ell as from some who were present, we HAUKE, FOREMAN & CO., well as from some who were present, we learn that quite an interesting meeting of teachers was held in that borough on Thursday and Friday, January 19th and 20th. From all accounts the meeting was a spirited and practical one, such as only energetic and live teachers could get up.

The Sentinel says, "This was one of the most practical Institutes ever held in this county. The lectures were all to the point, and the discussions on meth-INTENDED REMOVAL :-- The Printing ods of teaching highly beneficial to teachers. Harmony, good feeling, and a commendable desire for improvement on the part of all the teachers were notable features of the Institute from beginning to end."

The exercises commenced on Wednesday evening with lectures on the general subject of Education by the County Superintendent and others. The exercises during Thursday and Friday consisted of lectures and discussions upon various branches of science, Chemistry, Physiology, Arithmetic, Grammar, Penmanship, &c. Among the most prominent lecturers were S. G. Behmer, and Profs, Harding and Geist of Millers. ville Normal School. We were pleased to notice the active part taken by Prof. Geist. Being for a number of years the efficient and much esteemed Principal of our High School we claim him as a Mariettian and watch his career with interest. His lectures upon this occasion were upon Natural Science, principally Chemistry. He handled his subjects well, giving evidence of being a hard student and also of taking great interest in the Department under his care Ivania which have been assigned to at the Normal. From present evidences, e fourth class by the Postmaster Gen- we predict for him a successful career in al, as given in the Washington the world of science. There are others of whom we would like to make special mention but space will not allow. We cannot omit however to mention one thing that pleased us very much, viz., the attendance of so many teachers from our own borough; no less than four being present during some part of the exercises. Misses Mary and Sarah Turner, Emma F. Baker, and Mr. T. F. Hoffmeier of the High School. We see Mr. Hoffmeier spoken of as having taken part in the discussions. This is exceedingly gratifying to us as Mariettians and shows that we have teachers in our schools whose hearts are in their work. With such teachers as Geist and Hoffmeior, if parents and Directors lend their proper co-operation and the pupils obey the directions of their teachers. our High School cannot fail to be an ornament and a blessing to the community.
