SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1865.

THAT MURDER. The intelligence of the nurder of our beloved President, Mr. Lincoln, by the hand of a rebel assassin, was received by telegraph, in this he cough, at an early hour on Saturday morning last. Never were a people more horribly shocked and paralyzed. In the language of that valuable journal, the Germantown Telegraph, the awful fact could not be fully realized, nor most unquestionable evidence accompany it. The sudden change from rejoicing at our victories to mourning for our beloved Chief Magistrate, was heartrending. The emblems of the universal fealing of deepest sorrow, were everywhere exhibited. People when they and men, women, and children shed tears | the evening. of wee and sympathy. Never before has been witnessed in the United States such a day of gloom so overwhelming in its intensity.

That so good, so generous, so forgiving and kindhearted a man as ABRAHAM Lincoln, who may justly be called the Second Washington, should fall by the bullet of a rebel, and a fiend, while sitting by the side of his wife, and in the midst of hundreds of friends, is indeed marvelous, but it only shows the bitterness of the hate still rankling in the hearts of the wicked traitors. The consequences of the death of President LINCOLN and the succession of President Jounson, will soon give the rebels a foretaste of that which is to come. They have destroyed their best friend, and have raised up in his place one who will deal out Justice to them with a stern and unstinted hand. He will not only have the grave duty to perform of vindicating the life and character of the late President, by a policy, in one respect at least differing from the preceding, which he will certainly carry out, though it grinds the leading rebels to powder; but he will make that policy a Southern States of all the traitorous politicians and officers, civil and military by hanging some and banishing the rest. If we are not mistaken, the day of retribution has come, at the call and by the act of the rebels themselves; and as they have made their bed so may they lie in it. Having refused the angel of mercy, peace and goodwill, let them now prepare to be visited by another description of angel. It has become he general desire of the people that the great crime of treason shall meet with condign punishment; and we are nuch mistaken if the new President fails to fulfill this desire.

Immediately upon the confirmation of the sad news of the murder of our beloved President, on Saturday last, nearly all the stores and places of business were closed—the bells tolled and nearly every public and private building was in mourning. On Sunday all the churches were draped in mournng and sermons appropriate to the sorrowful occasion delivered.

In consequence of the general suppression of everything consequent apon the doleful news of the murder of President Lincoln, the fair and festival, the benefit of the Presbyterian church, was postponed last Monday, and will now commence on Monday evening next, the 24th instant, and continue on the afternoons and evenings of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The property of the Lancaster and Venan The property of the Lancaster and Venango Mutual Petroleum Association consists of Ninety-One Acres of Land, in fee simple, situated on the eastern bank of Big Sandy Creek, and on either side of Stony Run, which flows through the middle of it, in French Creek township, Venango county. It presents a large proportion of boring ground, amounting to at least sixty acres.

Part of the land is covered with fine oak timber, well calculated for the manufacture of coal oil barrels, this alone is of great value in that locality where thousands of barrels are wanted daily to hold the rich products of surrounding wells.

wanted daily to note the rich products of sur-rounding wells.

It is evident also that large deposits of bitu-minous coal exist in the elevated portions of this tract; they are, however, undeveloped. Within one mile east and west coal mines are worked on an extensive scale.

It is the determination of this company to tilly develop their whole territory. Subscribers to stock can feel satisfied that no effort will be spared on the part of the officers and managers to bring out the oil, which must be within reach of faithful labor. We invite a careful examination of our prospectus by all. We have every confidence in our oil prospects, and every assurance that the stock of the company will soon advance in price.

The simple duty on imported goods and the high premium on Gold (all foreign bills are payable in gold,) amount to more than the entire cost of many of the articles offered by us to the public. To facilitate the sale will be charged for any article on our list, and this sum the purchaser need not pay until he knows what he is to get! This plan accords with the method recently become so popular for disposing of large stocks of Jewelry and similar productions. THE PLAN IS SIMPLE!

The name of each article offered for sale as "Gold Hunting Watch," "Gold Oval-Ban"
Bracelet," "Pearl Breastpin and Ear-Drops,
"Hold Er amelled Ring," "Silver Plated Cake Basket," &c., is written on a card and en closed in a sealed envelope; these envelopes are then placed in a drawer and well mixed then as an order is received, with twenty-five cents for return postage and other charges, one of the cards or certificates is taken at random and sent by first mail to the customer, who will see at once what he can get for One Dollar. It he is pleased with his fortune he can forward the money according to directions on the certificate and secure the prize. If the article awarded should be unsuited to the purchaser—as for example, a set of Pearl Ear Drops and Breastpin to a young man who could not wear them, and had no one to give them to-we will send any other article on the estalogue of equal price which may be pre-forred. Or if, for any reason, you choose to yenture no further, then you can let the mat-ter drop where it is and spend no more. Ex-amise carefully our Catalogue! WATCH DEPARTMENT.
