

The Mariettian.

MARIETTA, PA.

Saturday Morning, May 19, 1866.

Gen. Grant in a recent conversation with Rev. Geo. Hopworth, of Boston, said of Gen. Sherman:—"Sherman is a man to be proud of. He is impetuous, he is faulty, but he knows his fault as soon as any man." And of Sheridan he said:—"He is the best man in America. He has no peer. He can wield any force. He is a pure-hearted, simple man, and truly noble man." And of himself, he said:—"There were a thousand others who could have done the thing as well as I. I am thankful to God that he helped me to do the work, but had I not been living, or had the Government passed over me, there are other men who would have won the victory for you."

A terrible tragedy was committed at Bollersville, Pa., in the murder of a man named Housman. The wife of the murdered man, and a supposed paramour, were arrested. Their well confessed while on his way to prison. He says that at several times he and she (Housman's wife) tried to poison him, but failed. On the night of the murder he took Housman's gun, placed the muzzle of it to his head and shot him when asleep. She put the rope around his neck herself, attached an anchor to it and assisted to drag the body to the river.

Charles F. Browne (Artemus Ward) has commenced legal proceedings for the purpose of putting an injunction upon the sale of a work recently issued in New York, under the title of "Betsy Jane Ward, wife of Artemus." The book in question endeavors to convey the impression that Artemus Ward is the author, but, to the credit of the great showman, he indignantly denies having had anything to do with it, and characterizes it as a dishonorable attempt to impose upon the public, as well as to injure his fair fame.

Samuel Witter, alias Jack Cooper, was hanged at Ravenna, Ohio, on the 27th inst., for the murder of John Rodenbaugh in October last. Since his sentence Cooper had made three desperate attempts to escape. At one time he became so ferocious that it was found necessary to use a large syringe filled with chloroform, for the purpose of securing him in irons. One of the incidents of the execution was the singing of a religious song with a violin accompaniment, to which the prisoner listened with rapt attention.

A coal company has now piled, near Honesdale, 350,000 tons of coal—said to be the largest body of coal ever collected in one heap on the face of the earth. It would require a train of over two hundred and sixty miles in length to remove the stock; 700,000 carts would be needed, reaching in one continuous line more than 2,000 miles. The large deposit will give some idea of the magnitude of the coal interests of our State.

Hod Annis, the thief, who robbed an old New York broker, named Lord, of over one million dollars worth of bonds, is living at Montreal like a nabob, on the fruits of his rascality, and rumor says, his money buys him an entrée into "good society." An Eastern paper says that Hod has bought a ten thousand dollar farm for his aged father, in the village of Hooksett, N. H. He seems to be a better son than citizen.

A Mrs. Keziah Palmer has entered a suit against her husband, Solon Palmer, before Judge Fox, of the Ohio Supreme Court, now sitting at Cincinnati, to recover the sum of $10,000 damages sustained by the plaintiff, in consequence of her being incarcerated in the Lunatic Asylum of Ohio, by her husband and others, she being a sane woman.

The Ashtabula (Ohio) Sentinel says:—"Mr. Atkins, the Recorder, informs us that a curious discovery has been made in changing the cemetery at Hartgrove Center. On opening a number of graves, the remains were found to be complete in form, but changed in substance to a material in appearance between chalk and tallow, and closely resembling spermaceti."

The Maine Farmer has an account of a curious stone picked up on the shore of a pond in Belgrade of that State. The stone has been worn by attrition to the perfect form of a lady's overshoe or moccasin, the sole of the shoe being composed apparently of a different material from the uppers, and shaped to correspond to them.

Hon. George E. Badger, formerly United States Senator from North Carolina, is dead.

Duke Gwin has been released from confinement at Fort Jackson, on condition that he leaves the country.

A month since, a Frenchman and wife gave a dinner party to celebrate the twentieth year of their marriage. Just before dinner one of them broke a tumbler. This led to a discussion, which degenerated into a violent quarrel, which ended in each party expressing wonder at having the patience to live twenty years with so horrid and stupid an animal as the other. The wife put on her bonnet and quit the house. The husband lighted a chafing dish full of charcoal in his chamber and lay on the floor. When the guests came and failed to obtain admittance, they broke open the doors, and found the husband a corpse.

