A DEAD DRIVER.—A late Paris paper contains this remarkable item: On Thursday evening the omnibus doing duty between Paris and the suburb of Creteil, arrived at the latter destination under the actual guidance of a corpse, the driver having died at an early stage of the transit. He still retained his grasp of the reins, but along the whole route a strange rigidity and oscillation of the body attracted notice from the bystanders. The vehicle with its passengers drew up at the appointed halt, when the dead man was lowered from his seat on the box, cold and stiff.

How to punish Jeff. Davis.—"A Lady" writes to a New Haven paper as follows: "Put him in a strong iron cage, place about it photographs of our poor starved, maddened soldiers, give him into Barnum's hands to exhibit, first in America, then over the eastern continent. In the course of one year sufficient money will be realized to pay off the national debt, and a surplus; taxation will then be unnecessary. After thus exhibiting him, shut him up the remainder of his days to meditate upon the good he has accomplished, or—hang him."

A woman who had not seen her husband for three long years, caught sight of him in the ranks of one of the returning regiments in Portland, Maine, last week as it was marching through the streets. Affection got the better of strict decorum, and the overjoyed woman rushed into the ranks, embracing and kissing her husband, amid the cheers of the spectators.

A boy ten years old was discovered in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, the other day, just after he had fastened a rope around the neck of a little girl of four, and was about to suspend her in the air. The girl screamed, but the boy said in a business-like way that he was merely showing her how they were going to hang Jeff. Davis.

John Mitchell, late rebel editor of the Richmond Enquirer, the organ of Jeff. Davis, has actually come North and become the editor of the N. Y. News, in which he is as bitter against the Government as he was at Richmond. It is understood that the mercenary has been ordered to leave the country.

A few ladies in New Haven, whose position and influence are universally recognized, are endeavoring to abolish the present system of wearing the hair. The bag is taboed in toto, and in its place is substituted the more tasteful Grecian tresses, looped up behind and falling over so far as to cover the ears.

As Sherman's army was marching from Richmond to Washington they crossed the field of Spotsylvania. They found the bones of about twelve hundred Union soldiers bleaching in the sun. Gen. Sherman contracted with a man who lived near by to bury these remains.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have placed upon the road a number of new cars expressly for the accommodation of the U. S. mail service. They are handsomely constructed and conveniently arranged for the use intended.

Mr. W. S. Dickey, of Becaria township, Clearfield county, recently clipped from a single sheep eleven and three-quarter pounds of wool. In Fayette county, a "three years' fleece" was taken off, weighing seventy-eight pounds.

By a most sensible amendment to the school law of this State, passed last winter, the minimum age for children to be admitted to the common schools was changed from five to six years of age.

The Washington Chronical contradicts the report of Secretary Stanton's resignation. It says Stanton's relations with the President are of the most friendly character.

A young man, while engaged at a card table in Frankfort, Kentucky, on Thursday night, received a paralytic stroke, and expired with the deal in his hands.

The coal dealers at Easton have reduced the price of coal $1.50 per ton. They are now retailing stove coal at $7.50, and chestnut at $6.50 per ton.

The ploughman's is a dangerous occupation around Richmond and Petersburg, because of the unexploded shells.

The remains of the soldiers, both Northern and Southern, on the Wilderness battle field, are to be interred.

Two brothers have been arrested in Cincinnati for robbing a dead woman of sixteen hundred dollars.

NOTES OF THIRD SERIES.—The demand for the Second Series of the 7-30 Notes was so great that the Treasury Department was unable to print them with sufficient rapidity to fill the orders. It will be remembered that a hundred millions were subscribed and paid for in a single week. The printing presses have finally surmounted the difficulty, and on Wednesday, June 7th, the deliveries of the Third Series commenced, and will be continued with the same promptness that marked the supply of the notes of the first and second series. It has been this interruption of delivery at the time of subscription which has given an appearance of a falling off in the popular taking of the loan,—the great body of small takers being unwilling to pay their money unless they receive their notes right in hand, to carry them home. It is expected that after this week the daily subscriptions to the Seven-Thirties will run up into millions, as they will undoubtedly be stimulated by the opening of the farmers' wool markets East and West. It is not at all likely that the Government will ever again offer so desirable a security as these notes, and about two hundred millions only remain to be taken.

With the close of the war the national expenses will be vastly reduced, and investors must look for a sharp reduction in the rate of interest as soon as the present loans become due, and can be paid off. There is no reason why the United States credit for money should ever again fall below its credit for courage. The same spirit that preserved the geographical integrity of the country will place its pecuniary integrity on a par with that of the most favored nations—and that will represent a rate of interest under rather than over four per cent.

The New York Tribune, in speaking of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs, says: "These instruments have been blown by the wind of genuine success from Boston to San Francisco. That Messrs. Mason & Hamlin have succeeded in making a superior small instrument—from little handbox-like things, to those which, though portable, and not larger than a piano, can make themselves felt in a church—is the universal opinion of the musical profession. They agree that no such mechanical works of the kind can be found in equal perfection in Europe. The tone is pure and full, and with an immense body for so small a provocative mechanical force. They stand rough travelling, bad usage, and will live in climates which will kill American missionaries."

