

MARIETTA, PA:

Saturday Morning, May 12, 1866.

It is now confidently stated that the visit of Mrs. Jefferson Davis to Fortress Monroe promises to be of long duration. On Friday, Major General Miles, acting under instructions from Washington, D. C., directed Lieutenant McElrath, the post quartermaster, to turn over one of the casemates for her use. It is understood that Mrs. Davis applied for a room in Carroll Hall, where her husband is confined, but was refused by General Miles. The conditions of the visit of Mrs. Davis, which were made known shortly after she arrived there, permit her to have free intercourse with her husband during all hours of the day, and strictly enjoin upon her to use no illegal measures in attempting either his rescue or release.

The editor of the La Crosse Democrat, in a letter written on the 13th, makes the following mention of the departing Statesman, Gen Lewis Cass: He is still alive, though his family have gathered here in daily expectation of his decease. The General is now in his 87th year. He passes most of his time in sleep, undisturbed. At rare intervals he wakes up sufficiently to ask for some of his old friends, who are sent for, but on arriving, within the hour, he is generally asleep again. His disease is softening of the brain.

President Johnson, in one of his late speeches, took particular care to announce that he was a "tribune of the people," because he used the veto power. We think he had better not have used that name for history informs us that the "tribune of the people" became demagogues, and destroyed the liberties of Rome.

Tt is stated as a remarkable coincidence that four of the officers of the broken Merchants' National Bank of Washington are also officers of the Johnson National Union Club. Whether or not the operations of the latter will be checked by the failure of the former is a matter of question.

Another batch of new counterfeit fifty cent postal currency have made their appearance. The printing is not so fine as on the genuine, although the fronts are done in good style. They are executed better than any previous counterfeit, and liable to deceive unless closely examined.

Sportsmen will do well to bear in nind that it is against the law to kill blue birds, swallows, robins, or any other insectivorous birds at any season. Farmers should do everything in their power to protect the birds. They are the best friends the farmer has.

Hon. John P. Hale. Minister to Spain, finds it so difficult to keep up ministerial hospitality upon his salary of $12,000 in gold, that he is anxious to obtain the vacant United States Judgeship in Vermont, the salary of which is only $2,000 in currency.

At Mobile, on the 26th ult., colored boy scarcely fifteen years old. was hanged for the murder of another boy of thirteen. The elder boy owed the younger for a gun, and to avoid payment enticed him into a lonely place, and killed him.

Secretary Seward, according to the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati "Gazette," has stated privately, within a short time, that he is to be the next President, and he expects the support of the South.

A marriage recently took place in South Carolina, wherein the bridegroom was eighty-eight, the bride fifty-five, and the pastor eighty-five. It was a runaway match—the parents of the blushing damsel being averse to it.

The Louisville Journal says that the famous hotel, the Galt house, of that city, which was destroyed by fire, is now being rebuilt in proportions more extensive than it ever presented in its palmiest days:

The Senate of the Tennessee Legislature has passed the Franchise bill. previously passed by the House. It young ladies, in wearing false calves! disfranchises all who took part in the rebellion.

The founders of had produced such remarkably perfect results in larger machines, might be applied with even greater advantage to the production of the watch. The foreign time-pieces are made principally by hand, and except when of high cost, an imperfect article, often out of repair and of little value is the result. Abroad, these mysterious and infinitesimal organs which, when aggregated, produce the watch, are the fruit of slow and toilsome manual processes. In the results, there must of course be lack of that perfect uniformity which is indispensable for correct time-keeping. The constituent parts of the American watch, on the other hand, are fashioned by the most delicate and accurate machinery. Wheels, pinions, springs, screws, absolutely uniform in weight, circumference, dimensions, and in every possible particular, are turned out in myriads by unerring fingers of steel, and their proper combination and adjustment by skillful workmen have given the Company its high reputation. the ground, unhesitatingly state that if the clause preventing certain persons from voting until 1870 is omitted, there will be little objection to the general plan in the South; and they base this opinion upon the fact that these classes, with their overwhelming power in the South, would be very apt to vote anyhow. There is a growing disposition in Congress to yield everything to the Southern people (except allowing the rebel chiefs to hold office), if only these latter will cordially acquiesce in the substantial features of the report, relating to representation, and agreeing to the formal repudiation of the rebel war debt, and the abandonment of all hopes of payment for their slaves.

