

The Mariettian.

F. L. Baker, Editor. MARIETTA, PA.

Saturday, September 30, 1865.

The reorganization of the rebel states rests with Congress, and Congress will be greatly governed in its action by the course of public opinion.

Madame Kossuth, wife of the illustrious and eloquent Hungarian patriot, has lately died, at Turin, worn out by a painful illness which had protracted her for many years.

Thomas M. Key has been nominated by the Democrats of Ohio as a candidate for the Supreme Court of that State.

Godoy for October is out; an autumn number with fall fashions; the colored fashion-plate contains six of the latest fashions, including a bride's dress; the Empire Bonnet, and a host of other engravings.

We regret to see that the Rochdale Observer, which is understood to be the special organ of John Bright, states that it is not true that the distinguished gentleman is about to pay a visit to the United States.

A nice little bit of innocence occurred recently, at an agricultural show at Cahors. The prize having been awarded to some sheep displaying splendid wool on their backs, the judge seized hold of one to mark it, when, to his surprise, the whole fleece came off, and it was discovered that it had been stuck on with wax!

An important feature of the September term of the Brooklyn City Court, is the appearance in the jury-box of a colored man named Robert Jackson, who was duly summoned and empanelled as a juror. This is the first case of the kind in this court.

Governor Cummings, the new Governor of Colorado, is in Washington, and perfecting his arrangements to start for his post. He will, in all probability, be in Denver by the middle of October.

All orders for the prosecution of confiscation suits have been suspended by President Johnson until further notice. The Richmond Republic says that if the elections show a loyal feeling this suspension will be indefinite.

On Friday last, a woman named Isabella Ould, shot, and badly wounded a man in Richmond. She asked, and received his forgiveness. The cause of the act was that she asked him to marry her, and he refused.

It is reported that Howell Cobb has been arrested; charged with complicity in the Andersonville outrages.

Capt. R. J. Lincoln is not in Paris, as reported, but is quietly pursuing his law studies in this country.

The counsel for Wirz intend to put Robert Ould on the stand in his defence. Ould is in Washington.

Wm. J. Duane, a descendant of Dr. Franklin, an old and prominent resident of Philadelphia, died on Tuesday, aged eighty-five years. His father was a prominent politician a half a century ago or less, and his son was associated with him in the management of the Aurora, the Democratic organ at that day. Here Mr. Duane became fully acquainted with the politics of the day, and, studying law, began to labor for distinction. He began his career in politics, by serving several terms in the State Legislature, and when Gen. Jackson was elected President, became a warm and active supporter of the governmental policy. He was appointed Secretary of the Treasury, but differing with Jackson's policy in relation to the removal of deposits from the U. S. Bank, was superseded by the late Chief Justice Taney. This was the last appearance of Mr. Duane in political life. He then applied himself to the practice of his profession, in which he succeeded remarkably well. He was counsel to Girard, and prepared the will by which Philadelphia received the princely gift, which gave Girard College in trust for the city's orphans.

The camel experiment is again to be tried on the plains by an "overland camel company." The camels are to be imported from Algeria, and will do some of the heavy transportation to our fellow-citizens in the wilds. They can travel on roads impracticable to wagons and in the mountain passes, as well as on the plains, and will be for years of immense utility. The camel is the semicivilized method of transportation, and is but the harbinger of the railroads which will within the century cover our western land with a giant network.

John Bright, the English member of Parliament, and the champion of America in England when her friends were few, has not been offered a passage to this country in the Colorado by the President, as was reported. He, however, will be welcomed as leading Englishmen seldom are, when he may choose to come to this country.

Dean Richmond, and Samuel J. Tilden, two of the leaders of the Democracy of New York having at last discovered that Andrew Johnson is fit to be President, and worthy to be trusted, are now in Washington, and will doubtless be received by the President, with whom they profess to have important public business.

A private letter said to have been written by President Lincoln to Gen. Wadsworth is published in the Southern Advocate of September 18th. It shows that Mr. Lincoln desired the bestowal of the elective franchise upon the blacks, and was also in favor of granting a universal amnesty at an early day.

Alexander Stephens, ex-rebel vice-president, will soon be released on parole, with a view to his returning to Georgia to co-operate with ex-Governor Brown, in the reconstruction and restoration of that State to the Union. Malloy will also soon be let out on parole.

The President is still overwhelmed by pardon-seekers. People who call upon him for other purposes complain that the pardon-bunters monopolize all his time, and the seekers themselves do not make much headway.

The Steward of the ship Ariadne jumped aboard on the passage from Prince Edward's Island to Liverpool, while under the influence of liquor, and was eaten by a shark before a boat could get to him.