A drunken soldier in the army in India, having been lately confined in the blackhole for intoxication, felt something crawling over him. Knowing it to be a serpent, and fearing its deadly bite, he kept still, while the reptile crawled inside of his jacket and coiled himself up for a nap. When the guard came to release him some hours after, a snake—a cobra—quickly glided away. The guard noticed with surprise that the prisoner's hair had turned white, and he died a few hours after telling his story.

Secretary Seward has so far recovered from the effects of his injuries, as to be able to visit the State Department, during the past week. He walked up the steps of the building unassisted, but was compelled to take a seat at each landing and rest for a few minutes. The Secretary remained at the Department for a considerable length of time attending to official business.

The New York Tribune states that Mr. Conover, whose testimony concerning the complicity of the rebel leaders is now made public, left Washington for Canada a fortnight ago, to return in a few days, but he has not been heard from since, though his presence in Washington is urgently demanded. It is feared that he has been foully dealt with.

The Pope of Rome was seventy-three years old on the 13th of May, and on the 16th of this month will reach the nineteenth year of his pontificate. Out of the long list of two hundred and fifty-nine Popes, only eight have worn the tiara for a longer period than Pius the IX.

Runaway wives from their husbands, it has been recently decided by the Supreme Court—that is a wife who lives apart voluntarily from her husband, cannot force him to maintain her. She must go to him and demand a home. If he does not give it she can obtain alimony, but not otherwise.

John Mitchell, formerly of the Richmond Enquirer, and lately editor of the New York News, was arrested on board a Government vessel, whose destination is said to be Fortress Monroe.

Twenty-five years ago a Mr. McGuire, of Albany, adopted an orphan boy and educated him. After becoming of age he went to California and made a fortune. He subsequently visited England, where he recently died, leaving by will $50,000 to the McGuire family.

A widow lady, seventy years old, appeared in the city court at Louisville, the other day, and asked for protection. She stated to the Judge that her son, Joshua Smith, had assaulted her and threatened to kill her, for refusing to supply him with money to get drunk on.

While General Sherman was on the way to West Point he stopped at Cozen's Hotel to pay his respects to General Scott. The old soldier greeted him with: "I'm glad to see you here to-day unhurt. You have made a great name, sir; you broke the back of the rebellion, sir."

Ammi R. Mitchell, an old and respectable citizen of Bath, Massachusetts, was so much pained by a soft corn on one of his toes, that, two weeks ago, he had the toe amputated, but gangrene had set in and extended to the foot, so that it became necessary to amputate the leg below the knee, and there is now little hope of saving his life.

The editor of the Universalist having been centured by a correspondent for intimating that Jeff. Davis should be hung, replies: "After the excitement has passed, and Jefferson Davis is hung, we may be sorry! But in all soberness let us say, if Jefferson Davis is not hung, the hand that in this land ever after signs a death-warrant should drop from its socket. If he is pardoned, let every prison door open."

Hon. Ner Middlesworth, of the county, died on the 2nd inst., in the 72nd year of his age. He was a Captain in the war of 1813, and distinguished himself for his gallantry in several severe battles. He served with distinction in both branches of the Legislature, represented his district in Congress, and for five years was an associate judge on the bench of his resident county. He was strong minded, common sense imbued man, whose natural energy and integrity of character rendered him respected and beloved by his fellow citizens.

It is reported that the Government has discovered a large batch of letters from Fernando Wood, Ben Wood, the Seymours, and various persons in the North, among the rebel archives seized in Richmond. It is further stated that these letters, when published, will stir the community, showing as they will the complicity of the writers in the devilish work of the rebellion.

The ceremonies of inaugurating the monuments erected on the battle fields of Bull Run, to commemorate the two sanguinary and memorable contests which took place there on the 21st of July 1861, and the 30th of August, 1862, were performed on Monday in the presence of a large assemblage of military and civilians.

The review of the returned Philadelphia troops by Governor Curtin and Mayor Henry on Saturday afternoon was a fine affair, although the pleasure of the occasion was greatly marred by a heavy rain. Gen. Meade, who rode at the head of the military, was greatly cheered.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN!

THIRD SERIES $230 000 000.

By Authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscriptions Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of TREASURY NOTES, bearing Seven-and-Three-Tenths per cent interest per annum, known as the 7-30 Loan.

These Notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into U. S. 5-20 SIX PER CENT. GOLD BEARING BONDS.

These Bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County, and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum in their value, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent. amounts to One cent per day on a $50 note Two cents " " " $100 " Ten " " " " $500 " 20 " " " " $1000 " $1 " " " " $5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished on receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent. instead of 7.30-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the Seven-thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency.

This is the only Loan in Market now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it

The Great Popular Loan of the People. Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now in the market. This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within two months, when the notes will, undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

JAY COOKE, SUBSCRIPTION AGENT, Philadelphia. Subscriptions will be received by

The First National Bank of Marietta. F. L. Baker, Editor and Comptroller.