A case involving the legal and chusetts for $26,000. constitutional right of polygamy is in process in Salt Lake City. A Gentile married a lady who was claimed as the wife in polygamy of one of the Mormon leaders. The lady, fearing that her children would be claimed by the Mormon, brought the case directly before the United States Court. It was postponed and in the interim her husband was shot dead while in the company of the United States Marshal, and in open daylight.

President Johnson, it is said, has recently got off a pretty fair joke. A Connecticut office-seeker closed a recent application for office with an inquiry whether the breach between the President and Congress could not be repaired. The President wrote in reply that he is not so much in the line of "repairing breeches" as he formerly was.

Gen. Howard has received from Sir Morton Peto, and Arthur Kinnard, M. P., the English capitalists who recently visited this country, a contribution of £50 from each, which they request to be applied for the relief of the destitute and suffering freedmen of the Southern States.

The tone of many Paris letters in dicates the growing unpopularity of Louis Napoleon. The majority of the Parisians have long been against him, as shown in the elections to the Legis lative body, but now they lose no opportunity of proclaiming their dislike.

The Princess of Wales is sitting for a full length portrait in oil, but as she is a little thin, a professional model sits for the arms and neck. This is about equal to the resort now said to be in vogue hereabouts, with spindle-shanked

> The Fenian bubble appears to be collapsing as fast as it expanded. The transactions upon the border and down in New Brunswick are upon a ridiculous scale. The 'capture of a British flag," about which many flaming dispatches were sent, is said to have been simply the hauling down of a boy's flag, where there was no one to defend it, and no importance given to it all. Even the New York Citizen, the former champion of the Fenians, is disgusted with the farce.

An attempt was made to assassinate the Emperor Alexander of Russia on the 17th ult. The motive for the deed it is hard to devine. The Emperor is liberal and progressive, and has done a good work in the furthering of the emancipation of the serfs. It is said that the Emperor himself seized the culprit, asking him quietly-"What have I ever done to you, that you should seek my life?"

The Legislature of New York has adiourned without acting upon any of the schemes which were before it for underground or zrial railways in New York city. A commission of six persons was appointed to ascertain and report to the next legislature the most advantageous routes for railway suited to the rapid transportation of passengers from the apper to the lower portion of the city.

One of the features of the metropolitan police system of New York is the Lost Children Department, presided over by a lady. During the pleasant summer evenings, when children are apt to wander away from their homes, as many as 65 and 70 are sometimes brought in by the police from the various precincts throughout the great city, and restored to their parents through the medium of the telegraph.

The sales of some of the leading mercantile houses of the country are immense. Those of H. B. Clafflin & Co., New York, for 1865, were over forty-two million dollars; those of A. T. Stewart & Co., at one store, were thirty-nine millions, while the entire business of the latter firm is not less than forty-five million dollars.

LET US BE MERCIFUL TO OURSELVES: The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them to some extent from unwholesome influences; but this pretection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. There fore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common sense, to provide against such contingencies, by taking an antidote in advance; or, in other words, by fortifying the system with a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country. As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of Indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where Hostetter's Bitters can be procured, does so voluntarily; for as surely as Truth exists, this invaluable tonic and alterative would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the Bilious it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed Constipation it affords speedy and permanent relief. In Canada, the West Indies, and Australia, the Bitters rank above all other medicines of the class, and the demand for them in all foreign countries increases every season.

To Consumptives .- The advertiser have ing been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years, with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.
