SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1864.

THE SECRETARY'S POLICY.-It is important to know, so far as possible, the future policy of the financial minister of the Government; and especially at this time, when, to make gambling speculations profitable, an uncommon flood of false assertions and theories damaging to the public credit, are boldly circula-

The excitement got up in Wall street by gamblers in Stocks and Gold, are telegraphed everywhere-exaggeratedand the outside public naturally feel that there is some great wrong somewhere, when, in fact, there is nothing wrong. There is only a hullaballoo among the bulls and bears.

Mr. Chase will press right on with the National Ten-Forty Loan, just as he has begun. There will be no change in the rate of interest. He will make no temporary loans of the Banks, but will take money from the people or the Banks at five per cent. interest, payable on ten days' notice, as heretofore; and he will run the usual line of one-year Certificates. He will sell the surplus gold from customs, after setting aside an amount sufficient for six months' interest sinking fund, and partly for the current | convention adjourned sine die. expenses of the Government.

He appeals afresh to the people in this the most trying military and financial period of the Rebellion, to come forward with beart and money. He is reducing the volume of currency gradually, and will continue to do so. If the stock and gold gamblers shall again attempt the game they played last week, he will bring the whole power of the Government, and its whole means, both here and abroad, to checkmate them.

The Secretary of the Treasury relies upon the People for the ways and means upon the Army for victories, and upon Congress for adequate taxation.

The people will come to his help with every dollar that can bel appropriated. This is their true interest; it is their true safety. The armies now will do their part-there is no alternative but victory. Congress will do its duty-it dare not falter.

To those capitalists who complain that Mr. Chase ought to pay a higher and continued at such labor until the ment. 'rate of interest, we say, pointedly, that other shall be released and receive the a o per cent. obligation against the treatment due to a prisoner of war." American people is better than a bond digner rate of interest. For why? Your money righteously invested, free from extertion, generously invested, for Your country's cause, is, and will be through all time, valid.

We learn from Mr. Bowman, Cashier of the First National Bank of Marietta, that over three hundred thousand dollars of these Bonds have been sold at our Bank. This loan will, unquestionably, be as popular as the 5-20 in a short time. Capitalists should not allow this favorable opportunity for a fine investment to pass heedlessly.

From the present condition of the National Bank bill in Congress, there is not the least doubt but that such a measure will pass as will meet, in prices, that must happen here would thought, be raised by the 26th of May. in the most efficient manner, the neces- people do the same thing, not only in sities of the country. One great feature of it will be to bring all the State banks under the National law, so that, in a partial consumption of which can be little while we shall have National paper money only. To this end, a tax will be levied upon the circulation of State Bank notes for a time, when they are to be totally prohibited.

The fate of the bill to increase solgiers' pay depends on the passage of the new tax bill. The Senate passed a bill equalizing the pay of black and white soldiers. This was sent to the House Committee, which had agreed to raise the pay of privates to sixteen dollars, but it was defeated through the influence of Frank Blair, who reduced the pay of colored troops to thirteen dollars. The measure now hangs fire, and may go over for the present session.

It is a mistake to suppose that the draft has been indefinately postponed. The instructions, as we understand them to the Provost Marshals are, to be ready to proceed just as soon as the Adjutant General at Washington, can make out, from the rolls, the credits which are to be allowed in each State, County and District. Just as soon as "these are ascertained, the draft will go on. This, we think, can be relied on as - porrect.

The interest on this debt for the coming fiscal year will be $45,937,120, while the customs revenue in gold for the current figure year, ending June 30th, 1864, has been so far at the rate of over $100,000,000 per annum.
