MARIETTA, PA: Saturday Morning, March 17, 1866.

The evidence taken before the Committee on Reconstruction within the last ten days is of such a nature. coming as it does from the meet unquestionable sources, as showing the imminent danger of admitting members of Congress from any of the late rebel states except Tennessee, and even here the spirit of disloyalty, except in East Tennessee, le still rampant, every one from Gen. Thomas and Senator Patterson down, testify that if the State was left to a full vote it would decide against the Government, though each thought that it would be politic to admit to seats the members from that State. We suppose from these developements the views of the President will be considerably toned down. It is to be sincerely hoped they may be.

E Last week we stated that on ac count of a sudden change in the atmos phere, rafting wassuspended. The cold continued until Sunday last, when the air moderated, and several inches of snow fell. On Monday the snow melted under the warm rays of the san, and the river rose to a rafting stage, and soon our lumbermen were again busy at work. Quite a number of rafts have started for the lower markets, within a day or two. -Clearfield Journal.

The Republican papers of the State have spoken with uniform kindness and courtesy of Mr. Clymer, the democratic candidate for Governor; but the democratic presses, as soon as Gen. Geary was nominated, commenced a personal warfare upon him in their usual disgraceful style. Nothing better, however, was to be expected of them.

GF An exchange remarks that when a man gets mad and stops his paper, he always borrows the next number of his neighbor's, to see if the withdrawal of his subscription hasn': killed the editor, and if he has not dressed the columns of the paper in morning. Such men imagine that the world rests on their shoulders.

The Richmond Enquirer denounces the resolutions and ridicules the proceediags of the Union State, Convention which nominated General Geary. So does the Philadelphia Age and kindred Journals. "Birds of a feather flock together."

A HORRIBLE DEATH .-- Joseph Raiston of Philipsburg, Centre county, met with a horrible death by freezing, a few days ago, He had been drinking freely, and had, while drunk, endeavored to wade the Moshannon creek, but ere he had proceeded two thirds across, his limbs refused to perform their office. He grasped a bough of an over-hanging tree unable to advance further, and soon the fast congealing water cemented close about him a tomb of ice, which stretched from shore to shore. Two days after this he was found standing there rigid as an icicle, his knees imbedded in a sheet of the frozen element seven inches thick, his body inclined a little forward, hands clutching the boughs, eyes astare. and despair pictured on his features.

THE PULSE .- The number of beats of the pulse per minute varies at different ages, being greater in childhood than in old age, and from 10 to 14 beats per minute greater in the female than in the male. In the newly born infant the number of beats per minute is from 130 to 140; in the first year, 115 to 130; second year, 100 to 115; third year, 90 to 100; seventh year, 85 to 90; thirteenth year, 80 to 85; manhood, 70 to 80; old age, 50 to 55.
