heretofore extended to him, for which he will render every possible assistance.

Ether administered to proper persons.

First National Bank of Marietta.

THIS BANKING ASSOCIATION HAVING COMPLETED ITS ORGANIZATION is now prepared to transact all kinds of BANKING BUSINESS.

The Board of Directors meet weekly, on Wednesday, for discount and other business. Bank Hours: From 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. JOHN HOLLINGER, PRESIDENT. AMOS BOWMAN, Cashier. Marietta, July 25, 1863.

MARIETTA MARBLE YARD.

Michael Gable, Agt., MARBLE MASON AND STONE CUTTER. Opposite the Town Hall Park, Marietta, Pa.

THE Marble business in all its branches, will be continued at the old place, near the Town Hall and opposite P. H. Cross Keys Tavern, where every description of marble work will be kept on hand or made to order at short notice and at very reasonable prices. Marietta, June 29, 1861.

Stricker.

THE subscriber offers his services to the citizens of Marietta and vicinity, in CONVEYANCING, ENROSSING AND COPYING. He has kindly been permitted to refer to James Duffy, esq., S. S. Nagle, esq., James Mehauffey, esq., S. F. Eagle & Co., G. W. Mehauffey, esq., S. & B. Hiestand. Can be found at all times at his dwelling opposite John W. Clark's residence, on Market Street, at George W. Mehauffey's Saw Mill, at the Upper Station.

JACOB C. BURKART. Marietta, Oct. 31, 1863-1y*

CHEAP LAMPS.

A FRESH SUPPLY OF Coal Oil Lamps and Lanterns

of every pattern, suitable for the Parlor, the kitchen and the Chamber; Hanging and Side Lamps for Halls, Churches, Stores and Offices. Having purchased them from the manufacturers in large quantities at the lowest cash rates, can sell them much under the usual retail prices, although every other description of goods are advancing.

PATERSON & CO.

DAVID H. MELLINGER, House & Sign Painter & Paper Hanger.

HAVING returned to Marietta and resumed his old business, is prepared to do All kinds of Plain and Fancy Painting, Such as China gilding, imitation of woods and marble, house and sign painting, paper hanging, &c. For the present he can be found at Apple's Eagle Hotel.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.—Estate of Maria Rigler, late of the Borough of Marietta, deceased. Letters of administration on said estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted thereto are requested to make immediate settlement, and those having claims or demands against the same will present them without delay for settlement to the undersigned, residing in the Borough of Marietta, October 10, 1863-61.

BRANDIES—all brands—guaranteed to be genuine. H. D. Benjamin.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC, Corrective and alternative of wonderful efficacy in diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex, arising from bodily weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This popular preparation contains no mineral or any kind of deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant, but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and so far as the human system can be protected by human means against malady, engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventative and irresistible as a remedy, and thousands who resort to it under the impression of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs. Persons of feeble habit, liable to nervous attacks, loss of spirits and of this of languor, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hostetter's Bitters.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine. PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE, OR SIX FOR $5.00. Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications. Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!! Address letters for information to H. T. HELMBOLD, Chemist, 104 South 10th-st., bet. Chestnut, Phila. HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot, HELMBOLD'S Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 324 Broadway, New York.

Beware of Counterfeit and Unprincipled Dealers who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by Helmbold's Genuine Preparations. Helmbold's Genuine Preparations. "Extract Boshu." "Sarsaparilla." "Improved Rose Wash." Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. Cut out the advertisement and send for it. And avoid imposition and exposure.

DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT.

THE GREAT REMEDY, For Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Stiff Neck and Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Wounds, Piles, Headache, and all Rheumatic and Nervous Disorders.

FOR all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy, and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Doctor Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the famous bone setter, and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success. As an Alleviator of Pain, it is unrivaled by any preparation before the public, of which the most skeptical may be convinced by a single trial.

This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically, Rheumatic Disorders of every kind, and in thousands of cases where it has been used, it never known to fail. For Neuralgia, it will afford immediate relief in every case, however distressing. It will relieve the worst cases of Headache in three minutes and is warranted to do it. Toothache also will cure instantly.

For Nervous Debility and General Lassitude, arising from impudic or excess, this Liniment is a most happy and unfailing remedy. Acting directly upon the nervous tissues, it strengthens and revivifies the system, and restores it to elasticity and vigor.

For Piles.—As an external remedy, we claim that it is the best known, and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial, for it will not fail to afford immediate relief, and in a majority of cases will effect a radical cure.

Quinsy and Sore Throat are sometimes are extremely malignant and dangerous, but a timely application of this Liniment will never fail to cure. Sprains are sometimes very obstinate, and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst case may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days.

Bru