The original instrument of secession, signed by the members of the South Carolina Convention, Dec. 20, 1860, now adorns a shop-window in Fall River, Mass., which is quite a good enough place for it.

Duncan, the rebel quartermaster at Andersonville, who was an accomplice of Wirz, has been arrested and is now in prison at Washington. He will probably be tried by the Wirz court-martial.

The Kentucky Methodist Conference has voted down a proposition to unite with the Northern Church, but will receive overtures from it, looking toward a union.

The matter of furnishing white laborers for the Southern plantations, now that slavery is extinct, is becoming quite a business in some of our Northern cities.

A firm in Illinois has recovered a verdict of $2250 against the Great Western Railroad Company for the destruction of their warehouse by sparks from a passing train.

A Detroit printer has fallen heir to $90,000 in gold now on deposit in the Bank of England. Will he be any happier? At least ten to fifteen years of his life are taken away by this windfall.

R. M. T. Hunter, Ex-Governor Smith, of Virginia, and the ex-rebel general Gideon J. Pillow, of Mexican memory, will, it is supposed, also receive pardons.

The South Carolina Convention has refused to allow the negroes to form a part of the basis of representation.

The World in a Nut-Shell.

The last wonderful discovery made is that by a Frenchman, that electricity applied to a certain small apparatus repels rain, and he places that electrical apparatus in his cane, which he holds above his head, when the rain pours off in all directions. The people of the town in which he lives gaze at him, it is said, with a sort of awe as he walks in the midst of rain without being wetted. The days of umbrellas are over!

Among the new announcements in London is one of an "International Polyglot Traveling Institution," to which young gentlemen of all nations are admitted. The school "will be continually travelling, under the superior person. Each language will be taught in the country where it is spoken with the greatest purity. Towns, monuments, and museums, will be carefully and scientifically inspected."

A streak of lightning entered an upper story of the building occupied by the First National Bank of Huntington, Pa., the other day, stunned a young girl, passed into a lower room, burnt a hole in the carpet, entered the dining room below and tore off the plastering, and then shot out of the open door and was seen no more.

They give odd remedies for the cattle disease in England. A cow belonging to Miss Burdett Counts was dosed with "eight bottles of whiskey; twelve bottles of brandy, thirty bottles of port wine and other strong drinks." The animal recovered from the distemper, but died of delirium tremens.

The Union Bank of New London has a double-barrelled, forward and back action, patent combination, burglar-proof lock to its safe. The other day it was locked, and the password was forgotten; the consequence was, that neither the maker nor anybody else could open it, and the door had to be cut off.

A lady informs the Maine Farmer that she saved her cherries from the birds, by making some cats out of old rags. "Be sure," she says, "to make the eyes out of large yellow beads or bright brass buttons, and the birds will not come near when one of these cats is perched in the tree."

The last impertinent statement about Edwin Booth is that he is about to marry an interesting young Massachusetts lady of personal charms and pecuniary consequence, who wrote him a tender and sympathizing letter at the time when he was bitterly depressed by the crime of his brother.

Mrs. Grindler, the Pittsburg poisoner, seems to have worked on a large scale. It now appears that her victims are numerous, and among them are the entire family of her husband, several members of which died horrible deaths, while others barely escaped with their lives, after suffering intensely.

Professor Lowe, who has been making short balloon ascensions from the New York Central Park, has in process of construction a bridal car, and announces that the next sensation will be the performance of the marriage ceremony in the clouds.

Read Read & Brother's card in another column of this week's paper. From the list of recommendations we have seen, we feel justified in saying that all who patronize them will be honorably dealt with. The one dollar jewelry enterprises have had their day and "gone under." Read their new mode of transacting business. Try your luck—it will cost but twenty five cents.

Dr. Mudd is acting as nurse in the hospital at the Dry Tortugas; Spangler and O'Laughlin are on duty as carpenters, and Arnold, who is in bad health, is employed in writing for the provost-marshal.

It is stated that the citizens of St. Louis have collected $38,000, put it in bank to the credit of General Sherman, and requested the General to use it in selecting a house to his taste.

Quite a stir has been made at Newport by the discovery that one of the most extravagant ladies at that fashionable watering place absconded, leaving all her bills unpaid.

Boston Corbett has just been honorably discharged from the army. He has as yet received nothing for his share in Booth's capture.

Colonel Straight, who made the straight ride through Georgia, and dug his way out of Libby Prison, is editing a paper in Indiana.

Professor Lieber is busily engaged classifying, with a view to putting the history of the rebellion properly before the world.

A condemned government steed took the first prize for saddle horses at the late fair at Winchester, Kentucky.

Mr. John Hanks is exhibiting the Lincoln log-cabin in New York, under the auspices of Mr. P. T. Barnum.