The old fashioned custom of rejecting a man as a juror on the trial of capital offenders, because he has been intelligent enough to read the newspaper reports of the case and sane enough to form an opinion on the basis of these reports is, we rejoice to see, falling at last into disuse. In the choice of the jury in the trial of Probst, in Philadelphia, the court admitted as jurors those of the panel, who, notwithstanding the formation of an opinion, answered that they would be governed in their verdict by the evidence before the court. This is a decision of common sense.

General Fisk, now at Memphis for the purpose of investigating the facts attending the late riot, has signified his intention to have all the negro churches rebuilt in better style, and will see that the city foots the bill of damages committed by the mob. He advertises for negro carpenters, masons and laborers to do the work. The Post says a number of gentlemen have received anonymous letters warning them to leave town.

An agent of Senator Sprague, of Rhode Island, has been in Chicago buying beef cattle for shipping to Providence, where beef is furnished to the operatives of his mills, numbering some 15,000, at first cost, transportation added. Within the last few months between $75,000 and $80,000 worth of cattle and hogs have been purchased there for this purpose.

The Empress Eugenie has achieved another triumph. When she was first made Empress, other Queens refused to call upon her, regarding her as a plebeian interloper. Victoria yielded first, the Queen of Spain next, and then the Queen of Portugal, now the Empress of Austria, the proudest of them all, is about to visit her.

According to M. Babinet, a French savant, the coming summer will be very hot. All the springs, he states, will be dried up, for where there is no snow there are no fountains. It is the snow alone which moistens the earth internally. Rain water does not penetrate sufficiently, being carried off rapidly by evaporation, except in wooden districts.

The largest steer in Indiana—the largest in America—and probably the largest in the world, is now in Shelby county, and is owned by George W. Spurrier. He is six years old, weighs 4,000 pounds, and was purchased on the 26th ult., by Mr. Spurrier, for $1,500. He is undoubtedly the finest animal in America.

By direction of Judge Underwood no person has been allowed to see the indictment against Jeff Davis. A Fortress Monroe dispatch states that the health of Davis is falling rapidly, and that he expressed great pleasure at the news of his indictment, as he is confident of speedy action in his case.

A law has passed our Legislature imposing a fine of not less than $100, and imprisonment of not less than 60 days on officers of elections for receiving the vote of a deserter. Any person persuading a deserter to offer to vote is liable to similar punishment. That settles the question.

A company of sporting men have leased a large piece of land below Sharon, Mercer county, for a driving park. A course has been laid out upon it, and the work of grading and otherwise fitting it up for the use spoken of is to be pushed rapidly forward. It is expected to be in readiness by the first of July.

Peet, the wife murderer, who had been given up by the Canadian authorities, cut his throat in the cars, near Geneva. He was being taken to Auburn for trial. The gallows is cheated of a victim, and Cayuga county is saved hundreds of dollars.

Mr. Benjamin Wood and John Morrisey have been arrested in New York upon the charge of swindling, the charge being founded upon their lottery scheme.

Five hundred dollars in gold was paid recently, in San Francisco, for the choice of a seat on the first appearance of Edwin Forrest in that city.

The Fenian humbug has completely exploded. O'Mahoney has been disgraced, and deposed, and there is a talk of doing the same by Stephens.

President Johnson has ordered a special report to be made and forwarded to him in reference to the physical condition of Jeff Davis.

There is no cholera in New York city—at quarantine it has almost ceased.

In a late number of the Boston "Right Way," we find the following: If the Senate of the United States had done its whole duty when Vice-President Johnson made his spirituous Inaugural on the 4th of March, 1865, the country would have been saved the disgrace and reproach of the delirious harangue of the 22d of February, 1866, from the steps of the White House, under the auspices of the lawyers who defended the murderers of Mr. Lincoln one of whom asserted that the President was drunk when he signed the death-warrant of the criminals. And if the Senate had done its manifest duty when Senator McDougall first appeared in his seat as a drunkard, its deliberations would have been spared the humiliation and shame of the scene enacted in its chamber on the 16th of April, 1866, by this same Senator. It is the first step that costs. When drunkenness is tolerated in the United States Senate, it will be exalted into a virtue elsewhere. McDougall's apology does not wipe out the stain, nor does the resolution forbidding the sale of liquors in the Capitol. That is right as far as it goes; but drunkenness should be an expulsive offence. The United States Senate cannot too soon resolve itself into a Total Abstinence Society.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson read, on Tuesday, in the U. S. Senate, an impudent letter from Mr. Wade Hampton, rebel, giving a lecture on reconstruction to the Senate, and giving the lie to General Sherman on the burning of Columbia, S. C. It was a violation of decency in Mr. Johnson to read it, and the Senate being on the point of refusing to receive the letter, Mr. Johnson withdrew it, having accomplished his object by getting it heard on the floor and telegraphed to the press.

