MARIETTA, PA.

Saturday, June 24, 1865.

Some financial difficulties were experienced lately in the way of building a church for the colored Methodists in Louisville, Ky., and the matter was under discussion at a church meeting, when an ebullient brother got up and said he would head the subscription list with $4,000 cash, or, if that would not be satisfactory, he would build the church, sixty-five by ninety feet, from foundation to dome, and do all the brick and carpenter work, if the other brethren would lath and plaster it, and put on the finishing touches. The liberal African is a barber, and was formerly a slave.

The Boston Traveller says that a miller's dog having broken his chain, he ordered his maid to tie him. She was attacked and bitten. On hearing her cries, the miller and his people ran to her assistance. "Keep off!" said she, "the dog is mad. I am already bitten, and must chain him up alone." Notwithstanding his biting, she did not let him go, but chained him, and then retired to her chamber, and with the noblest resignation prepared herself to die. Hydrophobia soon broke out, and she died in a few days.

There are at least two classes of colored men from whom the right of suffrage cannot be permanently withheld—those who are educated and useful citizens, and those who have helped to fight the battles of the Union. Men who hurl bullets at the enemies of the Republic should have the privilege of casting ballots for its preservation; and men who by their mental training and moral conduct prove their capacity for a wise exercise of the rights of citizenship, should be permitted to enjoy them.

The Comptroller of the Currency has decided not to issue a certificate of authority to commence business to any national bank converted from a State bank while the circulation of the State bank exceeds the amount allowed for a national bank of the same capital, deeming the State bank circulation to be, after conversion, the circulation of the national bank, since the latter is, in all respects, responsible for it, and bound to redeem it.

A report was current in Richmond that Mr. A. T. Stewart, the wealthy merchant of New York, had determined to erect a block of substantial storehouses in the burnt district of the city, provided he can make arrangements with the owners of the land. He does not propose to purchase the sites, but to take a lien upon them, and to retain control of the edifices, when erected, until he reimburses himself from the rental of the improved property.

Mary Jane White and Mary Ann Thornton, matron and assistant at the Chicago pest-house, have been arrested, charged with the murder of a patient, Wm. H. Brownell. Brownell, suffering from a mild type of small-pox, was taken to the pest-house and died there. He had $2,500 with him, which, after his death, was missing, as well as some jewelry he had on his person. It is alleged the women murdered him to get the money.

The work of interring the Union and rebel dead on the field of Chancellorsville is progressing actively. Head-boards are being erected over each grave. Captain J. M. Moore, of Washington, has charge of the matter.

Old Edmund Ruffin, the old reprobate, aged over 70, who boasted of having fired the first gun on Sumpter, committed suicide a few days since, by shooting himself.

The wife of Secretary Seward died a few days since, in Washington. Her remains are to be taken, for interment, to-day, to Auburn, N. Y.

Mrs. Surratt has been ill for several days and does not come to the court room. Her daughter is now allowed to remain with her.

The Young Men's Christian Association have concluded definitely to purchase Ford's Theatre. The sum to be paid is $100,000.

R. M. T. Hunter, Vice President Stevens and General Lee are all now petitioning President Johnson for pardon.

Lewis Payne Powell, the assassin, is a son of Rev. George C. Powell, Baptist preacher, now living in Florida.

The Union League of Delaware county has decided to dissolve and give its surplus funds to the poor.

There is to be up more lager in Pittsburg sold on Sunday.

A GOOD SELECTION.—A caucus of the Kentucky Legislature has nominated Major General Lowell H. Rousseau as a candidate for the United States Senatorship from that State. This is a deserved compliment to one of Kentucky's most brilliant statesmen and gallant soldiers. Gen. Rousseau, at a time when most men would have quailed before the tide of secession which was rolling over the State, stood manfully by the old flag—organized a command of loyal Kentuckians, and went into the thickest of the fight and distinguished himself on many bloody fields. He has been in the war from the beginning, and has done more perhaps to redeem his state from the pernicious doctrines of secession than any man in it. And no one to-day is more popular with the loyal people of Kentucky than Gen. R. "One blast upon his bugle-horn is worth a thousand men." We hope the Legislature will show its wisdom by sending him to the Senate by a unanimous vote.

The Cabinet Organs manufactured by Messrs. Mason & Hamlin are becoming great favorites in the household. Their compactness, delicacy of tone, and elegant construction, make them very desirable as ornaments, as well as attractive for their musical capabilities. They are different in many respects from other instruments of this class, and the manufacturers have availed themselves of the highest skill in workmanship, and the best materials to bring them to perfection.—Boston Post.

A relic from Richmond is now in Boston—a bust of Jefferson Davis, bearing on the front of the base the name of "J. Davis," and on the back the inscription, "Carved from memory by a Mexican soldier captured by Colonel Davis, Buena Vista." This relic was found on a mantelpiece in the mansion lately occupied by Jefferson Davis, and at the present time occupies a conspicuous position, wrapped up in a small Confederate flag, suspended by the neck.

It is proposed to erect a magnificent bridge over the Potomac at Washington, as a monument to the late President. It is to be called the "Lincoln bridge," and a colossal statue of Mr. Lincoln will be placed in the centre, or at one end of the structure.

The man, who a year ago, offered to be one of a party who would pay one million dollars for the murder of President Lincoln, has been arrested by some of General Canby's men, and is on his way to Washington.

Hon. Thomas Connolly, member of Parliament for Donegal, Ireland, has tendered to General Lee a home for himself and family in any part of Great Britain he may select. The offer has been declined.

