MARIETTA, PA:

Saturday, August 19, 1865.

A PREDICTION VERIFIED.—In 1860, when Jeff Davis was threatening destruction to the North as the result of secession, he, one day, in animated conversation with Gen. Simon Cameron, exclaimed: "When the South secedes, such paralysis will fall upon Northern enterprise, that the grass will grow in the streets of your northern cities!"

The report was instant. The General replied: "Mr. Davis, if the Southern States seceded, utter ruin will fall in your section. Your slaves will be liberated, and will assist in your destruction. The North will not be ruined, but I will, with my own hands plant corn in the streets of Charleston, the cradle of treason." True to his promise, in the spring of this year, when Gen. Cameron visited in the South, he did plant the corn, hired a soldier to attend to it, and has just received the following note from Major Gen. Hatch, commanding our forces in Charleston: "I ship, to-day, by Adams Express, four ears of corn, the product of the grain planted by yourself, in the early part of April.

It is poor corn at the best, probably owing to the soil. It received every care from the gardener at the hospital, David Fitz Gibbon."

Mr. W. P. Johnson, of Barzoria county, Texas, has recently been in Washington on a visit to his distinguished brother, the President of the United States, whom he had previously seen only once, at their mother's deathbed, since 1839. William is four years older than the President, being sixty-five years of age, is a carpenter by trade, and uncompromisingly opposed to slavery. William was a strong opponent of secession, and two of his sons were soldiers in the national army.

A correspondent writes: We rarely meet with the name of General Oles in the papers; but he "still lives" at the ripe age of eighty-four years. He resides on Jefferson street, Detroit, in a handsome modern built dwelling, while his eldest son occupies the old family homestead, two squares distant. Though afflicted with the feebleness and forgetfulness naturally incident to his patriarchal age, he maintains better health and a more active spirit than could reasonably be supposed to belong to his time of life.

A Washington gentleman who was in Alexandria when Mosby was captured, says that the presence of this noted outlaw occasioned much indignation among the soldiers on duty in that city. He (Mosby) came from Warrenton to be admitted as a member of the bar, but General Wells considering that he had broken his parole, ordered his arrest.

It is said that while Burnside lay opposite Fredericksburg, in the winter of 1862, Mosby dined with him, in the character of a Union farmer from across the river, and gathered, with his shrewd cunning, from the general table talk, much valuable information, with which he regained the rebel lines without molestation.

Frank Harley and Gus. Holtzlaw, two reputable young men of Paris, Missouri, engaged in a friendly boxing match last week, in the course of which Harley knocked Holtzlaw down. Excited by this incident, the latter jumped to his feet, drew a revolver which he had on his person, and shot the former.

Georgetown Heights, which was selected as the summer residence for the President and family, has been deemed too far from the Executive Mansion. A preference having been expressed for the Old Soldiers' Home, it is probable that it will be fitted up for their reception.

Miss Emma Richards, residing temporarily in Reading, while in company with some of her friends, on last Thursday evening, ate fourteen plates of ice cream, complained of feeling unwell on Friday morning, and died on Friday afternoon.

Michael Holbert, a citizen of Pottstown, died on the 4th inst., aged ninety-two years. He served in the war of 1812 under Captain Jacob Fryer, and cast his first vote for Washington for President.

In Oil City, when individuals who are arrested for drunkenness have no money with which to pay their fines, they are compelled to scrub the lock-up or work on the streets.

Lady Franklin was entertaining the Queen of the Sandwich Islands in Paris.

SOMETHING NEW.—We call attention to the advertisement of the Duplex Elliptic or Double Spring Skirt. Though a recent invention, it has become very popular, and is rapidly obtaining the preference over other kinds in use. The rods in it are composed each of two delicate and well-tempered steel springs, which are ingeniously braided together edge to edge, the lower rods heavier, and having a double covering. This peculiarity of construction makes this skirt very strong and durable, and also so exceedingly flexible that it readily adapts itself to the form of the wearer, and allows of any amount of doubling and crushing without injury to its shape. These skirts are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical ever made. These are advantages which ladies, who have experienced the discomfort and inconvenience of single springs, will duly appreciate.

"The Lady's Friend" for September is on our table. "Catching the Butterfly" is the leading engraving of this number, and a very pretty picture it is. The steel fashion plate for this number is as handsome as usual, and the sporting dress in it something a little peculiar. "Looking for Father," is a pretty wood engraving. Then we have engravings of a Lace Jacket, Mode of Dressing the Hair, a Bridal Coiffure, In-door Cap, &c., &c. The Music is "President Johnson's Grand March." Editorials, Fashions, Receipts, &c. Price $2.50 a year; 2 copies $4.00. To those desirous of making up clubs, specimen numbers will be sent for 15 cts. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Serious illness frequently occurs, we are advised on good sanitary authority, from eating ice cream. And it has been ascertained that the cause is the venders of the article retaining the supply left over night, refreshing it next morning, and then offering it again for sale. Some of it is thus apt to be rancid, and of course poisonous. Beware, then, how you eat other than perfectly fresh, newly made ice-cream.

Brigham Young and twenty or thirty of his hierarchy, on horseback and in carriages, started for the Southern settlement a couple of days ago. They range for one to three hundred miles southeast, to keep their constituents in the faith, lay plans for further Church and State aggrandizement, and post them on the "policy" to be pursued for the time being.

The iron interest continues to be depressed throughout the State, and rolling-mills, furnaces, &c., are closing every week. Many give the choice to their workmen of accepting lower wages or having the works closed, and the workmen generally prefer the latter course. In view of the dull state of the business, the proprietors are rather benefited thereby.

