MARIETTA, PA:

Saturday Morning, November 25, 1885.

A letter received in Washington from northern Alabama states that the rebels have defeated all the Union candidates. The infamous Frank B. Gurlay the murderer of General McCook, has been elected sheriff of Madison county, and the Rev. J. R. Morris, who declared from the stump "that he could not take the oath, and any man who could was a black hearted traitor to the south," is elected to Congress from the Madison district, while Roster, ex rebel Congressman, is elected from the Limestone district. Madison county has declared, by 1088 to 594, against the amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery, which was made the test question in the canvass. Such a spirit of proscription and downright persecution of Union men is rife, as will force them all from the State, it is feared have a missorial comment

It has been emphatically declared by President Johnson, in order that the late rebel States may resume their full relations with the Government they must do three things to wit: 1. Declare the ordinances of secession passed by them in 1861 to have been null and void from the beginning, 2. Ratify the amendment to the Constitution of the United States by which slavery is forever prohibited, and Congress is clothed with power to make all laws necessary to carry that prohibition into effect. 3. Repudiate the debts. Confederate and State, contracted for the purpose of overthrowing the National Government.

An inquest was held on Thursday night, in St. Louis, on the body of an old man named Artemus Ditchcock who died under the following circumstances: He was a resident of Rock. ford, Illinois, and came on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Louisa McDowell, of Carondolet, and sitting down in a state of exhaustion on a bench near her house, suddenly died of disease of the heart, He was found by the family a corpse instead of a visitor. The family had observed his approach, but not recognizing him did not go out to meet him until he was found a lifeless corpse.

Advices have been received at the State Department from our Consuls at Brindis, Egypt, Constantinople, and Port Mahon. At Brindis the cholera has made its appearance, notwithstanding the strict quarantine regulations. The number of deaths there from this terrible scourge. from Oct. 9th to Oct. 25th, amount to 219. At Constanting ple this disease has entirely disappeared. At Palermo it is also rapidly disappear

It appears that the English troops have made short-work of the rebellion in Jamaica. It is now entirely suppressed. Many of the rebels have been executed. Among them several leaders and the principal one-a man named Gordon.-Others have been imprisoned. British troops were fast reaching the island, and there is now no likelihood of the rebellion breaking out afresh. The spanish fleet co-operate with the English.

Wirz, before his execution, informed the government where his official books and papers could be obtained. These documents have been sent for. and it is believed that the evidence found in them will determine, whether another court shall be organized for the trial of young Winder, and Duncan, now confined in the Old Capitol, and others holding higher position in the rebel service, who were implicated in the Andersonville, barbarities.

Mr. A. Printz, for some years past Superintendent of the Gas Works at Zanesville; died suddenly on Thursday night last, while on his way home from his office. A post mortem examination was held, by which it was discovered that the cause of his death was suffocation from tobacco (which be used freely) lodging in his windpipe.

Two of the Congressmen elected in North Carolina were members of the rebel congress, and two more were officers in the same body. Hon. Bedford Brown, who was in the United States Senate thirty years ago, has been elected in the Fifth district to the House of Representatives, and res , and on it al

Gen. Baker, chief government deective, informs the Washington Republican that the statement that Mrs. Wirz attempted to poison her husband is true: that the published date is a mistake; that he was made to yield up the bitter pill to the throttling of Gen. B.; that the pill was delivered to Judge Advocate General Holt in thirty minutes after the deed was attempted; that Mrs. Wirz visited her husband in prison at least seven times, and that Wirz, before his death, made a written confession to him (Gen. B.) which will throw light on the whole subject when published.

A letter to the Chicago Tribune, dated at Montgomery, Ala, November 6. savs :

"Col. Gayle, of Cahawba, who offered a million dollars for the assassination of Mr. Lincoln, has not been pardoned. He was released from the Old Capitol prison and sent here to report to the Hon. J. Q. Smith, United States District Attorney, who bound him over in the sum of $25,000 to appear at the next term of the United States Court, which is to be held on the third Monday of this month,

A Jackson (Miss.) paper makes proposition to raise a fund of half a million dollars, by the contributions exclusively of soldiers who served in the rebel army, to purchase Jeff. Davis a residence in some foreign country—after be is pardoned and liberated. Each private soldier is to give one dollar, and will be allowed to contribute at their discretion.

The Jews have, as a body, shown their full share of patriotism. The number of Jews in the United States army during the late war was 40,000. They have established five asylums for disabled soldiers, their widows and orphans, the benefits of which are limited to no faith or creed-one at New York, one at Philadelphia, one at Cincinnati, one at Chicago, and one at St. Louis.

We would call the attention to the advertisement of Haskins & Co., in another column. They want Agents to sell fine Steel Engravings, and offer great inducements; they are an old established house, and have the reputation of dealing promptly and honestly with their customers. Many of our young men may find it very profitable to employ their spare time in selling for them.

Since the election of Governor Seward, in 1838, the Whigs or Repubicans have had eight Governors of New York and the Democrats three, namely, his English dictionaries and glossaries Bouck, Wright and Seymour, who together held the office for a period of right of his quarto dictionary he gives eight years. We call attention to the advertisement of A. H. Rowen & Co., New York, which will be found in our advertising columns. They have a very large stock of Jewelry and Silver ware, to be sold at one Dollar for each article. By paying 25 cents you can learn what article you can theve. There is certainly not much risk, and we should think, from reading their scheme, that every one was pretty sure of getting more than the worth of their money. We dearn that they want agents, with/whom they deal liberally. The list is very attractive and will pay for perusal, even if you do not invest.

Simeon Jennings, of Wellsville. Ohio, died suddenly, while sitting in his chair, last week. He possessed enormous wealth, mostly in the shape of real estates and mortgages on the same. He also owned large interests in a number those who were commissioned officers of Ohio banks. He was noted for his extreme penuriousness, and intense devotion to money making. Though worth millions, when travelling on the cars he would carry a lunch in his pocket to save the expense of a dinner at an eating house. He bought a plain brick residence below Wellsville, on the Virginia side of the Obio river, and made that his home, to escape paying taxes in Ohio on his mortgages, judgement notes and money. He was probably the richest man in Ohio.

> Duff Green, the notorious, died at Mobile the other day. He was always a rank southerner. As editor of the United States Telegraph he supported Gen. Jackson's first election, but subsequently changed against him at his sec ond election, going with John C. Calhoun and his extreme southern views. His paper was the first in this country called the "Telegraph."

ONE HUNDRED GOLD DOLLARS .-- This is the title of an exceedingly interesting story about to be published in that excellent family paper, the Sunday School Times, of Philadelphia. The narrative is from the pen of an author whose name is a guarantee for the sterling worth of the lessons it teaches. The object is Berlin, Prussia, and came near breaking to show the proper uses as well as the abuses of money. It abounds in incidents drawn from the lives of eminent persons to show that wealth, in order to prove a blessing, must be properly applied. The story alone is well worth in any family circle the subscription Judge / Underwood has condemned price of the paper, which is only $1.50, a year, in advance.
