Then the in question. Rumor, goes that four hoofs are cut off; they bring about two weeks since a gentleman connected with the Rebel Government passed on his way through this city to New York the hide-I don't know what that sells to make arrangements with the editor on the part of the Rebel Government to keep the paper alive. It is said the which I think extremely doubtful, un-"ambassador" got a little merry over his wine at a Secession boarding-house in this city, and openly stated that from five mundred to a thousand dollars a vertible into a variety of articles that week would be given in Confederate secatities to the journalist .- Washington Correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune.

Count Joannes (George Jones), in his testimony given on the examination of the supposed murderer of young Converse, in Malden, gives some interesting facts in connection with the murder of Capt. Joseph White, of Salem. The murderer was discovered by means of a vigilance committee, composed of some of the most respectable men in balem. One of their number, Joseph A# Knapp, received a letter containing a menace that if a certain amount of tell what he knew of the murder. This letter Mr. Knapp placed before the and a detective despatched to arrest the person who took it out of the office .--The person arrested turned State's evidence, and implicated two of the sons of Mrs Joseph Knapp, for one of whom the letter received by Mr. Knapp was execution of his two sons.

Ab Connecticut paper says that onather 15th ultimo, Miss Mary F. Canfield was married at Norfolk, and two days after she died of diptheria, of which she had been taken the day before her marriage, From the first, it is stated, she expressed a strong belief that her sickness would result in her death. In-deed, she told her friends that she had a herself composed in her colin for burial and singular as it may seem, the prevision, so far from appaling her, had quite the contrary effect, and she went down diffe the great shadow" cheerfully—almost joyously.

The Enrollment act bids fair to occupy the attention of Congress for a week or ten days yet. It seems difficult to reconcile the variety of opinions of different Senators and members, as was shown by discussion in the Senate. No draft will be ordered until it is amended, and a delay may be occasioned of many weeks." The disposition seems to be growing to make an act so as to bring in a large amount of money with which bounties can be paid. Secretary Chase is in favor of such legislation.

A dispatch from Leavenworth, Kansas, states that on the 18th of December the rebel Quantrell, with a thousand men was attacked by six hundred Union soldiers in the Cheroked country, and was completely routed, leaving fifty dead and wounded on the

WHAT BECOMES OF DEAD HORSES .-Some people will no doubt be astonished to learn that large fortunes have been made every year since the commencement of the war, out of the dead horses of the Army of the Potomac.-The popular idea is that when Rosinante yields up the ghost, he is buried in some field, or left to moulder into mother earth in the woods somewhere. Not so. He has made his last charge, and gnawed his last fence rail, but there is from $20 to $40 in the old fellow yet. A contract for the purchase of dead horses in the Army of the Potomac for the ensuing year, was let a few days ago, to the highest bidder, at $1.76 per rumor is gaining ground in some well- head, delivered at the factory of the Irving, were $205,383; since his decontractor. By the time the contractor gets through with the "late lamented" steed, there is hardly enough of him left to damage by losing an insane husband. feed a bull-pup on.

Hereafter, kind reader, when you see a dead "hoss," don't turn up your nose at him, but regard him thoughtfully, as the foundation for a large fortune in a single year. He may, individually, be a nuisance, but "there is that within which passeth show"-$100,000 a year.

A PECULIAR INSTITUTION IN IOWA .-Among the curious phases of Iowa socimoney were not forthcoming he would ety is the "Amanna Society," located in ult., the wife of John C. Bullock died, committeed Andecoy letter was sent, glean the following facts relative to this community. It says: It numbers eight hundred members, and is divided into seven villages. It is governed by trustees elected by all the members of the society. The society owns twenty thousand acres of land in one belt. They are to some extent in manufacturing, and have a good flouring and saw mill, and a large woollen factory in successful operation. They card, spin, weave, and full all kinds of woollen goods, running twelve looms -nine narrow and three for weaving broadcloth. Their machinery is of the most perfect kind. They will work up this season from five thousand to six thousand bales of wool. The members of the society are of a religious order. Everything moves on in perfect harmony. When necessary the women aid in out-door work. We saw twenty in one carrot patch, all at work. In the same field eight teams were plowing. The society is destined to become wealthy."

> SINGULAR FATALITY .-- A few weeks ago a returned soldier called at the residence of a highly respectable family in Half Moon, Saratoga county, N. Y., and gold his overcoat. The garment was taken and washed. The family, at the time, comprised eight members-a husband and wife and six grown up children-four sons and two girls. In the course of a few days the whole family was stricken with disease. Father and one son died and were buried on the same day. Two cons soon after died, and were buried at one funeral .--The fourth son died shortly after, and a daughter. The last son was buried last ter have been low with the same disease. The disease was fever, and it is thority. believed to be yellow fever by some.