We should not fail to speak of the splendid and valuable parlor ornaments, the steel engravings, lithographs and paintings sold by the American Art Union, New York, and offered by the publishers of the American Statesman to the subscribers for that sheet. We advise all to send for a catalogue and secure a collection from these splendid gems. Address American Statesman Office, 67 Nassau Street, New York.

General Santa Anna, the ex-President of the Mexican Republic, arrived on Saturday from St. Thomas, at Elizabethport, New Jersey. He is accompanied by several of his countrymen, and it is understood that he comes to make common cause with Juarez against Maximilian, and that he will soon appear upon Mexican soil, fighting against the invaders of his country.

Sterling King, a notorious horse thief and rebel spy, and who made a confession some time since, declaring that he was an accomplice in the assassination of President Lincoln, died on Friday, on board the steamer plying between Louisville and Cincinnati. His death was brought about by starvation, he having refused all but the merest morsel of food for the past forty days.

The New Orleans Picayune says that the Hon. Wm. M. Gwin, formerly of California, now confined in prison at Fort Jackson, below that city, was offered his liberty the other day if he would give his parole to leave the country and never return, and that he immediately declined, preferring to remain a prisoner in his native land rather than to go into banishment elsewhere.

A gentleman named Barnes, living in Jefferson county, Ind., was to have been married on last Thursday, to a lady named Jones. On Sunday he called at the house of his intended, and the same day both of them became sick; she died the same night, and he on Tuesday. The affair is as sad as singular.

Reduction in Price of the American Watches, made at Waltham, Mass.

In consequence of the recent great decline in gold and silver and all the materials used in the manufacture of our goods, and in anticipation of a still further decline, we have reduced our prices to as low a point as they can be placed WITH GOLD AT PAR, so that no one need hesitate to buy a watch now for the expectation that it will be cheaper at some future time; the test of ten years and the manufacture and sale of

MORE THAN 300,000 WATCHES, have given our productions the very highest rank among time-keepers. Commencing with the determination to make only thoroughly excellent watches, our business has steadily increased as the public became acquainted with their value, until, for months together, we have been unable to supply the demand. We have repeatedly enlarged our factory buildings until they now cover over three acres of ground, and give accommodation to more than eight hundred workmen.

We are fully justified in stating that we never Make more than half of all the Watches sold in the United States.

The different grades are distinguished by the following trade marks engraved on the plate: 1.—"American Watch Co.," Waltham, Mass. 2.—"Appleton, Tracy & Co.," Waltham, Mass. 3.—"P. S. Bartlett," Waltham, Mass. 4.—"Wm. Ellery."

5.—Our Ladies' Watch of first quality is named "Appleton, Tracy & Co., Waltham, Mass." 6.—Our next quality of Ladies' Watch is named "P. S. Bartlett, Waltham, Mass." These watches are furnished in a great variety of sizes and styles of cases.

The American Watch Co. of Waltham, Mass. authorize us to state that without distinction of trade marks or price, to be the best timekeepers of their class ever made in this or any other country. Buyers should remember that, unlike the guarantee of a foreign maker who can never be reached, this warrant is good at all times against the Company or their agents, and that, after the most thorough trial, any watch should prove defective in any particular, it may always be exchanged for another. As the American Watches made at Waltham, are for sale by dealers generally throughout the country, we do not solicit orders for single watches.

All the Products of their Factory are FULLY WARRANTED

CAUTION.—The public are cautioned to buy only of respectable dealers. All persons selling counterfeit watches will be prosecuted.
