Our Boys are Coming Home.

Thank God, the sky is clearing ! The clouds are hurrying past ; Thank God, the day is nearing,

The dawn is coming fast. And when glad herald voices Shall tell us peace has come. This thought shall most rejoice us : "Our boys are coming home !"

Soon shall the voice of singing Drown war's tremendous din ; Soon shall the joy-bells' ringing Bring peace and freedom in. The jubiles bonfires burning, Shall soon light up the dome, And soon, to sooth our yearning,

Our boys are coming home. The vacant fireside places Have waited for them long : The love-light lacks their faces, The chorus waits their song ; A shadowy fear has haunted The long-deserted room ;

But now our prayers are granted, Our boys are coming home !

O, mother, calmly waiting For that beloved son ! O, sister, proudly dating The victories he has won ! O, maiden, softly humming 'l'he love-song while you r

A Georgia Wedding.

The preacher was prevented from taking his part in the ceremony, and a newly created justice of the peace, who chanced to be present, ; was called upon to officiate in his place. The good man's knees began to tremble, for he had never tied the knot, and did not know where to begin. He had no "Georgia Justice," nor any other book from which to read the marriage service .- The company was arranged in a semi-circle, every one bearing a tallow-candle. He thought over every thing he had ever learned, even to

"Thirty days hath September,

"Know all men by these presents that "-here he paused and looked up to the ceiling, when an audible voice in the corner of the room was heard to say :

"He is drawing a deed to a tract of land," and they all laughed. "In the name of God, amen !" he began again, only to hear another voice in a loud whisper, say :

"Re's making his will; thought he could not live long, he looks so very bad."

"Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray," -was the next essay, when some erudite gentleman remarked :

"He is not dead, but sleepeth." "Oh, yes ! oh yes !" he continued.

Some person out of doors sang out, 'Come into court !" and the laughter was general.

characterizes the assassination of President Lincoln in the following language : "President Lincoln lies dead in Washington, the latest instance of the liability of tyrants to the assassin's weapon." It would be vain to point out to the paper in question, or the dangerous secession clique that infests the city, of which it is the mouth piece, that no man ever deserved the character of tyrant less than the late President.

He delayed proceedings against the rebels who had treacherously seized the property of the United States, until they actually fired upon the national flag at Fort Sumpter. Was this tyranny?

He sought to conciliate the slaveholding States which had not quite seceded, by every concession in his power, even to the removing of an able and successhands and hearts. It hath in it less of ful General, like Fremont. Was this tyranny?

He sought, by the least forcible means, and the smallest practible amount of change, to fulfill his sworn obligations to maintain the Union and maintain all the laws. Was this tyranny?

When he could not succeed otherwise, he, as a war measure, and after an hundred day's notice, proclaimed freedom to all the slaves in the revolted States. Was this tyranny ?

He allowed many such papers as the New York World to abuse him with a preserving rancor and unscrupulousness that equalled the worst prints in Canada, and that is strong language. Was this tyranny?

When the rebellion was fairly crushed he sent a whole army of traitors away peacefully to their homes, and held out the glive branch to those who were not able to contend longer against the Government. Was this tyranny?

Tyrants never go to public places without attendants, either open or disguised, or both ; and if President Lincoln had been a tyrant he would have had some one watching over him, and his life would have been saved; but in the consciousness of seeking the good of every human being in the State, he felt no fear. Was this like a tyrant?

CURIOUS STRATEGY .-- A sorgeant in the United States army, who, with a small party of soldiers, had been sent out on a scouting expedition from Fort Defiance. New Mexico, finding himself beset by four hundred Indians, tied a tin cup, filled with pebbles confined by a cloth fastened over the top, to a dog's tail, wrote a note and fastened it to the dog's collar, and then let him loose. The terrified animal of course made the quickest possible time to the fort, the note was observed and read, and a rescue party was sent out, which arrived just in time to save the lives of the sergeant and his men.

G At St. Helena Bonaparte said : Ere the close of the nineteenth century, America will be convulsed by one of the greatest revolutions the world ever witnessed. Should it succeed, her power and prestige are lost : but should the government maintain her supremacy, she will be on a firmer basis than ever. The theory of a republican form of government will be established, and she can lefy the combined powers of the world.

THE PAPAL ROSE .- There is some curiosity as to the person to whom the Rose of 1865 will be given, though some speak of the young Queen of Portugal. The Pope, however, is not limited in his choice, and may bestow it on any man eminent in dignity, though not of a royal house, or to a church of the Old or New World. In the fifteenth century consecrated roses presented to the Pope were placed over the confessionals at Rome, to denote secrecy, the rose being | ly changed its aspect. A cattle dealer of Prussian Silesia was murdered and robbed some twelve years since, and no trace of the murderer could be found. A year later the murdered man's daughter mairied a master butcher, with whom she has lived ever since. A few days back, while preparing to remove to another house, the woman found, among her hushand's effects, a small purse embroidered with silver, which she herself had made for her father, and which had disappeared after the murder. A horrible suspicion took possession of her mind, and having taxed her husband with the crime. he made a full confession, and has consequently been arrested and committed for trial.

Nay, the paper in question, in the very article of which we have copied the opening paragraph. pays the following extraordinary tribute to the merciful and benign character of the very man it accuses of tyranny :

"We believe that it will be proved that the bullet that slew Lincoln, and the dagger that stabbed Seward, were directed by the extremities of the Republican party, who charged Lincoln and Seward with sacrificing their interests by undue concessions to rebels."

We need not say that the above exnlanation of the President's assassingtion is just like that which attributed the firing of the New York hotels to the government at Washington.