Rev. Peter Hamill, who attempted to commit suicide in New York, died on Friday.

Light gymnastic exercises are to be introduced in the public schools of Philadelphia.

THE CONDITION OF WIRZ.—There are many who are beginning to believe that Wirz will break down completely and die before the end of the trial, or before he can be justly punished.

He is a man of nervous and delicate frame, and one wonders as he looks upon the criminal, how it is that so much cruelty could be done up in so flimsy a package. His eyes are sunken, his hair grows wirier and grayer every day, and he seems to be without any friends but his lawyers, who are such professionally—nothing more, and his spiritual advisers. His wife, who seems to be a cold, hard woman, visits him, but her visits are even more formal than those of his counsel. She does not seem to be in the least affected by the terrible fate impending over her husband; indeed, it is not harsh to say that she does not care whether he is hung or not. Wirz feels that he is abandoned. Haggard, pale, and despairing, he experiences something of the horrors he once so coolly inflicted on others.

We would say to our readers, that Messrs. C. G. Clark & Co., proprietors of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, warrant it to cure the most obstinate cases of Dyspepsia, no matter of how long standing.

We bid you try Coe's Dyspepsia Cure; it will help you. Constipation, one of the chief causes of ill health, is completely cured by the use of the Cure. All diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, like sick-headache, heart-burn, cramps, pains or colic, are controlled instantaneously by the use of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure.

The new ten cent fractional currency has been put in circulation and is an improvement on the old issue. The pieces are a little larger than the old tens, and shorter than twenty-five cent slips. Upon the face is a medallion head of Washington, with a factory chimney and a ship's rigging on either side, and a figure "10" in gilt in four places. The back is of a red color, and the figure "10" in large gilt. They are printed on bank note paper, and promise to be more durable than the present currency.

A Catholic priest named Cummings, residing in Louisiana, Mo., was arrested a few days since, taken before Judge Bagg, of the Pike Circuit Court, and sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, for persisting in preaching without taking the constitutional oath. Having refused to pay the fine, and declined to permit his friends to pay it for him, the Rev. Father is confined in the county jail. His case will probably be brought before the Supreme Court for a final decision.

Hon. Townsend Haines of West Chester is dead; he was 74 years old. He was, during his life, a member of the Legislature, secretary of the Commonwealth, under Gov. Johnston, Register of the Treasury, under Fillmore, and President Judge of the Chester district for ten years. He was an able lawyer and a fine public speaker. He was also a poet of more than common order, having written quite a number of songs for the Harrison campaign.

The whole number of negro troops mustered into service during the war is 180,000; of whom over 50,000 have died, a ratio of mortality greatly exceeding that of the white troops. It is said that 60,000 are to be mustered out, which will leave about 70,000 in service. This shows the immense strength of the colored army, and to what extent they have suffered in fighting the battles of their country.

A hundred barrels of flour consigned from Montreal to New York, was stopped at the Custom House department, at St. Albans, on Thursday. An examination of one of the barrels revealed to the inspector a conical tin case, holding about three gallons of high wines, and farther search discovered the presence of the foreign element in seventy-five of the barrels.

Neagle, the great Philadelphia portrait painter, is dead; aged 67 years. He was married to a daughter of Thomas Sully, the painter. Mrs. Moore, widow of Tom Moore, the poet, died on the 4th instant, in London, aged 68. Miss Annie Dickinson has entered the political canvass for the Union State ticket.

A man, bathing off Orient Point, Conn., on Sunday week, was seized round the waist by a shark. After a severe struggle he succeeded in putting his finger into the shark's eye, when it made off, and the man was picked up in a state of exhaustion from loss of blood. He may recover.

The force of Habit was singularly illustrated in New Haven the other day. As a battery was going into camp, an old battery horse grazing in a lot, hearing a bugle call, jumped the fence, took his old position in line, and moved out to camp with the battery.

There is a woman in Charlestown, N. H., who has a collection of tame toads, in her yard. They know their mistress, follow her about, and hop in her lap to be fed, and are tenderly cared for.

NEW HOOP SKIRT FOR 1865-6!

The Great Invention of the Age in HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent Duplex Elliptic (or double) Spring Skirt.

This Invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic pure refined steel springs, ingeniously braided lightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the single springs, and consequently preserve their beautiful shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small space as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with the same. For children, Misses, and young ladies they are superior to all others.

The hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all cheap hoop skirts. The bottom of every skirt are also double steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant corded tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WESS' & BRADLEY & COY., Proprietors of the invention, and Sole Manufacturers, 97 Chambers, and 79 & 81 Reade streets, New York.