Under the new State Constitution of Maryland preparatory to future elections, is now going on throughout Maryland. If this law be observed strictly by the Registers, no one who has aided or abetted the rebellion in any shape can be allowed the right of elective franchise hereafter, without signs of genuine repentance.

A young soldier in New York offered a ten-dollar bill, which was refused by a trader as bad. He offered it again, was arrested, and, both shop-keepers appearing to testify against him, he pleaded guilty. When about to be called up for sentence, a broker was sent for, and the bill was found to be a good, genuine bill.

Captain Dean, who recently escaped from Harrisburg while a court-martial was deliberating on his case, has been arrested. He had discolored his skin on his face, breast, hands, and legs with nitrate of silver, and was bound for Canada, in the character of a negro.

A man saved his life Sunday night by taking a "night-cap" before going to bed in his room in the St. Charles Hotel, New York. While his drink was preparing, the portion of the hotel in which his room was located tumbled into ruins.

Abd-el-Kader still attracts much attention in Paris. Although fifty-eight years old, and decidedly stout, he is considered very handsome by the Parisians, to whom he is very accessible. He is to stay five or six weeks longer in Paris.

A new comic weekly is soon to be started in New York. The names of Ohas. F. Browne (Artemus Ward), George Arnold (MacArone), and Prof. Dio Lewis are mentioned in its connection.

A man sat in a window in a hotel in Columbus, Ohio, to put on his boots, fell out and was killed.

A colored woman, with a fortune of $500,000, advertises in the Paris papers for a husband.

The What-is-it is dead. "It" was an idiotic negro girl, not a boy, as has been stated.

Blondin is trying in vain to recover $65,000 from his bankrupt agent in London.

The World in a Nut-Shell. John M. Botts is at Saratoga. He confirms the report that he has written a history of the rebellion.

Forney of the Philadelphia Press is very confident that Jeff Davis will be tried before a military commission.

It is the fashion at Saratoga for ladies to paint their lower eyelids a dark color so as to look sickly and interesting.

A million and a half in five twenties were sent to Europe by the steamship Scotia from New York, a few days since.

It is positively ascertained that there are no counterfeiters of national bank notes in circulation.

The Richmond, Va., police, in carrying out the orders of General Grant, recently pounced on the faro bank of Flannigan & Co., Broad street, and captured fifteen persons, including the newly elected magistrate of the city, and a lay out for faro.

It has been industriously circulated that the counsel of Mrs. Surratt performed their services in her behalf gratuitously. It now appears that previous to her execution her counsel obtained from her an acknowledgement for three thousand five hundred dollars, secured upon her real estate.

General Jubal Early is in Washington, but boasts that he would "never get down so low as to ask President Johnson's pardon." He proposes to go to Europe, and says he has property enough to support him there in ease.

The wife of Peyton Langley of Fulton, Mo., dishonored him. He talked the matter over with her, when she agreed to let him kill her, if he would himself commit suicide. This strange and horrible arrangement was carried out—Langley shooting his wife through the heart while she lay in bed, then placing himself beside her, and blowing out his own brains.

Hon. Edward Bates, lately Attorney-General of the United States, has been quite ill at his home in St. Louis. He is now out of danger.

A Washington correspondent says that the Butler-Porter Fort Fisher quarrel appears to have been settled, and the tomahawk buried, and that General Butler and Admiral Porter have been observed upon the streets of Washington and upon the President's grounds arm in arm, and in most pleasant confidential converse.

A number of gentlemen in Philadelphia, by private subscription, have collected sufficient funds to procure a statue of Mr. Lincoln for Jefferson square. The figure is to be of bronze, six feet high, and when in position will be on a granite base of the same height.

Bayard Taylor's novel of John Godfrey, is published serially in German, in a German magazine at Chicago. The author's wife is the translator.

The new three-cent pieces are composed of twenty-five per cent. copper and twenty-six per cent. nickel, which makes a very bad alloy. It takes two hundred and fifty-four of the pieces to weigh a pound, and they cost the Government just half a cent a piece.

A granite monument eight feet high, has been placed over the remains of the victims by the Pemberton Mill disaster at Lawrence, five years ago, who could not be recognized when they were taken from the ruins. The monument cost $700.

A daughter of the celebrated American sculptor, Powers, is married to one of the richest merchants of Sheffield, England, Mr. Ibbotson, and is the most accomplished lady in that part of England.

One honest Georgia Postmaster has paid over to the Post Office Department, in greenbacks, the value of the postage stamps he had on hand at the breaking out of the war.

The once United States frigate, now United States School-ship Constitution, arrived at Fortress Monroe, from Newport, Rhode Island, bound to Annapolis, Md., at which place she is to be permanently stationed as a school for the cadets of the Naval Academy. There is no one on board now save her officers and crew.

Hezekiah J. Round, a returned soldier, living near Indianapolis, shot himself through the head on Friday last, having learned of the seduction of his wife by a physician who attended her in his absence. The woman and her paramour, with $1000 of the soldier's money, fled.

A movement has been started in St. Louis to get up a monument to the brave Gen. Lyon on the battle-ground at Wilson's Creek.

It is a remarkable circumstance, that of twenty-two soldiers from Jackson, Wyndham county, Va., and its immediate vicinity, not one has been killed, although they have been in many a hard-fought battle.

About 50,000 persons, witnessed the execution of the English physician Pritchard, who poisoned his wife and mother-in-law.

Special Notices.
