The Local Mariettian.

Sandy Morning, March 10, 1866.

in consequence of sickness our paper has not received the attention paper this week, it should have had.

We clip the following item from the Bucks County Intelligencer, one of the most influential Republican papers in the State :-

"An effort is now being made to procore the appointment of Professor J. position of State Superintendent of Common Schools, in the place of Mr. Coburn, whose term will shortly expire. The proposition appears to find favor in every quarter where the paramount desire is to promote the character and usefulness of our public schools. We are sure that so far as Bucks county is interested, no appointment could be more acceptable than that of Prof. Wickersbam.

In our last issue we announced the partial breaking up of the ice in the river. The result was that " rafting in" had commenced in good earnest, and quite a large amount of timber was put into the water during the latter part of the week. On Sunday, however, there was a considerable change in the atmosthere, and during the day the ground froze hard and some snow fell, which out a sudden stop to the rafting opera

We learn that the store of J. C. Brenner & Co., in Kylertown, was rob-_{bed on} Saturday evening, February 24th. by some unknown persons. The robbers gained admittance at a back room window, and rifled the drawers of about $250 in cash, whilst young Brenner was at supper. The thieves also carried off anumber of promissory notes, but they will be of no account as their payment has been stopped. Evidently the thieres were well acquainted with the premises. HEADLEY'S HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION!

TIHE late rebellion stands out péculiar and extraordinary in human events; and the magnificent scale upon which the war has seen conducted, constitute it one of the grandst and most brilliant chapters of the world's istory.

Mr. Headley, of all writers, is perhaps best qualified to portray the the stupendous features of the mighty contest. His previous works on less momentous themes have placed him in the first position, as a graphic and pow-erful deleniator of war scenes and characters, and the magnitude and grandeur of the pres-ent subject, impart to his pen the fire and vigor of a yet more exacted inspiration, and fur nish ample scope for the highest exhibition of nish ample scope for the highest exhibition of his peculiar genius for military description. Under his powerful pen the stirring scenes of the War pass in review with the vividness and distinctness of a present and living reality; while his great talent for condensation enables him to embody everything of importance in a compass just suited to the public want. From no other source can so clear and comprehensive an impression of the grand march of events be obtained, so easily and agreeably so from Mr. Headley's work.

other histories have been issued before Grant's Report and other official documents were submitted to the government, and there-fore unreliable. Nr. lieadley has delayed the completion of this till those documents so essential to authenticity and correctness could be obtained.

The second volume, completing this work, will be issued in March, 1866. Agents wanted to engage in its sale in every town and county in the United States. Liberal inducements offered. To the Public.—Having had occasion for the use of a Dentist, I called on Dr. Worrall, who has succeeded in preparing for me an excellent and serviceable set—upper and lower. They are upon what is called "rubber base," and fit my mouth firmly and comfortably, and are almost as much use to me as were my natural teeth. My mouth having become considerably deformed in consequence of having sucerably declormed in consequence of having gone a number of years without any teeth on one side of my jaw, but the Doctor remedied this defect, making the fit complete, whilst the working of the teeth are entirely satisfactory. I would cheerfully recommend any person in want of denial operations, to call on Dr. Worrall, having great confidence in his professiona skill.
