The Focal Mariettian.

gaturday Morning, April, 28, 1866.

Quite a Fenian demonstration jost place at the Town Hall, on Wedguiday evening, at which Captain Don Jasa Wallings presided, and L. Goldburg acted as ascretary, and Patrick drady, Sen., treasurer. Dr. Donneily, State Uentre for Pennsylvania, and a Mr. Mac Williams addressed the meetinf, which was quite large. We are told-for unfortunately we were not there—that quite a number signed the gaster roll, subject to leave with 24 hours notice. Some of the bonds were disposed of. The speakers gave notice that the time for work had arrived, and that by the 15th of May an onset would be made; that the organization had simi enough, but wented ammunition, and that cartridges, calibre No. 58, for Enfeld rifles, would be as acceptable as goney. Everything passed off harmopiously.

Two strolling, thieving, begging regebonds, whilst begging along Markst street, a few days since, went into the entry of Mrs. Lease, adjoining the residence of Mr. S. S. Nagle, and stole a shawl. They were afterwards apprehended and the shawl found upon the person of one of them. They were taken before Esquire Auxer, who committed them. They gave the names of Charles Hantingdon and John Kelly. One of them remarked to the 'equire, as he was making out the commitment. that the stone-jug was no new place for him, and that he would just as soon be there as anywhere else.

During the severe hail storm and thunder shower of Monday last, the fine brick dwelling on James L. Reynolds' farm, formerly Preacher Jacob Graybill's was struck by lightning, and considerably injured. The lightning entered sear the chimney and played some singular pranks in the upper story and came down the pipe hole, stunning and burning a Miss Harriet Raiston, a seamstress in the family of Samuel Hipple, sen., the tenant. Dr. Grove was called in to the sid of Miss Raleton, who says she is con on a fair way of recovery.

We observe by the Lancaster papers, that the city authorities are giving public notice to the citizens to keep their premises clean, for fear the Cholstamay come this summer. We also and that our Borough authorities are determined to enforce the ordinances requiring a general "clean-up." Read the proclemation of the chief burgess in mother column. This is right-very right, and it is to be hoped that every right-minded citizen will encourage a strict observance of the proclamation .-

If they fail to please a customer -out of their large and varied stockthat customer is hard to please. In addition, the Shuitz brothers are an agreeable trio to deal with.

The boys and girls of Marietta between the ages of nine and fifteen, are requested to meet at Temperance Hall, on (this) Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of forming a "Juvenile Temperance Society." Addresses will delivered. Parents are also requestad to attend. G. M. CLAWGES.

Kindness Acknowledged.

Mr. Baker :- The Pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Marietta, and his wife, desire to return their most heartfelt thanks to the good people who so liberally patronized the late "Fair and Festival," for the benefit of the church ; inasmuch as through the unexampled liberality* of both friends and strangers they have been made the happy recipionts of many very valuable presents, whilst at the same time the church has been and will be substantially benefitted. It would be impossible to specify the many marks of unremitting and considerate kindness shown towards the Pastor and his family, since they came so recently as strangers here. A beautiful parlor chair for Mrs. Fleming; a pretty and costly wrapper, and slippers to correspond, for myself, as well as appropriate gifts for the children, are among the articles so generously bestowed. But last, though not least, a present of $100 in cash, from the ladies literally struck me dumb. I can only say: "The Lord reward them a hundred fold temporally and spiritually." WM. A. FLEMING.

* The net proceeds of the Fair amounted to the sum of $732.

MARRIED.

On the 18th ultimo, at the Presbyterian Par-senage, Merietta, by Rev. W. A. Fleming, Mr. HARRY SNYDER, of Lower Marietta, and Miss Sallie Schafffer, of Bain-bridge, Lancaster county. . Special Notices.

The following was found written on the blank leaf of Miss Kate A. Libhart's Sab bath School Time Book, and is now published by request of a number of her scholars, who regret her withdrawal from the school. Miss L taught a class in what is commonly called the " Irishtewn Sunday School " and has just been married and gone to the western part of the State to reside:

Once more has kind Providence permitted of persons. us to meet together on this beautiful Sabbath afternoon, but oh ! it may be months-perhaps years ere I again meet you, my dear scholars, but my sincers wish is that you may be as faithful to your subbath school in the future as you have been in the past. It is sad thus to part from you dear ones-after having met Sabbath after Sabbath in this good work. Some of you I may never meet again; but if not in this world, may it be in the next, where | Will leave Reading at 6:10 a. m. & 6:15 p. m. parting is unknown.

THE NEW LAMP .- Years of study and thousands of dollars have been expended in experiments by many endeavoring to discover a process by which oil could be burned without the use of chimneys. This discovery has, at length, been made by Henry Danford, of Cincinnati, and a patent for the same was granted on the tenth day of Nov. 1863, since which time thousands of these lamps have come into general use in the Western States and the common coal oil lamps are fast getting out of date. The plan upon which this lamp works is by an impelled current of air driver into the flame by machinery which it would be impossible to obtain with the amount of draft occasioned by the application of a dozen tablishment is the most extensive in chimneys. The rapid supply of oxygen to the head-gear" display of any west of carbon of the oil gives a brilliant light—the Philadelphia. We would advise our light obtained from a one inch wick being far superior to any single gas light. With respect to cost, the saving is very considerable in light alone, not to say anything of chimneys. A superior light to gas being obtained for 17 cents per hour, while gas at present rates is 2:4-10 cents. Compared with the common coal oil lamp the saving is more than one-third for the same amount of light. These lamps are to be obtained at the store of Dr. Hinkle who has the agency and exclusive right of sale for Marietta Borough and East Donegal Township. As a matter of economy we recommend housekeepers and others to look into this matter and satisfy themselves.