One night last week a mob of about five hundred men broke into the county jail at Quincy, Ill., seized a wounded bushwhacker, named Rose, and hurried him to the outskirts of the town where he was put to death by hanging.

The argument of Beverly Johnson, counsel for Mrs. Surratt, was read before the Military Commission at Washington, on Monday. The principal ground taken is the non-jurisdiction of the Court to try the case.

A riot occurred on Saturday in Washington. It began by the lawless conduct of certain discharged soldiers who undertook to destroy a few houses of ill fame and plunder the inmates.

A gentleman, while walking in the street at Des Moines, Iowa, during a thunderstorm the other evening, had one of his eyes completely destroyed by lightning, without other injury.

A woman appeared on the streets in Cleveland the other day, drawing in a small wagon the emaciated form of her husband. He had been rendered totally helpless by rheumatism.

The corner stone of the Soldiers Monument in the Gettysburg Cemetery will be laid on the Fourth of July. An oration will be delivered by General Howard.

A sword, costing seven hundred and fifty dollars, has been purchased by the freedmen at Fortress Monroe for presentation to Gen. Butler, in token of services rendered them while in command in that Department.

A girl, fourteen years old, and her brother, aged twelve, were found murdered in the woods near Roxbury, Mass., on Sunday. The girl had been previously outraged. The children had been missing a week.

The wife of Gen. John C. Breckenridge, the self-exiled traitor, arrived in Cincinnati, on Friday, from Washington, by permission of President Johnson, on her way to visit her relatives in Kentucky.

Since the Federal occupation of Nashville the government undertaker has buried 1363 Federal soldiers and employees, 8000 rebel soldiers, and 10,000 contrabands and refugees. The bodies of 5000 officers and soldiers have been embalmed and sent home.

It is stated that the Ford theatre property has been disposed of to an association of Congregationalists, and that it will be speedily converted into a place of worship, with as little alterations as possible. Henry Ward Beecher conducted the purchase and conversion.

Rosa Schiller, aged twelve and a half years, daughter of Joseph Schiller, of Hartford, died on the 11th inst., from the effects of "jumping rope." It is said she jumped over five hundred times without cessation. This is the second case of death from the same cause in that city within a few weeks.

The sad news is received from New Zealand that the Pai Mariri fanatics have visited Opotiki, hung and beheaded the Rev. M. Volker, abandoned by and vainly calling upon his flock for aid. They scooped out and ate his brains.—A fanatic priest ate his eyes. M. Volker died calmly, praying.

Twenty thousand Poles, it is said, are coming to the United States. The Poles are an agricultural people, and to the Southern States they would be a valuable acquisition at this time. As to their disposition, a delegation of Poles have had an interview with the President, and it is believed that their destination will be Virginia.

The "Hermitage," the last dwelling place of General Jackson, is in a very dilapidated condition. It was purchased by the State of Tennessee, in 1856 for $48,000. Mrs. A. Jackson, widow of the late proprietor, has appealed to President Johnson for a permanent home at the Hermitage. The President referred her application to Governor Brownlow.

Letter boxes are to be placed in the street cars in St. Louis.

Gen. Ord, commanding at Richmond, has issued the following order:—"A sufficient time having elapsed since the surrender of the forces late in the rebellion with the United States for all who were of such forces to procure other apparel than their uniform, it is hereby ordered that no person after June 15th, 1865, appear in public in this department wearing any insignia of rank or military or naval service worn by officers or men of the late rebel army. Where plain buttons cannot be procured those formerly used can be covered with cloth. Any person violating this order will be liable to arrest.

A house advertised for rent in Louisville remained for some time without a tenant. A few days ago a furniture car drove up, and in an hour things were arranged, and a negro family at home there. The landlord was naturally surprised, as he had not rented the house. The colored party had rented it of a fellow who represented himself as the owner, and who had taken twenty dollars a month in advance of his colored friends—a rent half lower than the real landlord asked.

Among the petitions received by the President, on Friday last, asking a special pardon, is that of Robert E. Lee, late commander of the rebel forces, and that of Alexander H. Stephens, Vice-President of the late Confederacy. Mr. Stephens enters at length into an apology or vindication of the action he has taken. Acknowledges that the question of secession has been decided forever, and he desires hereafter to be and to be considered a good and loyal citizen of the United States.

A delegation of prominent Democrats have waited on the President, and had a pleasant interview. The President told them that he intended to administer the Government for the whole people and not for any party. This he undoubtedly will do, as he ought to do, and not like Buchanan, and other Presidents of like kidney for the special benefit of the South, which directly led to secession and rebellion.

All honorably discharged soldiers have been granted the privilege of retaining their arms at the following low rates; Muskets of all kinds, with or without accoutrements, $6; Spencer carbines, with or without accoutrements, $10; all other carbines and revolvers, $8; sabres and swords, with or without belts, $3.

The rebel Dick Taylor, on being asked whether the Trans-Mississippi army ought to be surrendered, quickly replied, "Yes, surrender as soon as possible. You are only sitting up with a corpse. I sat up with it until it was blue, and if you delay much longer it will become too offensive for decent burial."

"The recent pleasant event chronicled in our European dispatches, it is said, was somewhat unexpected, the Princess of Wales having attended a concert on the previous evening." The pleasant event, so delicately alluded to by the London Court Journal was the accouchement of the princess.

There are two European crowned heads in search of wives—one aged ninety, the other twenty. The possessor of one of these is the Bavarian King, and it is said that King George, of Greece, has laid his heart and crown at the feet of a fair Grecian of ancient lineage and high degree.
